

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXV.—NO. 40.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 5, 1896.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR

J. H. NICKERSON, Pres. AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, Vice Pres.

First National Bank of West Newton.

CAPITAL, $100,000.

SURPLUS, $12,000.

For the accommodation of our depositors, on and after MONDAY, APRIL 15, a representative of this Bank will be at the DRUG STORE OF JOHN F. PAYNE, NEWTONVILLE, daily, from 9.05 to 11 A. M. to receive Deposits and pay Checks.

EDWARD P. HATCH, Cashier.

PENNOCK ELECTRIC LIGHT CO.,

305 CARTER BUILDING, BOSTON.

ELECTRIC LIGHT. ELECTRIC HEAT. ELECTRIC POWER. PRICE LIST—Series Incandescent Light, 75 candlepower, $2 per month; Multiple are incandescent light, 16 candlepower, 50 cents per month; Electric Power for Motors, $15 per horsepower per year; Electric Heating, $1 per month per room house. THE CHEAPEST, THE BEST, THE ONLY SAFE ELECTRIC SYSTEM IN THE WORLD. State Right Certificates $1.00 per share. Send for particulars.

LADIES' Shirt Waists Outing Suits.

SPRINGER BROS.,

500 Washington St., COR. BEDFORD ST., BOSTON, MASS.

F. IVERS & SON,

BUILDERS OF

High Grade Road Wagons.

Rubber Tires and Ball Bearings Axles applied to Carriages.

Carriage Repairing a Specialty.

1953-1963 Massachusetts Ave., No. Cambridge.

STOVES AND EVERY VARIETY OF

Household Goods

—AT—

BENT'S FURNITURE ROOMS,

64 Main St., Watertown.

ATWOOD'S MARKET.

HEADQUARTERS FOR

Fine Fruit, Vegetables, The Choicest Fish and Meats.

Mr. Atwood's long experience gives him unusual facilities for securing the best things in the market.

371 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

Telephone 122-2.

Shirts

MADE TO ORDER.

A Perfect Fit Guaranteed. Best Material. Superior Shirts, $1.50. Best Dress Shirts, $2.00. Will call on customers at such time and place as will suit their convenience.

Repairing is Done Neatly and Promptly. New Buttons, 50c.; Neckbands, 15c.; Collars, 25c.; Cuffs, 15c.; Pockets, 25c.

Badly fitting Shirts made to fit well.

E. B. BLACKWELL,

43 Thornton St., Newton, Mass.

JAMES PAXTON,

Confectioner and Caterer.

Ices, Creams, Frozen Pudding, Roman Punch, Fine Cakes, Candies, Salads, Oysters, Crisquettes, Etc.

ALL OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Weddings and Receptions SERVED IN SUPERIOR STYLE.

Eliot Block, Newton

RE-OPENS SEPT. 3rd, 1895.

THE COURSE OF STUDY is thorough, complete and practical. Pupils are fitted for the duties and work of every-day life.

THE FACULTY embraces a list of more than twenty teachers and assistants, elected with special reference to proficiency in each department.

THE STUDENTS are young people of both sexes, full of diligence and zeal.

THE DISCIPLINE is of the highest order and includes valuable business lessons.

THE PATRONAGE is the LARGEST of any similar institution in the world.

THE REPUTATION of this school for originality and leadership and for being the Standard Institution of its kind is generally acknowledged.

SPECIAL COURSE. Shorthand, Type Writing, Composition and Correspondence may be taken as a special course.

SITUATIONS in business houses furnished pupils among the varied inducements attending this school.

THE SCHOOL BUILDING, 608 Washington Street, Boston, is centrally located and purposely constructed. Office open daily, from 9 till 2 o'clock. Prospectus Post Free.

H. E. HIBBARD, Principal.

DANIEL J. GALLAGHER,

Attorney at Law

30 Court St., Boston, Room 23.

Cole's Block, 367 Centre St., Newton.

Newton Office Hours: 8 to 9 A. M., 7 to 9 P. M.

EMPLOYMENT OFFICE.

Miss N. L. DOHERTY,

370 Washington St., opp. Thornton,

NEWTON, MASS.

Newton City Market

Fresh and Salt Meats.

Poultry and Game.

Fish and Oysters.

Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Canned Goods, Fruit, Vegetables.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

Brackett's Market Company.

Established 1851. Incorporated 1892.

Telephone No. 16-3.

The Best Meats, Poultry, Game, Cream, Butter, Eggs, Fruits and Vegetables

at the Lowest Prices. This Market intends to fill all orders as far as the purchaser were present. Goods which are found not to be as represented may be returned.

7 and 8 Cole's Block,

WASHINGTON near CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

THE NEXT QUARTER DAY

July 10th,

AT THE NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

Money should be deposited on or before that date that it may then begin to earn dividends. Bank hours 9 to 12 and 2 to 4, except on Saturdays 9 to 1.

A. J. BLANCHARD, Treasurer.

JAMES F. C. HYDE, President.

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Parley, 433 Washington St., N.

—Mr. Robert D. Holt of Centre street has gone to Lowell for a few days.

—Cash paid for old gold and silver at W. A. Hodgdon's 326 Centre street.

—Mr. Justin Whittier left last Saturday for St. Louis, on a business trip.

—Mrs. H. L. Wood and family left this week for Manchester, N. H.

—Mr. Frank Barrows returned Saturday from a business trip to Portland, Me.

—Driver Carroll of Hose 1 returned Wednesday after enjoying his annual vacation.

—Miss May Brown is at Beachmont for the summer months.

—Fine watch and clock repairing at W. A. Hodgdon's 326 Centre street.

—Mr. Chas. A. Haskell and family are at Sorrento Hotel, Sorrento, Me., for the summer.

—Miss Elsie D. Conant of Hunnewell hill is this week, entertaining her friend, Miss Edith McConney of Worcester.

—Patrolman Taffe has been assigned for duty temporarily in No. 1 police station nights.

—Mr. Nathaniel J. Pratt and family are at Cutter's Hotel, Jaffrey, N. H., for a short stay.

—The Garden City wheelmen made a run to Nantasket Sunday and had a hard time coming home in the mud.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hammett left this week for New London, N. H., where they will remain most of the summer.

—Lt. Commander Miller, U. S. N., of Park street, has gone to Hull with his family for the summer.

—Mrs. F. W. Gaffield and the Misses Gaffield left this week for Sanborn's Hotel, West Campton, N. H.

—Mr. J. Myles Standish has bought a house on Algonquin street, Dorchester, and will remove there about the first of August.

—The engagement was announced last Saturday of Miss Blodgett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Blodgett, of Centre street, to Dr. Ralph H. Seelye, of Springfield, son of President Seelye of Amherst.

—The Hunnewell Hill Club gave Newton the first old-fashioned celebration of the fourth it has had within the memory of most of the citizens, and added largely to the enjoyment of all who stayed at home.

—Dr. and Mrs. Frisbie left for Nahant, Wednesday to spend the week with Judge Wilson. Next Tuesday Dr. Frisbie and his mother go to Dover, N. H., and Dr. Frisbie goes to West Newfield, Me., to spend a month.

—Mr. Edward L. Douglas, brother of Mrs. T. E. Mephann of Church street, who has been connected with the signal service of New Orleans, has returned to Newton with his wife, and will be connected with the Boston Signal service.

—Mr. W. H. Blodgett and family left for the Cotacohess House, Wianno, this week. Mr. Blodgett will return to the Hunnewell hill for most of the summer, and his family will remain at Wianno for July, and go to St. Hubert's Inn, Keene Heights, in the Adirondacks, for August.

—Watertown street, from Walnut to the Watertown line, has been put in fine condition, and shows what the highway department can do when they set about it. The presence of car tracks in the middle of a street make it very difficult to keep a road in repair, even when it is once put in fine order, as has been seen on Washington street.

—The bulk of the good steamer Watertown, which was launched at Newton, years ago with imposing ceremonies and which for over a year sailed between Boston and Beverly until she fell a prey to the flames, will soon be blown up, as the easiest way to dispose of her now useless frame. This will be done in order to make way for the improvements contemplated by the Park commission who have taken the wharf and land in the immediate vicinity of her moorings.

—William Hardy was in the police court Monday morning, charged with threatening bodily harm to Mrs. J. R. Williston, residing on Washington street. Defendant is a coachman and had been in Mr. Williston's service several years. It was on Sunday morning that the alleged threat was made. Mrs. Williston telephoned for the police and ere long Hardy was on his way to the central police station in the patrol wagon. Judge Kennedy continued the case until Friday, requiring bail for the sum of $1000 for his appearance at that time. Hardy will be arraigned on two counts.

—Judge Sherman in the equity court Tuesday handed down his decision in case of Newton board of health vs. John Joyce. He granted an injunction restraining the latter from keeping more than four horses in his barn on Thornton street, that practically being the issue. Mr. Joyce keeps several horses, and claims that it is necessary in order to carry out a contract which he made with the city. The board of health would not consider that in its decision in the matter, hence the case was brought into the equity court. Solicitor L. Powers, counsel for Mr. Joyce, in order to test the constitutionality of the regulation of the city relative to the number of horses that may be kept in a private stable, will take the case up to the Supreme Court.

—The fire department responded to an alarm from box 173 early Tuesday morning for a fire in Contractor Timothy Stuart's house on Pearl street. The fire originated in the cellar and was making rapid headway up the stairs when discovered. By the prompt action of the firemen the fire was soon placed under control. The first story of the house was considerably damaged by the fire and water, and the upper part of house by smoke. Engine 1 company left the house on the third round and its members performed yeoman service, and are deserving of especial credit. It is thought the fire was of incendiary origin as some cotton waste, saturated with kerosene was found near the place where the blaze started. The matter will be thoroughly looked into as there are other suspicious circumstances demanding investigation.

—A most interesting exhibition of the work done by the scholars of Our Lady's school was given in the library of that institution, Monday and Tuesday of this week. Laid on the tables in various parts of the hall were to be seen the final examination papers of the various grades which were excellent examples of careful preparation and study. The arithmetic and language papers of the eighth and ninth grades were most commendable both for their clearness of style and legible writing. The article and fancy needle work has been carried on independent of the school work, under the guidance of the Sisters and through their excellent teaching, wonderful results have been accomplished. Of the many beautiful drawings, Mary O'Sullivan's "Thy Kingdom Come" and Della Spellman's "A Country Farm House" are deserving of special credit, while Edward Stuart's study of a cat merits a little praise. Too much cannot be said of the fine embroidery and more simple needle work, both of which showed hours of patience and labor. The parents and many friends of the pupils have had an opportunity to visit the exhibition are enthusiastic in their praise of the untiring efforts of the Sisters.

—Mr. Harry Flynn has returned from a trip to New York.

—Mr. Edward F. Barnes is entertaining his late wife's sister, Mrs. Emma Holmes of Chicago, Ill.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burgher of Maple avenue have returned from a trip to New York.

—Miss Higgins of Bangor, Me., who has been visiting Miss Minnie L. Coolidge of Charlestown Road, left for home yesterday.

—Miss Charlotte Ballou, who has been teaching in Pittsburg, Penn., is spending her summer vacation at her home on Church street.

—Among the guests numbered at Vining Villa, Hull, are Mr. William Brown and family, and Messrs. Samuel and Edward Bronson, of this place.

—A hair cut and a clean shave have a delightfully cooling influence during the warm spell. For the practical effect, go to Burn's tonsorial rooms, Cole's block.

—A large number of store keepers have the interiors of their places of business decorated with the large red and white Christian Endeavor flags in honor of the coming convention.

—There are letters in the post office for John Belcher, Mr. Lane, Lawson Atwell, Margaret Flaherty, Mrs. Ella Green, Mrs. G. W. Phillips, Mrs. John Taft and Gertrude Wright.

—One of the handsomest hose wagons that has been recently put in commission, is hose wagon 3, recently completed by Mr. P. A. Murphy and delivered to Engine station 3 Tuesday afternoon.

—The boarding house of Miss Caroline H. Jellison, 350 Washington street, was entered Monday by some person unknown, and $140 worth of jewelry stolen. There is no trace of the thieves.

—Hon. Joseph Blumenthal and daughter, Miss Maggie Blumenthal, of New York City, have been visiting Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Frisbie this week. Mr. Blumenthal is a prominent Democrat of New York, and a man of large influence.

—We print by request the spirited sonnet with which Mr. Bates closed his address at the Fourth of July celebration of the Hunnewell Hill club. It was composed for the occasion by Mrs. Grace Le Baron Upham, the talented authoress, who was formerly a resident of Newton.

—Music in Grace church Sunday night: Processional, "Hail, Hail, Holy, Holy." Magnificat. Bennett. Benedict. Bennett. "To Thee do I lift up mine eyes." King Hall. Recessional, "Forward be our watchword." Seats free.

—The unique and much admired house which Mr. R. A. Ballou has been building on the corner of Centre and Northampton street is completed. Its style is peculiarly adapted to the handsome corner lot on which it stands and while it is strikingly unlike any other house in the neighborhood, it is noticeable both for its exterior attractiveness and interior convenience.

—The accident that befell Newcomb & Snyder's express wagon Monday night, brings to light the fact that Centre street, at the junction of Williams and Carleton is not sufficiently lighted.

—Considering the narrowness of the street, there is great wonder that an accident of this kind has not happened before.

—The West End and Newton Street Railways are doing a lucrative business by carrying picnic parties from Boston, Cambridge and Somerville to Forest Grove, Waltham. The average number of trips made or booked, each week, is six and one day four different parties were carried. It seems strange that there is less money in these special trips than a regular one, but such is the case, however.

—A large party of Newton people will be at Inglewood camp, New Brunwick, the coming month. Mr. W. J. Follett and family, Mr. J. W. French and family, Mr. Seelye and family, together with 12 New Yorkers, left Tuesday night by the St. John boat, having pre-empted about all the outside staterooms. Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Cobb leave tonight, and Mr. A. J. Lamb, of this city, leave next Monday for the same destination.

—The old stage coach which was the crowning feature of the Hunnewell Hill fancy dress bicycle parade, was obtained through the efforts of Mr. Henry Crowell, who so deftly handled the ribbon in the parade, and personally superintended the re-building of the old trap for practical purposes. After the wagon was started on the road the springs settled making it especially difficult to drive.

—The death of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge of Newtonville, at her home in Newtonville, of which she had been a resident for a number of years, was a great loss to the community. She had been ill for some weeks, but was thought to be improving and death came suddenly yesterday. The deceased was a member of Grace church, and the list of her benefactions to the church, to the Newton Hospital and to other good causes is a very long one.

—Yesterday morning while Miss Molly Morrissey and her sister were coasting down Centre street near Franklin on their bicycles, the former collided with a telegraph post injuring herself severely. The front wheel of the bicycle was wrecked and the other parts badly damaged. Miss Morrissey was carried into the house of Mr. and Mrs. Edmonds and Dr. Bothfield called. It was found that she had dislocated her right shoulder and considerably bruised other parts of the body. The young lady was later removed to her home in a hack.

—The Nonantum industrial school, which is supported by the Social Science Club, will be opened for a session of eight weeks at the Athenaeum building, Dalby street, Nonantum, on July 8th. Mr. Joseph Owens, who is teacher in the Lincoln school, Brookline and at Lowell, has been engaged as usual, his teacher in carpentry. Mr. Frank S. Mason from the Charlestown Boys Club has been engaged for the work in printing. These departments are of great value to boys. There are to be the usual number of sewing teachers and the lessons in cooking are to be specially attractive and instructive to the girls.

—Arthur W. Porter of Newton, the crack cyclist, rode a mile Monday, at Waltham in the face of a strong wind in the remarkable time of 1:51 4-5. He was accompanied by the Berlio quad, on which were mounted Seaman, Thatcher, Haggerty and Williams. All five men were fit, and in excellent condition for their task. Quickening their pace as they turned into the stretch from the preliminary spin, they crossed the tape at top speed and were off for the quick mile with the quad leading by three or four feet. Porter humped like a camel, kept his two wheels in the tracks of the pacemaker, and would not allow the lead to be increased. Thus the mile was ridden, and the stop watches said it had been done in 1:51 4-5.

—About 8.30 Monday evening, one of Newcomb & Snyder's large express vans which was coming up Glen street on its way to Newton, collided with an electric car bound for Cambridge. The driver of the wagon had turned out on the track to avoid the overhanging branches of the tree as his load was very high. On seeing the car in front of him he attempted to turn to the right when the car struck the forward end of the team throwing the body of the wagon completely off the tracks and scattering the furniture about the ground. The electric when it was struck was elevated about a foot and a half and the front end damaged considerably. The driver of the van was thrown to the ground but was not badly hurt while the passengers in the car experienced a severe shaking up.

—Mr. Hugh Campbell and family are at Winthrop Beach for the summer.

—Fred Guilford of Philadelphia was in town this week visiting friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fewkes, formerly of Maple street, have removed to Charlestown.

—Rev. A. H. Quint, D. D., of Allston, will preach in the Eliot church Sunday, July 7th, morning and evening.

—Mr. Harry Flynn of New York City, a former resident, passed a portion of the Fourth with his parents here.

—Lord's Supper with short sermon at the Methodist church next Sunday morning. Endeavor the pastor will preach on some old time Christian Endeavorers.

—Frank Newcomb, aged about 13 years, was injured by the explosion of a cannon cracker yesterday morning. He picked it up in the street supposing that it was simply an empty shell, from which the powder had been discharged. The pain in the right hand was severely lacerated and the fingers were pretty badly burned.

—Residents of Jefferson street made their customary preparations for a display of fireworks last night, but their plans were spoiled by the rain. In some cases, following the heavy shower of the evening, the rockets, etc., were sent skyward, but the majority were contented to postpone pyrotechnics until a more favorable opportunity presented.

—Dr. George W. Bird of Pembroke street, Boston, formerly of Brookline, and at one time a resident of Watertown, died last week after a short illness. He had not, however, been in good health for some little time. Deceased was about 65 years of age. He was well known in this city and his relatives here.

—The members of Engine Company No. 1 royal banqueted their lady friends at the men friends on the Fourth. Open house was kept all day and upon the guests arrival they were shown the interior and various appointments; how "the boys" tested the alarm and for the education of the visitors a lightning hitch was made, the sliding down the poles, harnessing the horses and making every preparation for a run, the whole performance occupying but a few seconds. In the reception room, upstairs, an elaborate collation was served. Among guests who were entertained were Mr. Lawrence Edmonds, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Edmonds and Mrs. W. J. Follett, Aldermen, Alderman Alderman Tolman, Judge Kennedy, Dr. Carroll, Dr. McLaughlin, Superintendent of Water Works, H. N. Hyde, Mr. William Hanon of the Water Department, Ex-Alderman Hunt, Alderman White, Alderman Parker, Chief Engineer Randlett, Assistant Chief Humphreys, Mr. Perkins of the electrical department, Mr. Walter U. Lamb, J. C. Levy and ex-Police Inspector James Henthorne.

—Patrolman Compton had a hard time of it in making the early morning rounds of the Fourth hideouts. Some of them were of the same lot that were anxious to "roast" a public official a year ago because they thought it was instrumental in having an ordinance put into effect that delayed the tooting of horns and the din of explosives for an hour or so. They were checked-mated then, but experienced men eventually taught them no lessons, for instead of staying at home as little fellows should, they persisted again in sallying forth upon the streets. One of the results growing out of his trouble with the parties referred to was an affair in which a young man got a clip with the policeman's billy. He was near others who tried to trip the officer up. There was a certain crowd that picked upon Compton with a persistence that made its object apparent. He was a new officer and the youth wanted to break him in by making it as disagreeable for him as possible. Several who had been squeezing apples were very "full" of loud talk and stepped about on their toes in order to imitate the proper gait of unsteadiness. There was a good deal of noise in the vicinity only a few minutes after 3 o'clock and considerable evidence of drunkenness. A few arrests were made. The regular officers were assisted in maintaining order by a large staff of specials.

—The Boston Traveler says: Elliott J. Hyde, the irrepressible, has again come to the front in the real estate world with the most successful auction sale of the season. The Hydies, father and son, are among the brightest men in Boston's business life, and they occupy an equally prominent position in the social and political life of Newton, where they live.

—Edward F. Barnes has negotiated a three years lease of the new house owned by Chas. B. Galland situated on Park street next to the corner of Elmwood street, Ward 7, to Harry H. Mansfield, teller of the Old Boston Bank, who has been residing at Canton, Mass.; also has leased to Dr. Fred L. McIntosh of Newton the summer residence known as "Pine Glades," consisting of modern house and 100 acres of land bordering on the east shore of Saugapee Lake, N. H.

Sonnet to Liberty.

July 4, 1895.

Hail, natal day of Freedom's new-born life

Hail Liberty our Goddess and our Queen,

Thy cradle-bed the battle-field was green.

As summer gardens of to-day, but strife

And hard war waged wide, brave man his life

Didst freely give, and blood of heroes seem

Baptismal font for these thy royal Queen.

Whose cradle songs were tuned to drum and Kind Heaven its benediction gave and

Israel's God, our Father's God, and ours

A nation's sponsor came to make us free,

We swear allegiance to three powers.

To God our King, our Country and to Thee!

(GRACE LE BARON.)

Down Hill.

(From Harper's Round Table.)

An old gentleman, within a short distance of the grave, remarked to his coachman: "Alas, James, I shall shortly go on a longer journey than you have ever driven me."

James (who had often been berated for reckless driving)—Rest easy, master, for it's a journey down hill all the way.

We recommend De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure because we believe it a safe and reliable remedy. It's good effects are shown at once in cases of Cholera, Morbus and similar complaints. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

THE FOURTH IN NEWTON.

THE RAIN INTERFERES WITH THE CELEBRATIONS—GREAT CROWDS AT THE HUNNEWELL HILL CLUB AND AT NEWTON CENTRE.

The Fourth was celebrated with unusual features in Newton, the two ends of the city, Newton and Newton Centre, having the most elaborate programs, although Newtonville had a bicycle parade and the noise of the firecrackers were heard throughout the city.

THE HUNNEWELL HILL CLUB.

The first event in Newton, not counting the noise of the night before and of the early morning, was the bicycle parade of the Hunnewell Hill Club at 7.30 although it was after that time when the procession got in motion.

There were some fifty bicyclists in line, in more or less fantastic costumes, the star being a boy who represented a ballet girl. Another represented "Liberty Belle," and there were a number of original make ups that caused the crowd to applaud. The wheels were followed by a coach, drawn by four horses, with musicians inside, and a half dozen ladies and gentlemen in costume on the top. The procession moved through the principal streets, but the rain caused part of the riders to fall out.

At 10 o'clock a large number gathered to listen to the addresses of the day, seats being placed on the lawn in front of the club house. A choir under the leadership of Mr. H. B. Day, opened the exercises with the singing of America. Rev. Dr. Shinn was the first speaker and gave a very interesting account of the events that led to the Declaration of Independence. The choir then sang, "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," after which the rain caused an adjournment to the club house.

Mayor Bothfield made a few remarks and then read "The Declaration of Independence." Singing of The Star Spangled Banner followed, and Mr. W. C. Bates gave a very eloquent address of the nature of the day, and the future of the country.

Ex-Senator G. D. Gilman, Hawaiian consul, was called upon, and made a short address about that young "republic" which he said was founded not only by New England men, but was founded on the Bible, and had the same birthday as ours.

The choir sang Home, Sweet Home, and the exercises closed with the Doxology and the benediction.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY.

ELIOT CHURCH HOLDS INTERESTING EXERCISES—FAREWELL SERMON OF REV DR. CALKINS.

The celebration of the 50th anniversary of the organization of the Eliot Church was a notable event in Newton Sunday. The services in the church continued through the entire day. There were present not only hundreds of the regular parishioners, but a large number of others connected with the various churches of Newton and vicinity. Many came from distant parts of the country to attend the semi-centennial observances.

The Eliot Church, which was organized in June, 1845, was an offshoot of the old First Church, Newton Centre, and among the distinguished divines who were present at the services were Rev. Daniel L. Furber, D. D., the venerable pastor emeritus of the parent church; Rev. William S. Leavitt, the first pastor of Eliot Church, and Rev. Joshua W. Wellman, D. D., its pastor, from 1856 to 1873.

The occasion was doubly notable, from the fact that it practically marked the termination of Rev. Wolcott Calkins' pastorate of 15 years.

At the morning service at 10.30 Rev. Dr. Calkins was assisted by Rev. Drs. Wellman and Leavitt. The principal feature was the anniversary sermon, which was delivered by Dr. Calkins. He took his text from Acts 1, 2: "This same Jesus."

These words, pronounced just as the dispensation of the visible church with the earthly life of Jesus, and in the solemn pause just before the dispensation of the spirit began, are worthy of the most serious consideration in these solemn hours of our own transition, said the speaker.

Let us consider them now, he continued. This evening will be devoted to reminiscences of our history. The past 15 years, for which I have been responsible, are before you in print, and worse than vain would it be for me to dwell upon them. We have been enjoying the gospel we have inherited from the apostles and sacrifices of others. We have no history to commemorate, but prophecy to work out. Is not our attitude like that of the men of Galilee, gazing into heaven for Jesus' reappearance? Long centuries have passed, and the church is still too often gazing rather than working. This gazing into heaven has been the cause of the worst disasters of the church.

Are we children of the Puritans who cared not to gaze upon externals, because of that danger? Churches, which proclaim salvation through wonderful architecture, through music, the ritual of opera, and by popular preachers, attracting multitudes, are they not gazing, rather than praying?

Courage, zeal and generosity are, no doubt, virtues, but they may be found in men who are dazzled by worldly ostentation. They are not the characteristic virtues of the Christian. We are to become as a little child, to be humble, long suffering and charitable. Are we praying for these virtues or gazing on display?

The world, said Dr. Calkins in conclusion, is waiting to see Christian men of business "do unto others as they would that others do unto them," to see women of culture and refinement taking up their cross and helping their sisters. I hope the time will come when the world will be less critical. It is the most appalling sight of a failing church to find Christians claiming the name of the church of the world. Our daily life is the only evidence of Christianity to men of the world. Men of the world have this inspiration—to obey the gospel they see and know. We are but the organized conscience of the community unless we are the witnesses of "this same Jesus."

The anniversary exercises of the Sunday school followed after the church service. Of the 80 original members of the school 14 were present at the services. Miss Ellen D. Jackson, a daughter of the organizer of the school, read a paper giving reminiscences of the organization and early years of the school. Addresses were also given by Charles W. Bassett, Daniel E. Snow, Henry E. Cobb, Joseph Byers and Frank W. Gaffield, former superintendents of the school.

At 4 o'clock a special communion service was held, in which the members of other Newton churches of the denominations participated. Rev. Wolcott Calkins was assisted by Rev. Daniel L. Furber and by Rev. Henry J. Patrick, D. D., of Newtonville.

PLEASANT INFORMAL RECEPTION.

A pleasant event in Newton, Monday evening, was the sociable with which the exercises commemorative of the 50th anniversary of the formation of Eliot Church closed. It was an informal affair. There was a reception at which Dr. and Mrs. Calkins received the farewell wishes of the congregation with which he severed his connection Sunday.

Nearly 400 past and present members of the church were present, including a large number from distant places. During the evening a paper, written by Mr. C. S. Essig, reviewing the early history and growth of Eliot Church, was read, and light refreshments were served.

Travelers find a safe companion in Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure. A change in drinking water and in diet often causes severe and dangerous complaints. This medicine always cures them. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorne, Auburndale.

His Great Popularity.

(Springfield Republican.)

The reception given to Gov. Greenhalge at the Harvard alumni dinner, where he was received "with an outburst of enthusiastic cheering and applause," was significant, especially as Prof. Chas. Eliot Norton introduced him as one who had endeavored to save "four veterans from disgrace and our Legislature from dishonor." The approval of such a gathering may well teach our public men that servants of the people with courage to do the right thing are held in high esteem. Apropos of the governor, Templeton writes to the Hartford Courant from Boston that "if there is any opposition to Gov. Greenhalge it succeeds in keeping itself remarkably secret."

There is one medicine that will cure immediately. We refer to Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure for all Summer complaints. No delay, no disappointment, no failure. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorne, Auburndale.

New Church in Watertown.

The Watertown Methodists are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts to secure an attractive new church building, which is being erected on Mt. Auburn street, and is now nearing completion. Considering the amount of money expended, it is one of the most attractive and best arranged churches in this vicinity, costing above the land, only $35,000. Architect A. F. Haynes of Watertown, who has made quite a reputation for good work in many styles of buildings, is entitled to great credit. The conception of such a church for so small an amount of funds was a hard problem to solve, but it has been accomplished, and the people interested may feel well repaid for an inspection of this beautiful edifice at any time before the 1st of October.

The general contract was awarded to A. B. Mordough of Milford, now a resident of Watertown. He has satisfied Mr. Haynes' demands in every particular.

The pews, seating about 500, are under contract to be delivered by Aug. 1. The interior walls and ceiling are being designed by L. Habershtroh & Son of Boston. The Walker, Pratt Man'g Co., furnish four of their well known furnaces free of cost.

The three memorial windows, in memory of the late Oliver Shaw, at each end of auditorium, will be furnished by Tiffany of New York.

The large window in front is to be a memorial to the late Leonard Whitney.

Ingalls and the Jingo.

Senator Ingalls of Kansas does not appear to be in accord with his brother Republican, Senator Lodge, in the symposium recently published, and he says of the annexation of Cuba, only "buccaneers and free-booters who would profit by piracy" favor it. This is picturesque, certainly, and is probably aimed at Senator Lodge's ancestry. As for Hawaii he says:

The Hawaiian episode is one of the most scandalous chapters in American diplomacy. It was begotten in sin and brought forth in iniquity. Every incident has been corrupt. The treaties have been public crimes. They reek with infamy, bribery, intrigue, personal and official dishonesty, have marked every step in the degrading transactions. Public interest has been the mask behind which the shameless impudence of a few selfish adventurers endeavored to promote their own guilty fortunes at the expense of the national treasury and the well being of the people of both countries. Two administrations have competed with each other in discreditable emulation to ostentatiously advance American interests, but actually to protect a greedy gang of sharpers and thieves in their schemes of speculation and plunder. So the public ear has been assailed with an incessant din about the necessity of fortifying Pearl harbor, securing a coaling station for our navy and annexing the Sandwich Islands in order to protect our western coast from the depredations of foreign powers. It is to the credit of the common sense of the American people that they have not yielded to this mercenary clamor, and that they perceive the absurdity of maintaining costly establishments upon a group of islands inhabited by an alien race 2000 miles from our shores.

In regard to the Jingo policy in general Senator Ingalls says:

Our system does not contemplate the acquisition of dependencies and colonial possessions, to be governed like conquered provinces. Individual liberty, local self-government, home rule and the indissoluble federation of independent states are the conditions of our national life. These require populations that are coherent and capable of political assimilation, having kindred impulses and aspirations, and intellectual and moral qualities that are compatible, or else empty and unoccupied regions that may become territories from which states may be developed. For these and many other reasons the "jingo," the aggressive, domineering advocate of a swaggering foreign policy, has never been a favorite in American politics. The people instinctively recognize the limitations of a representative popular democracy and cannot be misled.

A Great Misfortune.

(Springfield Republican.)

Ex-Secretary Boutwell counts the decision of the supreme court in the income tax case "the greatest misfortune to the country since the days of secession and with less prospect of a satisfactory outcome." This is said in a private letter just made public. He regards it as almost a hopeless undertaking to amend the constitution, and proceeds:

If the opinion now rendered had been rendered by Chief Justice Marshall and sanctioned by his name and enforced by his reasoning the rebellion would have been a success. The power to tax through the states is a barren power and it must ever remain so. Our credit in the civil war rested upon our ability to command the property of the country as well as its manhood. In case of a foreign war, with our custom-houses closed, by what means could adequate revenues be secured? Never were more dangerous doctrines sanctioned by a court than the doctrine that the power to tax could be limited, upon the theoretical consideration that the sources of revenue remaining would be adequate for the continuance of the government in contingencies which no man could foresee. It is possible that the minority of the court may yet become a majority.

The more the matter is considered, the more generally will thoughtful citizens come to deplore the victory which the greed of metropolitan wealth has been enabled to secure through the retreat of the supreme court from a time-honored and repeatedly affirmed position.

Persons who are subject to diarrhea will find a speedy cure in Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure. Use no other. It is the best that can be made or that money can procure. It leaves the system in natural condition after its use. We sell it. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorne, Auburndale.

TWO RECORDS BROKEN.

SERIES OF GAMES FOR MEMBERS SATURDAY ON THE NEWTON CENTRE PLAYGROUND.

The Newton Athletic Association held a series of games, for members, on the Newton Centre playground Saturday morning.

In the running broad jump the association record of 20ft. 4in., made by C. S. Bryant, was broken by I. S. Clarke, who covered 21ft. 1-2in.

The association record in the 440 yard run was also broken by W. C. Johnson.

The officials were: Referee, S. M. Merrill; judges, C. Hunter, N. Crane, C. Kimball; starter, S. M. Merrill; timers, H. F. Cobb, C. G. M. Miller, A. Brayton; scorer, A. W. Farbell; announcer, F. D. Bond; clerk of course, L. G. Paul.

The events and results were:

Pole vault, four entries—A. V. Shaw, first, 9ft. 4in.; A. Abell, second. 440-yard run, 11 entries—W. C. Johnson, first, time, 55 1-2s.; A. Abell, second. Running broad jump, eight entries—L. S. Clarke, first, 21ft. 1 1/2 in.; W. D. Rising, second.

1 mile run, six entries—G. F. Skelton, first, time, 5m, 2 4/5s; W. R. Crawley, second.

That Ten Foot Fence.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:—

The Newton Athletic Association have won their case, and the injunction applied for against the ten-foot fence has been refused. Nevertheless, the residents in the vicinity are entitled to sympathy, and the affair illustrates the old saying about "many a slip between the cup and the lip." They rejoiced greatly at the advent of the new boulevard, some of them gave land and money towards building it, and they expected to see their land rise as rapidly in value as all the other land in the vicinity has done.

There seemed every prospect of this, but the erection of a ten-foot board fence, some 600 feet long on each side of the enclosure, has brought a sudden end to all the dreams of wealth. No one wants a house fronting on such a fence, if he can afford to buy or rent elsewhere, as it not only cuts off the view, but also the summer breezes, and can hardly be called a thing of beauty. Still the aldermen could hardly refuse to grant the license applied for, but there was only one member who had the courage to say that he had visited the place and could see nothing objectionable about it. The aldermen think his vision would have been helped amazingly if it had been put up against his own front door. The other members were considerate enough to vote for the license and say nothing.

Of course, the Athletic Association has to have its grounds somewhere, and the attendance depends on their being within easy reach, and also on the effectiveness of the means taken to prevent outsiders from looking in. The Remonstrants will have to content themselves with demanding that their taxes be scaled down, and wait with what patience they can until the land enclosed becomes too valuable for the association to pay taxes upon it. It is one of those things that are unfortunate, like a boil upon the cheek, but which the man who only looks on can bear with resignation. The remonstrants can also console themselves with the thought of the other Newton Centre Athletic Association, some five or six years ago, which started out so promisingly for one season and then expired, leaving nothing but a lot of unpaid bills.

CITIZEN.

The Best After Dinner Pill.

Hood's Pills aid digestion, prevent that feeling of fullness or distress and gently yet effectively assist in the assimilation and digestion of food. They do not gripe or pain, and they do not weaken the body. On the contrary they have a strengthening and stimulating effect. They rouse the liver, prevent sickness and cure sick headache. Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless and may be used safely by delicate women and children.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

"George, dear, don't try to mend that hose again with rags. I am drenched. Get the HUDSON'S HOSE MENDER."

HUDSON'S HOSE MENDER

Papa always used it. It's fine. One box ought to last you for years.

Ask your dealer for a box of Hudson's Hose Mender, consisting of 6 tubes, 20 bands, and 1 pair pliers, or postpaid 75c. Extra parts sold separately. Give inside diameter of hose. C. E. HUDSON & CO., Leominster, Mass.

Carpets

.....Cleaned.

am prepared to fill all orders for the—

Taking Up, Cleaning and Relaying of Carpets,

at short notice and in the best manner.

PETER S. WHITE, TREMONT BLOCK, Newtonville, Mass.

Our Customers Advertise Us

We have been using Fine Flour of the Entire Wheat, manufactured by the Franklin Mills Co., Lockport, N. Y., for three months, and I do not hesitate in expressing the opinion that one barrel of it is actually worth more to my family than two barrels of ordinary flour. Bread made from it is perfectly irresistible, and aside from its richness and sweetness to the taste, we find it more nutritious and healthful than any other article of food. I am not subject to "constipation" over newly discovered preparations for the table, but this is certainly a desideratum well worthy of commendation.

REV. A. B. WOODWORTH, Newark, N. J.

Our guests are highly pleased with your Fine Flour of the Entire Wheat. I have been a user of Graham Flour for nearly thirty years. I think this is far superior to the best Graham.

EMORY PORTER, Elmwood Hall, Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

Place the Bread Before Your Children Daily.

Always Ask For "Franklin Mills." All Leading Grocers Sell It.

Franklin Mills Co., Lockport, N. Y.

Ranges, Furnaces, Water Heaters, Steam Boilers, AT FACTORY STORE OF

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co., GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS. Telephone No. 30, Newton.

Furnaces, Ranges Cleaned and Repaired

L. H. CRANITCH, House, Sign, and Ornamental PAINTER.

Paper Hangings in great variety and work promptly done.

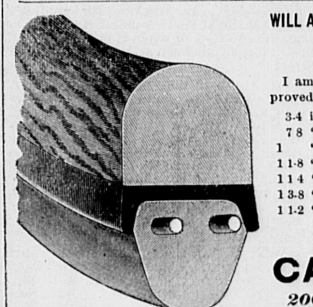

Walnut St., - Newtonville. 2nd door from Central Block.

Newton Land Improvement.

A. S. N. ESTES, Landscape Engineer.

Room 503 Sears Building,

199 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

WILL ADD TEN YEARS TO YOUR LIFE.

RUBBER TIRES.

I am prepared to apply Rubber Tires of the most approved pattern to carriages, at the following low prices:

3-4 in. tread, set of 4 wheels	$35.00	Renewed for	$23.00
7-8 " " " "	40.00	" " "	25.00
1-8 " " " "	45.00	" " "	30.00
1-10 " " " "	50.00	" " "	35.00
1-14 " " " "	65.00	" " "	40.00
1-8-8 " " " "	75.00	" " "	50.00
1-12 " " " "	85.00	" " "	60.00

P. A. MURRAY, CARRICE BUILDER, 200 to 210 Washington St., Newton.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY

WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wilton, Velvets or Axminsters; 8 cents per square yard for Turkish Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for layette; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renova and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpets, Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Matings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE, P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7. Factory and Residence, Clinton Street

GENUINE :- BARGAINS

always to be obtained by those who are in want of

STRICTLY ALL WOOL FABRICS

Suitable for Ladies', Gents', Youths' or Children's wear, by calling on us, where they may be found in all weights and the latest shades and styles. Full line of WHITE . . BED . . BLANKETS.

All sizes and prices. Also

Horse Blankets for Street and Stable Use!

ALL THE

Remnants and Imperfect Goods Made at The Assabet Mills

are sold by us and at the lowest prices. Call and examine them.

The People's Dry Goods Company,

MAYNARD, MASS.

The Salesroom is open until 6 p. m., except Saturdays; closes Saturday at 12 o'clock. Postively open as above until further notice in this paper.

Water Bugs and Roaches. EXTERMINATOR. CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR

No dust. No trouble to use. Price, 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If you druggist or grocer does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price

BARNARD & CO., 7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON

FOR SALE BY BARNARD BROS., NEWTON.

Plumbers.

Having

Purchased the business of the Newtonville Heating and Plumbing Co., I beg leave to inform the public that I am prepared to do all work in the.....

PLUMBING AND HEATING

Line at short notice in a workmanlike and satisfactory manner at reasonable prices. Jobbing and repairs a specialty. Please give me a trial. References given.

GEO. E. THOMPSON, Formerly of 824 Washington Street, Providence, R. I. NEWTONVILLE.

HEWITT & THOMAS, Practical Plumbers.

And Sanitary Engineers. 247 WASHINGTON ST., Nonantum Block, Newton.

M. C. HIGGINS, Practical :- Plumber

—AND— SANITARY ENGINEER.

Plumbing Work in all its branches.

Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city; perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Sumner's Block, Newton.

ESTABLISHED IN 1896.

T. J. HARTNETT, Plumber and Sanitary Engineer.

IRON DRAINAGE & VENTILATION A SPECIALTY.

JOBGING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO

375 Centre Street, - Newton.

Carpenters and Builders.

G. W. RIGBY, Carpenter and Builder.

JOBGING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

Washington St., opp. Waban, Newton.

S. K. MacLEOD, Carpenter and Builder.

Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed. Bathrooms and Kitchens for Plumber's Work a Specialty.

SHOP: CENTRE PL., Opp. PUBLIC LIBRARY. Residence: Boyd Street, near Jewett.

Mrs. E. A. SMITH, Millinery.

202 Moody Street, Opp. Walnut, Waltham, Mass.

JUVENE

Spring and Summer MILLINERY.

E. JUVENE ROBBINS, Eliot Block, Newton.

HOWARD B. COFFIN, DEALER IN Fine Teas, Best Coffees.

AND NEWTON AGENT FOR

Deerfoot Farm Products.

363, 361 CENTRE ST.. 4, 6 HALL ST. Cole's Block, Newton.

Newton and Watertown

Gas Light Company

All orders for Gas or Electric Lighting left at their office, 421 Centre St., will receive prompt attention.

BOOK

—AND—

JOB PRINTING

Of Every Description Promptly Executed at the

Newton Graphic

..OFFICE..

285 Washington Street, NEWTON.

POINTS FOR EXPERTS.

AFFORDED BY THE WEST NEWTON TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The tournament must result in good to American tennis, and the followers of the game are indebted to the Neighborhood Club for its efforts in successfully bringing it about.

But one thing could have been added to this splendidly arranged and well conducted tournament to have made it any more complete, and that is that Bob Wrenn, America's champion, could have met Dr. Pim, the English champion. This, unfortunately, was impossible. Whether it would have made any difference in the result is a question that will have to go unanswered, it being purely a matter of opinion. Still, four of the best tennis players in the country, standing next to Wrenn in rating, were competitors, and if they have not been sufficient to show the strength of the American, what would be?

The two cracks from across the water entered the tournament under some what of a disadvantage in the matter of courts, but they overcame this and won out. The fact that both of them are at the top places both over our men in ability at the game. They won fairly and squarely, not one of them going to them on a fluke, and they are in the opinion of those qualified to know, unquestionably superior at the game. Pim and Mahony were at a disadvantage in having to play on dirt courts, after working on the turf courts of England and Ireland, and this alone rendered weak the outstroke common to both. This stroke is cultivated and used with effect on the turf courts at the other side, but it could not be made to work as desired on the dirt court at West Newton. Still, this did not disturb them to any extent, and they adapted themselves to the conditions as they found them.

Where they distinctly led our players was in even accurate play that did the heart of the tennis enthusiast good. They showed less wildness, and lost points on nets and outs were lost by narrow margins.

Another strong point was their quickness to see opportunities during a match, and in their representative in the tournament were lacking, sometimes palpably so. The control of the racket by the visitors was splendid particularly so with Dr. Pim.

On the whole, the game put up by the visitors was carefully played, decision making their advances, and, particularly in the case of Pim, in trying circumstances, being evident. The American cracks put up the more brilliant and dashing game, striving for every point—and generally gaining them, too—but oftentimes securing a point that was not decisive by extraordinary force and effort that led later on to the loss of points decisive. While our players have showed brilliancy, they lacked the accuracy, the quickness of stroke and the quickness to see an opportunity to derive an advantage the visitors displayed, and by which they secured the honors.

That Dr. Pim is a master of the game he has shown in his several matches, and by the ease with which he has disposed of our best players. His command of himself is refreshing; watching him one gets no sign of how the game is going. His command of the racket is sometimes wonderful. He has a great half-volley, and at all times he is well placed, visible, working the corners for places with rare effect. His easy way in disposing of wicked drives has frequently during the week brought forth enthusiasm from the onlookers, and the way he took and returned lobs when they had all but counted must have been disheartening to the opponent who made the stroke and figured on scoring.

Mahony, while not as cool in the court, or as good a player as Pim, has many of the qualities which the champion possesses, particularly those of accuracy and evenness. He won his games with more effort than Pim, but leaves us unbeaten in singles by an American. Both the visitors have an effective serve, Pim's being particularly vigorous. His second serve is almost as speedy as his first. Both give a strong cut to their serves, and both have secured aces, Pim making more than any of the other players in the tournament.

In doubles, judging by the one match last week, the American cracks are superior, and the two English players are warm in their praises of the game put up by our champion pair. The dashing, brilliant tennis shown by Hobart and Hovey was clearly too much for Pim and Mahony, their way of covering the court and their team work being far in advance of that shown by the visitors. The game was a volleying contest that precluded opportunities for the visitors to use their cut stroke. The speed was evidently much more than they expected, and they failed to handle it. Then Hovey and Hobart gave an exhibition of backing each other up that was clearly lacking in the visiting players' game.

To Clarence Hobart belongs the credit of being the only player to beat Pim in the tournament, and strange to say, it was the only victory the New Yorker secured in the series. In this match Hobart played the game of his life, and all merited the victory he secured. He clearly outplayed Pim, the English champion not showing the form he displayed before and after the match.

Of the American players in the tournament, Mahony Chase has the best record, with three wins. Luck was with him, and he profited by two defaults. It must be said, however, that in the match defaulted to him by Hobart he had the New Yorker beaten. Chase played a game in which lobbing was a prominent feature. While he worked it at times with great success, he showed poor judgment in continuing it when it was going against him. He did brilliant work in all his matches, some of his recoveries being wonderful.

Fred Hovey did not show up encouragingly. At times he seemed to be in his old-time form, but his falling off and unattractiveness cost him dear.

W. A. Larned was unfortunate in entering the tournament out of condition, but gave an exhibition of what he could do in his match with Hobart, the last of his series, which he won.

A False Diagnosis.

La Grippe is confounded by many persons with a severe attack of catarrh, which in some respects resembles the former. These individuals suffer severely with pain about the forehead, eyes and ears, with soreness in throat and stoppage of the nasal passages, and in fact are incapacitated for work of any kind for days at a time. These are catarrhal sufferers. Ely's Cream Balm has been used with the best results in such cases. The remedy will give instant relief.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balm stops the cough at once.

DR. PIM WON.

CLOSING MATCH OF THE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Dr. Joshua Pim, champion of all England and Ireland will take home with him the magnificent trophy given by the Neighborhood Club of West Newton as its first prize in its invitation tennis tournament. Harold S. Mahony, his associate, possesses the trophy given to the second man in the tournament, Fred Hovey and Clarence Hobart will take the trophies given to the winning pair in doubles. The other players in the tournament were presented each with a valuable diamond pin.

The great tournament is over, the Irish players have proved themselves superior to the American, and after a short sight-seeing trip they will return home. The Neighborhood Club is to be congratulated, not alone for the able manner with which it has carried out everything, even to the most minute detail, but also for what it has done for the game in this country. The American game should be a gainer by the experiences of this tournament, which takes rank as the most important ever held in this country.

A fairly large number of spectators, among whom were all the leading enthusiasts around Boston, witnessed the final match of the Neighborhood Club invitation tennis tournament of '95 Monday afternoon, between the two guests of the club, Dr. Joshua Pim and Harold S. Mahony.

In the previous times in which they had met this year Pim had won eight of the matches played, and in this tournament when they met on Saturday Pim won. Their records in the tournament were each four matches won, and one lost. Pim had lost to Clarence Hobart, who had a phenomenal streak of playing, and Mahoney had only lost to Pim.

The match was rather too long for what the spectators thought was a foregone conclusion, and Pim seemed very careless in his work at times. At times the rallies were very hot and Pim generally had the power to win by rushing up to the net and passing his opponent on either side, and by a sharp smash cross court. Once in a while the champion lobbed very accurately, and towards the end of the match, when he was obliged to play hard to win, he made some wonderful drives exactly in the base-line corners. Willis Farrington, the veteran tennis player, was the scorer of the contest.

The first set was very tame, Pim dropping the first game by sheer indifference, and then winning the next two by placing all around his opponent. Mahoney worked hard for the next three games, aided by some very poor work on the part of the champion in drives into the net and out. Then Pim braced and played all returns much more swiftly, using the funny English cut stroke, made back-hand cross courts, and Mahoney was almost at his mercy. The points were:

FIRST SET.
Pim.....2 5 2 1 2 4 4 6 5-36 6
Mahoney.....4 3 3 4 4 0 2 4 3-31 4

Mahoney made a hard fight for the second set and won mainly on quip chop strokes that dropped just over the net and did not bound, together with Pim's indifferent play, which was an other factor in deciding the set. At times Pim seemed to be able to pass his opponent at will, and then drove away every return into the net. Mahoney had to play hard to win, but finally pulled out the set. The points:

SECOND SET.
Pim.....9 4 7 2 2 5 0 4 4 2 1-52 6
Mahoney.....7 2 2 4 4 7 1 1 6 1 4 4-56 8

Mahoney had too strong a lead on the champion early in the set to enable the latter to pull out the set. Once in a while, when Pim did play, he showed that he had strong reserve power, which he was either incapable of using for some reason, or else because he was indifferent. The points were:

THIRD SET.
Pim.....4 6 2 4 4 4 3 5 7-50 4
Mahoney.....6 1 4 4 4 1 5 3 9-53 6

With the games 4-3 against him, Pim began to run up to the net more and put more force into his strokes. Seemingly he would at will place on either side of Mahoney or lob over his head with fine judgment. The rallies were all more exciting, and Pim's smashing was very fine indeed. The points were:

FOURTH SET.
Pim.....1 1 4 0 2 3 5 4 4 4-34 6
Mahoney.....2 4 1 4 4 5 2 1 2-29 4

The fifth set Pim played stronger than ever, and his wonderful accuracy in drives just into the base line corners was a fine sight. Mahoney seemed tired and could not make as good a fight as in the previous sets, and Pim had him almost at his mercy. The points:

FIFTH SET.
Pim.....4 4 1 4 3 4 0 4-28 6
Mahoney.....1 2 1 4 0 5 0 4-18 3

SATURDAY'S GAMES.
The first match Saturday morning was between the great Pim and Mahony, and it was a three-set match, won by Pim, in fine style. The score:

FIRST SET.
Pim.....0 2 0 0 6 0 8 9 10 0-5
Mahony.....1 0 3 4 5 0 7 0 0 11-12 7

SECOND SET.
Pim.....0 2 3 4 5 6 0 8-6
Mahony.....1 0 0 0 0 7 0 2-2

THIRD SET.
Pim.....1 2 3 0 6 0 8 6-6
Mahony.....0 0 0 4 5 0 7 0-3

The other match of the morning was the Larned-Hobart, and the result was something of a surprise. Hobart entered the match with the prestige of having beaten Pim, while Larned had not won to his credit. Judge of the spectator's surprise when Larned walked into his opponent, two sets to love 6-3, 6-3.

FIRST SET.
Larned.....0 2 3 0 5 0 7 8-9
Hobart.....1 0 4 0 4 0 6 0-3

SECOND SET.
Larned.....1 2 0 4 5 0 7 0-6
Hobart.....0 3 0 0 6 0 8 0-3

In the afternoon the Chase-Mahony match came first, and the latter won, but it took three sets to do it:

FIRST SET.
Mahony.....0 2 3 4 0 6 7 0-5
Chase.....1 0 0 0 5 0 8 0-3

SECOND SET.
Mahony.....1 0 0 0 0 6 0-1
Chase.....0 2 3 4 5 0 7 0-6

THIRD SET.
Mahony.....1 0 0 4 5 6 0 8 0-6
Chase.....0 2 3 0 0 7 0 9 0-4

The Pim-Hovey match was a disappointment to Hovey's friends, but it again demonstrated Pim's cleverness at the game and his great generalship. He had Hovey at his mercy at all stages of the game. Hovey showed up in poor form as compared with the champion. He would go to the net and place prettily but his work was not even, and when Pim got ready he did about as he pleased. Pim gave a fine exhibition of his command of the racket, volleys, placing and cutting for the corners and making some sensational returns. Hovey passed more often.

FIRST SET.
Pim.....1 2 3 0 0 7 8 9-6
Hovey.....0 0 0 4 5 6 0 0-3

SECOND SET.
Pim.....1 2 3 0 0 7 8 0-10-6
Hovey.....0 0 0 4 5 6 0 0 9-4

How's This!
We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. We have the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm. W. & T. A. Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. W. A. WALDING, KINXAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

Newton Hospital.
The regular quarterly meeting of the Newton Hospital was held on Thursday, June 27, in the parlors of the Nurses' Home.

The meeting was called to order at 3.15 p. m., with President J. R. Leeson in the chair, and the following members present: Mesdames Blake, Gould, Hovey, Haskell and Mason, Drs. Crockett, Frisbie, Thayer and Seales; the Rev. Dr. Shinn, and Messrs. Bullens, Emerson, Leeson, Pratt and Travelli.

After the reading of the minutes, the treasurer, Mr. Geo. S. Balleus, submitted his report as follows:

Balance from last report $19067.50
Receipts during quarter 10827.41
Disbursements during quarter 21267.70
Including $1000.00 invested in Chicago mortgages 26027.21
Balance on hand 10627.21

Dr. Shinn reported from the executive committee that the number of the patients admitted during quarter was 149. During May, 62 were received, the highest number ever admitted during one month. Through the kindness of Col. E. H. Haskell, a tennis court has been fitted up to provide needed recreation for the nurses.

The report of Dr. S. L. Eaton, secy., of the board of managers of the Home and Training School for nurses, was read by Mr. Pratt and approved.

A letter from Mrs. J. N. Bacon of Newton, resigning her place upon the board, on account of illness, was read by the Chair. Dr. Shinn offered a resolution of regret at the withdrawal of Mrs. Bacon from the Board, which was unanimously adopted. Mrs. Mary M. Billings of Franklin street, Newton, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Bacon, by a unanimous vote.

After some further routine work, the meeting adjourned at 4.30.

Newton A. A.'s Beaten.

Minus the services of Hovey, Hubbard and Abbott, the Newton A. A. team visited Franklin Saturday, and were defeated by the Carters in an exciting contest.

Timely hitting, combined with costly errors gave the Carters the lead in the seventh inning, and a star catch by Gilroy off Bowens' bat in the ninth, with Fitz on second, prevented Newton from tying the score.

Mahoney and Fitz pitched finely. Woodcock's batting was a feature.

CARTERS. NEWTON A. A.

ab.bhp.p.o.a.e. ab.bhp.p.o.a.e.
Sherm'n 2.5 1 5 1 2 Mason, c.....5 1 6 2 1
Wo'kef, 5 3 1 1 0 Warren, p.....1 2 0 0
Mahoy, p.3 2 0 1 0 Hovey, l.....4 1 2 0
Weeks, l.....4 0 7 0 0 Besarick, 3 4 2 1 2
Fess, l.....3 0 0 0 0 Dickin, l.....2 6 0 0
Merrill, 6 3 2 1 0 Cushman, l.....2 1 2 1
Conboy, c.....4 1 1 0 4 Soale, 2.....4 1 3 1
Supple, 3.....4 1 0 1 1 Bened't, of. 4 0 1 0 0
Gilroy, p.....4 1 2 0 0 Fitz, p.....4 1 8 0

Totals.....35 10 27 20 3 Totals.....36 11 24 14

Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

Carters.....0 0 0 0 2 2 0 0 7
Newton A. A.....4 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 6

Runs—Sherman, Woodcock, Mahoney, Cushing, Weeks, Merrill, Conboy, Supple, Warren, Bowen, Besarick, Dickin, 2. Earned runs—Carters, 2; Newton 4. Two-base hits—Warren, Bowen. Three-base hits—Sherman, Mahoney. First base on balls—Fess, Merrill, 2. Passed balls—Struck out—By Mahoney, Warren, Dickinson, Cushing, Soale, Bened't, Fitz 2; by Fitz, Woodcock, 2; Supple, 1. Caught by—Fess, 1; Mason, Conboy, 2; wild pitch—Mahoney. Hit by pitched ball—Bowen, Mahoy. Umpires—Pendleton and Jones. Time—1h. 45m. Attendance 80.

When so many people are taking and deriving benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, why don't you try it yourself? It is highly recommended.

Cooking School Authorities RECOMMEND

WHEATLET

RICH IN GLUTEN

AS THE STANDARD

Breakfast Dish.

Wheatlet is never absent from our breakfast table, that has long been our standard breakfast dish. In making cereals, muffins, etc., it is unsurpassed; in fact, Wheatlet is so hearty and affords nourishment so lasting that it seems in a great measure to supply the place of flesh food.

Mrs. HESTER M. POOLE.

Metuchen, N. J., Jan. 28, '95.

Sold in 2-lb. packages by all leading Grocers.

FRANKLIN MILLS CO.,

LOCKPORT, N. Y.

Does the Question of Proper Bicycling Dress Bother You?

We desire to help every American woman to ride a bicycle. Therefore COLUMBIA BICYCLES are $100 this year, and are lighter and better adapted to women's needs than ever. There are also light and attractive patterns for women's use in Hartford Bicycles at $80 and $60. *****

Here's an Idea

To help solve the problem of proper cycling costume, we have had prepared a set of six handsomely lithographed paper dolls, showing designs by some of the world's most noted makers of women's gowns. The set is beautiful and instructive. *****

Mailed to any address, with a dainty little book on BICYCLING FOR WOMEN, for five 2-cent stamps. Address Publishing Department.

Pope Mfg. Co., Hartford, Conn.

JOHN S. SUMNER, Agent for Columbia and Hartford Bicycles 352 Centre St. Newton.

There is no pain that Pain-Killer will not stop. Colic, cramps, toothache, earache, sprains, cuts, burns, bites and stings, all yield to its magic. A record of more than fifty years proves that

One thing is certain PAIN-KILLER kills pain

Keep Pain-Killer constantly on hand—you can never know when it will be needed. The quantity has been doubled, but the price is still 25 cents. Imitations and substitutes may be offered you—look out. The genuine bottle bears the name—Ferry Davis & Son.

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT.

Successors to P. A. MURRAY, Washington Street, NEXT TO Murray's Carriage Manufactory

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

Does the Question of Proper Bicycling Dress Bother You?

We desire to help every American woman to ride a bicycle. Therefore COLUMBIA BICYCLES are $100 this year, and are lighter and better adapted to women's needs than ever. There are also light and attractive patterns for women's use in Hartford Bicycles at $80 and $60. *****

Here's an Idea

To help solve the problem of proper cycling costume, we have had prepared a set of six handsomely lithographed paper dolls, showing designs by some of the world's most noted makers of women's gowns. The set is beautiful and instructive. *****

Mailed to any address, with a dainty little book on BICYCLING FOR WOMEN, for five 2-cent stamps. Address Publishing Department.

Pope Mfg. Co., Hartford, Conn.

JOHN S. SUMNER, Agent for Columbia and Hartford Bicycles 352 Centre St. Newton.

There is no pain that Pain-Killer will not stop. Colic, cramps, toothache, earache, sprains, cuts, burns, bites and stings, all yield to its magic. A record of more than fifty years proves that

One thing is certain PAIN-KILLER kills pain

Keep Pain-Killer constantly on hand—you can never know when it will be needed. The quantity has been doubled, but the price is still 25 cents. Imitations and substitutes may be offered you—look out. The genuine bottle bears the name—Ferry Davis & Son.

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT.

Successors to P. A. MURRAY, Washington Street, NEXT TO Murray's Carriage Manufactory

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

Used and endorsed by Adams Express Co.

TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, The Great Cure for Man and Beast.

$100 Reward (if not cured) for every case of Colic, Contracted and Knotted Cords, Cuts, Splint Shoe Bolls (when first started), and Callous of all kinds. Never fails to relieve Spavins, Ringbones, or Cockle joints.

Read following from a letter dated Boston, Aug. 5, 1892:—

"TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, diluted with water and applied externally, in connection with TUTTLE'S CONDITION POWDERS, cured my horse Dandy of a sore of 6 months' standing. It also proved a success as applied to bleeding warts on my cow's teats; and a severe case of Rheumatism from which my man was suffering, was relieved at once.

Yours truly, A. R. WHITTIER."

Tuttle's Family Elixir Cures Rheumatism, Coughs, Colic, Lameness, Sprains, Sore Throat, La Grippe and Pneumonia. Sample bottle FREE, or sent to any address on receipt of 3 2-cent stamps to S. A. TUTTLE, 27 Beverly St., Boston. J. N. DANFORTH, Brighton, Agent.

Ely's Cream Balm For CATARRH THE POSITIVE CURE. ELY BROTHERS, 54 Warren St., New York. Price 50 cts.

Real Estate and Insurance.

ESTABLISHED 1850. TELEPHONE 2892.

HYDE'S Real Estate Agency

31 MILK ST., ROOM 205, BOSTON, MASS.

Auctioneer, Mortgages Negotiated.

Newton Office: JOHN A. EVANS, Agent, 67 Elmwood Street, Newton Property a Specialty.

N. Highlands Office: Newhall's Block, Lincoln Street, Newton Highlands Property a Specialty.

ELLIOTT J. HYDE.

Henry W. Savage, 37 COURT STREET, BOSTON. Established 1840. Telephone, Boston 3050

Largest . . . Real Estate Office . . .

In New England. Examine our line of fine residences before purchasing.

Mortgages Insurance placed without delay at lowest rates placed in any desired Company. Prompt and special attention paid to all communications.

JOHN A. POTTER, West Newton, Resident Agent.

REAL ESTATE To Sell or Rent.

INSURANCE, MONEY TO LOAN. Carriages ready to take customers to see property.

Newton Centre Office: Union Street, opposite Railroad Station.

Boston Office: 113 Devonshire St., Room 2

SIDNEY P. CLARK, Newton Centre

Established 1857.

F. G. BARNES & SON Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance BROKERS.

Auctioneers for Real and Personal Property. FOR SALE AND FOR RENT A large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: 27 State St., Boston, BRACKETT'S Bldg. NEWTON.

WILEY S. & FRANK EDMANDS 178 Devonshire St., Boston.

Insurance Agents and Brokers. Mortgages Wanted. Newton Real Estate a Specialty.

Houses For Sale, $3000 and upwards. To Let $25 to $100. Furnished, $35 to $250. Choice Building Lots, 10 cents to 50 cents

For Buying and Selling Real Estate And Placing of Mortgages And Fire Insurance In Every Part of NEWTON Apply to Henry T. Wills, 113 Devonshire Street, Boston. Telephone No. 3874.

ALVORD BROS & CO. 113 Devonshire Street, Boston

NEWTON REAL ESTATE, MORTGAGES AND INSURANCE. Artistic new houses, every modern device for comfort and luxury, generous lots, aristocratic neighborhood, near station, from $6000 up. Extraordinary value for the money. Building lots near new Boulevard and in all other localities at lowest price. Desirable houses to rent. CIRCUIT PROPERTY A SPECIALTY.

Are You Looking For a first class, new, modern 13 room house, in one of the most convenient, select neighborhoods in town for $15,000? If so, see us. It will please you. How about a daisy on West Newton Hill, with stable, 16,405 ft. land, magnificent view; $12,000, terms to suit. New modern house, Hunnewell Hill, $10,500, $8,500, $7,000, $6,000, $5,000. Choice house lots, near new Hunnewell Hill Club House; others, Mt. Ida, West Newton Hills. Houses to let. Money to loan on mortgage.

ABAN, TROWBRIDGE & CO., 53 State St., Boston. Elliott Block, Newton.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable toEDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-3.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

ONE rather ingenious writer attributes the successive defeats of the Harvard crews to their having to practice on the Charles river, which is so foul that some of the crew are laid up by sickness most of the time. This view is a new one, but it may have some foundation in fact. The river bed at low water is very foul, and a good deal of malaria exists along the banks of the river for several miles up the stream. A dam would have done something to obviate the difficulty, but the Beacon street residents, who are so fond of their dilapidated back yards, were able to defeat this, and so something else must be done. The Boston Board of Aldermen have ordered their board of health to investigate the filthy condition of the river, and to look up those corporations which discharge oil and refuse matter into the stream. If they could get the state board of health to cooperate, the trouble that exists outside of the Boston limits might be reached. There are said to be corporations in Cambridge, Newton, Waltham, Wellesley and Watertown which do a good deal toward polluting the river bed.

MR. ROBERT H. GARDINER of Chestnut Hill has been elected permanent chairman of the Republican club of Massachusetts, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. Henry Parkman of Boston. This is a high honor for Mr. Gardiner, who is one of the most enthusiastic Republicans in the state, as he is never troubled by any doubts that his party is always right. This is the only way in which a man can be a successful party leader, and Mr. Gardiner has fairly won the honor, as he has worked hard for the party interests, both in his own city, when he has been chairman of the Republican city committee for a number of years, and also on district and state committees. Mr. Gardiner is evidently one of the coming men in the Republican party, although he has so far never desired any office, or any other returns for his labors, which were entirely disinterested, which is more than can be said for most other political workers.

It is reported that the Watertown selectmen have reached some kind of an agreement with the Newton Street railway, which is to be given a franchise from Bridge street to the Waltham line, on condition that it widens a portion of Pleasant street, and also builds an addition to the bridge between Newton and Bemis station. This is interesting, if true, because street railways generally expect a town to do all the widening for them, while they merely take in whatever money comes to them from the road thus provided, free of expense.

SOMETHING seems to be the matter with the nominees for the Metropolitan water commission, and the executive council has hung them up for another week. One criticism is that the men are not large enough for such important positions, with such large expenditures to be made. There is a good deal of force in this. Another criticism is that they are all Republicans, but this would not have deserved any attention, if the men had been of first rate ability, whose fitness no one could dispute.

THE city government is supposed to be on its vacation now, and that is the reason the dates of meetings come on any night that is most convenient for the members. A special session was held the night before the Fourth, for the sake of a number of rather unimportant hearings that had been set for that night.

It is hoped the city government will hurry up a little in adopting lines for the Washington street widening. The leisurely way they have so far gone about the work has been very aggravating to the property owners affected, who do not know what the future has in store for them.

THE great and glorious Fourth is over, and older people feel a great sense of relief that it cannot come again for a whole year.

Not On That Plan.
(From Harper's Bazar.)

"I have come to ask for your daughter's hand, Mr. Herriek," said young Waller, nervously.
"Oh—well, you can't have it," said Herriek, "I'm not doing out my daughter on the installment plan. When you feel that you can support the whole girl you may call again."

OUR STATE HIGHWAY SYSTEM.

A SURVEY OF THE WORK LAID OUT—ITS BENEFITS RECOGNIZED—THE PLANS FOR WESTERN MASSACHUSETTS.

[Boston Letter to Springfield Republican.]

How earnest is the desire of the people for better roads is seen in the fact that up-to today the state highway commission has received petitions from over 200 towns and cities out of the 353 in the state. These petitions are coming in frequently and it is believed that the total will be 250 by the end of the season. The petitions are joint in some cases (from two towns), the total number of petitions being 196. The extent to which the work for better roads is pressed may not be realized by the public, but there are today 30 different localities in the state where stone-crushers, teams and men are at work, the number of men averaging from 20 to 25 for each place. Here are at least over 6000 men at work every day through the season, making the roads of the state better. They are scattered all over the commonwealth, from Berkshire to the sands of Nantucket.

The effort has not been to make as much of a show as possible, but to render the most service to the public possible with the amount of money which was at disposal. Testimony to the value of the work done is already coming in. Murray Crane has said that the short line of highway which his establishment can use in hauling coal from the station makes a saving of forty cents a ton for them, the price being reduced from 60 cents a ton to 20 as he figures it. They do their own teaming. It is difficult to tell how much the state will save in a year by the whole projected system after it shall be in operation, but reckoning on the basis of the saving by the old canals over the highways and by railroads over canals, according to the amount of freight transported in modern times, it is computed that there will be a saving of from $1,500,000, to $4,000,000 a year. The commission has been told by the teamsters who use the much-traveled roads through Concord, Lincoln and Lexington to Boston, that when their road is finished as planned it will save them $1 on every load they take to Boston,—that is, they can draw so much more and will save so much in time of men and horses, and in wear and tear of wagons and harnesses.

The best way to be disabused of the idea that the work of the commission is a piece of patchwork is to study the large map of the state which hangs in their office, with the roads marked in red which have been built, are being built, or have been petitioned for. The proof of a system is too strong to escape attention, even though the red line is only short. The first feature is the way in which these lines point to Boston. Many a gap remains in the lines, but some of them, such as that from Andover south through Reading and Stoneham toward Boston are well filled up. They radiate from the land centres and Fitchburg, especially, seems to have cast an anchor to windward for the future construction of state roads. Besides the line north to Ashby and west to Westminister, there is one petitioned for southerly to Leominster, while the main northern route from Boston to the west along the northern part of the state lies through the city.

Another striking line is that along the south shore. This is already largely filled in, and eventually it will be continuous from Boston to Provincetown, forming probably the most delightful southern drive in the country. Just think of it! There will be a delightful drive of a comfortable jaunt of three days straightaway, barring the turns in the road, from Boston to the tip of Cape Cod, commanding a beautiful sea view for a large part of the way, with no steep hills to climb, with the obstructive and enveloping sand of the south shore all subdued by skillful engineers and conquered by smooth macadam so hard that the heaviest teams will make no impression on it. Most of this route has been petitioned for already, and considerable of it is under construction, while along the line at intervals in Plymouth County come other state roads into it from the interior, making it practicable for inland towns to take the beach drive if they are disposed. There is also in contemplation a parallel drive along the south shore of Cap Cod and the line will run through Yarmouth, Dennis, Harwich, and Chatham. Construction of this part has been begun in Yarmouth.

The commissioners' map shows already the line which will be filled in gradually until there is macadam connection between Boston and Worcester, Springfield and Pittsfield. Not much of this is done, but the red line on the map already leading west from Worcester and in Wilbraham, showing that the plan is laid out and that the construction will be advanced as fast as the general system for the state will permit. This line will go through Leicester, Spencer, the Brookfields, and Wrentham. It is planned to go south from Warren into Brimfield and Wales. One is laid out to run south from Worcester through Auburn, Oxford and Webster. That east of Worcester will go through Shrewsbury, Marlboro, and so on, passing through Waltham and Watertown near the end of the line. Construction is going on now in Shrewsbury and Watertown. They are apparently far apart and do not come into one, but the unity of design is there, while the building at this end will facilitate communication with Boston for the teams of the market gardeners and the construction in Shrewsbury will help the people on the east of Worcester who have loads to carry there.

The eastern counties, Middlesex, Essex, Norfolk, Plymouth and Bristol, sections are being built so as to serve local needs and, at the same time, to fit into the great system of improved highways which will facilitate communication between towns, will make available for profitable business many water-powers which are now at an unprofitable distance from railroads, will delight the wheelmen and will put Massachusetts at the head of the country for good roads.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

NONANTUM.

—The Nonantum industrial school will reopen July 8.

—Miss Lizzie Frye has returned from a visit to Norfolk.

—Mrs. Thomas Pease has left for a visit to Nova Scotia.

—Michael Leonard has returned to his home on Dalby street.

—Miss Ada Kybert of Faxon street is recovering from her recent illness.

—Joseph Mann has left for a 4 months' sojourn at Bridgewater.

—A plumbing shop has been opened in Nugent's block on Watertown street.

—Mr. C. O. Davis has left for a trip to Stafford Springs, Conn.

—Mr. Wing, the painter, has completed the erection of a stable on Bridge street.

—Contractor Nevins has commenced building a three tenement block on Dalby street.

—The North Evangelical church society held a very enjoyable picnic at Wabur's grove, Waltham, July 4th.

—Mrs. Albert Stevens sailed on the steamer "Hallfax" for a visit to that place,

Tuesday.

—Miss Sarah Tonner will sail Saturday, on the steamer "State of California," for her home in Scotland.

—John F. Williams has leased the drug store formerly occupied by Wm. Grace, and will reopen it very soon.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hayden (nee Hudson) have returned from their wedding tour and have removed to Somerville.

—The medicine and concert company has left this place, after accomplishing some wonderful (?) results.

—Richard Mills has completed the erection of a large shed, in the rear of his house, to be used for storage purposes.

—Mr. Woodman of Newtonville conducted the Christian Endeavor meeting at the North Evangelical church, Sunday evening.

—Nonantum can now boast of having the only Italian grocery store in the city, one which was opened recently in Boyle's block.

—There is some complaint among the residents of this place, who say that they cannot obtain the daily papers until long after the usual time. A short time ago some people, with little else to do, tried to boycott a certain Bridge street news-dealer, but have regretted it ever since, as the newsdealer is setting even.

—Thomas Mullen of Adams street was fined $200 and six months for violating the liquor law. In court on Wednesday he appealed. Wm. Bennett of Beech street was discharged on similar complaint.

Martin King was arrested Wednesday on a caption from the U. S. Court, for violating the liquor law.

—Last Sunday marked the third month

since the organization of the Beulah Mission in St. Elmo hall, Sunday afternoons.

The meetings have been most successful in the efficient hands of Mr. George Hudson, who with the other officers, has taken a great interest in the work. Last Saturday the mission was presented with twelve chairs by Mr. C. F. Johnson of Waltham, who is an utter stranger and whom the society has been able to thank only by letter, and whom they would like to thank verbally.

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

OUR INCOMPARABLE ICE CREAM.

Europeans Strive to Imitate It, but Their Efforts Have Been Vain.

Ice cream is pre-eminently an American specialty. All the Atlantic passenger steamers plying between this port and Europe take aboard in New York a sufficient supply of ice cream for the voyage back to New York as well as for the onward journey, despite the fact that the cost of the article is greater here than abroad, and that it is expensive stuff to keep. The round trip occupies at least three weeks, and the cream has to last that period, one week of which the ship is tied up in dock, with the cream eating up ice in the refrigerator at a prodigious rate. When the autumn rush homeward sets in and the steamers are crowded to the limit, the amount of ice cream thus carried from this port and kept at least two weeks for use on the return voyage is a big item in the provision account. Many kinds of provisions and supplies are cheaper in Europe than here, and of these the steamers lay in a double stock at the European ports. Ice cream, too, is cheaper in Europe, but it has the fatal disad-vantage that it is not ice cream as the American regards the article.

Ice has come to be less of a novelty on the table in Europe in recent years, mainly, doubtless, because of the insistence of the thousands of Americans who make Europe their summer playground.

Ice cream, too, you can get in most of the big cities, even in England. But it usually lacks the main, indefinable qualities that make it so attractive at home.

Europeans may talk about the inimitable bouquet of their wines, but the bouquet of American ice cream is beyond them.

This is not a matter of natural advantages and facilities, as is claimed for the wine and other things, for Switzerland is full of ice topped mountains, and her valleys are filled with cows.

A varied and recent experience with the ice creams of Europe induces the conclusion that only the "sorbetto" one gets on the Piazza of St. Mark's in Venice approaches the delicious perfection of the ordinary every day ice cream of America. Perhaps this is because the Venetians themselves eat ice cream, whereas in most other European cities

it is regarded as an outlandish concoction, prepared only for the peculiar palate of the stranger. It is a far cry and a strange one, from St. Mark's to Madison square, but the delighted exclamation of a group of American girls, ordering ice cream there as they had done all the way down from London, "Ah, this is something like!" covered the distance in no time.—New York Sun.

ALPHONSE DAUDET.

A Slow Writer, and He Is Never Satisfied

With His Work.

Alphonse Daudet thus describes his method of writing a book: "I write slowly, very slowly, and revise and revise. I am never satisfied with my work.

My novels I always write myself. I never could dictate a novel. As to my plays,

I used formerly to dictate them. I had a certain talent in my legs, just as Napoleon had a certain genius in the legs of his soldiers. My books go through many processes. To begin with, I fill my notebooks. Each note as it is used is scratched out in blue or red pencil.

From these written notes and the tablets of my memory—the delict of my memory—I write out in copybooks the first copy of my novel.

"I write this first copy on alternate pages of my copybooks, and leave the opposite sheet blank. When the book is finished in its rough state, I rewrite it page by page on the blank sheets. The

page on the right is the amended copy of the page on the left. Then my wife looks at this second copy and suggests to me what improvements might be made. I note these down.

"Then I rewrite the whole book again with the joy of a schoolboy who feels that a wearisome task is ended. So that, apart from my notes, I write each manuscript three times over, and if I could do so I would write it as many times more, for, as I have said, I am never satisfied with my work. But I am very irregular in my way of working. Sometimes I work 18 hours a day, and day by day."—Rockland (Me.) Tribune.

The Missing Birds.

The bluebirds, yellow birds and blackbirds seem to have disappeared from western New York this year. Reports from careful ornithologists in many counties show that these birds have not appeared this spring as usual. Walter Burke of Batavia writes: "Where are the blackbirds? These birds in past years congregated in large numbers in a little grove near my residence and filled the air with their melodious singing, but now it is all hushed and still."

The Livingston Republican says:

"The absence of bluebirds has been commented on by several papers, and come to think of it, we haven't noticed any bluebirds or yellow birds either, but the orioles are flashing through the foliage in considerable numbers and occasionally trilling a few bars of song."

—Buffalo Enquirer.

Reserve In Death Notices.

One notices more and more with every year how the age is often and of-tender dropped from death announcements. This is in strict accordance with the growing reserve of the individual who keeps his private affairs to himself more closely, even in matters of no direct importance. It is odd that such a private feeling should have stronger side by side with the greater publicity of one's affairs through the wider notice taken of them in the press generally with society and other mention once

NEWTONVILLE.

—Pianos rented and tuned, Farley, Newton.

—Mrs. Mehtabel Kimball of Otis street is seriously ill.

—Mr. W. F. Hackett of Highland avenue has returned from Duxbury.

—Miss Morse and Miss Gertrude Morse of Central avenue, have gone to Gloucester.

—Mrs. N. H. Brown of Walnut street has gone to Colorado.

—Congratulations in order for Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Chase, Austin street, a girl.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Crane are enjoying the warm season at Nantasket.

—Mr. W. F. Dearborn and family are passing the holidays at North Falmouth.

—Mr. H. B. Dalton and family expect to pass the summer in Dalton, Mass.

—Mr. J. J. Downey and family are passing the warm season at Nantucket.

—Dr. W. O. Hunt's and family are passing the summer at North Falmouth.

—Mr. John Carter and family have gone to South Duxbury.

—Mr. T. G. Estes and family are enjoying the summer at Swansea.

—Mr. F. L. Nagle and family are spending a few weeks in New Britain, Conn.

—Mr. A. C. Judkins is at North Falmouth.

—Miss Annie P. Call is summering in Europe.

—Mr. G. W. Morse returned this week from Minneapolis.

—Mr. W. H. Sylvester is passing a portion of his holidays at Mt. Desert.

—Mr. C. H. Ames and family are away for the summer.

—Mrs. William Paul is at Falmouth Heights for a few weeks.

—Miss M. E. Bachelor has returned from a three weeks stay in New Jersey.

—Mr. W. F. Kimball and family are at the Atlantic house, Nantasket.

—Mrs. John E. Binney and son, William A., have returned from a visit in New York.

—Mrs. Henry Cotting of Somerville is the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Chase.

—J. E. Watson, driver of the truck, has returned from a two weeks' vacation in New Hampshire.

—Mrs. Sarah Soule of Yarmouth, Me., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Soule, Walker street.

—Mr. and Mrs. William H. Coolidge of Grove Hill avenue, have gone to carriage drive; they will be gone several days.

—Mr. F. S. Rollins and family have gone to their summer residence at Nantucket.

—Postmaster Turner has been reappointed by President Cleveland, and is now serving his tenth year as postmaster.

—Mrs. A. Fred Brown, children, and maid left this week for Buffalo and Lebanon Springs.

—Lawrence Soule has accepted a position, temporarily, in a Boston furniture house. He will probably pursue his studies at Harvard next fall.

—There are letters in the postoffice for George and Jane Barkhouse, Mrs. T. Bennett, Charles Hills, Miss Mary L. Saunders, Mrs. Frances Young.

—Mr. A. J. Cumming and family have returned from St. Paul and are again installed on Grove Hill. Their friends are very glad to welcome them back to Newton.

—The Newtonville Cycle Club pyrotechnic display, postponed on account of the weather, takes place tonight on the grounds of the Hull estate, where the former home of the Newtons once stood.

—Five special officers were added to the regular complement for duty the night before the Fourth in the Newtonville district. Apparently, the work was thoroughly done, for good order was preserved and no attempts were made to injure property.

—The old building in the rear of Tremont hall has been repaired and it is expected that it will have its effect in preventing fires on the roof started by locomotive sparks. The old shingles were as dry as tinder and ignited, seemingly, at the slightest provocation.

—Patrolman Clay's son fell from a cherry tree on his uncle's estate at the Upper Falls, a few days ago, hurting his back and dislocating his wrist. He was so seriously injured that it was thought inadvisable to remove him to his home here. His condition at last accounts was reported as comfortable.

—At the mass meeting and rally at the Methodist church to be held on the evening of July 14th, convention Sunday, and in the interest of the Endeavor Convention a great treat is to be offered. The committee have secured as speakers the Rev. Dr. J. A. Rondthaler of Indianapolis, Dr. Rondthaler is regarded as the brainiest and one of the most eloquent of all who will address the great convention. He is popularly known as the "Indiana cyclone" for the power which he exercises over an audience.

—Methodist Episcopal church—Morning service at 10:45 a. m., with a short sermon by the pastor, "Erring but Forgiving." Evening service at 7:30. This will be a platform meeting in the interests of the Christian Endeavor Convention. Several well known speakers will make short addresses. Rev. Edgar Davidson will speak on "Some Practical Things of the Convention." The pastor also will speak on "The Program." The addresses will be short aiming to present the convention clearly on its purpose and end. Special music. All invited.

—The threatening clouds yesterday were not enough to slacken the efforts of the residents of Otis street, who proceeded with their preparations for an illumination, concert and pyrotechnic display, calculated to put in the shade all that attempted in recent years. The heavy downpour in the afternoon, however, was too much. Even Otis street pluck and enterprise wilted under it, although only for the time being. Rather than disappoint their friends—and themselves—in allowing the glorious Fourth to pass without ceremony, the festivities have been postponed until Saturday, (July 6), when, weather permitting, the entire program will be carried out and visitors will find the latch-strings of the hospitable doors hanging invitingly upon the outside.

—The third and last of the delightful afternoons, which have been so much enjoyed at the residence of Mrs. Fayette Shaw, Harvard street, was given on June 22d. The musical program was of a high order. The songs so charmingly rendered by Miss Gertrude Knight, accompanied by Mrs. Abbie Clark Ford, both of Boston, were heartily enjoyed. Miss Knight's singing called for repeated encores. The part not least enjoyed was the recitations by the hostess, who has proved herself so thoroughly acquainted with the old Greek and Roman poetry as to arouse a new interest in all present. The passage from Virgil's Aeneid, telling the thrilling story of Queen Didon's hopeless passion for Aeneas, his desertion of Carthage, and Didon's final death, was given with much pathos and feeling. Mrs. Delphina Dearborn made a few closing remarks wishing the hostess long life and happiness in her lovely home.

—Age will not be so marked if you use Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers.

WEST NEWTON.

—Miller pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Mr. L. C. Hill and family are at Hull for the summer.

—The Misses Kate and Rosalie Carroll are at York Beach, Me.

—The Unitarian church will be closed until Sept. 15.

—Miss Marian Bullard is spending the summer at Ogonquit.

—Mr. J. R. Carter and family are at Harwichport for a short stay.

—Mr. Levi F. Warren and family are passing the hot months in Vermont.

—Mr. W. F. Cleveland of Shaw street left Monday for Onondaga, New York.

—Mr. George E. Peters and family of Prince street are in Maine for the summer.

—Mr. Joshua Blake of Cherry street is at Woodstock, N. H.

—Councilman C. H. Sprague and family are at Barnstable for the summer.

—Alderman G. P. Bullard is in Maine for a few weeks.

—Patrolman Guy Shannon and family have returned from Portsmouth, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Leland are in Falmouth for a short stay.

—Mr. George P. Staples and family are at their cottage, Goose Rock, Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Kebbe have returned from New York City.

—Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Scales of Hillside terrace have returned from Lenox.

—Mrs. S. P. Darling and daughter are at Corinth, Vermont.

—Mr. E. C. Holmes has removed to Johnson, Vt.

—Mr. A. F. Luke and family will pass a few months at Beverly Farms this season.

—Rev. and Mrs. E. P. Burtt are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

—Mr. J. H. Wheeler spent the Fourth in Bolton.

—Mrs. W. M. Bullivant and family are at Marion for the summer.

—Mr. Henry Cate starts Saturday for Newport News, Va., on a vacation trip.

—Mr. H. G. Cleveland and family will go to the Adirondacks from Onondaga, N. Y., where he went last week, for a brief stay.

—Mr. W. H. Hogan, assistant ticket man at the depot, is enjoying a week's vacation.

—Mr. C. W. Wetherbee and family will spend the remainder of the hot months at the Mountains.

—Miss Ruth Adams and Master Wesson Adams of Highland street are enjoying their vacation in Canada.

—Miss Swain of Washington street will attend the teachers' convention in Denver, Col.

—Mrs. A. M. Langley and daughters of Cherry street have gone to Woodstock, N. H., for the summer.

—Rev. Joseph Henry Allen of Brookline occupied the pulpit in the Unitarian church, last Sunday.

—Master Abbott C. Meade of Hillside avenue is spending his vacation in Dublin, N. H.

—Mr. S. Warren Davis and family of River street are at their summer home in Rowe.

—A. C. Thomas and family left here Friday, for their summer home in Marshfield.

—Mrs. Charles Howard and family of Shaw street are sojourning a few weeks in New Hampshire.

—Miss Mabel Bixby will spend her vacation at North Sandwich, New Hampshire, this summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Moses Quimby started this week for Sandwich, N. H. They make the trip in their carriage and anticipate a delightful drive.

—Mr. N. T. Allen and family leave this week for their summer home at Linnekin, Me., which is quite a popular resort for Newton people.

—Mrs. Sarah Alliance P. Brown, widow of Dr. Joel H. Brown, died at her home on Perkins street, Tuesday, after a long illness, at the age of 81 years. The deceased had resided in Newton over 50 years and was born in Braintree. Dr. Brown was in his lifetime a prominent physician here.

—Ed Holmes, for 15 years connected with the police department, has resigned. Lately he has been the driver of the patrol wagon, but for a number of years was a patrolman here. His resignation is entirely voluntary. It is understood that he will leave this city and settle in his old home in New Hampshire.

—The piano recital given by the pupils of Miss Mary E. Stone last Friday evening at the residence of Geo. H. Haynes proved a very successful affair. Miss Stone has a large class of young pupils in Newton, West Newton, Watertown, Waltham, Charlestown and Boston, and the twenty-five who took part showed the careful training of the teacher. Miss Stone was assisted by Miss M. Ernestine Banks, reader. Miss Banks' selections were well received both numbers being encored.

—The annual meeting of the West Newton Co-operative bank was held last week. A dividend of 6 per cent. was declared, and nearly 100 new shares were subscribed for. The money on hand was sold at 5 cents premium. Much enthusiasm was manifested at the meeting, and the officers were elected as follows: President, Marcus Morton; vice-president, C. F. Eddy; treasurer, Arthur Carroll; directors, H. H. Hunt, C. M. Whittlesley, Charles F. Richardson, George W. Eddy, John Purcell, Herbert S. Ware, Henry L. Whittlesley, H. L. Burrage, E. P. Hatch, Charles E. Hatfield and P. T. Cunningham; auditors, M. A. Richards, Charles E. Davis and F. H. Sprague, 2d.

—A large seizure of beer was made here last Friday afternoon. For some time past the officers attached to Station 3 have had Antonio Sassi, who conducts the Italian shanty at the corner of Washington and Greenough streets, under surveillance, and it was decided to raid him. Accordingly, Patrolmen J. J. Davis, Clay, Soule, Holmes and Nagle, armed with a search warrant, made a descent on the place, and after a vigorous search discovered 30 cases of beer secreted in an excavation under the floor of the store house. The stuff completely filled the patrol wagon. Sassi has been once before in court for violating the liquor law. He was arraigned in the police court for maintaining a liquor nuisance.

—A very pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday evening of last week at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. S. Drummond, Waltham street. The contracting parties were Mr. Arthur F. Nelson and Miss Louisa M. Pazzant. Rev. E. P. Burtt officiated. The house was beautifully decorated with roses and ferns, and the bridal pair stood under an arch of evergreen and roses. The bride was dressed in a straw colored silk with bright veil and bouquet. The bridesmaids, Miss Florence G. Nelson, the little daughter of the groom, and Miss Mabel L. Fenderson, niece of the bride, were dressed in white dotted muslin, and each carried a bouquet of roses. A reception was held from 5:30 to 10 and a collation was served. Mr. J. T. Fenderson and Mr. Baxter Pazzant, acted as ushers. The bride received quite a number of beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left on the ten o'clock train for Boston, enroute for Annapolis, Co., N. S., where they will spend a few weeks' honeymoon.

—Mr. William Pettigrew and family left here this week for their summer place in North Sandwich, N. H.

—Robert Brown met with a serious accident last Saturday while using a rifle. He fired at a rock and the bullet rebounded striking him under the left eye embedding itself in the flesh. Dr. Crockett attended him.

—On Sunday evening last Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wheeler, Jr., of Prince street, gave one of their "musical evenings," which was greatly enjoyed by those present. The singing by the Royal Quartet of Hawaiian songs to the accompaniment of native instruments was a pleasing novelty. Several violin solos were delightfully rendered by a prominent Worcester artist and instrumental selections were given by the gifted hostess.

AUBURNDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.

—The family of Mr. J. S. Dillingham are summering at Point Allerton, Hull.

—Mr. George L. Chandler, with his family, is at Centre Harbor, N. H.

—Mr. Frank Otterson is recovering from his recent illness.

—Mr. T. W. Bishop and family have gone to Kennebunkport.

—Mr. J. W. Bird and family are at Pemberton, North shore.

—Mr. J. O. Bishop has left for Kennebunkport.

—Mr. Wm. H. Blood's family is at Marblehead neck.

—Mrs. E. T. Bunker and family have gone to Cohasset for a month's stay.

—Mr. Dustin J. Smith of Auburn street is ill with malaria.

—Mr. H. A. Priest and family have left for their summer home at the seashore.

—Hon. C. B. DeBols of Nashua, N. H., was the guest of Mr. Walter Thorne the past week.

—Mr. F. H. Bird and family will occupy the house recently vacated by Mr. John Bird on Central street.

—Miss Martin of the postoffice left Thursday for St. Andrews, New Brunswick.

—Among those who qualified as marksmen at the C. O. C. range, Saturday, were Messrs. Frank Hoyt and George Gilford, both of this place.

—The Rev. Dr. Closs, of Australia, who has come over to attend the great Christian Endeavor meeting, will preach in the Congregational church, next Sunday.

—There are letters in the post office for Miss Minnie Carey, Delta C. Horton, Mrs. Hart Plain, Mr. Walter Blodgett, Mr. James Lowry, Mr. Chas. Mitchell and T. T. Nordone.

—A most enjoyable lawn party was held on the grounds of Mr. Charles Miner on Lexington street, yesterday. Dinner and lunch were served on the lawn, and some very fine instrumental music listened to. The house and grounds were handsomely decorated with Chinese lanterns and flags. There were about fifty people present, and among the guests were numbered people from the Newtons and from out of town.

—The Newton boat club house presented a very picturesque appearance Saturday evening, the occasion being the last of the "June" pops. The club house was brilliantly lighted from top to bottom. The piazzas and surrounding trees were hung with Chinese lanterns, while red fire burned at both ends of the float, the whole lighting up the dark waters of the Charles and forming a attractive beacon for the hundreds of canoeists who had been spending the twilight hours on other parts of the river but who at the first sounds from the Walden Watch Factory band, steered their frail barks toward it. When the leader of the band, which was stationed on the balcony, stepped to the railing and announced that the band would play until the last train left for Boston, he was greeted by clapping of hands, yelling from the young men and screeching of steam whistles, which all testified loudly for the popularity of the band. Indoors dancing was enjoyed by the members and their friends, and when the time for departure arrived the alluring strains of music brought in so many for the last waltz that the floor was crowded to its utmost capacity and the last dance of the season was pronounced a great success.

TRACK ATHLETICS.

A GREAT CROWD AT THE N. A. A. GROUND.

The Newton Athletic Association dedicated its new grounds on Cedar street, Newton Centre, yesterday with a successful tournament. There was an attendance of about 500. The new quarter-mile cinder track within the enclosure was completed only yesterday and was not in first-class condition, but, notwithstanding this fact, the time made in the different events was fast. The Newton members captured their share of the prizes. The summary:—

One hundred-yard dash—First trial heat, won by F. B. Looney, Lowell, C. and A. (5 1-2 yds.); second heat, won by H. W. Burdon, N. A. (6 yds.); third heat, won by A. H. Abell, N. A. (6 yds.); fourth heat, won by B. J. Wefers, L. C. A. (scratch) 10 3-5; final heat, Wefers won in 10 1-5. Burdon, second, Looney third.

Two mile bicycle race—R. L. Rottler, Newton (scratch) first, 8:05.15; G. H. Crafts, Newton, second; F. W. Maile, Newton, third.

Relay race, 440 yards—Won by Newton, against Gloucester. Time—3m. 55s.

One mile walk—A. L. O'Toole, English high school (45s.), first, 7m. 55s.; C. V. Moore, N. A. (scratch) second; C. L. F. Frost, Gloucester A. C. (35s.), third.

Four hundred and forty-yard run, novice—R. J. McCluskey, Lowell C. and A. first, 57 2-5; G. W. Emery, English high school, second; A. Miller, third.

Eight hundred and eighty yard run—A. L. Wright, N. A. C. (25yds.), first, 2m. 23.4; E. L. Pope, N. A. (30yds.), second; W. W. Hockman, N. A. (35 yds.), third.

One mile bicycle race, for Newton members only—G. H. Crafts, first, 3m. 5s.; R. L. Rottler, second; F. W. Maile, third.

Four hundred and forty yard run—T. E. Burke, B. A. (scratch), first, 51 3-5; H. D. Jope, Fr. Scully's A. A. (25 yds.), second; F. Morrissey, Lowell C. and A. (20 yds.), third.

Running high jump—F. B. Looney, Lowell A. and A. (5 1-2 in.), first, 5 ft. 3 3-4 in.; H. D. Jope, Fr. Scully's A. A. (5 in.), second; W. D. Rising, N. A. (3 in.), third.

Pole vault, handicap—A. V. Shaw, N. A. (10 in.), first, 9 ft. 9 in.; F. B. Looney, Lowell C. and A. A. second; D. H. Clark, B. A. A. third.

Silver cups were awarded the first three competitors in each event.

The most pleasant little pills for regulating the bowels, are De Witt's Little Early Risers. Cure sick headache and constipation. Small pill. Small dose. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Bang, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thoru, Auburndale.

ONE HEAD USHER.

The Ways wherein He Differed From Others of His Calling.

It is as old as the Proverbs that the cobbler's children are always poorly shod.

The restaurant man goes home for dinner, and the bartender is a total abstainer.

The druggist may patronize the faith cure and the railway man knows of no greater luxury than a ride in a buggy. The street car conductor is glad to get a day off, so he can take a long walk.

A more remarkable case than any of these is that of the head usher at the theater, and one theater in particular. Probably every playgoer in Chicago knows him. The title of "head usher" does him an injustice. He is more like a host or the chief of a reception committee.

There are head ushers who pounce upon you, grab the coupons, thrust them back into your fumbled hands and shout, "First aisle to the right!"

There are other head ushers who tell you to hurry up or step lively. They give loud warning that all coupons must be ready.

They shout, "Hey, there!" and are constantly distracted because of the immense responsibility which they imagine is resting upon them.

As soon as a snippy young man gets into a box office or is engaged as an usher, he begins to imagine that he owns the house, the company and a good part of the frontage in the block.

But the exceptional head usher is calm, polite, attentive and solicitous.

No matter how rapidly the crowd may pour in, it seems that every one who comes receives some courtesy at his hands.

He doesn't shout or grab and the small children are not afraid of him.

The most remarkable thing about this model master of ceremonies, however, is that he knows very little about actors or plays.

The other evening, when the house was crowded and the performance was being received with noisy approval, a man who came into the foyer between acts remarked to him, "Well, it's a funny show."

"I dare say," he replied; "the house seems to like it."

"Didn't you see it?"

"No; I was out here all the time."

"Is that so? Don't you step inside to see the performances?"

"Oh, no. My duties keep me here. In the 15 years that I have been in this position I have never seen a performance."

At first the man wouldn't believe it, but it was a fact just the same.—Chicago Record.

TRICKING A CRAB.

African Natives Take Advantage of His Industry in a Heartless Manner.

In Africa there exists a certain member of the crab genus commonly known as the great tree crab. This peculiar shellfish has an offensive trick of crawling up the cocoanut trees, biting off the cocoanuts and then creeping down again backward.

The theory is that the nuts are shattered by the fall, and the great tree crab is thus enabled to enjoy a hearty meal. Now, the natives who inhabit regions infested by this ill conditioned crab are well aware that the lower portion of the crab's anatomy is soft and sensitive, and they believe that the "bivalve" was thus constructed in order that he might know when he had reached the ground, and when, consequently, he might with safety release his grasp of the trunk.

So what they do in order to stop his depredations, which often ruin the cocoanut crops, is this: While the crab is engaged in nipping off the cocoanuts they climb half way up the trees and there drive a row of long nails right around the tree, allowing an inch or so of the nails to project.

The crab has no knowledge of disaster, nor yet the fitness of things. As he descends the sensitive part of his body suddenly touches the nails. Thinking he has reached the ground, he naturally lets go. Instantly he falls backward and cracks his own shell on the ground.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

"E Pluribus Unum."

The circumstances attending the adoption of the legend "E Pluribus Unum" as the motto of the United States have never been fully explained by the historians. It was probably used on coins—and some say upon early colonial flags—long before it was regularly recognized by the leading officials of the new republic. The oldest coin bearing the motto in full is a colonial cent coined by New Jersey in the year 1786. The same year it appeared on a small medal recognized among the collectors of coins as "the confederatio."

This medal was a national token, I believe, and was coined by authority of the general government. It bore on one side 13 stars and a blazing sun, the latter surrounded by the word "Confederatio," which gives it the name by which it is known to the numismatists.

The words in the headline are undoubtedly from Virgil's "Moretus," a poem devoted to a description of a certain salad! In the rhyming recipe he gives instructions for mixing the proper herbs and pounding the same in a mortar until the various colors blend as one. Some one has very appropriately said that "the colonies were mixed in the mortar of the Revolution and came out as one homogeneous nation."—St. Louis Republic.

Short Weight.

The Salesman (holding up a vellum bound brochure)—The price of this book is $10.

Mrs. Nurich—Nonsense! You can't impose upon me in that way. Why, a minute ago you offered me a book twice the size for $1.50.—Chicago Record.

Mrs. Gannet, New England's poet, who wrote, "Tis Love That Makes the World Go Round," is dead, but the love she wrote about is turning the old sphere.

MINER ROBINSON ELECTRICAL ENGINEER.

12 Pearl St., Room 27, Boston. Order Office, 421 Centre St., Newton.

The fitting of private residences for the Electric Light a specialty.

Boston, 3311.—TELEPHONES—W. Newton, *234.

NEWTON *255-2.

ESTABLISHED 1890.

SIMPSON BROTHERS, CONTRACTORS FOR Concrete Walks, Driveways, Asphalt Floors and Artificial Stone Walks.

We have been awarded the Sidewalk Contract for the City of Newton for 1895, and are ready to receive orders or give estimates for work in private grounds.

P. O. Address, Newton, or Boston Office, Room 58, Telephone 1155 Boston, 166 Devonshire St.

REFERS TO 20 YEARS WORK IN NEWTON.

The Allen School.

The Allen school has had this year students from 14 different states of this country, from Canada, Cuba, Porto Rico, Bogota, S. A. This feature of the school renders it a public school like Eaton and Rugby, and often proves of great advantage to the students through their acquaintances in different sections of our country. The school is in no way antagonistic but part of our Mass. public school system. Students from Newton and surrounding towns who have through illness or other cause fallen out of their classes can and do find there opportunity by private individual assistance to regain what was lost.

The Swedish system of Sloyd has been introduced the past year, as the most admirable system of manual (hand and eye) training, adapted to boys and girls. The Messrs. Allen are convinced that this system is the best for the school after extensive personal observation of the different systems in Europe and this country. This is fortified by the judgment of our distinguished fellow citizen, Edwin P. Seaver, superintendent public schools of Boston. This department is under the instruction of a graduate of Prof. Larson's Boston Normal Training school for Sloyd.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Greene, Newton Highlands, Drugist.

HOOD'S PILLS cure Liver Ills, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headache. A pleasant laxative. All Druggists.

HUCKINS'

SOUPS

—AND—

SANDWICH MEATS

First introduced to the public in 1855. The manufacturers have constantly endeavored to improve the quality of these SOUPS, until the same of perfection has been attained. Made from the best materials. Positively no extracts nor gelatine used. Perfectly wholesome and nutritious.

Medals and Diplomas:

PARIS 1889. CHICAGO 1893

For Sale by Grocers and Provision dealers.

MONEY DEPOSITED

IN THE

West Newton Savings Bank

ON OR BEFORE

JULY 10th,

will draw interest for the next quarter.

JAMES H. NICKERSON,

38 3t

Treasurer.

WORTH IS DEAD

But his place is still with us. Who shall fill it? is not of so much importance as what we as Americans are doing along the line of

HIGHER CULTURE in the ART OF DRESS DESIGNING AND CUTTING.

In looking up and developing lines of usefulness for women, how little has been done along that most natural line,

Higher Art in Dress.

An opportunity is now presented for such culture, at Pittcock's Dress Cutting School, 1 BEACON ST., BOSTON.

PROPERTY RECOVERED everywhere by READ'S REGAL AGENCY, 10 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass.

Physicians

Dr. F. L. McINTOSH,

Corner of Washington and Jewett Sts. (Office of the late Dr. Keith.) Office Hours: 4 to 7 P. M. Usually at home until 9 A. M. Refers to Dr. W. P. Wesselhoef and Dr. James B. Bell. Telephone, Newton 16, 46-4.

DR. MARY FLORENCE TAFT.

19 Austin Street, Newtonville. OFFICE HOURS: 8 to 9:30 a. m. 12:30 to 6 p. m. Refers to Dr. Wm. P. Wesselhoef and Dr. James B. Bell of Boston. Telephone, 281, Newton.

JAMES F. BOTHFELD, M. D. Physician and Surgeon.

Office Hours: 9 A. M., 2 to 4 and 7 to P. M. Telephone, Newton 34-2.

455 Centre, cor. Richardson St.

F. W. WEBBER, M. D., Physician and Surgeon.

Cor. Centre and Vernon Sts. Office Hours: 9 A. M., 1 and 7 P. M. Telephone No. 38-4.

Clara D. Whitman Reed, M. D. RESIDENCE AND OFFICE 437 Centre St., opposite Vernon, Newton. Hours—Until 9 M. 1 to 3 and 7 P. M. Telephone 36-3.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue and in pursuance of the powers of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by John R. Campbell to William H. Ireland, dated November 14, 1892, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 2123, page 36, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Wednesday the 24th day of July, 1895, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to-wit:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, called Newton Centre, and bounded and described as follows:—Westerly on Irving Street 185.50-100 feet; northerly on land of said Ireland 254.60-100 feet; easterly on a proposed street 166.11-100 feet, and southerly on land of Albert P. Ireland 272.100 feet.

Two hundred dollars $200.00 to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale; other terms will be stated at the sale.

WILLIAM H. IRELAND, Mortgagee.

A. L. Harwood, 115 Devonshire St., Boston Attorney for Mortgagee.

40 3t

WHITE DUCK PANTS

$1.00 a Pair.

Made to measure if desired and in the best manner and equal to any sold elsewhere for $2

F. K. KINGMAN, The Yacht Outfitter

96 Commercial Street, Boston.

By EDWARD F. BARNES, Auctioneer, 2 State Street, Boston.

GUARDIAN'S SALE

—OF—

REAL ESTATE

—ON—

Nevada St., Newtonville,

Public Auction

ON THE PREMISES

MONDAY, JULY 22,

AT 3 O'CLOCK

in the afternoon, the

Hiram Marsh Estate,

situated on the easterly side of Nevada Street, Newtonville, and consisting of a good substantial dwelling house of 7 rooms and bath room, all in first class order inside, with stable and lot containing 15,500 square feet of land, having old fruit and shade trees in abundance.

This sale is imperative without limit and would make a desirable home at moderate cost for any one having to move on account of the Washington Street widening.

Terms cash but the auctioneer can arrange with buyer for a mortgage if desired.

$100 to be paid at time and place of sale, balance in cash within ten days at the office of EDWARD F. BARNES, 40 3t 27 State Street, Boston.

THE QUEEN.

He knows, the roque on the tree,
That over mountain and sea,
The spring is coming, coming,
Faster than eye can see.

Last week he was stark with cold,
Went heavy, songless and old,
Why, hark to the tune he is humming!
'Tis a song for the days of gold.

And her voice that callet the swallows
Home, and the gold wren follows,
Nearer is coming and nearer,
Thrilling the hills and hollows.

And he knows, the roque on the tree,
'Tis the queen from over the sea.
Her voice is sweeter and dearer Than any blackbird's can be.

—New York Tribune.

NONA.

Some years ago I passed several weeks at a fishing village on the coast of Brittany. What a hole it was! But how picturesque! A miserable anchorage, for ten boats at the most, a single stony street, which I can compare to nothing better than a mountain torrent. On top of the hill a church, a veritable gothic toy, which stood in the middle of a cemetery from which a magnificent view of the ocean was obtained. Finding myself in the vein for work, I lingered in this out of the way corner until the end of the month of September, which by a rare chance in rainy Finistere, was that year exceptionally mild and clear.

But one cannot always compose verses and write, and a walk was my hygiene and my distraction. My most frequent promenade was along the beach, having on my right the bleak and rocky cliffs and on my left the uncovered stretches of sand—an immense desert of sand left bare by the outgoing tide. Two or three times I had exchanged civilities with some custom house officer going his rounds, his gun slung over his shoulder. I was so regular and peaceful a promenade that the sea swallows were no longer afraid of me and hopped in front of me, leaving the print of their star shaped feet in the wet sand. I walked six or eight kilometers a day and returned home with my pockets filled with those dainty shells which are found by burying the hand deep down in the damp pebbles.

This was my favorite excursion. However, on the days when a strong breeze was blowing and the tide was very high I abandoned the seashore, and climbing the village street I strolled along the sandy moor, or else I settled myself with a book on a bench in a corner of the cemetery, which was sheltered by the church tower from the west end.

It was a lovely spot, conducive to sadness and reverie. The church tower stood out against the autumn sky, over which dark clouds were scurrying. Crows, whose nests were in the steeple, flew out of their hoarse cawing, and the shadow of their large wings glided over the scattered tombstones, almost hidden in the grass.

In the evening more than at any other time, the last rays of the setting sun bathing the sea as though with blood, the ragged branches of the skeleton of an old apple tree silhouetted against the crimson sky and the deep intense stillness of the wild home of the dead flooded my soul with melancholy.

It was on such an evening as I have just described that, wandering among the tombs, many of which bore under the sailor's name this mournful legend, "Died at sea," I read on a new cross the following words, which astonished and puzzled me: "Here reposes Nona Le Magnat. Died at sea Oct. 26, 1878, at the age of 19."

"Died at sea! A young girl! Women hardly ever go out in the fishing boats. How did this happen?"

"Well, monsieur," said a gruff voice behind me suddenly, "you are looking at poor Nona's tomb?"

I turned around and recognized an old sailor, with a wooden leg, whose good graces I had acquired by the aid of a few glasses of brandy, which I had given him in the taproom at the inn.

"Yes," I replied. "But I thought that you fishermen never permitted women to go out with you. I have even been told that they bring you misfortune."

"And that is the truth," responded the good man. "Besides, Nona never went into a boat. Would you like to know how the poor little one died? Well, I will tell you."

"First of all, I must tell you that Pierre, her father, was a topman, like myself, and an old comrade. At Bourget, when Admiral La Ronciere raised his golden helmet on the point of his saber, and we flung ourselves, hatched in hand, on the embattled houses, he marched elbow to elbow, Pierre and I, and it was he who received me in his arms when those cursed Prussians put a ball in my thigh. That same evening in the ambulance at the fort Pierre held my hand to give me courage while the surgeon amputated my limb, and he was there at my bedside when the admiral brought me my medal. But those rascally Prussians got the best of us, and we were sent home. I, with my wooden leg, was practically helpless. But Pierre, who was uninjured, hired on board a fishing smack. Very soon afterward his wife died from an intermittent fever, leaving him the care of little Nona, who was going on 10 years of age."

"Naturally while the widower was at sea it was I, his comrade, I, the old bachelor, who cared for the little one. She was a good and pretty child, monsieur; courageous and sweet tempered. We very often went to the rocks at low tide to gather turtles, shrimps, prawns, and sometimes we were fortunate enough to find a lobster. Ah, but we were good friends!"

"This went on for about two years. Nona had made her first communion, grown and shot up like a thistle in the sand. But one day the Amelia, Le Magnat's boat, was overtaken in a storm and wrecked. The skipper did not haul in his sail soon enough, and the boat struck on that reef you can see over there—just a little more to the starboard. There were four men in the crew—the skipper, two sailors and my poor Pierre. But the sea only gave up three of the drowned men and retained my comrade. Nona became an orphan. It goes without saying that I did my best to replace her father. But the child, even after the first sorrow passed away, did not seem to console herself. And do you know why, monsieur? Because of an idea all the women around here have. They believe that a soul must remain in pain until the judgment day unless it reposes in consecrated ground. We men do not believe in all this nonsense when we know what happens when there is a death on board ship. But Nona could not be forced to believe other than the women had taught her and continued to burn candles at all the pardons in the neighboring towns for the repose of her father's soul.

"However, in spite of everything, time is a famous merchant of forgetfulness, and Nona after a few years appeared to me to become somewhat reconciled. Besides, her grief had not prevented her from growing handsomer and taking a pride in herself, and it is not because I loved her like a father, but, upon my honor, she was the freshest and prettiest young girl in the parish. We lived so happily together. We were not rich, to be sure, but we lived, and we enjoyed ourselves all the same. I had my pension and my medal, and then we used to go together to hunt for lobsters in the rocks. The trade is a paying one, and there is only one danger, that of being overtaken by the tide. Ah, unfortunately that was how she met her death, poor little one!"

"One day when my rheumatism confined me to the house she went fishing alone. It was just such a day as today, the sky clear, the wind high. When the rock searchers gathered together with full baskets, they perceived that Nona failed to respond to their calls. There was no possible doubt. Great God, she had been delayed and surrounded by the rising tide! She had been drowned! Ah, what a night I passed, monsieur! At my age, yes, a hard hearted man like me, I sobbed like a woman. And the remembrance came to me of the poor child's belief that to go to heaven she must be interred in consecrated ground. Therefore as soon as the tide went down I went to the shore, and, with the others, searched for the body."

"And we found poor Nona," continued the old sailor in a trembling voice. "We found her on a rock covered with seaweed, where, knowing that she was going to die, the poor little one had prepared herself for death. Yes, monsieur, she had tied her skirts below the knees with her fish, through modesty, and with her old idea uppermost had attached herself to the seaweed by her hair, her beautiful black hair, certain that she would thus be found and interred in consecrated ground. And I can say, I who know what bravery is, that there is perhaps not a man brave enough to do likewise."

The old man was silent. By the last gleam of the twilight I saw two great tears rolling down his weather beaten cheeks. We descended to the village side by side in silence. I was profoundly touched by this simple girl's courage, who, even in the agonies of death, had retained the modesty of her sex and the piety of her race, and before me in the distant immensity, in the solitudes of the heavens and the sea, gleamed out the beacon lights and the stars.

Oh, brave men of the sea! Oh, noble Britanny!—From the French of Francois Coppee For Romance.

Dickens' Characters.

Not even Dickens, I think, found room for a butcher amid his Babylon of trades. A baitiff he has and eight sheriff's officers, half a dozen beadles and half as many more brokers. The sheriff's officer is, of course, a familiar enough figure from the days of our literary drama.

An ingenious American has compiled a list of Dickens' characters, classified by callings, and it reads like nothing so much as a trades directory. There are architects, auctioneers, bankers, barbers, boarding house keepers, blacksmiths, carpenters, carriers, chandlers, chemists, clerks (a perfect army of them), coachmen, coal merchants, constables, corn chandlers, costumers, detectives, doctors, domestic servants, dry salters, engineers, engine drivers, farmers, fishermen, gamekeepers, grocers, green grocers, haberdashers, hogrowers, jollies and turnkeys, laborers, lamp-lighters, lawyers, law stationers, locksmiths, manufacturers, merchants, medical students, money lenders, notaries, hostlers, pawnbrokers, parish clerks, plasterers, porters, postmasters, potboys, reporters, robemakers, saddlers, sailors, sextons, shipwrights, stewards, stokers, stonemasons, sugar bakers, tailors, teachers, tobacconists, toymakers and merchants, undertakers, watermen, weavers, wharfingers, wheelwrights.

The list might be made longer, but that perhaps is long enough to make you realize how amply provided with trades and tradesmen are the teeming streets of Dickens' imagination.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Iridium.

Singularly enough, iridium, though a metal of such comparative rarity, is said to be a source of no small trouble in the operations of our mints, on account of the difficulty experienced there in separating it from gold bullion. Practically, as is well known, this metal is utilized to some extent for making instruments of delicacy which require to possess the property of not corroding, and is obtained from iridosmine, a natural alloy of iridium, osmium, rhodium, platinum and ruthenium, an extraordinarily white mixture of rare metals, much of it being found in washing for gold in the beach sands of Oregon, and it resists the action of all single acids. In its use for tipping gold pens, in which it is specially serviceable, the grains of it, which are flat, like gold dust, are picked out with magnifying glasses.—New York Sun.

YOUNG LADIES' TROUBLE.

FACTS MADE KNOWN TO FRIENDS
Lady Stenographers, Typewriters, and all Working Girls Interested.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]
This class of women are more or less afflicted with illness brought on by constant application in one position. Therefore all will be interested in the candid expression of this bright young lady of Denver, Col., who writes Mrs. Pinkham as follows:—

"This is the first opportunity I have found to write and thank you for the good your Compound has done me. I feel better than I have for years. It seems a seven days' wonder to my friends. Where I used to be pitted, everything is the opposite, and there is not a day but what some one wants to know what I have done to work such a wonder."

"Before taking the Compound I had constant headaches; was constipated; bloated; eyes weak, with watery whites; bearing down pains; pains in the small of my back and right side; took cold very easily, which always caused intense pain in ovaries. I did not want to go anywhere or see any one."

"I was called cross, but I could not help it, feeling as I did. I could not lift anything or do any hard work without suffering for days afterward. Menstruation lasted from eight to ten days, the first two or three days being in almost constant pain, day and night."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made a new girl of me; am now well, happy, and strong." Yours truly, A. STENOGRAPHER, Denver, Col.

Expressmen.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BAGGAGE EXPRESS
NEWTON.
Orders may be left at the B. & A. Baggage Room, or sent to Post Office Box 25.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.
You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room from 6.30 A. M., to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. P. Atkins Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Procter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving also Crockery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.
General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.
Residence: 152 Adams Street, Newton, Mass.

PEARSON'S
Newton and Boston Express.
Boston Office: 91 Kibby St., 105 Arch St., 33 Court Sq., Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market.
Newton Office: H. B. Coffin's; Order Boxes: Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins'.
Leave Newton, 9.30 A. M. Leave Boston, 3 P. M.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER,
Newton and Boston Express
Leave Newton, 7.30 and 9.30 a.m.; leave Boston, 12 m. and 3 p.m. Newton Office: 334 Centre St. Order Box: Newton City Market. Boston Office: 15 Devonshire St., 174 Washington St., 34 Court Sq., 25 Merchants Row, 67 Franklin St., 11 Harrison Ave. Extension, P. O. Box 428, New York. Personal attention given all orders. Tel. 279-2.

BEVERLY BROS..
BAKERS.
Having recently put a cart on the road, are prepared to serve customers living in Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands.

354 Centre St., Newton.

FRANCIS MURDOCK.

INSURANCE AGENT,
Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT placed in first-class Block and Mutual companies Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord Mass.

COCAINE OINTMENT
CURES PILES
15c. AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

WATERMELON AND CUCUMBERS CAUSE
CRAMPS.
KRAMP KILLER
KILLS CRAMPS
and pains in the Stomach or Bowels,
Dizziness, Etc.
15 CENTS A BOTTLE.
All Druggists Sell It.

IF YOUR EYES are weak from any cause TRY JELLISON'S
INDIAN EYE BALM,
It Cures Weak, Sore and Inflamed Eyes.
Price 15 Cents. Of All Druggists.

Tailors.

C. S. Decker
Custom Tailor.

64 Elmwood St., Newton, Mass.

BERKELEY SCHOOL,

Coedulation, Certificates of the school received at Smith, Wellesley, Etc. Special student fitted for Institute, Harvard and Boston University, Law and Medical schools, etc. Catalogue mailed. 51 TAYLOR, DENVERITE & HAGER.

Members of the Master Builders' Association, 166 Devonshire Street.

(Established 1836.) (Incorporated 1894.) (Connected by Telephone.)

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS,

INCORPORATED.

Roofers, Metal Workers,

State, Copper, Tin, Tile, and Composition Roofing. Galvanized Iron Work. Dealers in all Roofing Materials.

201 and 22 East Street, Boston.

Special attention given to Repairs of all kinds of Roofing.

Samuel Farquhar, Pres.; David Farquhar, Secy and Treas.; Joseph Farquhar, Supt.; Rollin Farquhar; Frank C. Farquhar, Directors.

FRED A. HUBBARD,

Pharmacist

P. O. Block, NEWTON.

SUNDAY CLOSING HOURS:

from 10.30 A. M. to 12 M. 2 P. M. to 4 P. M.

E. W. MASTERS,

Manufacturer of and Dealer in

HARNESSES.

A full assortment of Whips, Blankets, robes, Socks, Oils, Brushes, Curry Combs, &c., always on hand. Repairing promptly and neatly done. Fine work a specialty. Prices reasonable.

876 Washington St., Newtonville, Mass.

FOUND

HUDSON'S

PHARMACY.

...A CURE FOR...

Coughs and Colds.

OVER 200 BOTTLES OF

PECTORAL

SYRUP

have been sold during the past month. It has a

Home Reputation

due entirely to its

MERITS.

PREPARED ONLY BY

Arthur Hudson,

Pharmacist and Chemist.

WOOD

FOR SALE

—AT THE

NEWTON CEMETERY.

Undertakers.

GEORGE H. GREGG,

Undertaker

TELEPHONE - CONNECTIONS.

Funeral and Furnishing

Undertaker.

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES, &c., and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

GEORGE W. BUSH

Elmwood Street, - Newton

S. L. PRATT,

FUNERAL and FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass.

First-class Appointments and Competent Assistants. To accommodate the people of Upper Falls and vicinity orders may be left at the office of Fanning Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone.

Also shall continue in the Hack, Livery and Boarding Stable. Business at my old stand corner of Beacon and Station Streets.

S. F. CATE

Telephone:—West Newton Office, 19-5; House, 19-4. Also Billing's Drug Store, Upper Falls.

Furnishing-Undertaker.

WASHINGTON ST., WEST NEWTON.

JOHN J. HORGAN,

MONUMENTS

Headstones, Tablets, Posts, Markers and Statues. Fine Stock at Manufacturer's Prices

45-53 MAIN STREET, CAMBRIDGEPORT.

Newton and Watertown care step at the door.

Legal Notices.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue and in pursuance of the power of sale contained in three mortgages, given by Mary E. Clark to Francis Buttrick, dated respectively May 29, 1889, February 14, 1891, and June 29, 1891, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Book 191, page 386, Book 202, page 294, and Book 203, page 172, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgages and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Tuesday the 22d day of July, 1895, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises described in said last two mortgages, being a portion of the premises described in the first of said mortgages, namely:—A parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the southeasterly corner of the granted premises at the northwesterly corner of Washington and Cross Streets, thence running northerly by Cross Street about two hundred and fifteen (215) feet; thence turning and running westerly bounded northerly by land now or late of Watertown and Newton Gas Company to land of Newton Street Railway Company; thence turning and running southerly by said land of said Gas Company to land of Flynn at a point one hundred (100) feet from Washington Street; thence turning and running easterly by said Flynn's land fifty (50) feet to the corner of said Flynn's land; thence turning and running southerly by said Flynn's land one hundred (100) feet to Washington Street; thence turning and running easterly by said Washington Street one hundred (100) feet to the point of beginning. $20 to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale. Other terms will be stated at the sale.

AUGUSTA M. BUTTRICK, RUFUS WARREN, JAMES F. BALDWIN, EDWARD F. SNELL, THOMAS H. ALDRIDGE, Executors of the will of Francis Buttrick.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

MIDDLESEX SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of E. J. Trowbridge late of Newton in said County, deceased, testate.

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Frederick L. Chaffin of Marlborough in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-third day of July A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all devisees and legatees named in said will, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

S. H. FOLSOM, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

MIDDLESEX SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the devisees, legatees, and all other persons interested in the estate of Honora McNamara, late of Newton, in said County, deceased, testate: Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration with the will annexed, on the estate of said deceased not already administered, to Albert L. Harwood of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, or some other suitable person.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-third day of July A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all devisees and legatees named in said will, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

S. H. FOLSOM, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

MIDDLESEX SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Hannah L. Prentiss late of Newton in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Wilmond K. Chandler of Newton in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-third day of July A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-sixth day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

S. H. FOLSOM, Register.

Livery Stables.

DANIEL'S

Nonantum Stables.

HENRY C. DANIELS, Proprietor.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landaus and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING—Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention.

Telephone 271-3.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Livery, Hack & Boarding

STABLE.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses. Hacks at depot or the conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Telephone Connection.

Livery, Hack, & Boarding Stable.

Barges, City of New York, Boat Sleigh, Snow Bird.

F. CATE

New Newton, Boarding Stable.

PURE MILK

SUPPLIED DAILY FROM

Prospect Valley Farm

One cow's milk supplied when desired

H. COLDWELL & SON,

Waltham, Mass.

Lock Box 192.

Legal Notices.

City of Newton.

AYER'S
Hair Vigor Prevents BALDNESS
REMOVES DANDRUFF
AND Restores Color
TO Faded and Gray HAIR
THE Best Dressing

BOSTON, REVERE BEACH & LYNN R. R.
SUMMER TIME-TABLE, JUNE 24, 1895.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN AND WINTHROP at 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 a. m., 12.05, 12.35, 1.05, 1.35, 2.05, 2.35, 3.05, 3.35, 4.05, 4.35, 5.05, 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 p. m.

SUNDAY TRAINS.
LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN at 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 a. m., 12.05, 12.35, 1.05, 1.35, 2.05, 2.35, 3.05, 3.35, 4.05, 4.35, 5.05, 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 p. m.

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY
TIME TABLE
Subject to change without notice.

Newton to Bowdoin Square
Huron Ave. to Bowdoin Square, via Concord Ave. and Garden St.
Time—First car, 6.00, 6.25 a. m., and every 25 minutes to 11.00 p. m. Return 35 minutes later.

SPRINGFIELD LINE —BETWEEN—
Boston and New York.

Trains leave either city at 9.00 A. M., except Sunday; 11.00 A. M., except Sunday; 4.00 P. M., daily; 11.00 P. M., daily. Draining room on all day trains and sleeping cars on night trains.
A. S. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.
Boston, Mass.

FITCHBURG RAILROAD.
SUPERIOR EQUIPMENT, EXCELLENT TRAIN SERVICE, FAST TIME, AND COURTEOUS EMPLOYEES MAKE THE

Hoosac Tunnel Route
THE FAVORITE LINE from Boston to Troy, Albany, Saratoga, Lake George, Adirondack and Catskill Mountains, Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Hamilton, Toronto, Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, and St. Paul, West, Southwest, and Northwest.

Fast Express Trains
With elegant PALACE PARLOR and SLEEPING CARS to and from BOSTON
AND CHICAGO
BOSTON
AND
ST. LOUIS
WITHOUT CHANGE.

Lake - Champlain - Route
For all points in Northern New York, Vermont, and Canada.
THE ONLY LINE running through cars, without change, from Boston to Rutland, Brandon, Middlebury, Vergennes, Burlington, St. Albans, St. Johns, and Montreal.
ELEGANT PALACE PARLOR CARS TO AND FROM BOSTON AND MONTREAL,
WITHOUT CHANGE.

For Time-Tables, Parlor and Sleeping Car accommodations, or for further information, apply to any Agent of the Fitchburg Railroad or at
250 Washington Street,
Fitchburg Railroad Passenger Station
Boston.
J. R. WATSON, General Pass. Agent

BASS POINT, NAHANT.
AN HOUR'S SAIL, 25c.
Favorite Harbor Trip,
Best Fish Dinners,
Dancing Free,
Band Concerts.
IRON STEAMERS FROM LINCOLN WHARF (Weather Permitting)

For BASS POINT, week days and Sundays, 9.20, 10.40 A. M.; 12.30, 2.50, 5.00, 6.30, 8.15 P. M.
Return 10.30 A. M.; 12.15, 1.30, 3.45, 5.15, 7.00, 9.30 P. M.
For NAHANT, week days, 9.30 A. M.; 12.30, 2.30, 3.30, 5.00, 6.30 P. M. Return, 8.00, 11.00 A. M.; 2.00, 3.25, 4.45, 6.00 P. M. Sundays, 9.30 A. M.; 12.30, 5.00, 6.30 P. M. Return, 11.00 A. M.; 2.00, 6.30 P. M.
This boat sails at Bass Point 45 minutes, arriving in Boston at 8 o'clock.
Rate, 25c; children, 15c. Take East Boston Ferry Cars on Washington or Tremont St. or Atlantic Ave. Horse Cars on Union Station. Special rates to parties. J. A. FLANDERS, Agent, 201 Washington St., Boston.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

Bailey, L. H. The Horticulturalist's Compendium: a Compendium of Useful Information for Fruit-Growers, Truck-Gardeners, Florists and others. 101,786
Colson, C. Notes on Docks and Dock Construction. 107,262
Cooke, A. H. Molluscs. [also] Brachiopods, Recent by A. E. Shipley; Brachiopods, Fossil by F. R. C. Reed. 105,497
Corliss, John. The Elizabethan Hamlet: a Study of the Sources, and of Shakespeare's Environment, to Show that the Mad Scenes had a Comic Aspect now ignored. With a Prefatory Note by F. York Powell. 54,938
Crompton, Frances E. Messire and other Stories. 64,149
Dresser, Giovanni W. The Power of Silence: an Interpretation of Life in its Relation to Health and Happiness. 104,523
A course of lectures delivered by the author in Boston, during the past year.
Drummond, James. Via Veritas. Vita: Christianity in its most Simple and Intelligent Form. (Hobart Lectures, 1891.) 95,519
Figaro Illustré, 1894. R 8,400
Goodnow, Frank J. Municipal Home Rule: a Study in Administration. 84,354
Purposes "to determine what is the sphere of action in which a city moves as a local authority, and what the sphere of municipal business, in which it should be allowed to move free from central control."
Goodwin, Maude Wilder. The Head of a Hundred: the Account of Certain Passages in the Life of Humphrey Hutton, sometime an Officer in the Colony of Virginia. 61,951
Jack, Adolphus Alfred. Thackeray: a Study. 54,951
Martineau, John. Memoirs of a Protestant condemned to the Gallies of France for his Religion; trans. by Oliver Goldsmith. Intro. by Austin Dobson. 2 vols. 91,826
Mooney, Margaret S. Foundation Studies in Literature. 54,959
Purposes "to give a knowledge of the relation of the mythology of Greece and Rome to the poetry of modern times."
Pollock, Sir Frederick, and Maitland, Frederic Wm. The History of English Law before the Time of Edward I. 2 vols. 86,167
Schulze-Smidt, B. A Madonna of the Alps, from the German by Nathan Haskell Dole. 61,934
Sienkiewicz, Henryk. Children of the Soil; from the Polish, by Jeremiah Curtin. 65,794
Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue, 1893. 81,272
Giving date of issue, color, shape and value of stamps issued by the different governments.
Stephens, W. Walker, ed. Life and Writings of Targot, Comptroller-General of France, 1774-6. 96,413
Underwood, Francis Henry. Doctor Weed, Clarence Moores. Ten New England Blossoms and their Insect Visitors. 103,671
Ten popular essays on the relations of these flowers and certain insects.
Weston, James A. Historic Doubts as to the Execution of Marshal Ney. The author endeavors to prove that Peter S. Ney, who died at Hickory, N. C., in 1848, was the celebrated Marshal Ney, supposed to have been executed under Louis XVIII. 77,240
E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.
July 3, 1895.

Widening Central Street.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:

In connection with the widening of Central street near the station, a great improvement is suggested, and one that will be readily approved by all who have to approach the station from the east. In taking the land for this widening if the whole could be appropriated by the city and a new public hall placed in this triangle, what a fine thing it would be. Here is an opportunity for a beautiful Memorial Hall, with a place for voting, a branch of the Public Library with a reading room and also a Christian Association room with a small cafe attached where a hurried man could find a fresh cup of coffee and a roll, or a hot oyster stew on a cold night. Such a building in good hands might be an ornament to our village and a convenience in a thousand ways and might be arranged to bring in a good profit to investors. If the city could take the land and the G. A. R. could erect the building the return would be a fair profit without doubt, and is needed; private capital might also be interested. What a convenient place it would be for voting! How greatly is some place needed where a respectable young man can find a good book and a warm fire free from interruption for a quiet evening, or where ladies could spend an hour with the latest magazines. Besides this, Auburndale is greatly in need of a public hall suitable for private societies and theatrical entertainments, and large enough to accommodate at least three hundred people with good seats. Such a hall well lighted and ventilated, and accessible as this would be, would add immeasurably to our beautiful village.
X. Y. Z.

Literary Notes.

Mr. F. Schuyler Mathews, author of "Familiar Flowers of Field and Garden," is a well known authority among florists on the subject of the colors of flowers. Prof. Bailey, of Cornell, points out that the book fills a great need for a botany from the hand of an artist fully alive to form and color.

"One of my sick headaches," you will hear people frequently say, as if the complaint was hopelessly incurable. As a matter of fact, Ayer's Pills not only relieve sick headache but effectually remove the cause of this distressing complaint, and so bring about a permanent cure.

The Thoughtful Chauncey.
(From the Minneapolis Journal.)

A good story is told on Chauncey Depew. He received a letter from a young married friend in Albany asking for a pass for his mother-in-law, who was coming to make him a visit, and closing with the delicate hint: "Don't forget to have the return coupon attached." Mr. Depew is nothing if not worldly wise and sympathetic, and in sending the pass he wrote: "I have not neglected the return coupon, and have limited it to three days."

When occasions demands its use, try Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. It is cooling to burns, soothes pain instantly, cleanses, a perfect healer for scalds or skin eruptions. Always cures piles. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorne, Auburndale.

Entries for Newton Games.

The following is the list of those who entered the games of the Newton Athletic Association, July Fourth:

100 yard dash—E. A. Coleord, R. H. S. 6 1-2 yards; F. B. Looney, L. C. and A. A. 6 1-2 yards; T. E. Burke, B. A. A. scratch; E. W. Pinkham, B. A. A. 6 yards; W. J. Hatch, G. A. C. 6 1-2 yards; L. P. Dutch, West Newton, 5 1-2 yards; F. C. Hersey, Jr.; N. A. A. 2 yards; W. C. Johnson, N. A. A. 6 yards; F. M. Johnson, N. A. A. 5 1-2 yards; H. W. Burdon, N. A. A. 6 yards, F. C. Rising, N. A. A. 3 1-2 yards; S. M. Merrill, N. A. A. 1-2 yards; A. H. Abell, N. A. A. 6 yards; H. A. Benedict, N. A. A. 5 1-2 yards; J. P. Lucas, F. S. A. A. 6 yards; F. J. McManey, North Easton, 6 yards; C. S. Bryant, N. A. A. 5 yards; R. J. McCluskey, L. C. and A. A. 7 yards; F. J. Kellaway, N. A. A. 3 yards; W. R. Mansfield, N. A. A. 1-2 yards; A. H. Abell, N. A. A. 1-2 yards; F. J. Webers, L. C. and A. A. scratch; W. H. Johnson, G. A. C. 7 yards.
440-yard run—F. W. Beckman, B. U. A. A. 18 yards; T. E. Burke, B. A. A. scratch; E. W. Pinkham, B. A. A. 12 yards; W. C. Johnson, N. A. A. 20 yards; E. R. Crane, N. A. A. 25 yards; H. W. Burdon, N. A. A. 30 yards; F. Morrissey, L. C. and A. A. 30 yards; F. J. Kellaway, N. A. A. 23 yards; W. R. Mansfield, N. A. A. 10 yards; W. H. Vincent, N. A. A. 4 yards; W. H. Johnson, G. A. C. 35 yards; H. D. Jope, F. S. A. A. 25 yards.
440-yard run, novice—F. H. Higgins, Cambridge, W. C. Carpenter, Boston; G. W. Emery, E. H. S. A. E. Hills, West Newton; E. C. Looney, L. C. and A. A. A. C. Millan, B. A. A.; W. H. Hatch, G. A. C.; W. C. Johnson, N. A. A.; E. R. Crane, N. A. A.; A. Miller, N. A. A.; A. H. Abell, N. A. A.; F. H. McManey, North Easton; A. Netzeba, F. S. A. A.; F. S. Morton, N. A. A.; R. J. McCluskey, L. C. and A. A.; F. J. Kellaway, N. A. A.; R. M. Larned, Jr., N. H. S.; F. P. Levi, N. A. A.; H. Netzeba, F. S. A. A.

880-yard run—A. L. Wright, Newton, 23 yards; C. W. McDermott, E. H. S. 50 yards; G. G. Dow, B. A. A. 38 yards; T. E. Burke, B. A. A. scratch; E. L. Pope, B. A. A. 50 yards; A. Blake, B. A. A. 15 yards; J. J. Putnam, E. H. S. 25 yards; G. F. Skelton, N. A. A. 30 yards; J. J. Crowley, S. A. C. 35 yards; A. Netzeba, F. S. A. A. 40 yards; W. H. Beckman, N. A. A. 35 yards; A. L. Rand, Jr., N. A. A. 45 yards; F. Morrissey, L. C. and A. A. 30 yards; G. W. Crowley, N. A. A. 35 yards; W. H. Vincent, N. A. A. scratch.

1 mile walk—M. J. Hickey, Brookline, 15 seconds; A. L. O'Toole, E. H. S. 45 seconds; C. L. Fitch, G. A. C. 35 seconds; C. T. Moore, N. A. A. scratch.
Shot put—E. H. Clark, B. A. A. 3 feet; F. A. Edmonds, N. A. A. 3 1-2 feet; F. W. Eddy, N. A. A. 2 feet; C. B. Cotting, N. A. A. 5 feet; F. J. Rising, N. A. A. 4 feet; H. P. Parker, L. C. and A. A. scratch; Joseph Kelley, Boston, 3 1-2 feet.

Pole vault—F. B. Looney, L. C. and A. A. 18 inches; E. H. Clark, B. A. A. 12 inches; G. F. Skelton, N. A. A. 18 inches; A. V. Shaw, N. A. A. 10 inches; A. H. Abell, N. A. A. 18 inches; E. W. Shaw, N. A. A. 18 inches; W. E. Putnam, Jr., N. A. A. 12 inches; W. W. Hoyt, N. A. A. scratch.

Running high jump—R. Henderson, E. H. S. 2 1-2 inches; F. B. Looney, L. C. and A. A. 5 1-2 inches; E. H. Clark, B. A. A. 1-2 inch; F. A. Edmonds, N. A. A. 4 1-2 inches; F. C. Hersey, Jr., N. A. A. 3 inches; F. M. Johnson, N. A. A. 5 inches; C. B. Cotting, N. A. A. 5 inches; W. D. Rising, N. A. A. 3 inches; S. M. Merrill, N. A. A. 2 1-2 inches; W. E. Putnam, Jr., N. A. A. scratch; H. D. Jope, F. S. A. A. 5 inches.

One-mile bicycle race, Class A for N. A. A. members—R. L. Rottler, F. V. Chipman, H. H. Brown, F. W. Maile, G. H. Crafts, D. P. McCarthy. (Same entries in two-mile race.)

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome cold may be removed by applying twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured in several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Patridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; H. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

Looking Toward The Future.

(From the New York Recorder.)

"Terrible hot day," Mr. Tadder puffed as he met the minister.
The minister allowed this to be so.
"One thing's lucky, though," Mr. Tadder hopefully continued, mopping off his brow, "this hot weather can't last always."
The minister shook his head doubtfully.

"I haven't seen you at church for a long time," he said, with grave concern.

Blood-purifiers, though gradual, are radical in their effect. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is intended as a medicine, not as a stimulant, excitant, or beverage. Immediate results may not always follow its use; but after a reasonable time, permanent benefit is certain to be realized.

A New Champion.
(From Life.)

"Who is it, Rosy?"
"That's the gal wot won a medal for chewing a bit of gum for 20 hours without a stoppin'." She's got a sweater on and is a-takin' a eat 50 sponge cakes without drinkin' a drop 'o' water."

Completely Prostrated.

"I had been in poor health for some time. I had no appetite, I could not sleep and was completely prostrated. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills and after using them for about 6 months I regained my strength and am now in good health." Mrs. L. A. Merrick, 34 Mt. Auburn St., Cambridge, Mass.

Hood's Pills cure indigestion.

An Expert Opinion.
(From Quack.)

Foreign Author—There is no doubt that the Americans are the best people in the world.

Friend—What is that?
Foreign Author—The best people in the world as a subject for a book.

De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure never disappoints. never fails to give immediate relief. It is as safe as sugar as you take it. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorne, Auburndale.

ARE SAD FACED MEN.

THIS IS WHAT ONE OF THE CRAFT SAYS OF DEEP SEA DIVERS.

A Life That Isn't Exactly Jolly—A Veteran Tells of Experiences He and Other Divers Have Had—A Close Shave—Fairly-land on the Ocean's Bottom.

"I suppose you sometimes see some fearful sights in wrecks," said a reporter to a veteran deep sea diver.

"Yes, but you get used to 'em when you have been in the business long. When I first started diving, I was sent down to report a wreck. Nobody was supposed to have been drowned when the vessel went down, but when I went into the cabin the first thing I saw was the body of a man seated at the table. The water was very clear and magnified him until he looked about four times his natural size. His hand was upon the shoulder of a little boy, who was sitting on his knee. It was my first experience with dead bodies, and it gave me a shock. Now I don't mind 'em at all. Most of the tales you hear about groups of dead people sittin' round quite natural in a cabin are lies. A body will rise after being in the water a couple of weeks and be found floating up against the ceiling. When they have their legs under a table, they sometimes sit right where they are until their bodies decay away, because they are held down by the table, which is usually screwed to the floor.

"An English diver I knew once had a pretty nasty experience with sharks. He was diving in a wreck which had been loaded with live cattle. When she had been down at the bottom for a month or so, the bodies of the cattle became light and floated up against the hatchways. As soon as he started the after hatch, the cattle began to float out and up to the surface of the water. The locality was infested with sharks, and they soon began to gather round the hatchway, grabbing the cattle as they came out and following them up to the surface, fighting among themselves. Some of the cattle had been tied, and they floated out as far as their ropes would allow. The sharks gathered round them and began to tear them to pieces. Pretty soon they began to fight, and poor Marsh—that was his name—was afraid to go up for fear he might be attacked and afraid to stay down because one snap of a shark's mouth would have severed his air hose in a twinkling. He gave the signal to be hauled up in a hurry and went off among the school of sharks and through them. In going through a shark snapped at him and took off his right hand, so that he had to give up the business."

"What's the narrowest escape you ever had?"

"Well, about the closest shave that I remember was when I was putting some copper on a steamer's bottom while she was in dock. I took some plates down with me and did some work on one side of the hull, after which I wanted to put some plates on the other side. The vessel was about three feet off the bottom. I crawled underneath, dragging some plates after me. When I had been working for some time, I noticed my air was getting short, so I went to try to get under the keel again to be hauled up. I found the steamer nearly on the bottom and squeezing my air hose between her keel and the ground. The tide was giving out, and she had gradually sunk until she was almost aground. I had forgotten all about the tide, and when I pulled the hose I found it would not budge an inch. I can tell you I scared is no word for how I felt.

"If the bottom had been soft, it would not have mattered so much, but it was rock, and the hose was gripped like a vice. There was nothing to do but wait. If she fell any lower, the air would be entirely shut off, and I would simply have to die. You can bet I shall never forget those few minutes when I was waiting to see whether she rose or fell. My head felt as though it was bursting and my nose and ears began to bleed. Presently I felt the air getting a little fresher. I took heart, and soon she began to rise with the turn of the tide. There was plenty of time for me to get my nerve back before she was high enough off the bottom for me to crawl under. I didn't get it back, however, but just stood there trembling until I could squeeze under her bottom and give the signal to be hauled up. For weeks after that I was a sick man, and my hearing has never been right since.

"Sometimes, especially in tropical waters, the bottom of the sea is a lovely sight. I have seen a forest of kelp and seaweed gently waving with the tide which looked like fairyland. The dim light and the bright colored fish darting about make it look all the more beautiful. A bit of seaweed on land does not amount to much, but if you see a regular forest of it growing it looks very different.

"If you stand still for a minute, the fish will swim all around you and examine you just as a lot of human beings would look at some strange animal. At the slightest movement they whisk their tails and not a living thing is to be seen. "It takes the life out of a man somehow, diving does, and I never knew a diver who did much smiling. They are all rather grave, sober faced men."—New York Tribune.

Constituent Parts of a Cord of Wood.

A cord of fairly seasoned wood weighs about 4,000 pounds. If subjected to a heat of between 700 and 800 degrees it resolves into three distinct products—charcoal, pyroigneous acid and gases. In order to properly bring this change about it is necessary to place the wood in a kiln and apply the heat gradually for four or five days. At the end of that time the residue will be 1,000 pounds of charcoal, 2,000 pounds of pyroigneous acid and 1,000 pounds of uncondensed gases. The aggregate weight of these products is exactly equal to the original weight of the wood.—St. Louis Republic.

That Tired Feeling

So common at this season, is a serious condition, liable to lead to disastrous results. It is a sure sign of declining health tone, and that the blood is impoverished and impure. The best and most successful remedy is found in

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

Which makes rich, healthy blood, and thus gives strength to the nerves, elasticity to the muscles, vigor to the brain and health to the whole body. In truth, Hood's Sarsaparilla

Makes the Weak Strong

Be sure to get Hood's and only Hood's

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

Making 5 Complete Stores, containing all things for all people at all times. Our prices always the lowest. Our assortment always the largest. Special Bargains on Saturdays.

The Central Dry Goods Co.,
107 to 115 Moody Street, Waltham, Mass.

6500 Sq. Feet of Floor Space.

Lawyers.

HERBERT M. CHASE.
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Exchange Building, Room 718.
53 STATE STREET,
BOSTON, MASS.

RESIDENCE: PRESCOTT STREET, NEWTONVILLE.

SPRAGUE & WASHBURN,
Counsellors - at - Law
105 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON

Chas. H. Sprague, Residence, Auburndale; C. Everett Washburn, Residence, Wellesley Hills.

JESSE C. IVY,
COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.
Residence, Newton. 38-1y

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law
Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.

WILLIAM F. SLOCUM, WINFIELD S. SLOCUM, Residences, Newtonville.
Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton

WILLIAM F. RACON,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
113 Devonshire St., Room 42,
BOSTON.

Residence 52 Hyde Avenue, Newton.

C. A. HARRINGTON LUMBER,
Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c.
Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.
ophone 5248; Newton

T. L. MASON, has reopened his Store in the

ELIOT BLOCK,
390 Centre Street, Newton,
WITH A FINE STOCK OF

Clocks, Watches, Silver and Plated Ware, Etc.

REPAIRING done at short notice.

Teacher.

VIOLIN INSTRUCTION

L. EDWIN CHASE,
211 Church St., Newton, Mass.
1 yr

MISS EMMA DEXTER ELLIS
Pianoforte and Harmony.
Hoffman House, Boston.

At Newton Centre on Tuesdays and Fridays

HARRY BROOKS DAY,
TEACHER OF
PIANO, PORTE, ORGAN, HARMONY, COUN
TERPOINT AND COMPOSITION.
Hotel Hunnewell, Newton, Mass.

MRS. R. M. FLOYD,
Church Organ and Piano.
154 TREMONT STREET, - Studio 18.
OFFICE HOURS, 3 to 4. 1y

LOUIS C. STANTON,
(Pupil of W. H. Sherwood.)
Lessons in the Art of Playing the Piano.
Harmony and Musical Analysis taught in Classes.

26 Bacon Street, Newforn.
Corner of Washington Street

ALICE D. CUTLER,
TEACHER OF
Piano Forte and Harmony.
[Pupil of Carl Baermann.]

GROVE STREET, AUBURNDALE.

EPILEPTIC, PARALYTIC and NERVE INSTITUTE.
607 Massachusetts Ave., Boston, Mass.
(Near Washington St.)

For the treatment of epilepsy, paralysis, brain and nervous diseases in all their forms. The only paralytic institute in the United States. Consultation free. Patients boarded, nursed and cared for. Office treatment if desired. Institute open daily. Send for circulars.

Dentists.

DR. S. F. CHASE,
DENTIST.
Brick Block, Walnut St., corner Washington
Newtonville.

Careful and thorough operating in all branches
NEW METHOD FOR ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

Dr. Elbridge C. Leach,
DENTIST.
423 COLUMBUS AVE., - BOSTON.

Bray's Block, Newton Centre Office:
... Fridays and Saturdays.
Office Hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tel. 32-5 N. Highlands.

Upholsterers.

H. W. CALDER, UPHOLSTERER.
Cabinet Maker and House Furnisher.
ARTISTIC PICTURE FRAMING.
A complete stock always on hand.
NEWTONVILLE, MASS.

Veterinary Surgeon

MADISON BUNKER, D. V. S.
Veterinary Surgeon
Residence, 4 Baldwin St., cor. Elmwood Newton.
Telephone Connection.

Photographers.

WALTERTHORPE, Newton Centre.
Agent of the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley Newton.
—Rev. I. R. Furber has returned from California.
—Bert Rich of Malden is here for a few weeks stay.
—Carl Blaisdell is at home on his school vacation.
—Miss Alice Muldoon is in New York city for a short stay.
—Miss Caldwell of Webster court has returned from Chicago.
—Mrs. Beal and family of Centre street are sojourning in Maine.
—Dr. Boynton's family departed this week for the seashore.
—Mrs. Levi C. Wade will be at Bath, Me., for part of the summer.
—H. N. Clark and family are at North Scituate for the summer season.
—Mr. Melcher has returned from a western business trip of several weeks.
—Mrs. W. E. Armstrong and son are in New Hampshire for a short stay.
—Miss Howard of Centre street is in Portland, Maine, for a short stay.
—Miss Clara Armstrong has gone to Nova Scotia for a several weeks' stay.
—Mr. Charles Bates has returned from Maine where he went on a fishing trip.
—Miss Laura Merrill has returned from her visit to Etta, Me., her former home.
—Mr. D. S. Farnham and family have gone to Kennebunk Beach for the summer.
—George Mariner has given up his position as gateman at the Beacon street crossing.
—G. H. Green, formerly of Boston, has leased the Turner house on Norwood avenue.
—Mrs. Alexander White and daughter left this week for Cape Breton, Nova Scotia.
—E. N. Sanderson and family, formerly of Norwood avenue, have removed to Pittsburg, Pa.
—Miss Rand and Miss Mills came home from Smith College, Northampton, to pass the Fourth here.
—Mr. W. W. Hamlin and family, formerly of Pelham street, have rented the Fay house on Langley road.
—Wm. Webb defeated Wells Polly in a handicap bicycle race on the playground Monday evening.
—Mr. James D. Greene and family have gone to The Waumbec, Jefferson, N. H., for the summer.
—The new car house on Homer street is rapidly assuming proportions. The building will be as near fire proof as possible, with iron roof.

—Unitarian society, Sunday. Service at 10.30, conducted by the pastor. Sermon on Patriotism and Religion. During July the services will be held in the church parlors.
—The stores here closed yesterday and their customary habits, at least, those who look after the interests of patrons, enjoyed the holiday after their own fashion.
—Walter Ross while taking a spin on the N. A. A. track last Friday collided with another bicycle. He was thrown from his wheel but was not hurt. His bicycle was pretty badly wrecked.
—Edward Fitzpatrick, employed as clerk here while riding home on his wheel to Waltham last Saturday evening, hit an obstruction in the road and a "header" resulted. He was pretty severely bruised.
—Miss Hasler of Elgin street won the $200 high school scholarship prize. She is a very earnest student and her paper at the graduation exercises Tuesday was considered the best.
—Mrs. Edward H. Furber of Beacon street died very suddenly last Saturday afternoon of apoplexy. Deceased was taken ill on the street and expired in a short time after being removed to her home. The funeral took place from the Episcopal church, Rev. Mr. Sullivan officiating.
—None of the recently announced engagements have called for the presence of Miss Elizabeth Slade, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Dennison Slade, of Chestnut Hill, and Mr. Theodore P. Burgess, of Dedham.
—Mr. Andrew Carnegie don't believe in strikes, but is apparently patriotic and has contributed his "bite" toward the Dr. S. F. Smith "America" testimonial fund. Mr. Curtis Guild received a check of $400 this week from the great millionaire. It brings the total of the fund up to $2000.
—Last Monday evening there was gathered at the home of Mr. William Giles, Parker street, quite a number of friends and neighbors to witness the opening of a night blooming Cereus, which, when fully opened, measured 22 inches across. It was, indeed, a beautiful sight and many thanks to Mrs. Giles for her kindness.
—Mr. James Cutler, for some twelve years a resident of Knowles street, died on Wednesday at 5 p. m. He had been ill for some months with heart trouble. He was noted for his kindly and accommodating qualities, a man of high moral tone. He had for many years been an ardent worker with the prohibition party. He took a philosophical view of his illness, and died as he had lived, with a bright hope of a happy immortality.
—The following pupils have not been absent from school during the year. Mason school—Edward Brood, Jane Dallachie, Florence Lion, Allan Daniel, Charles Sins, George Frost, Walter Giles, Gardner Sherman, Helen Fellows, Harold Giles, Philip Gould, Robert Rand, James Johnson, Belle Parker, John McDougal, Marguerite Mason, Mary Steves, Annie Smith, Prescott Sale, George Richardson, Rice school—Mabel Williams, Blake Clark, Willie Brewster, Maxwell Ferguson, George W. Smith, John H. Murray, Jr.

—Mr. Daniel N. B. Coffin of Hammond street fell from an electric car near Willow street, Tuesday afternoon, and was quite severely shaken up. Fortunately, no bones were broken. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and removed to his home, where Dr. Sylvester attended him. He soon rallied and his physician hopes that there will be no serious results from the accident. Mr. Coffin is among the best known residents here and a man who is universally respected and esteemed. Many friends will rejoice to learn that his condition is reported as very favorable.
—Judge Allen of the supreme judicial court of Massachusetts has dismissed the bill of equity brought by Newton Centre residents against the N. A. A., of which Fred Hovey is president and F. C. Rising, secretary. The plaintiffs sought to enjoin the club from carrying on athletic sports at its grounds here, and alleged that the sports are a nuisance in the neighborhood. It was also alleged that the association had committed an indictable offence in giving games and exhibitions without first obtaining a license from the board of aldermen. An application was made for an injunction on Tuesday, but Judge Allen refused it, partly on the ground that an application for a license had been made. The license has since been obtained. On the question of a nuisance in the case, Judge

Allen said that some people thought public houses were a nuisance in the neighborhood, and, if such a rule were applied as asked for by the plaintiffs, it would result in the prohibition of almost every kind of public sport.

—What promises to be the most interesting base ball game of the season will be played on the Cedar street grounds, Saturday day, July 6, between the Newton A. A. and Franklins. Manager Carter of the Franklins has been fortunate in securing such a strong aggregation. Mahoney of Georgetown University, the pitcher, has had several flattering offers for league teams. He is probably the swiftest pitcher in the country. Conboy, the catcher, throws remarkably well to bases, and makes base stealing difficult. Weeks, the Brown College player, covers first like a professional. "Bobby" Sherman, the second baseman, was once pitcher for the Sox in 191, and fields his position prettily. Merrifield of Harvard plays short. The outfield, Foss, Woodcock and Gilroy, besides being sure catchers on fly balls, held out greatly at the bat. Moore and Cushing will be the battery for Newton.

—On Sunday, June 30, the titular feast of the church was religiously observed by the parishoners of the Church of the Sacred Heart of which Rev. D. J. Wholey is rector. At 8.30 o'clock a. m. a low mass was celebrated by Rev. James Feeney of the Mission church, Roxbury. During the mass several hymns to the Sacred Heart were pleasingly rendered by a choir of twenty girls under the direction of Mrs. Carrie English. At this mass, fully four hundred men, mostly members of the Holy Name society, received Holy Communion. At 10.30 o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated by the rector, assisted by Rev. L. S. Walsh of St. John's Seminary, Brighton, deacon; Rev. James Feeney, sub-deacon. At the close of the solemn mass there was a procession in honor of the Blessed Sacrament. In the line of the procession were seventy-five girls dressed in white, and seventy-five boys wearing black suits and white gloves. A pretty feature of the procession was the presence of nine little girls, aged 6 years, who carried beautiful fragrant roses along the aisles through which the procession passed. The choir sang Gloria, second mass under the direction of Mr. F. L. Magurn, organist. At the offertory, Miss Mary Twombly of Charlestown sang an Ave Maria by Ahern in a manner that delighted all who had the pleasure of listening to her charming voice. Vespers were celebrated in the evening at 6 o'clock by Rev. D. J. Wholey. A sermon was delivered by Rev. James Feeney, who took for his subject "The Blessed Eucharist, the secret of the power and growth of the Catholic Church." At the close of the sermon 150 new members were received by the rector into the societies attached to the church—the Holy Name society for men, the Holy Family Association for married women, and the Young Ladies' society. The choir sang Stearns' Musical Vespers. The religious observance of the festival closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and the solemn consecration of all the parishoners to the Sacred Heart, the act of consecration being recited aloud by the entire congregation which filled the edifice from the Sanctuary to the church door.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Miss Stone, the music teacher, has gone to Boothbay, Me.
—Mrs. Lovering has gone to Northampton to spend the month of July.
—The Amdens are at Hardwick, Mass., where they have a summer residence.
—Mrs. Robbins and the Misses Hooker are at Salem Willows.
—Miss Gertrude Nelson has gone to Portland, Me., as the guest of a friend.
—Mr. A. L. Greenwood and family are at Cottage City for a short stay.
—Mr. John R. Henderson from Dartmouth College is spending a few days at the Highlands.
—Miss Duncklee has another house started on Fisher avenue. Mr. J. G. Hampton is the builder.
—Mr. J. H. Wentworth and family of Elliot has gone to North Falmouth for the summer months.
—Miss Gould has let her house on Tappan place to Mr. J. P. Stuart and sister who now occupy.
—Mrs. Cobb has commenced a cellar for another house on Hillside street directly opposite the foot of Columbus street.
—There are letters in the postoffice for Katie H. Fernan, C. A. Lincoln, Bella McGinnis, Nathan M. Phillips, Walter S. Rand, Mrs. James H. West.
—The M. E. Sunday school unites by special invitation with the Congregational Sunday school in the picnic to be held at Forest Grove, Waltham, Saturday, July 6.
—Mr. M. W. Richardson, the teacher in the Brookline school, who has resided on Elm street here, has just moved up the house and gone to Winchester for the summer.
—Mr. W. B. McMullin has moved into his new apartment house on Cook street and his father, Mr. T. C. McMullin, has taken the upper and Mr. W. S. Fewkes the middle apartment.
—Mr. A. McLachlan of Columbus place, who is with Messrs. Jordan, Marsh & Co., has gone to Europe and expects to be in Paris at the same time with Rev. Mr. Havens.
—Next Sunday the services at St. Paul's will be held at 10.45 and 5 o'clock. The Rev. W. B. Bircham of Cambridge will officiate. During July the evening services will be at five instead of seven o'clock.
—Services as usual at the M. E. church on Sunday, July 7. Morning service at 10.30, sermon by pastor, subject, "Baptism of the Eunuch." Sunday school at 12. E. Eaton of Cambridge will be in charge of subject, "God our Judge," fifth in series on Lord's Prayer.
—Mrs. Brocklesby's house on Columbus street is to be moved to a site near its present location and extensive alterations to be made, increasing the size according to plans by Mr. Brocklesby who is an architect, and we hear that they will probably occupy at its completion. They are now residing at Hartford. Mr. W. B. McMullin has the contract.
—Bartholomew Mulkeners is at police headquarters, West Newton, suffering from serious wounds on the head and left arm. It is alleged, by his wife. He claims that she stabbed him with a fork, which penetrated through the fleshy part of the left arm, and inflicted an ugly wound. His head was also badly battered.
—The anniversary exercises at the Methodist Episcopal church last Saturday and Sunday proved to be especially interesting. The social sale on Saturday afternoon and evening was well attended and was a success socially and financially. An orchestra enlivened the occasion during the evening with appropriate selections. The affair reflects credit on the management. On the Sabbath three anniversary services were held. In an historical sermon in the morning the pastor reviewed the history of the church from its origin until the present time. Rev. Edwin H. Hughes of Newton Centre delivered the sermon in the afternoon on the theme "The Disciples and the Doctrines." It was an able and eloquent address. Rev. Dr. Geo. F. Eaton of Cambridge was in charge of the evening taking for his subject "Master or Mastered, Which?" The preacher proved to be master of his subject. Rev. Dr. E. Todd, the organizer of the church (this village) was present with his wife and addressed the various services. The choir rendered especially pleasing selections during the day.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

A special meeting of the board of aldermen was held Wednesday evening, Mayor Bothfield presiding.

A hearing was given on the petition of the Wellesley & Boston street railway for locations on Washington and Margin streets, no one appeared and the hearing was closed.

Thomas Dolan was appointed a police officer on the patrol wagon without pay and Morris F. Kiley was appointed a regular patrolman.

The resignation of Elson C. Holmes as driver of the patrol wagon was accepted.

A communication was received from Summer Paine, by his attorneys, relative to their application to the supreme court for the award of damages for the lowering of the grade of Cabot street; referred to the city solicitor.

A communication was received from the commission of state aid, relative to the appointment of John Flood as agent relative to the killing of Patrick Manton, on the Boston and Albany railroad near Riverside, June 17th, another, that C. A. Minor be paid $12.30 taken from him for illegal taxation. Referred to the committee on claims.

A petition was received from the Newton and Boston street railway that they might locate a turnout on Elliot street Newton Upper Falls, and on Lincoln street, Newton Highlands. A hearing was set for July 22. Michael Avery asked permission to remove a building, William Thompson and others petitioned for the construction of sidewalks on Boylston street and Meredith avenue. A petition was received from Wm. Clafin and others asking that a sewer be constructed on Kirkstate road from Woodside road to the electric line, during July and August. Referred to the highway committee.

J. E. Hills asked for a street light on Park street. The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company asked that permission be given to them to attach one cross arm to poles on Otis street; heard and ordered July 22.

A letter was read by Alderman Green from Wm. Clafin for permission to erect a two story wooden block, next to Central block on Washington street, Newtonville, and a permit was refused.

Reports were received from the water board relative to the electrolysis in the pipes due to the presence of the electric roads.

A remonstrance was received from Francis J. Parker protesting against the building of a sewer on Charlesbank road which was referred to the sewer committee.

The following orders were passed: Authorized to pay Charles A. Miner $12.30 for illegal taxation of property not his; that $1000 be appropriated for a bath house to be located on California street.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Mrs. Hannah Arnold has left for her summer cottage at Spring.
—Miss Morrill and Miss Crocker will spend the summer at Salisbury.
—Connellman L. P. Everett of High street, who has been quite ill, is convalescing.
—Mrs. J. B. Newell of Elliot street has been suffering with malaria the past week.
—Inspector McKenna of the Boston Water Works entertained a party of lady friends Sunday.
—Jeremiah Keleher, sexton of St. Mary's church, has been confined to the house with malaria the past week.
—The Newton Upper Falls Christian Endeavor Society held a consecration meeting in the Baptist church Wednesday evening.
—The Newton Rubber Works has been shut down the past week while account of stock was being taken and necessary repairs made.
—Mr. George Hosley has removed to his former home of Elm street. His new house has been remodelled and has undergone several changes.
—There are letters in the postoffice for Miss Farmer, Jennie Grogan, Jonanna Shea, Walter L. Burgess, Joseph Cennan, David Daly and Geo. O. E. Smith.
—Echo Bridge Council, Royal Arcanum, held a well attended meeting in its hall on High street, Wednesday evening. Among business to come up was several applications for membership.
—Considerable sarcastic comment is caused by the insufficient sprinkling of Elm street and just on the point in front of Wetherell Park, where the very peculiar grade centers and causes mud most of the time especially after a heavy rain, or thaw in winter.
—The Echo Bridge pharmacy disposed of a large number of fire crackers and other goods of July necessities this week. Mr. Burgess made a tempting offer to every boy or girl who purchased a glass of soda a bunch of fire crackers or a tin horn. Many children, of course, jumped at the bargain.
—A union temperance service was held in the Methodist church Sunday evening, the theme being "The Vices of the Temperance," which addressed the convention in Boston, last week, would be present. He failed to appear and Rev. Mr. Whitman spoke in his place. His subject was "Temperance Work in the East," and as he had lived in the city of Rangon, Burmah, India, and personally conducted the work, his words were doubly interesting.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—For some time past the police officers doing duty at this place have been aware that an illegal liquor business on a large scale was being carried on. It was thought that Pete Madden, who conducted a grocery store on the Wellesley side of the river, was responsible for a part of the trouble. A watch was kept accordingly, and Wednesday evening Officer Tainter caught Madden in the act. He was arrested on a charge of illegal liquor selling. Fourteen cases of beer were seized.
—Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Drugists.

GRIEVANCE OF A SUBURBANITE.

He Quickly Resented the Imputation That He Was Lazy.

"I'm a pretty easy going kind of a fellow," he said as he poked his head into an Illinois Central suburban ticket office window, "but it seems to me you're sort of rubbing it in."

"What's the matter?" asked the ticket seller.

"Oh, I suppose I ought not to complain, but I always get the worst of it everywhere, and I thought maybe I could get this one matter fixed just for a change."

"I think the company is anxious to do anything it can to please its patrons," said the agent. "What is your trouble?"

"Well, you see, I am an inveterate smoker."

"And out where I live the entrance to the station is at the south end of the platform."

"Yes."

"It's the same way at Randolph street."

"Yes."

"And you put the smoking car at the north end of each train, no matter which way it is running."

"Well, what of it?"

"What of it! Can't you see that I have to walk the whole length of the train to reach the smoker and the whole length back again when I get down town. It isn't fair. I ought to get the best of it at least at one end of the line. You can't change it? Well, then, would you advise me to move or give up smoking?"

"Smoking."

"Well, I don't know. If it wasn't for the work, I'd move. By the way, you don't think I'm lazy, do you? Of course not. I'm only justifiably indignant over an adverse fate."—Chicago Times Herald.

ASKING THE CAPTAIN.

Just What Happened When Information Was Sought From the Commander.

"Once on an ocean steamer," said a traveler, "we had a heated shaft bearing, or something of that sort, so that the engines stopped for five or six hours. I had often read and heard about how the captain was the great mogul aboard ship, how about all things pertaining to the affairs of the ship he held aloof and must not be approached by the passengers, and that it was a sort of violation of the unwritten rules of the sea for a passenger to ask the captain anything. And there may be some reason in all this; if one passenger might ask him, 40 might, and surely the commander of the ship ought not to be unnecessarily disturbed by useless questions. We had been lying there three or four hours waiting. There was no danger whatever, but it was a delay and an incident of interest, and of course all the passengers talked about nothing else—the common information was that the delay was due to a heated bearing."

"I was standing on the upper deck by the door to the main companionway leading to the deck below. The captain came along the upper deck from the after part of the ship and went below by that companionway. He must pass within a foot of me, and under the circumstances it did not seem like a violently unreasonable breach of salt water etiquette to ask him what was the matter, which I did. A passenger who stood on the other side of the doorway looked at me with the amused smile of an older traveler. The captain said nothing. He simply passed on, to all outward appearances quite unconscious of my question or even my presence."—New York Sun.

The Tree Killer.

One of the curious forest growths of the isthmus of Panama and lower Central America in general is the vine which the Spaniards call matapalo, or "tree killer." This vine first starts in life as a climber upon the trunks of the large trees, and owing to its marvelously rapid growth, soon reaches the lower branches. At this point it first begins to put out its "feelers"—tender, harmless looking root shoots, which soon reach the ground and become as firmly fixed as the parent stem. These hundreds of additional sap tubes give the whole vine a renewed lease of life, and it begins to send out its aerial tendrils in all directions. These twine themselves tightly around every limb of the tree, even creeping to the very farthest tips and squeezing the life out of both bark and leaf. Things go on at this rate but a short while before the forest giant is compelled to succumb to the gigantic parasite which is sapping its life's blood. Within a very few years the tree rots and falls away, leaving the matapalo standing erect and hollow, like a monster vegetable devilish lying upon its back with its horrid tentacles clasped together high in the air. Morgan, "Central America Afoot," says, "Corelike arbors of matapalo are to be seen in all directions, each testifying to the lingering death of some sylvan giant that formerly supported it."—St. Louis Republic.

How Massachusetts Treats Debtors.

Some recent letter writers in various newspapers have been complaining that Boston is provincial in several respects. So it is. But the charge may be extended to the state just as well. It is said to be possible to imprison a man for debt in Massachusetts, barbarous as it is looked upon in other regions, and it is said to be possible, too, for a creditor to intercept the salary of a man with a family, except $10 a week, and this, too, even if there are a dozen in the family, and the judgment debt is really another person's. When one learns of such things as these, one ceases to wonder at the extent of the emigration from regions where such things are possible. —Boston Traveller.

From Her Standpoint.

He—The doctor has told me to take a walk every evening for exercise, but he says I ought to have some object in view. She—Why not think of home?—New York Herald.

WALTER C. BROOKS & Co.

... Importing ...
.. Tailors ..

15 MILK ST., BOSTON.

BIRTHPLACE OF FRANKLIN
OPP. OLD SOUTH CHURCH.

Goods Delivered Free in the Newtons.

Fine Woolens at Moderate Prices.

PEARMAN & BROOKS
Stock and Bond Brokers.
Orders by Mail Promptly Executed. Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.
Correspondence Solicited.
Stock Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.
SUMNER B. PEARMAN. L. LORING BROOKS.

Full Line. Finest Quality.
GEO. E. HUSE & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
Meats and Provisions.
White's Block, Centre St., NEWTON CENTRE.
GEO. E. HUSE. LEWIS MURPHY.

MISS GRACE C. STANFORD will re-open the KINDERGARTEN
Monday, October 1, 1894,
in the house formerly occupied by Dr. Dodge, Centre Street, Opp. Mason School, NEWTON CENTRE.

Teeth Filled WITHOUT PAIN
We, the undersigned, have had teeth examined for filling by Dr. Jordan's method, entirely without pain:
P. E. Hovey, M. D., 2 Commonwealth Av., Boston.
Mrs. H. C. Williams, 174 Beacon St., Boston.
Miss Mable Mattson, 9 Adams St., Charlestown.
Samuel C. Hill, Hyde Park, Mass.
Miss Bell Nichols, 5 Chandler St., Boston.
Addison R. Pike, 22 Claremont Park, Boston.

DR. E. L. JORDAN,
DENTIST,
Room 37, Park Bldg., No. 2 Park Sq., Boston.

Hotel Nantasket,
OPENS JULY 1st.
Rockland Cafe,
OPENS JUNE 15th.

Nantasket Beach, - Mass.
EDW. F. STURGIS, Prop.
Nantasket Beach.
This celebrated summer resort is one of the most pleasantly situated on the Atlantic Coast. Its position on the South Shore of Massachusetts Bay offers unrivalled facilities for bathing. The beach is acknowledged to be the finest in New England.

DRINKING HABIT A DISEASE.
A Cure which will destroy both the habit and the disease. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. It will cost only $5.00. Write for particulars.

WRITE TO BOX NO. 6, BRIGHTON, MASS.

MISS MCGILL,
A fashionable dress maker of experience would like a few engagements. Cutting and fitting a specialty; satisfaction guaranteed.
3 FAYETTE STREET, BOSTON.

has added Flour, Sugar, Tea and Coffee to his former stock of Choice Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Canned Goods, Etc., etc.

CENTRE ST., next to NOBLE'S DRUG STORE.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXV.—NO. 41.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 12, 1891.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR

J. H. NICKERSON, Pres. AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, Vice Pres.

First National Bank of West Newton.

CAPITAL, $100,000.

SURPLUS, $12,000.

For the accommodation of our depositors, on and after MONDAY, APRIL 15, a representative of this Bank will be at the DRUG STORE OF JOHN F. PAYNE, NEWTONVILLE, daily, from 9.05 to 11 A. M. to receive Deposits and pay Checks.

EDWARD P. HATCH, Cashier.

PENNOCK ELECTRIC LIGHT CO.,

305 CARTER BUILDING, BOSTON.

ELECTRIC LIGHT. ELECTRIC HEAT. ELECTRIC POWER.
PRICE LIST—Series Incandescent Light, 75 candlepower, $2 per month; Multiple arc incandescent light, 16 candlepower, 50 cents per month; Electric Power for Motors, $15 per horsepower per year; Electric Heating, $1 per month per 8 room house. THE CHEAPEST, THE BEST, THE ONLY SAFE ELECTRIC SYSTEM IN THE WORLD. State Right Certificates $1.00 per share. Send for particulars.

Brackett's Market Company.

Established 1851. Incorporated 1892.
Telephone No. 16-3.

The Best Meats, Poultry, Game, Cream, Butter, Eggs, Fruits and Vegetables

at the Lowest Prices. This Market intends to fill all orders as the purchaser were present. Goods which are found not to be as represented may be returned.

7 and 8 Cole's Block, WASHINGTON near CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

F. IVERS & SON,

BUILDERS OF

High Grade Road Wagons.

Rubber Tires and Ball Bearing Axles applied to Carriages.

Carriage Repairing a Specialty.

1953-1963 Massachusetts Ave., No. Cambridge.

STOVES AND EVERY VARIETY OF Household Goods

—AT—

BENT'S FURNITURE ROOMS,

64 Main St., Watertown.

ATWOOD'S MARKET.

HEADQUARTERS FOR

Fine Fruit, Vegetables, The Choicest Fish and Meats.

Mr. Atwood's long experience gives him unusual facilities for securing the best things in the market.

371 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

Telephone 122-2.

Newton

City Market

Fresh and Salt

Meats.

Poultry and Game.

Fish

and Oysters.

Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Canned Goods, Fruit, Vegetables.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

JAMES PAXTON,

Confectioner and Caterer.

Ices, Creams, Frozen Pudding, Roman Punch, Fine Cakes, Cakes, Salads, Oysters, Crisquettes, Etc.

ALL OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Weddings

and Receptions

SERVED IN SUPERIOR STYLE.

Eliot Block, Newton

NEWTON.

—Planos, Farley, 433 Washington St., N. H.
—Miss Rose Loring is at Chatham for a few weeks.

—Mrs. Samuel Farquhar and family are at the Altamonte, Bethlehem, N. H.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stevens are guests at the Alpine House, Bethlehem, N. H.

—Miss M. T. Vincent has been visiting in Marblehead Neck.
—Fine watch and clock repairing at W. A. Hodgdon's 326 Centre street.

—Miss Myra J. Stone of Maple avenue has returned from Southport, Conn.
—Mrs. Grace Le Baron Upham is at her summer residence in Hull.

—Mrs. S. L. Powers and son are visiting her mother on the Cape for a few weeks.
—Mr. F. W. Gaffield is at the Hunne well during the absence of his family.

—Cash paid for old gold and silver at W. A. Hodgdon's 326 Centre street.
—Mr. Frank H. Burt and family are at the Mayo cottage, Provincetown.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bugbee have returned from a short stay in New York city.
—The old saying that if it rains the 29th of June it will rain every day for 30 days, seems bound to come true, this year.

—Mrs. Chas. W. Hall is at the Cotchessett House, Wrentham, for July, and will go to the mountains for August.

—Mrs. Arthur C. Mudge left this week for Hardwick and Petersham, to spend the summer.
—Mrs. Herbert Kenway and family are occupying a cottage at Point Pleasant, Annisquam.

—The new concrete walk on Waverley avenue, from Vernon to Sargent streets, will be one of the greatest public improvements in that section.

—Miss Blanche Stanley of Franklin street, is in Maine, where she will remain till the middle of the month, when she will go to the mountains.

—Dr. Pim and Mr. Mahoney, the Irish tennis champions, sailed for home last Saturday by the Umbria. By the way, the accepted pronunciation of the latter's name is "Marny".

—Services will be continued regularly in Grace church every Sunday morning and evening during the summer. 10.45 a. m., 7.30 p. m. Strangers visiting Newton and all others are cordially welcome.

—Among Newton people who left for Chatham, this week, are Mrs. George T. Coppins, Miss Carrie Coppins, Raymond Coppins, Mr. and Mrs. John Alden and Miss Priscilla Alden.

—Morgan Mahoney, Watertown street and James F. Kelley, Orchard street, Watertown, have been sojourning at the White Mountains during the past week.

—The following committee of Eliot church will attend to supplies now that the regular pastor has resigned, and consider also candidates for the pastorate: William F. Bacon, Henry E. Cobb, F. A. Day, Joseph W. Day, C. E. Haskell, Herbert Wilder and Frank Stearns.

—Music in Grace church Sunday night: Processional, "Jerusalem the Golden." Magnificat. Nunc Dimittis. Anthem, "Draw us, we beseech Thee," Recessional, "Pleasant are Thy courts above." Seats free.

—Mr. George Jones has resigned from the Abram French Company, to take charge of a large store in New York city, as the representative of a prominent English pottery firm. He will be in Newton this week, to complete the arrangements for opening the store, and his family will remove to New York city in the fall.

—The Hunnewell Hill club gave their postponed display of fireworks, last Friday evening, on Hunnewell Terrace, before a crowd of some several hundred people. The collection was an excellent one, and the special features were greeted with loud applause. The display ended with a handsome diamond of colored stars, which called out many admiring "ahs."

—On the night before the Fourth, a number of windows in the square were broken by bullets, and other damage done. Most of the disorder in the city was collected here, and the property owners think that they were called upon to pay for police protection they ought to have had it, and that the city ought to be responsible for damages to property. Generally speaking, the order maintained was better than usual at the time, but the fact that broken windows shows that there were not police enough at this particular spot.

—Capt. Haskell of the Garden City Wheelmen, has called these runs for the month; July 8, Franklin Park; 14, Salem Willows; 21, Nantasket; 28, Nahant. Hereafter the pace on all runs will be slow enough to suit all participants. The club members combined with the Newtonian Cycle Club in its celebration of the Fourth and had a glorious time. The monthly meeting of the club was held Monday evening. Although no official announcement has yet been made of the union run of the C. C. C., there will undoubtedly be 25 or 30 members from this organization in line.

—The terrible death of Mr. Robert B. McGilley, Westley Hills, last Friday, brought sorrow to his many friends in Newton, as he was well known here, having resided at the Hunnewell for several years, and been active at Charing Cross. He came out from Boston on the 9 o'clock train, and after alighting in some way fell under the wheels and his head was severed from the body. His wife and family with a party of friends were waiting for him at his home, for an exhibition of fireworks, when the terrible news reached them. The funeral was held at the Unitarian church, Monday, at 1 p. m. and the interment was at Mt. Auburn.

—In the course of his sermon last Sunday morning in Grace church, Dr. Shinn alluded to the death of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge in substance as follows. He spoke of her great desire to be present at the services of the church. Only the Monday before she died she requested the organist to play the hymn which her favorite hymn, "Hark! hark! my soul." She was looking forward to a privilege she had greatly prized, that of taking part in the public worship in the church, but it was denied her. Her departure was very sudden and surprising. It hardly seemed like death. She was a benefactress of the parish and of the whole community. It is hardly likely that so beautiful a good cause, and well nigh every benevolent organization in this vicinity had her name upon the list of contributors. She was especially generous to the Newton hospital. Up to the present no one has given so much to that institution. But, said the speaker, Mrs. Eldredge would have been lamented even if she had not been the wealthy woman she was. She had the great power of manifesting sympathy and affection, and those who knew her best loved her most. She was the centre of a circle of very devoted friends, who loved her for her gentleness and her many other excellent traits of character.

—Postal Clerk Wm. Irving is enjoying his annual vacation.

—Mr. Joshua Baker and family of Sargent street are summering at Hyannis.
—Mrs. A. B. Jewell and Miss Florence Jewell are at New Bedford, N. H.

—The family of Dr. F. L. McIntosh is summering at Sunapee Lake, N. H.
—Harry R. Mason is enjoying the breezes at North Freetown.

—Mr. Franklin Elms has returned from Wianno.
—Mr. L. J. Calley and party have returned from a trip to Belfast, Maine.

—Mr. John Miller will enjoy his vacation at Forest Grove.
—Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wellington and family are at Osterville for the summer.

—Mrs. E. W. Holmes and daughter Katkinson are at York Beach, Maine.
—Mr. Stephen Moore and family left today for a three weeks visit at Bethlehem, N. H.

—Miss Helen Brooks of Sargent street has returned home from her boarding school for the summer vacation.
—Mr. James E. Elms and family of Arlington street are at Magnolia for the summer.

—Mr. John Flood has been visiting his former home at Nantucket and enjoying the centennial there.
—Miss Elizabeth Spear of Walnut Park left Wednesday for Centre Sandwich, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Livermore of Chatham Road are spending a few weeks at Hotel Pines, Cotuit, Mass.
—The engagement has been announced of Mr. John Crosby of this city to Miss Grace L. Brooks of Roxbury.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Pope and Miss Pope have gone to Cohasset for the summer.
—Clifton Mason is a member of the reception committee at the Christian Endeavor convention.

—Mrs. Herbert A. Fuller and son of Copley street are at the "Breakwater," Woods Hole, for the summer.
—Mr. E. L. Moore of Grand River, Kentucky, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robinson of Channing street.

—Mr. Frank H. Robinson of Galeton, Penn., visiting his parents at their home on Channing street.
—The balance of the races of the Hunnewell Hill Club's program for the Fourth will be had at the club's grounds, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—President M. H. Buckham of the University of Vermont will preach at Eliot church, July 14th, both morning and evening.
—Mrs. E. J. Peck and family have returned from Boston, and have taken the house formerly occupied by them on Billing's park, for the summer.

—While Mr. E. N. Soule was riding his bicycle on Park street, Friday evening, he was run into by some unknown and his wheel was badly damaged.
—Mr. Pitt F. Parker, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will leave July 25, for the summer, and will have a fine time. He will have charge of one of the tents.

—Mrs. W. F. Bowman of the Hunnewell returned Tuesday from a two weeks' stay at Ogunquit, Me. Miss Bowman will remain there during July.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Damon and family, and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Whittemore and family of Hunnewell Hill have gone to Annisquam where they will pass the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Whitney, Jr. of Waban park have returned from a brief visit to North Scituate Beach, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hamblen.
—The Appalachians have recently returned from Mt. Desert, where they have been having a jolly good time. A number of Newton members went and Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Davis and Miss Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Alden were noticed among others.

—Tuesday afternoon a man was driving along on Boston street near Crafts in a gig with a horse attached to the rear of the vehicle. The latter horse became frightened at a load of lumber and ran away, throwing the driver out. He was not hurt, but the gig was badly wrecked.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Mr. Ash, Walter Coffey, John Lancaster, Sherburne Merritt, A. E. Prince, Jeremiah Juill, Lucretia E. Wells, E. Whitman, Mr. E. Villow, Abbie T. Davis, Mrs. Mary L. Clark, Nellie Carroll, Jennie Graves, Abbie Griffin, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. John Mullen, Julia Pack, Mrs. James Ryan.

—There has been some inquiry about the Read fund picnic, which usually comes before this time. There is to be none this year, as the funds for that purpose amounted to only $35. The interest having been anticipated for several years. Since the fund was left the number of children has increased largely, while the income has not, and hereafter will probably be necessary to skip every third year.

—At Lakeville, Mass., on July 2, a pretty wedding took place at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Sprague S. Stetson, when Mr. Everett Anthony Brown of Providence was married to Miss Jennie Stetson. Miss Grace Weston, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Among other guests were noticed Misses Smith, Rice and Paul of Newton Centre and Miss Weston, who were classmates of the bride at Smith College. Mr. Brown is a graduate of this year from the Newton Theological Seminary, and has received diplomas at Brown and Harvard Universities.

—Among those from this place who have been officiating at the Christian Endeavor Convention are Herbert Trowbridge, who met the New Hampshire delegates at Manchester; Porter Lamb who was to meet the Maine delegation at Portland; Walter Whitney who joined a delegation at Springfield and Clifton Mason who met the Connecticut delegation at Hartford. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Whittemore and family of Hunnewell Hill have gone to Annisquam where they will pass the summer.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

has lived in the west. He was 70 years of age and leaves a wife and several children.
—Mr. G. Fred Harwood has been at the Isles of Shoals, recently.

—Mr. F. H. Nichols is spending his vacation at Osterville.
—Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bacon are spending July at Martha's Vineyard.

—Mr. H. S. Crowell and family have left for their summer home at Woods Hole.
—Mr. Ferdie Vahey of Kendal Green visited in this city, Thursday.

—Miss Mary Allen and brother arrived home from Europe last Saturday.
—Mr. H. Cortlandt Van Voorhis has gone to Lake Sunapee, N. H.

—Mrs. W. L. Lovell of Park street is in Freetown, Me.
—Mrs. Hadley of Indianapolis is visiting her father, Mr. George J. Thomas of Pearl street.

—The annual parish picnic of the Church of Our Lady will be held at Lake Walden, July 18.
—The Newtonian Cycle club will make a run to Hough's Neck, July 14. The start will be made at 9 a. m.

—Mr. Edw. Conant and family of Hunnewell Hill have gone to their new cottage at Point Allerton for the summer.
—Mr. Chas. Hunt and family of Waverley avenue left yesterday for Rutland, Mass., for several weeks' stay.

—Miss Kate Eggleston, who has been visiting in this city, has returned to her home in Orange, N. J.
—Mr. Wm. Hall in his yacht is at present cruising about Woods Hole. He was joined this week by Mr. George B. Whitney of Waban Park.

—Mrs. James F. Bothfield of Centre street has been in New Hampshire since the first of the month. Dr. Bothfield will remain in town during the summer.
—Miss Abbie C. Hitchcock of Occidental College, Los Angeles, Cal., came on with the Christian Endeavorers and is visiting at her grandfather's on Centre street.

—Misses Carrie and Blanche Raymond of Worcester and Miss Florence B. Crawford of New Braintree are attending the E. C. convention and are stopping with their cousin, Miss S. Maude Bush of Elmwood street.
—The trains full of delegates for the Y. P. S. C. E. convention caused no little excitement dashing through here Tuesday and Wednesday. It gave the idlers about the square and depot something to think about.

—Children, matches and some bedding in a closet were the cause of an alarm from box 14, Monday afternoon. The blaze was extinguished before the arrival of the department and damage slight. The house is owned by Mr. Ralph J. Benson and the tenement in which the fire occurred is occupied by Mr. Griffin.

—Rev. A. D. Spaulding, pastor of the First Baptist church, North Scituate, will preach at the Methodist church next Sunday morning and evening, in exchange with Rev. Mr. Bronson. Afterwards the church will be closed until September except for Sunday schools and week night services, the society worshipping with the Eliot congregation on Sundays.

—The Boston Sunday Herald had an account of the style in which Wallace D. Lovell, formerly a resident of Park street, and a member of the notorious firm of Potter, Lovell & Co., is living in Mexico with his family. He evidently has plenty of money, and is having a fine time. The Post says that he was in Boston recently, arranging matters for a loan, and passed a day with Mr. Potter, at his summer residence on Jerusalem road.

—Mr. Benjamin H. Thayer, formerly a prominent Boston manufacturer and an owner of Newton, died at his residence on Waverley avenue, last evening. Mr. Thayer had been failing in health and unable to engage in active business for several years, and had retired with a considerable fortune. His final illness was of about three years' duration. He was born in Boston and was 69 years of age. His wife died about a year ago. A daughter survives him.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

—The funeral of Mrs. E. T. Eldredge was held at her residence on Forest street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shinn officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Porter, who was the rector of the church in which Mrs. Eldredge died. The funeral service was held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was followed by an address by the Rev. Dr. Shinn. There was a great regret that the funeral could not be held in public so that Newton people could have had an opportunity of testifying to their respect for the deceased, and regard for her memory.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

BOTH BRANCHES MET—A NUMBER OF UNIMPORTANT HEARINGS—MANY ORDERS PASSED—OFFICE OF CAPTAIN OF POLICE ABOLISHED.

Both branches of the city government met Monday evening. In the board of aldermen, Messrs. Green and Degen were absent. A hearing was called on the order for a sewer on Alden place, off River street, the sewer having been called for by the board of health. Dr. Curtis, chairman of the board of health, stated that the street was a very narrow one, built up with double houses, and the outhouses were not in a sanitary condition.

Martin Gannon, Wm. Gannon, Patrick Gannon, J. H. McEnany, and others protested that the sewer was not needed, and claimed that the soil was gravelly and readily absorbed all drainage.

The order was passed for constructing the sewer.

No one appeared at the hearing on the order for sewer on Prospect Park, off Beaumont avenue, and the order was passed.

An order was passed for the laying out and acceptance of Claremont street.

The board was notified of the suit brought by Elizabeth Ann Ratcliffe, for damages for land taken in the laying out of Commonwealth avenue.

A communication was received from Albert Brackett, protesting against the taking of the land where his coal yard stands, for the widening of Washington street, as land could be taken from the other side of the street without injuring his business.

Wm. M. Costello was appointed a police officer for the usual probationary term of six months.

Alderman Plummer reported from the Highway committee an order for the widening of Elm street, and appointing Monday, August 5, at 7.50, for a hearing to all parties interested. Also an order for widening Watertown street; and appointing the same date for hearing.

An order was passed authorizing the highway committee to expend the money they had received for Claremont street for construction of same.

Alderman Tolman reported from the ordinance committee, an order amending the police ordinance by abolishing the office of captain and providing for five sergeants, and the amendments were passed to be ordained.

Alderman Hamilton reported on petition for sewer on Charlesbank road, east of St. James street, giving petitioners leave to withdraw.

Alderman White reported the order for poles and wires, granting the N & W Gas company leave to erect poles on Bellevue, Fountain, Valentine, Brighton and Homer streets. Also poles on Otis street, and to allow the Telephone Co. to attach wire thereto; also to erect poles on Ward, Center, Paxton, Crescent, and Pearl streets. The Telephone Co. was granted a permit to attach cross arms to 9 poles on West street. Also to attach cross arms to four fire alarm poles on Waverly avenue, and to 6 on Dedham street.

The Telephone Co. were also granted locations for poles on Walnut, Boylston, Parker, Cherry, Beacon and Central streets, and Woodland road.

L. A. Ross and H. W. Holbrook petitioned for concrete sidewalks on Walnut and Hyde streets.

Alderman Hamilton presented the petition of Lawrence Barry, for a renewal of his express license, claiming that it had been revoked without cause. Attorney Daniel J. Gallagher appeared for him, and said the license had been revoked without a hearing and they would like to know what the accusation was, so they could put in an answer. Mr. Gibson's license had been revoked, and now had been granted again, and he thought the charge was the same against both men.

The matter was referred to the license committee, who gave a hearing after the board adjourned to Mr. Barry and the police officers, who were summoned from Nonantum.

The mayor was authorized to sign releases of land for extension of Commonwealth avenue.

An order was passed authorizing the public property committee to sell the dwelling house on the Clark lot, to be removed for the Pierce school.

The express license of Peter Madden of Newton Lower Falls was revoked, he having been convicted of selling liquor illegally.

Concrete walks were asked for on Glenwood and Hancock avenues.

Mrs. Margaret Wade asked to be relieved of the nuisance occasioned by water draining and standing on her land.

Waban residents remonstrated against a report that a building for tramps was to be erected near the terminal.

W. B. Young asked for one gas lamp on Kenwood avenue at Ashton Park.

E. R. Benton and others asked to have Station street watered.

The Common Council transacted only concurrent business.

MR. BARRY'S LICENSE.

After adjournment the license committee gave a hearing to Lawrence Barry. Barry's license was revoked on complaint of Police Sergeant Ryan to the effect that Barry was interfering with the work of reform in the Nonantum district by carting large quantities of beer into the district. Barry, through his counsel, D. J. Gallagher, claimed that an injustice had been done him, and asked for the specific charges.

Alderman Plummer stated that Sergeant Ryan and the police of the district stated that Barry, his mother, and two brothers caused more disturbance in the district than all the rest of Nonantum combined, and that he had openly defied them to stop him from doing a liquor business.

City Marshal Richardson stated that Barry carted little except beer, and acted as agent for Martin Shields, a Waltham liquor dealer.

Mr. Gallagher produced his client's order book, showing that he did a legitimate express business and claimed that his client was a law-abiding citizen, and had acted within his rights. He asked for a renewal of the license. The committee took the matter under advisement.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Greene, Newton Highlands, Drug-gist.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

JOHN W. CARTER OF WEST NEWTON LOSES HIS LIFE AT HARWICH.

While bathing in the surf at Harwich, last Friday, John W. Carter, of Carter, Dinsmore & Co., the manufacturers of stationers' supplies, was drowned. He was spending the summer with his family at the beach in company with his brother, J. R. Carter, the treasurer of the Carter, Rice & Co. Corporation, and family, the latter's brother-in-law and his family, and three of the children of another brother, making a family party of twenty-two persons in all. About 11.30 o'clock Saturday morning, J. W. Carter went in bathing with a nephew and another gentleman. There was a sloop anchored a few hundred feet off shore, and it was proposed to swim out to her. Mr. Carter declined and his two companions left him paddling about near the shore. When they reached the sloop they saw Mr. Carter swimming back toward the shore, after having swam part way out toward the sloop. He was an expert swimmer, and no one on the sloop or near the shore watched his movements specially. A few minutes later the nephew and his companion swam back. Not seeing Mr. Carter, they inquired about him, and were told that he had probably gone to his bathing house.

It was about twelve o'clock that Mrs. J. W. Carter alarmed her brother-in-law, J. R. Carter, who was playing tennis near the hotel, with the news that she could not find her husband, that his clothes were still hanging in the bathing-house, and that he was nowhere to be seen about the beach. The brother told her that her husband had probably swam down toward the pier, which is hidden from the hotel by a low bluff. He then hurried in that direction and, on gaining the top of the bluff saw two men pointing at something in the shoal water. It proved to be his brother's body. A physician was at once summoned and the life-saving crew near by arrived soon after, and the attempt to resuscitate the drowned man was persisted in for more than five hours but without avail. The cause and manner of his drowning are a mystery. He had no heart trouble and was otherwise in good health.

Mr. Carter was born in Boston and was fifty-two years old last Sunday. After receiving a preparatory education, he entered Harvard, but left at the end of his freshman year and entered the Forty-fifth Massachusetts Regiment as a private, but after serving a short time, at his own request, he was transferred to the regular army, where he held a commission, served during the war and was a member of engagements. A few years ago, his college degree, which he had not returned to take, was given to him out of course. He lived for many years in West Newton, where he occupied a prominent social position. He was identified with the various clubs and business men's organizations, and at one time served as president of the West Newton Lyceum Association. He was one of the most active members of the Newton Tariff Reform Club. He had always been interested in governmental affairs in Newton, and a number of years was elected alderman, representing Ward 3. He devoted a great deal of time in that office to the problem of sewerage, and went abroad to study the various systems. Shortly after his return he submitted an exhaustive report, as chairman of the sewer committee of the Newton City Council, and many of his ideas were incorporated in the local system finally adopted. He was the secretary of the Massachusetts Reform Club for ten years after its organization. He made frequent journeys to the Old World, once travelled round the world, and devoted much time to study and research.

A GOOD CITIZEN.

(Springfield Republican.)

There will be many to mourn the death of John W. Carter of the Boston firm of Carter, Dinsmore & Co. who was drowned while bathing at Harwich on Friday. It is a most untimely death, for Mr. Carter was about 55 years of age and in the strength of his manhood. He was above all a good citizen. He did his own thinking in politics and was active in the independent Republican movement in Massachusetts, which early gave its hearty support to Mr. Cleveland. He was also an early member of the tariff reform club. Mr. Carter was a cultivated man and the range of his interests took him outside of his business into the clubs and among literary people, and enlisted him most earnestly in good causes of various sorts. His home was in West Newton, where he was prominent in all local affairs. The loss of John W. Carter will be a real one in many circles.

TRIBUTE FROM THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE MASSACHUSETTS REFORM CLUB.

At a special meeting of the executive committee of the Massachusetts Reform Club, Monday, it was voted "to make immediate recognition of the value of the life and services of the late John Wilkins Carter to our community and to the cause of reform."

The following minute was adopted: "John Wilkins Carter was a man of sterling character, earnest, true, sincere and firm. From the earliest inception of the movement for civil service reform and for tariff reform he was an interested and active participant. As a member of the original Lyman committee in 1882; of the independent committee of 1884, and as secretary and vice-president of the Massachusetts Reform Club, his talent for organization, his work, and his wise counsel were of invaluable benefit. He was decided in his convictions, unyielding in his high principle and an earnest fighter, but as a friend and companion a most genial, kindly and liberal man. The Reform Club's obligation to him can never be forgotten and he will ever hold a high place in the esteem of its members."

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. We the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by him.

West & THURMAN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. WALKING, KINMAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

Tommy and His Aunt Mary Discuss The Fourth.

(From Harper's Round Table.)

Did you ever hear about the dispute Thomas Jefferson and Charles Carrollton had when they came to write and sign the Declaration of Independence?

"No," said Tommy, wondering what his aunt would say next.

"They had quite a little tiff. Jefferson, you see, wanted to have it written on a typewriter, and—"

"But, Aunt, the typewriter wasn't invented then."

"That's just what Charles Carrollton told him. But Jefferson insisted on calling in the janitor, and having it invented while they waited. 'Positively can never read my handwriting,' said Jefferson. 'Besides, my fountain-pen won't work to-day; you know how it is with these fountain-pens—some days ink will shoot out of them like water out of a garden hose, and other times you can't get it out with a corker.'"

"Why didn't Charles Carrollton of Carrollton tell Jefferson that fountain-pens weren't invented either?" asked Tommy.

"I don't think he knew it. A great many people then thought that fountain-pens were invented. And then they talked a long time, and Thomas Jefferson tried to get Benjamin Franklin to set it up in type and print it, but he said he had to go fishing with his kite that afternoon for electricity and so couldn't; and then the others sided in with Charles Carrollton of Carrollton, and Jefferson had to write it after all, with a quill pen, and with sand to dry the ink with instead of blotting-paper, because the man who had promised to invent blotting-paper had joined the army and gone off to fight the British. So you see, Tommy, the men that wrote and signed the Declaration of Independence had their troubles. But you ought to be thankful that they did it in July instead of January."

Tommy thought a moment, and then said, "Yes, I am; but if they'd done it about six weeks earlier it would have given us a holiday while there was school, and I think that's a pretty good time for holidays."

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, a sprain, a severe pain of a burn or scald, promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale;

LOVELY WOMAN.

Of the new fashioned woman there's much being said,
Of her wanting to vote and a' that,
And of her desire to wear man's attire,
His coat and his vest and a' that,
And a' that and a' that,
She may wear trousers and a' that;
She may even ride a horse astride,
But a woman's a woman for a' that.

See yonder damsel passing by?
She's up to date and a' that,
She wears a man's hat, likewise his cravat,
His shirt and collar and a' that,
And a' that and a' that,
His suspenders and cuffs and a' that,
But do what she can to imitate man
A woman's a woman for a' that.

The modern maid, her form arrayed
In sweater and blousier and a' that,
Rides a bike exactly like
What brother riders and a' that,
She may wear bloomers for skirts and a' that,
Wear men's collars and shirts and a' that,
May wear vests if she will, but the fact Remains still
A woman's a woman for a' that.
—William West in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HER SECRET.

Hushed in an awful quiet was the big house, for its mistress lay sick unto death. No longer was it the abode of laughter, for tears had taken its place, and real sorrow had usurped seeming joy. Carriages still drove up, but it was over the straw covered road they came, and their occupants only tarried for inquiry.

The mistress of the house lay sick unto death, she who was so beautiful and so glad. Strange that she should be summoned when there were others, sorrow marked and stricken in years, who waited for the call and prayed it might come quickly, yet waited and prayed in vain. There were others, too, not old nor gray before their time, who might have slipped away into the unknown almost unnoticed, while this woman had so many ties to bind her to earth—her husband, her child, her relations, her legion of friends.

It was hard she should be called away so early from the rich banquet that lay spread before her.

Yet the angel of death was expected. His emissaries had arrived and told of his approach, which may not be said—nay, nor even long delayed.

The doctor, who knew too well the signs of these fateful envoys, shook his head gravely in reply to the anxious queries of those who loved her best—her sisters, her mother, her husband—but he gave no gleam of hope, for she lay in a deadly lethargy from which it had been impossible to rouse her. In vain her mother spoke to her as she had done in days long gone by, when she was yet a child. In vain her husband stood by her side and took her hand and called her by every endearment she knew so well. In vain her child clutched her breast and cried for her mother to look at her and talk to her again.

Surely if it were possible to bring her back from the edge of the grave these dear ones could do it. But there she lay, stonily impassive, with her great eyes staring into space, cold and unheeding as the sphinx. She gave no sign of life, and the hours fraught with hope sped slowly on, and each one registered a step nearer the grave.

One by one they withdrew from the chamber of death, the husband being the last to obey the doctor's orders, and now none was left in the room but the physician and the nurse—her old servant, the one upon whose knee she had climbed 20 years and more ago.

How slowly the hours passed for the watchers, and yet surely they passed too quickly—just so many hundred more vibrations of the pendulum, just a few striking of the hour, and all would be over for her so richly endowed with all that should make life worth living.

The doctor never left her side. He sat there with his keen, observant eye fixed upon her, ready to note any change, but there she lay impassive, and the watcher could scarcely see that she breathed.

Her beauty seemed even more perfect now than he had thought it.

Absolutely faultless was the chiseling of those clear cut features. Her dark hair waved loosely around her Grecian brow and trailed across her shoulders, a fit setting for the marvelous whiteness of her face. The great violet eyes—her chief glory—were wide open, staring with terrible fixity into nothingness, or was it into the something beyond? Her lips had lost their vivid color, but this was scarcely a fault; her hands were outside the coverlet, white marble faintly marked with blue, her wedding ring the one discordant note.

For long there had been no sound in the room save the crackling of the fire and the faint ticking of the clock.

Suddenly the doctor bent eagerly forward. Her lips moved. With eagerness he listened. "Linley," she scarcely more than whispered. Then all was silence again.

The nurse rose hurriedly from her chair by the fire. She had only heard a sound.

The doctor raised his hand, and she resumed her seat. Long, long he waited, hoping for another sound of returning consciousness, but none came.

At last he came over to the nurse.

"Did you hear her?"

"What did she say, sir?"

"One word only—'Linley.'"

The nurse suppressed an involuntary exclamation.

"What did it mean, nurse?"

But the woman only shook her head.

"Strange," muttered the doctor, as with knitted eyebrows he reflected and strove to catch some clue. Then he returned to the bedside. There she lay as impassive as before.

"Linley! Linley!" he kept repeating. "What did she mean?"

The nurse made no reply, but sat looking into the fire.

"Nurse, tell me," he said at length, "have you an idea what the mistress meant by that word?"

But the nurse did not or would not hear.

"Look here, nurse," continued he, "I must have an answer. You are keeping something back. Your mistress' life may hang upon you. Tell me, do you know to whom or to what she alluded?"

"I do."

"Then in heaven's name, tell me. She must be roused from her lethargy if she is to live. What did she mean?"

"Doctor, I cannot tell you."

"But you must. I insist upon it. Is that life of no consequence to you? Can you see her die and keep back what might save her life?"

"Yes."

"Then you are committing murder."

The nurse's eyes were fixed on the fire. She seemed to be seeking guidance from the flames. At last her courage failed her, and in distress she cried:

"Oh, heaven! What shall I do? I dare not."

The doctor moved up to her.

"Nurse," said he, "one thing you must do. You must tell me what you know. If you do not, your life will be made hideous and unbearable by the memory of tonight. Cannot you trust me? You know she looks upon me as a friend. The secret, if secret there be, is as safe with me as with you. You must tell me. What did she mean by Linley? Is it a man's name?"

"Yes."

The doctor glanced involuntarily at the bed. No, she could not hear; he need not have lowered his voice.

"Her lover?"

"Yes."

The clock struck, and the woman on the bed was one step nearer the unknown.

"Is this an old affair? I mean is it in the past?"

"No."

The doctor sighed. He had brought the woman into the world, and he loved her as his own child.

"What are we to do, sir?"

"What indeed, nurse?"

He rose and paced the room in his perplexity.

Linley! Who was he? Pshaw! what did it matter? The woman would surely die unless she could be roused from her lethargy—this Linley might do it, for he was in her mind. He must be sent for if her life was to be saved. Her life! What would it be worth after that? Better death than dishonor. Let her go down to the grave leaving a spotless name, let her mother sorrow for her, let her child treasure the memory of a good mother, let her husband mourn the loss of his faithful wife. Aye, let her die. Yet dare he take this responsibility upon himself? He could save her. Of this he was confident. What had he to do with others? Saving life was his business. She must be saved. This Linley, whoever he was, must be sent for, and at once.

"Nurse, we must send for him."

But the nurse only shook her head.

"Or she will die."

"Better so, sir."

And the doctor wavered.

"Better so; aye, better so indeed. The price is too great to pay, even for life, a life of agony and dishonor. To behold in scorn by those who admired her before. To be scoffed at by those whose attentions she had not deigned to accept. To lose her mother, husband and child at one blow, and gain—what? No, a thousand times, no. Let her die."

The doctor wiped great drops of agony from his brow as he signed her death warrant.

"You are right, nurse. It is best she should die."

He threw himself into a chair, and the nurse took his place at the bedside.

"Doctor," she called out at length.

He stood beside her and noted the change.

"Call them, nurse. She will not live the hour out."

Again they stood by the side of the woman, speechless with grief. How beautiful she looked! How utterly lovely! 'b, the pity of it she must die, so young and so loved! Oh, the irony that love which should have chained her to life had been her doom.

The clock struck once again. The visitor was come, and the woman breathed her last in her husband's arms.

"Linley! Linley!" muttered the doctor on his way home. "I wonder who he is. I should like to let him know his villainy is known, to thrash the life out of the scoundrel, to break every bone in his body. Linley, Linley. Nurse will have to tell me who he is."

But the nurse kept her secret and did not tell him.

For it was the doctor's own son.—Good Company.

A Hint to Bicycle Riders.

There is a little arrangement of my own invention, which many ladies, bicycle riders, have found satisfactory, used to adjust an ordinary skirt to a comfortable riding length. About eight inches from the belt sew on the seams on the under side of the skirt little brass rings, about the size of an old fashioned 5 cent silver piece. Then put the rings between the seams, so they are about six or eight inches apart; then sew on another row diagonally opposite these rings, about six inches lower down on the skirt. Through these rings run a stout, black, smooth cord, the ends coming out into the pocket on the right side. By pulling this string and tying it in a single bowknot, and concealing it in the pocket, the skirt is lifted, for riding. When dismounted, by untying the string and giving the skirt a little shake, it assumes the conventional length. This device is perfectly simple. The rings should be sewn on strong and the string smooth.—Mary Sargent Hopkins in Wheelman.

Better Than a Finger String.

Perhaps the most startling suggestion for a "reminder" was that of the little boy whose grandmother had forgotten his Christmas present the year before. She wished to know what thing she should do in order that she should not forget it again. "You might put your teeth in upside down," said the boy.—Youth's Companion.

THE BICYCLE FACE.

WHAT AN ENGLISH PAPER SAYS OF THE EFFECTS OF WHEELING.

The St. James Budget, an English authority, has been discussing the bicycle and its effect on the habitual rider, in a way to alarm timid people. It says of the riders:

"They frequently wear an anxious look and an unwholesome pallor, which are so characteristic that one may almost speak of the 'bicycle face.' Watch them descend an incline; a good many exhibit anything but the exhilaration of healthy exercise. Some are more than pale; their faces have the peculiar gray hue which betokens nervous exhaustion. And they complain of headache—a singular complaint for young men engaged in an athletic pastime. This is true of so many as to be quite noticeable, and to make people ask why bicyclists always 'look so seedy.' The fact that the ill effects associated with the two-wheel machine are not experienced with the tricycle, although the latter entails far more exertion, gives a clue to what we believe to be an explanation. The distinguishing feature of the bicycle, and especially of the safety, is the difficulty of maintaining the equilibrium. 'Learning' to ride means mastering the art of keeping the machine upright. It has a tendency to fall to one side or the other all the time, which has to be counteracted by a special effort. The learner knows it very well in his case, but once having learned he forgets about it and does his balancing more or less automatically. Nevertheless the effort upon the brain puts a constant though unconscious effort upon the brain and nervous system. The reason why the bicycle has to be 'learned' at all is that the centre of equilibrium in the brain requires to be taught the business of doing its duty under novel circumstances. The falling bicycle is maintained upright by a constant series of small muscular movements, which unconsciously adjust the weight in the proper position, and are themselves controlled by a special brain centre situated at the back of the head. The strain upon the centre is incessant, though unmarked, and some people cannot stand it for more than a short time. This it is that causes the headache and nervous exhaustion."

Asthma and Dyspepsia.

"I am troubled with asthma and dyspepsia, and find that Hood's Sarsaparilla helps me when all other medicines fail. I would not be without Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house." Emily Shaw, Tyngsboro, Mass.

Hood's Pills cure biliousness, indigestion.

Newton Defeats Waltham.

The Newton cricket club visited Waltham last Saturday and defeated the home team by four wickets and 10 runs, when rain stopped the game. For Newton Jeffs got five wickets for 13 runs and Bastow five for 6 runs, while for Waltham Gorse had three wickets for seven runs.

NEWTON.

Davidson, b. Johnson.....	6
Weiden, b. Johnson.....	1
Bastow, b. Gorse.....	2
Collett, b. Johnson.....	0
Tupper, not out.....	10
Jeffs, b. Gorse.....	0
Wilson, b. Gorse.....	0
Gardner.....	3
Pierce, to bat.....	..
Perkins, to bat.....	..
Berry, to bat.....	..
Extras.....	9
Total.....	33

WALTHAM.

Gorse, b. Bastow.....	5
Evans, b. Jeffs.....	4
Greenwood, b. Bastow.....	0
Winterbottom, b. Jeffs.....	0
Gamble, b. Bastow.....	1
Ashwell, not out.....	1
Stormer, c. b. Bastow.....	0
A. Tomlin, b. Jeffs.....	1
W. Tomlin, c. and b. Bastow.....	1
Extras.....	4
Totals.....	23

Running Down in Health.

"We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills and have found them all they are recommended to be. I was running down in health and began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and an new feeling well and strong." Lizzie Giddard, Revere, Mass.

Hood's Pills cure biliousness, indigestion.

De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure never disappoints, never fails to give immediate relief. It cures just as sure as you take it. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

To prevent pale and delicate children from lapsing into chronic invalids later in life, they should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla together with plenty of wholesome food and outdoor exercise. What they need to build up the system is good red blood.

When occasions demands its use, try De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. It is cooling to burns, stop pain instantly, cleanses, a perfect healer for scalds or skin eruptions. Always cures piles. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Acting through the blood, Hood's Sarsaparilla not only cures profuse, salt rheum, etc., but gives health and vigor to the whole body.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

THE FRANKLIN MILLS FINE FLOUR OF THE ENTIRE WHEAT.

Is made from sound and well ripened Specially Selected Spring Wheat, as such Wheat only CONTAINS THE FULL COMPLEMENT OF BONE, MUSCLE, BRAIN AND NERVE FOOD.

It is the cheapest flour ever known, as it will make more pounds of bread from the same weight of flour, and give more food value for the same money than any other flour in the world.

CAUTION.—As a guarantee that you get the original and genuine FRANKLIN MILLS FINE FLOUR OF THE ENTIRE WHEAT please observe that the barrels and packages bear our Trade Mark with the four w's.

Always Ask For "Franklin Mills." All Leading Grocers Sell It.

Franklin Mills Co., Lockport, N. Y.

COLUMBIAS—THEY ALMOST FLY.

Dieting won't Cure you

Neither will medicine. Bicycling will. All you need is to get outdoors and let the tonic of rapid motion put new blood into your veins and tissues.

Buy a... Columbia Best ... Bicycles —$100

Or a HARTFORD --$80, $60. Boys' or Girls' Hartfords--$50.

Get a Columbia Catalogue Free at any Columbia agency; by mail for two 2-cent stamps.

JOHN S. SUMNER, Agent for Columbia and Hartford Bicycles 352 Centre St. Newton.

PAIN-KILLER

and aches of an annoying nature, a torturous nature, a dangerous nature, can be quickly and surely cured with Pain-Killer. As no one is proof against pain, no one should be without Pain-Killer. This good old remedy kept at hand, will save much suffering and many calls on the doctor. For all summer complaints of grown folks or children it has stood without an equal for over half a century. No time like the present to get a bottle of

Pain-Killer

Sold everywhere. The quantity has been doubled but the price remains the same, 25c. Look out for worthless imitations. Buy only the genuine, bearing the name—PERRY DAVIS & SON.

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT.

Successors to P. A. MURRAY.

Washington Street, NEXT TO Murray's Carriage Manufactory

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

Used and endorsed by Adams Express Co.

TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, The Great Cure for Man and Beast.

$100 Reward (if not cured) for every case of Colic, Contracted and Knotted Cords, Curbs, Splint Shoe Boils (when first started), and Callous of all kinds. Never fails to relieve Spavins, Ringbones, or Cockle joints.

Read following from a letter dated Boston, Aug. 5, 1892:—

"TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, diluted with water and applied externally, in connection with TUTTLE'S CONDITION POWDERS, cured my horse Dandy of a sore of 6 months' standing. It also proved a success as applied to bleeding warts on my cow's teats; and a severe case of Rheumatism from which my man was suffering, was relieved at once."

Yours truly, A. R. WHITTIER.

Tuttle's Family Elixir Cures Rheumatism, Coughs, Colds, Lambe Back, Sprains, Sore Throat, La Grippe and Pneumonia. Sample bottle FREE, or sent to any address on receipt of 3 2-cent stamps to S. A. TUTTLE, 27 Beverly St., Boston. J. N. DANFORTH, Brighton, Agent.

Ely's Cream Balm For CATARRH THE POSITIVE CURE.

ELY BROTHERS, 54 Warren St., New York. Price 50 cts.

Real Estate and Insurance. ESTABLISHED 1850. TELEPHONE 2809.

HYDE'S Real Estate Agency

31 MILK ST., ROOM 205, BOSTON, MASS.

Auctioneer, Mortgages Negotiated.

Newton Office: JOHN A. EVANS, Agent, 67 Elmwood Street, Newton Property a Specialty.

N. Highlands Office: Newhall's Block, Lincoln Street, Newton Highlands Property a Specialty.

ELLIOTT J. HYDE.

REAL ESTATE To Sell or Rent.

INSURANCE, MONEY TO LOAN. Carriages ready to take customers to see property.

Newton Centre Office: Union Street, opposite Railroad Station.

Boston Office: 113 Devonshire St., Room 2

SIDNEY P. CLARK, Newton Centre

Established 1857.

F. G. BARNES & SON

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance BROKERS.

Auctioneers for Real and Personal Property. FOR SALE AND FOR RENT. A large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: 27 State St., Boston, Brokers' Bldg. NEWTON.

WILEY S. & FRANK EDMANDS

178 Devonshire St., Boston.

Insurance Agents and Brokers. Mortgages Wanted. Newton Real Estate a Specialty.

Houses For Sale, $3000 and upwards. To Let $25 to $100. Furnished, $35 to $250. Choice Building Lots, 10 cents to 50 cents.

For Buying and Selling

Real Estate And Placing of Mortgages And Fire Insurance

In Every Part of NEWTON Apply to

Henry T. Wills,

113 Devonshire Street, Boston. Telephone No. 3874.

ALVORD BROS & CO.

113 Devonshire Street, Boston

NEWTON REAL ESTATE, MORTGAGES and INSURANCE.

Artistic new houses, every modern device for comfort and luxury, generous lots, aristocratic neighborhood, near station, from $6000 up. Extraordinary value for the money. Building lots near new Boulevard and in all other localities at lowest price. Desirable houses to rent. CIRCUIT PROPERTY A SPECIALTY.

Are You Looking For

a first class, new, modern 13 room house, in one of the most convenient, select neighborhoods in town for $15,000? If so, see us. It will please you. How about a daisy on West Newton Hill, with stable, 16,465 ft. land, magnificent view; $12,000, terms to suit. New modern houses, Hunnewell Hill, $10,500, $8,500, $7,000, $5,000, $5,000. Choice house lots, near new Hunnewell Hill Club House; others, Mt. Ida, West Newton Hills. Houses to let. Money to loan on mortgage.

ABAN, TROWBRIDGE & CO.,

53 State St., Boston. Elliot Block, Newton.

CarpetsCleaned.

am prepared to fill all orders for the—

Taking Up, Cleaning and Re-laying of Carpets,

at short notice and in the best manner.

PETER S. WHITE,

TREMONT BLOCK, Newtonville, Mass.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

235 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable toEDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-3.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

RINGING THE BELLS.

Evidently some one's idea of patriotism is of making a noise, as we read in a contemporary that there was a great deal of complaint because the chimes on Grace church sounded forth patriotic tunes, instead of the usual ear-splitting and discordant tolling of all the other church bells. It says: "Let the bells ring! The lesson of patriotism and love of country can not be too greatly instilled into the rising generation in these days of riots and disrespect of law and order." The writer of that article spent the Fourth some miles away from any church bells, it is suspected, which may have had something to do with the desire for more noise, but how can the rising generation be taught "the lesson of patriotism and love of country" by a discordant noise, which make all adult hearers wish that they were stone deaf? That is evidently one of the things that "no fellow can find out." No complaints were made as far as we have been able to discover, and every one seemed pleased with the substitution of having patriotic tunes rung forth from the beautiful chimes of Grace church. One would think that that would be a much more sensible way of teaching patriotism and love of country. There is no particular virtue in the beating of tom-toms, or the discordant booming of a half a dozen church bells, and no lesson to be learned from it either. Savages are said to find pleasure in mere noise, the louder the better, but civilized people have outgrown such things, and prefer to have something more refined and intellectual. If we must have noise for the proper celebration of the Fourth, and that is conceded, or the children would not be satisfied, by all means let us have the noise as inoffensive as possible. Chiming such hymns as "America" will do more to teach patriotism than the senseless jangling of a hundred big bells. The change that was made this year was greeted with hearty approval by all within the sound of the chimes, unless it was the small boys who thought they did not ring loud enough, and who would have preferred to have the bells begin ringing at dark the night before the Fourth, and have the din kept up till 12 o'clock on the night after. Other villages that have no chimes will have to endure the noise, we suppose, but Newton has found out a better way and will continue in it. Patriotism does not consist merely in noise and senseless clamor, though judging from the talk of many of the self-styled patriots, our contemporary may well be excused for so thinking.

The city of Newton has lost one of its best friends in the departure of Mr. Eldredge. Even if she had not been a wealthy person she would have made a large circle of deeply attached friends for she had a very sympathetic nature, and drew people closely to her. Her large income enabled her to gratify her kindly instincts, and so for years she has been a generous helper of a large number of benevolent undertakings. Grace church received from time to time evidences of her interest in its welfare. The Newton Hospital has been the recipient of more from her than from any other individual. The Pine Farm school, the Williston Home, the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and various orphanages and asylums, were aided from time to time. Beside all these there were less public gifts, so that in a quiet and unobtrusive way her benefactions reached a great many people. She will be sorely missed in Newton for we need more of such unselfish souls to aid the good works begun among us, and to help Newton to be the place it can become. Mrs. Eldredge will be remembered also as having been an example of promptness in meeting obligations, and of strictest rectitude in all her dealings with persons employed by her. She never tried to exact more than was due, and considered so well the interests of the laborer that all who worked for her learned to think of the kind lady as a personal friend. There can never be much talk of social anarchy when rich people use their wealth as did Mrs. Eldredge.

Boston's amended charter has excited a good deal of interest on account of the one-man power it bestows upon the mayor and others, and there is a good deal of curiosity to see how it will work. There seems to be more politics in the appointments than would seem desirable, if the city is to have a pure and business-like government, but perhaps the men may do better than their past records would lead one to expect. Jerry McCarthy, the famous Republican lobbyist, who has made that his chief business for years, is given a high place in the water department, and his record leads one to infer that there will be a good deal more politics than business in that department. Perhaps, however, McCarthy may have had enough of politics; and will run the department on strictly business principles, but his appointment does not offer any very great encouragement for cities that have strictly non-partisan water departments like Newton, to come into the metropolitan system, as politics make a department not only inefficient but costly. There are a number of other appointments which look a good deal like political deals, but time will tell whether the changes are of public benefit.

The office of captain of police was abolished by amending the police ordinance, at Monday night's meeting of the board of aldermen, and provision made for increasing the number of sergeants to five. The office of captain was created under Mayor Kimball's administration, and politics had a great deal more to do with it than any real necessity, as such an official is not needed in a small city. The five sergeants will be placed over different divisions of the city, of which three will probably be made on the north side of the city and two on the south. The sergeant in charge of a division will be responsible for all that happens in that section, and will be on hand to be consulted by any of the patrolmen when necessity requires. The marshal will be the chief officer as at present, and the change cannot fail to benefit the force, as it will bring a regular system into all police affairs. The sergeants will be chosen from among the older officers on the force, and there is already a good deal of speculation as to where the lightning will strike.

SEVERAL steam rollers and a large force of men are at work on the new boulevard between Walnut and Centre streets, and the road bed is now in great part completed, except for the covering with crushed stone. The section ought to be finished and opened to the public by the first of August, at the latest. It is one of the most beautiful sections of the new boulevard, and will be popular for all pleasure driving, as it will connect Newton and Newton Centre with the villages in the other parts of the city. As the street is mainly through an undeveloped territory, it opens up an amount of desirable building land, and already a number of houses have been started along the line. The Commonwealth avenue street railway company have begun to distribute poles and other material, and are said to contemplate building at once.

It appeals to the American sense of humor to have foreigners come over here and before they even take out their naturalization papers proclaim that they are the only genuine "patriotic Americans." This country got along very comfortably before their arrival and would continue to exist should they decide to leave us to our fate. America was founded on the principle of civil and religious freedom, and in spite of imported bigotry and fanaticism, it will continue to live up to and maintain these principles. Men who come here to stir up race and religious antagonisms should be gently but firmly told that the United States is no place for them, and a restrictive immigration law of this pattern would meet with the hearty approval of all good citizens.

The Christian Endeavorers have taken possession of Boston, this week, and the stores and parks have put on the society emblems to give them a cordial welcome. The visitors have taken possession of the streets and even of the street cars, and the visitors are evidently determined to see all the points of interest, as well as attend the convention. Few more attractive cities could be found in which to hold the convention. Auburndale is filled with the New Hampshire delegation and other parts of the city have unattached delegates from scattered points. A great number of outsiders have evidently taken advantage of the low rates and come on to visit their friends, so that the railroads have been flooded with Boston-bound travellers.

The order for Watertown street widening does not mean as great an undertaking as might be supposed. It is only intended to get the street lines straightened out, and the street in some kind of shape. The expense will not be large, and it is hoped that Watertown will fix up its part of the road bed. Now that Washington street is to be torn up for the next two years, Watertown street will be the main thoroughfare, and if the highway department could manage to put the road-bed from Walnut street to West Newton, in as good condition as that part below Walnut street, they would have the gratitude of all who have to ride or drive between Newton and West Newton.

THERE were thirty deaths during June, in Newton, according to the figures of the Board of Health, 9 less than in May. Of these three were over 80 years, 2 between 70 and 80, and 4 between 60 and 70. There was no one fatal disease that was prevalent, although there were 6 cases of diphtheria of which all recovered. There were three cases of scarlet fever reported during the month, one of typhoid fever, and 62 of measles, of which one died. There were four deaths at the hospital, Ward 1 and Ward 4 had each eight deaths, Ward 2 five, Ward 3 one, Ward 5 four, Ward 6 three, and Ward 7 one. The death rate for the month was 11, the lowest of any month this year except March.

THE sad death of Mr. John W. Carter is a great loss to Newton, as he has been one of its most active and public spirited citizens, and his energy and persistency have left an indelible mark on the history of the city. To lose such a citizen in the prime of life, without a moment's warning, makes the loss more keenly felt, and there is the greatest sympathy for his family, who have been so grievously afflicted.

THEY are talking about a new city hall in Somerville, but the Journal of that city says they had better put the money into street repairs. Every one who has had to ride or drive through Somerville will say amen to that.

NEWTON will have to pay .02 1-2 per cent of the expense under the metropolitan park act, and .021 per cent of those under the boulevard act, which is not very heavy certainly, but we get nothing directly under either.

By EDWARD F. BARNES, Auctioneer, 2
State Street, Boston.

GUARDIAN'S SALE —OF— REAL ESTATE —ON—

Nevada St., Newtonville,
WILL BE SOLD AT Public Auction
ON THE PREMISES
MONDAY, JULY 22,
AT 3 O'CLOCK
In the afternoon, the Hiram Marsh Estate,

situated on the easterly side of Nevada Street, Newtonville, and consisting of a good substantial dwelling house of 7 rooms and bath room, all in first class order inside, with stable and lot containing 12,500 square feet of land, having old fruit and shade trees in abundance.
This sale is imperative without limit and would make a desirable home at moderate cost for any one having to move on account of the Washington Street widening.
Terms cash but the auctioneer can arrange with buyer for a mortgage if desired.
$100 to be paid at time and place of sale, balance in cash within ten days at the office of EDWARD F. BARNES, 27 State Street, Boston.

The undersigned has taken an office in Nickerson's Block, West Newton,
for the purpose of buying and selling
Real Estate, Renting Property and Collecting

rents. Having had 20 years' experience in managing and renting trust property, he will promptly and faithfully attend to such business as may be entrusted to his care. Money loaned on real estate. Mortgages negotiated, titles examined. Deeds and conveyances made. Acknowledgments taken. Insurance placed in the best companies, and auction sales attended.
M. MORRIS,
127 Washington Street,
West Newton.

Until July 31st, during the absence of his family, messages for will receive prompt attention if left at Hubbard's Pharmacy. Will be at residence at night as usual.

DR. REID

MARRIED.

HAGAR—CHISHOLM—At Newtonville, July 8, Joseph Clarence Hagar and Alexandra Eliza Chisholm.

McDERMOTT—MORSE—At Watertown, July 7, Joseph McDerriott and Ellen Morse.

LOCKWOOD—ADAMS—At Newtonville, July 2, Leander Lockwood and Mrs. Bertha Adell Adams.

DONNELLY—HINES—At Waltham, July 3, William E. Donnelly of Newton and Annie J. Hines of Waltham.

DIED.

BALDWIN—At Petoskey, Mich., July 6, Elijah S. Baldwin, 79 years, formerly of Newton, Mass.

AULL—At Newton Centre, July 9, Sarah T. Aull, 78 years.

CARTER—At Harwichport, Mass., July 5, John Wilkins Carter of Newton, 52 years.

YOUNG—At Auburndale, July 6, Leora Prentiss, wife of William H. Young, 52 yrs, 11 mos.

KEEFE—At Newton Upper Falls, July 16, Dennis E. Keefe, 13 yrs.

BENNETT—At Newton, July 6, Ray Frances, daughter of Adilbert and Elizabeth Bennett, 9 mos.

DOWLING—At West Newton, July 6, Bridget, wife of Michael Dowling, 36 yrs.

McLAUGHLIN—At Newton Hospital, July 4, Mary A. McLaughlin, 11 yrs.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

ON THE ROAD TO RUIN

STORIES OF THE TEMPLE OF MAMMON AT MONTE CARLO.

Some of Them True, Many False, but All Highly Interesting.—Backum and the "Wellington Boot System"—A Talk With Mr. Spectator, a Man Who Knows.

But who should this be sipping some feed vermouth at the marble table but an old friend whom I will call Mr. Spectator. He lives at Monte Carlo, he has passed a score of seasons here, he has plenty of money, he goes to the Casino every day and every evening and he never plays a cent. It is his occupation in life to be an observer of things and to mark the ways of man and woman. In the summer he will mark them at Aix-les-Bains, at Lannes or at Trouville. He knows everything about what is going on just now at "Monty," what Russian princess pawned her diamonds last week and what Cuban sugar planter did not die of apoplexy at the Hotel Carmole, but poisoned himself with prussic acid. "He was a fool, sir," quoth Mr. Spectator. "Why didn't he go to the administration? Why didn't he make his declaration? They knew well enough that he had lost 300,000 francs in the course of ten days. They would have paid his traveling and hotel expenses back to Paris, or back to Brazil, for the matter of that. He was a fool, sir!"

Mr. Spectator went on to explain that when a cleaned out player made a candid admission of his impecuniosity the administration gave him a sum of money sufficient to defray his journey by railway to the place whence he came and his incidental expenses en route. He mentioned one case in which a whole family of five persons were allowed 15 louis apiece to take them from Monte Carlo to London, the sole condition attached to the largess being that the recipient should not re-enter the Casino unless he or she recouped the administration for their outlay. In the case which he cited, one of the party, a lady, who had not gone farther than Nice, received some weeks afterward a handsome remittance from England. She went back blithely to "Monty," repaid the 15 louis, re-entered the Casino, and backing the dozen dernier, not forgetting zero, won 4300. "You are not to be here," added Mr. Spectator, "a tithe of the sensational stories printed about ruined gamblers hanging themselves to trees in the gardens, or blowing out their brains in the reading room." The majority of these canards are set on foot by obscure French newspapers which have not been subventioned or bribed by the administration to puff Monte Carlo.

One of the pleasant characteristics of my friend Mr. Spectator is that every time you meet him he has a fresh story to tell you about an infallible system for winning at roulette, and this time he regaled me with a succinct narrative of what I may call the "Wellington boot system." Captain Backum had played for many years a large number of systems, and by the time he was five and forty had played away a handsome fortune. A happy thought occurred to him. He always wore Wellington boots. His capital was just 5 louis. This he changed into 5 franc pieces, and he never staked more than one piece at a time, and if he won he withdrew his stakes after the third coup. His winnings he carefully placed in a side pocket, and whenever he had won four pieces he changed them into a louis and slipped the coin into one of his boots. He played for seven consecutive hours before his stock capital was exhausted. Then he returned to Nice, somewhat heavy of footstep, and drawing off his boots, found that he had won 100 louis.

"This was two years ago," continued Mr. Spectator, "and only last week I found Backum at a third class hotel at Nice. He was in a dressing gown and slippers and looking by no means cheerful. 'How about the Wellington boot system?' I asked. 'Utter collapse,' he replied. 'Confounded run of bad luck.' 'And the boots?' I went on. 'The boots?' he replied. 'I pawned them yesterday afternoon.'"

So this is "Monty" in full swing—"Monty," with its ups and downs, its ceaseless whirl of gaiety and dissipation. There is no rest at Monte Carlo. When you are tired of play, there are dramatic performances, there are concerts, there is pigeon shooting, and in the spring and summer there is plenty of yachting. But all these are only side issues. The Grand Trunk line of Monte Carlo leads to the temple of mammon. It is crowded night and day by people hustling for money which they have not earned, and it is the road to ruin.—London Telegraph.

The Barber's Little Joke.

"I see you wear a Grand Army button," said the man in the chair.
"Yes, sah," said the barber, with a smile.
"Belong to a colored post, I suppose?"
"No sah. The colored post belongs to me, sah."

It was not till he had stepped out and seen the barber's sign that the customer saw the point.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Horse's Hope.

Young Horse—Nothing but work, work, work. I've a great mind to commit suicide.

Old Horse—Have patience. When you are so old that you can't walk, you'll be advertised as suitable for a lady to drive, and after that you'll live in ease and luxury.—New York Weekly.

It is supposed that the average value of furniture per house in the United Kingdom is about £160. This estimate includes the valuable pictures, plate, horses and carriages, which are appendages of the more pretentious establishments.

Lobelia, also called Indian tobacco, is known as a common herb, often growing as a weed in many parts of the United States.

Real Estate, Mortgages, Insurance

Special Attention paid to Sale and Leasing of Estates in the above villages.

Representatives of All the Leading Insurance Companies.

—OFFICES—

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St., Boston.

The Ease of It.

(From the Detroit Free Press).

George (nervously)—I'd like the best in the world. Kitty, to marry you, but I don't know how to propose.
Kitty (promptly and practically)—That's all right, George. You've finished with me; now go to papa.

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 5 lines, and 25 cents each time thereafter, in advance.

For Sale.

FOR SALE.—High bred driving horse for sale, 5 years old, color dark bay, weighs 1075 lbs, stands 16 1/2 hands, sound and smooth, good style and roader, and can show fast. Also, bay mare 8 years old, weighs 1000 lbs, round and kind, safe for a lady. I bought these horses from Maine and they must be sold. A. E. Bosworth, 383 Main St., Waltham. 41 1t

To Let.

TENEMENTS TO LET.—In Newtonville, from $8. to $15, per month. D. F. O'Sullivan, Cabot street, Newtonville. 41 1t

TO LET.—In Newton, 5 rooms (4 connected) suitable for light housekeeping. Furnace, heat. Rent reasonable. 39 Newtonville avenue, near Centre street. 1t

TO LET.—A desirable 10 room house with modern conveniences. Three minutes from Auburndale station. 300 feet from projected boulevard, excellent surroundings. Lawn and grounds cared for by the owner without expense to tenant. Rent reasonable to good party. Address for particulars. Geo. L. Johnson, Auburndale. 38 1t

TO LET.—A few houses in Newton Centre, at $10, $15, $16, $17 and $20 and upwards per month. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 36

TO LET.—Corner Woodward and Lincoln Streets, Newton Highlands, a tenement of five (or six) rooms. Land, fruit, city water. Inquire of Miss J. Egg on premises. 7 1t

Lost & Found.

FOUND.—Bird dog, which owner can have by proving property and paying charges. Apply to E. Edmunds, Clarendon avenue, Newtonville. 41 1t

LOST.—Since July 3d, a partially clipped sky e Terrier, color grey and black, with light tan feet and legs. A reward to any one who will return him to John W. Hall, Walnut street, corner of Griffin avenue, Newton Highlands. 41

Miscellaneous.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.—The office hours of the Secretary of the Associated Charities are from 9 to 10 every week day, and from 2.30 to 3.30 Saturday evenings. The Provident Committee will be at the office to distribute clothing Tuesday forenoons and Saturday evenings. R. Martin, Secretary, Office, Newtonville square 41 1t

WANTED.—To give away fish lines. Any boy can earn $5 a week selling and giving away our fish lines. Send four cents in stamps and we will mail you 50 feet of best braided fish line for yourself, also samples of 10 different kinds of silk, linen and cotton fish lines, a sample of the braided silk line you can give away with every sale you make, and instructions how you can make $5 a week selling our lines. No capital required. Inclose stamps and ask for "Her A." Warren & Co., 10 East 14th Street, New York City. 38 4t

Mortgagee's Sale.

Pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Frank Cowee and Sarah G. Cowee, his wife, in her right, to Henry Fuller, dated April 2nd, 1888, and recorded in Middlesex Co. Dist. Deeds, Book 1843, Page 622, will be sold at public auction for the purpose of foreclosing the same, and for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, on Tuesday Aug. 6 at five o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises described below.

A parcel of land in Newton in the County of Middlesex, bounded and described as follows in said mortgage: Beginning at the South Easterly corner of the granted premises on Pearl Street, by land now or formerly of Edwin Robinson, and running Westerly on said Pearl Street forty-eight (48) feet three (3) inches to other land of said Fuller; thence turning and running Northerly by other land of said Fuller one hundred (100) feet to other land also of said Fuller; thence turning and running Easterly by land also of said Edwin Robinson one hundred (100) feet to said Pearl Street and the point of beginning. All said lines to be as the fences now stand. Being the same premises conveyed to said Sarah G. Cowee by said Henry Fuller by deed of even date with said mortgage.

Together with all the benefit and equity of redemption of the said Frank Cowee and Sarah G. Cowee, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns therein.

Subject to the taxes of 1894.

Terms $300 down, ten days given to examine title and pass papers. Other terms made known at the time and place of sale.

HENRY FULLER, Mortgagee.
Boston, July 9th, 1895. 41 3t

Dress Patterns

of every style and kind.
Cut to order while you wait.
Waists, Jackets, Skirts, Sleeves or Capes, 50 cents each. Suits $4.00.
Remember, we cut to actual measures.
PITTOCK'S
Dress-Cutting School,
1 Beacon Street, - Boston.
Mail orders promptly filled.

ALLEN'S Swimming Pond.

Open Monday 24th inst.

Same hours and management as in 1894.

JAMES T. ALLEN,
West Newton, June 22, 1895.

Newton.

Newtonville.

West Newton.

Auburndale

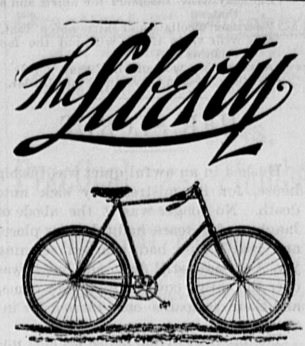

—IN—

Special Attention paid to Sale and Leasing of Estates in the above villages.

Representatives of All the Leading Insurance Companies.

—OFFICES—

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St., Boston.

America's Representative Bicycle. The Liberty for 1895 cannot be surpassed. The full roadster can be seen at GAUDELET'S Drug Store, Newtonville.

Closest inspection invited. No sure and see this wheel before purchasing

BICYCLES! FOR LIGHTNESS AND STRENGTH

None can excel the

NEW MAIL

for 1895.

We shall soon have samples and will take pleasure in showing them. Look here before purchasing a wheel.

BARBER BROS.,

Agents for Newton and Watertown.

1895 MODEL.

NEW MAIL.

HIGHEST QUALITY.
12 YEARS ON THE MARKET.
Price Reduced to $85.

Also Medium Wheels, $60, $50, $40
Boys' and Girls' Wheels, $15, $20, $10

WM. READ & SONS,

107 Washington Street, Boston.
Established 1828.

BARBER BROS., Agents, Newton.

E. P. BURNHAM,

AGENT FOR

VICTOR, RAMBLER, WAVERLEY BICYCLES

25 PARK STREET, NEWTON.

BUNTING'S FISH MARKET

Cole's Block, Newton.
Established 1877. Tel. Connections.

FISH, OYSTERS, Fruit and Vegetables of All Kinds.

Shirts

MADE TO ORDER.

A Perfect Fit Guaranteed. Best Material. First-Class Work. Best Dress Shirts, $2.00.

Will call on customers at such time and place as will suit their convenience.

Repairing is Done Neatly and Promptly. New Bosoms, 50c.; Neckbands, 15c.; Wristbands, 15c.; Cuffs, 35c.; Collars, 25c.; Centre Plats, 25c.

Badly fitting Shirt made to fit well.

E. B. BLACKWELL,

43 Thornton St., Newton, Mass.

DYING.

Passing out of the shadow
Into a purer light
Sleeping behind the curtain,
Getting a clearer sight,
Laying aside the burden,
This weary mortal coil,
Done with the world's vexations,
Done with its tears and toil,
Tired of all earth's playthings,
Heart sick and ready to sleep,
Ready to bid our friends farewell,
Wondering why they weep,
Passing out of the shadow,
Into eternal day—
Why do we call it dying,
This sweet going away?

THE BEECH TREE.

There stood in the forest an old beech tree. Her top was shattered by lightning, her sides were hollow, and pieces of fungus grew on her bark. She was the oldest of a numerous family, but she had seen her children, as soon as they had grown up, fall under the woodman's ax, and only one daughter remained to her. This daughter was a young beech tree, with smooth bark and heaven aspiring crest and only 80 years old. That is the best year for a forest tree.

The old tree still thrust out her twigs and leaves in the spring, but she felt that her life was drawing to a close, for it cost her great suffering to hold herself upright. And because she knew that she must die she felt her love increase for her beautiful daughter.

Spring was approaching. The branches were still covered with the glittering frost, but the roots began to uncurl, and the warm wind melted the snow. The rivers and brooks were swelling with melted ice. In the meadows the silvery catkins burst from their wrappings, and the snowdrops peeped timidly up through the white carpet of the forest ground.

The old tree spoke to the young: "Tonight comes the violent thaw wind. It will throw me down upon my bed of leaves that I have scattered in the course of time, and I shall go back into the bosom of the mother from whom I came. Yet before I go home I will bequeath to you a gift that the gentle lord of the forest bestowed upon me when long ago he stopped to rest under my branches. You shall understand men's words and deeds and share alike in their joys and sorrows. That is the greatest happiness that can fall to our lot, but be prepared to behold more sorrow than joy." So spoke the old tree and blessed her daughter.

In the night the thaw wind came from the west. It buried ships in the waves of the sea; it rolled great masses of snow from the mountains that destroyed the homes of men in their progress; it roared through the forest, and everything that was old and weak perished. But the strong trees resisted it. It struck the old beech tree to the earth and shook her strong daughter as she wisely bent her head before the blast, and the great wind swept on.

Three days the daughter went sparkling dew for her mother; then the sun came out and dried her tears. Then began everywhere such stir and commotion that the beech tree had no time to grieve. Her buds swelled and burst and one morning a hundred thousand trembling, tender green leaves sprang into the sunshine. That was joy! Golden yellow primroses climbed from the ground. They pushed their silken leaves out into the broad sunlight. Red and blue blossoms grew up around the primroses, and the sweet woodruff uncurled its delicate whirled leaves. That was life.

And in the midst of all this bloom and fragrance the young beech tree stood like a queen. A finch built her nest in her branches and a redheaded woodpecker paid her a visit. Once cuckoo came and once a distinguished squirrel with his bushy tail over his head ran up and down to see if he might not find an acorn. But men she had not yet seen this year, and they would have been the most welcome guests of all, since she possessed the power to understand their words and deeds. After all, one morning came a slender young girl with her long brown braids, who walked through the woods straight to the tree. However, her visit did not seem to be for the beech alone. She glanced at the decaying trees on the ground and said, "Here is the spot." Then she sat down her basket filled with May flowers and leaned back against the beech tree without a glance at its green loveliness.

The tree held her breath to hear what the maiden would say, but the pretty one was silent. Presently from the opposite side appeared a strong young man. He wore a little round hat with a curling feather like a huntsman. He crept up cautiously—so cautiously that hardly a leaf rustled under his feet. But softly as he stepped the quick ear of the maiden perceived his coming. She turned her head toward him, and the tree thought, "Now she will fly." But the girl did not fly. Instead she sprang toward the youth and threw both arms around his brown neck. "My Hans!" "My Eva!" they cried together. Then they kissed each other passionately, called each other pet names, embraced again, and the beech tree found it all very tedious.

Later they sat under the tree and spoke of their love. It was an old story they told, but it was all new to the beech tree, and she listened like a child to a fairy tale. It was a wonderful surprise to her. The youth arose from the ground, drew out his knife and began to carve in the bark of the tree. This caused the beech great pain, but she held as still as a wall.

"What is that to be?" asked the maiden. "A heart with your name and mine," answered Hans as he continued to carve. When the work was finished, they both looked at it, well pleased, and the tree was as happy as if a king had hung a golden chain upon her.

"Truly, men are splendid people," thought she.

Now the hunter began to sing. The tree had listened many times to the song of the finch and thrush, but she heard now for the first time something very different from bird songs. "Listen, Hans," said the girl when the hunter paused in his song. "Your song reminds me of something. I know—people say—that in the autumn you go secretly into the woods for game. Let the poaching go. The forester is your enemy. You know why, and if he should meet you poaching in the woods, then—heavens! my Hans! if you should be brought to me with a bullet through your breast."

The young man bent over the girl, who leaned caressingly on his shoulder and kissed her lips.

"People talk too much. Don't believe everything they say, sweetheart." And putting his arm around her they went singing through the forest.

When the couple disappeared among the trees, a man in hunter's dress crept from the bushes. He carried his gun on his back and a knife in his belt. His face was white and distorted. He went up to the beech tree and beheld the heart that Hans had carved. He laughed wildly and drew out his knife to destroy the writing, then, changing his mind, he thrust the blade again in its sheath. Shaking his fist threateningly in the direction where the couple had disappeared, he muttered, grinding his teeth, "If I meet you, you poacher, only once on forbidden ground, you will have heard the cuckoo sing for the last time." With these words he went into the woods.

And the tree shook her head sadly. The beech tree got many a sight of the faces of the children of men in the course of the summer—the poor women gathering leaves or dry bark, the berry pickers, forsters and pilgrims. But the most cherished amid the guests who gathered under her leafy roof were the youth and brown haired maid. They made weekly visits to her, spoke of their love, embraced each other, and day by day the beech tree came to love them more.

One morning before sunrise, when the mountains were just casting off their gray mist caps, Hans came alone. He carried a gun on his shoulder and stepped as lightly through the underbrush as if he would take his sweetheart by surprise. This time his coming had nothing to do with lovely Eva—but the stag comes this way to drink!

At the foot of the tree the hunter paused and stood as motionless as the beech herself. The cool morning wind blew, and the mist disappeared in heavy clouds. The gay birds fluttered and sang about the stream. The underbrush rustled. Hans raised his gun. A shot rang out on the clear air. Hans dropped his gun, sprang convulsively into the air and fell to the ground. A man strode hastily from the thicket with a smoking gun in his left hand. The beech tree knew him well. The huntsman bent over the murdered man. "It is all over with him," he said, and taking his gun he vanished into the bushes.

The bright sun rose and shone upon a still form with set white face. Sorrowfully the tree bent over and wept bitter tears, and the little robins flew up and covered the dead face and staring eyes with leaves and twigs. In the afternoon some woodcutters came that way and found the body.

"He has been shot while poaching," they said, and taking him gently up they bore him to the distant valley. An old man lingered by the tree. He drew his knife and carved a cross over the heart that Hans had made. Then he took off his hat and breathed a prayer. The leaves of the green crest rustled, for the tree prayed, too, in her own way.

For many summers on the anniversary of the death of the murdered man, the maiden came to the seat, knelt down and wept and prayed, and every time she was paler, more fragile. One day she did not come, and the tree murmured, "She is dead!" and so it was.

Years passed. The beech had become a mighty tree. Her bark was covered with brown moss. The wild vines crept about her trunk, and heart and cross were both nearly covered. A man came one day and made a third mark on the bark, and the tree knew her time had come. She bore the sign of her destruction—she must soon fall. Farewell, thou green and sunny forest! She had not long to wait for the woodmen, who came, and with cruel axes cut into her very life.

A gloomy, glowering man in hunter's dress, with long gray hair and beard, directed their movements. The beech knew him right well, and he appeared to recognize the tree. He came close to her and tearing away both moss and vine he saw that heart and cross were safe. "Here it was," he muttered, and horror shook his very frame. "Back, Herr Forester! Back!" cried the men. "The tree is falling!"

The warned man stepped back, but it was too late. With a deafening crash the beech fell to the ground and buried the forester under her corpse. When they picked him up, he was dead. The beech had crushed his head. And the men stood in a circle roundabout and prayed for his soul.—From the German.

Manna.

Manna is the concentrated juice of several plants which grow in great abundance in many parts of south Europe, Asia and Africa. The tree which most generously produces it is a sort of ash. The juice exudes from the stem during the summer months, as a consequence of the punctures of an insect that infests the tree, but the better kinds of manna, known as "flake manna," are obtained from incisions made in the bark. The poorer qualities come from the bark near the roots of the tree. The manna of commerce is obtained chiefly from Sicily and Calabria. A variety is collected by the Arabian Bedouins from a species of tamarix, which is used on bread like honey. The word is believed to be derived from the Syrian manna, a gift, though there is little evidence that the medical substance now known by that name has anything in common with the manna mentioned in the travels of the Israelites.

WHEN MABEL SMILES.

When Mabel smiles, my heart beats high,
A softer aura tints the sky,
And zephyrs sweetly flit laughing by,
With strains unheard before,
While I look in her peerless eyes
And envy not the rich and wise
Nor heavenward gaze with wistful sighs,
For heaven can yield no more.

When Mabel frowns, the world is drear,
Each trembling dewdrop seems a tear,
The roses droop in grief and fear
And cease to breathe perfume,
Alas, for me, a mournful swain,
The dismal moments drag in pain,
For who could bear to meet disdain
From lips so full of bloom?

When Mabel smiles, my heart is proud,
When Mabel frowns, my heart is bowed,
But be she dark or sunny browed
She reigns my bosom's queen;
And well she knows who rules in state,
That joy and pain must alternate,
And so fair Mabel hides my fate,
A smile and frown between.

—Samuel Minturn Peck in Life.

THE BULL MOOSE.

An Adventure With One of These Animals
When It Hunted the Hunter.

A correspondent writing from Mecunoma, Muskoka, gives an interesting account of an adventure which he had with a moose while employed in making a toboggan trail through one of the pine forests in that section of the country. While engaged at work he came across a moose yard and on looking around saw one of the "giants of the forest" about 50 yards distant. The story of his encounter is perhaps best told in the correspondent's own words:

"After a moment," he writes, "the moose turned and walked behind a hill, which, though not high, was steep. I ran to the top with all speed, hoping to get a view of the lordly creature as he made his way through the bush. I could not see him at first, but on looking down the steep incline there he was, not ten yards away. He turned to make off, but striking his ribs against the projecting limb of a small hemlock he was thrown down and around the tree, and as he rose he faced me. It was now my turn to run, for the moose charged at me with erected mane, expressing his rage by a fierce bellow. In turning I stumbled, the ground being very uneven, and his feet nearly came down on me as I dodged among some trees. I tried to strike with my hatchet, the only weapon I had, but did not succeed in injuring my pursuer. With some difficulty I at last got out into the deep snow where my snowshoes were of more use to me. The moose still pursued me, roaring at intervals, and one who has not heard a moose roar can form but little idea of the terrible bellowing noise. After several attempts to strike me with his front feet he halted and stood about 20 yards away pawing and roaring. I eagerly seized this opportunity to climb a tree, and soon after the animal turned and made off. Of all my adventures in the bush, and they number a few, the one I have just related came the nearest to being my death."—Montreal Witness.

Working Up a Climax.

As he entered the barber shop (he was a prominent official of the Duluth road, very prominent, so near the top that he might be described as the top itself), he sat down in the chair and the barber went to work on his well domed poll.

The barber was a cheerful man, fond of social intercourse and rather prided himself on his powers as a conversationalist. So when he felt the head of the Duluth official with his taper fingers, he thought he would astonish and please him with some conversation and perhaps the official would in turn write out a ten years' pass on a piece of shaving soap.

So the barber was light and merry, learned and philosophical by turns, and was well pleased with the expression that stole over the official's face, so full of approbation was it. He knew that he would handle a poor boire of a quarter, if he did not get the pass. He was determined to please, and when the official asked him if he had any cotton handy the barber said he thought he had. He sent quickly to a store and secured a small supply of the cotton, and giving it to the official that gentleman took two small fragments and put them in his ears.

Then the barber thought of Casey at the bat.—St. Paul Dispatch.

A Distinguished Female Clergyman.

In all probability the most distinguished female clergyman in this country is Rev. Phebe A. Hanford, at present a resident of Gotham. She is not occupying a pulpit, however, and it is hardly possible she ever will again. Rev. Hanford for almost 30 years has been an ordained minister in successful charge of a number of congregations. Dr. Hanford is a member of Sorosis and a well known writer and lecturer as well as minister. She has the honor to be the pioneer of women in the sacred desk in this country, as she was the first ordained woman minister in America and the fourth in the world.—Philadelphia Press.

A Way They Have In Sweden.

A domestic who had recently arrived in Chicago from Sweden was instructed to boil some potatoes for bread making purposes. She put them in the wash boiler with some clothes, and upon being taken to task for it, explained that this was the custom in Sweden; that in this way the housewife starched her clothes, while at the same time preparing the potatoes for bread making.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Plaster casts in their natural state are best freed from dust by covering them with a thick layer of starch. When the starch is dry, brush thoroughly with a stiff brush, and it will be found that the dust has been removed with the starch.

The Chattahoochee river in Georgia is so called from an Indian expression meaning "painted rocks." At several places on its banks the cliffs have peculiar markings that resemble artificial paintings.

In 1870 candles were first made from Nonantum Industrial School.

The Nonantum Industrial school, which is conducted under the auspices of the Newton Social Science Club, Monday reopened for the summer. The attendance is largely increased over last year, and several new classes are to be organized. Miss C. J. Leland of Newton is the superintendent. Boys of 11 years of age and over are admitted and given lessons in carpentry and printing, and girls of over 10 years are given lessons in sewing and household work.

Persons who are subject to diarrhoea will find a speedy cure in De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure. Use either. It is the best that can be made of that money can procure. It leaves the system in natural condition after its use. We sell it. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Abundance.

Age will not be so marked if you use Buchingham's Dye for the Whiskers.

"For years I had suffered from falling of the womb, inflammation of the stomach, and weakness of the female organs. I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and found a perfect cure in it for these troubles." Mrs. LIZZIE DECLINE, 224 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

Expressmen.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BAGGAGE EXPRESS
NEWTON.
Orders may be left at the B. & A. Baggage Room, or sent to Post Office Box 25

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room, from 6.30 A. M. to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. P. Atkins, Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Froeter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving also Crockery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence: 152 Adams Street, Newton, Mass.

48

PEARSON'S Newton and Boston Express.

Boston Office: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St., 33 Court St.; Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market.
Newton Office: H. B. Coffin's; Order Boxes: Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins.
Leave Newton, 9.30 A. M. Leave Boston, 3 P. M.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER, Newton and Boston Express

Leave Newton, 7.30 and 9.0 A. M.; leave Boston, 12 M. and 3 P. M. Newton Office: 334 Centre St. Order Box: Newton City Market. Boston Office: 15 Devonshire St., 174 Washington St., 34 Court St., 25 Merchants Row, 67 Franklin St., 11 Harrison Ave., Extension, P. O. Box 420, Newton. Personal attention given all orders. Tel. 278-2.

BEVERLY BROS. BAKERS.

Having recently put a cart on the road, are prepared to serve customers living in Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands

354 Centre St., Newton.

FRANCIS MURDOCK.

INSURANCE AGENT,
Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT
placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies.
Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

PURE MILK

SUPPLIED DAILY FROM

Prospect Valley Farm

One cow's milk supplied when desired

H. COLDWELL & SON,

Waltham, Mass.

Lock Box 192.

COCAINE OINTMENT

CURES PILES

15c. AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

JELLISON'S KRAMP-KILLER

WATERMELON AND CUCUMBERS CAUSE

CRAMPS.

KILLS CRAMPS

and pains in the Stomach or Bowels,
Diarrhoea, Etc.

15 CENTS A BOTTLE.

All Druggists Sell It.

IF YOUR

is weak from any cause TRY

JELLISON'S

INDIAN EYE BALM,

It Cures Weak, Sore and Inflamed Eyes.

Price 15 Cents. Of All Druggists.

Tailors.

C. S. Decker
Custom Tailor.
64 Elmwood St., Newton, Mass.

BERKELEY SCHOOL

Boylston, cor. Berkeley St., Boston.

Co-educational. Certificates of the school received at Smith, Wellesley, Etc. Special student fitted for Institute, Harvard and Boston University, Law and Medical schools, etc. Catalogue mailed. 51 TAYLOR, DUNN, RITTS & HAGER.

the Master Builders' Association,
166 Devonshire Street.

(Established 1836.) (Incorporated 1894.)
(Connected by Telephone.)

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS,

INCORPORATED.

Roofers, Metal Workers,

State, Copper, Tin, Tile, and Composition Roofing, Galvanized

Iron Work. Dealers in all

Roofing Materials.

201 and 22 East Street, Boston.

Special attention given to Repairs of all kinds of Roofing.

Samuel Farquhar, President; David Farquhar, Secy and Treas.; Joseph Farquhar, Supt.; Rolin Farquhar; Frank C. Farquhar, Directors.

FRED A. HUBBARD,

Pharmacist

P. O. Block, NEWTON.

SUNDAY CLOSING HOURS:

or 10.30 A. M. to 12 M.; 2 P. M. to 4 P. M.

E. W. MASTERS,

Manufacturer of and Dealer in

.. HARNESES..

A full assortment of Whips, Blankets, robes,

Seals, Oils, Brushes, Curry Combs, &c., always on hand. Repairing promptly and neatly done. Fine work a specialty. Prices reasonable.

878 Washington St., Newtonville, Mass.

FOUND

....AT....

HUDSON'S

PHARMACY.

...A CURE FOR...

Coughs and Colds.

OVER 200 BOTTLES OF

PECTORAL

SYRUP

have been sold during the past month. It has a

Home Reputation

due entirely to its

---MERITS---

PREPARED ONLY BY

Arthur Hudson,

Pharmacist and Chemist.

WOOD

FOR SALE

0 0 0 NEWTON CEMETERY.

Undertakers.

GEORGE H. GREGG,

Undertaker

TELEPHONE - CONNECTIONS.

Funeral

and Furnishing

Undertaker.

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES, &c.

and every modern requisite for the proper funerals of the deceased, and all orders promptly attended to.

GEO. W. BUSH

Elmwood Street, - Newton

S. L. PRATT,

FUNERAL AND FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass.

First-class Appointments and Competent assistants. To accommodate the people of Upper

Falls and vicinity orders may be left at the office of Fanning Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone.

Also shall continue in the Black, Livery and Boarding Stable. Business at my old stand corner of Beacon and Station Streets.

13

S. F. CATE

Telephones:-

West Newton, 19-5;

Office, 19-5;

House, 19-4;

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre, Agent of the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley Newton.
—Miss Maud Dyer is visiting in Portland Me.

—Mrs. Wardwell of Irving street is sojourning at the seashore.

—Mr. O. J. Hall of Knapp's staff is enjoying a week's vacation at Nantucket.

—Mr. Louis Murphy of Pleasant street is entertaining friends from California.

—Mr. Fred Barker of Pelham street is passing his vacation with friends in Maine.

—Miss Annie Huggard has gone to New Brunswick for a two month's stay.

—Mr. W. O. Knapp of Warren street is entertaining friends from Dubuque, Iowa.

—Mrs. F. W. Stevens of Beacon street has gone to Maine for a few week's stay.

—Miss Buckman has gone to Arlington for a few week's stay.

—William A. Clark of Cypress street is out of town for a short stay with friends.

—Mr. P. H. Butler and family of Crystal street are away for the summer season.

—Miss Everett of Waltham is temporarily filling a position in Richardson's market.

—Miss Lizzie Green with a party of friends have gone to Bar Harbor, Me., to spend the summer.

—Mr. Chas. R. White, formerly a resident of Parker street, is here from Chicago on a visit of a few days.

—Mr. Frederick A. Very is removing from Crescent street to his handsome new house on Homer street.

—Miss Poore, who has been the guest of Mrs. Barker of Pelham street, returned this week to her home in Maine.

—Mrs. A. E. Webb of Warren street is entertaining friends from Philadelphia this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Edmunds of Pelham street are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter.

—Miss Alice Green, who is passing the summer months in Scituate, was in town this week, but returned the same day.

—Mrs. Robbins and children of Worcester are visiting Mr. Charles E. Dudley of Union street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hinckle are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son.

—Miss Maud Woodman of Cypress street is enjoying her vacation in Portland, Me., and vicinity.

—Mr. F. A. Gardner and family are spending the summer season at North Scituate.

—Miss F. A. Leighton is among the recent departures from this place for seashore and mountain resorts.

—Mrs. A. N. Armstrong and family of Parker street are at Gray's Inn, Jackson, N. H.

—Mr. H. N. Boynton is occupying Dr. Boynton's house on Langley road during the summer months.

—Miss Edith Rogers has returned from Europe. Her stay abroad comprised a period of several months.

—Mr. Clinton Hunter of Lake avenue departed this week for Aspinwall, England.

—There will be a ball game at the N. A. A. grounds, Saturday, at 3.30, between the Aberdeens and the Newton Highlands.

—Mr. Elwood W. Hinckle, conductor on the electric car, and Mrs. Hinckle, are being congratulated that a boy should come to them on the glorious 4th.

—Masters Will and Stanley Barton had a tennis match with Harold Barton and Gilbert Plympton, winning by a score of 20 to 18.

—There are letters at the postoffice for Mrs. Cronin, Patrick Carney, Hattie Dudley, Gertrude Farrington, Mabel Howard and George L. Wilson.

—Mr. Daniel N. B. Coffin, who fell from an electric car last week, sustaining serious injuries, is reported as quite comfortable. He will soon be able to get out and about.

—Dr. Fessenden writes from Rameley Lakes that his son Howard is recovering from scarlet fever, but he will not be able to return here until about the 25th of this month.

—At the Unitarian society, Sunday, July 14, there will be service at 10.30. A sermon will be delivered on "Religion in the Mass." Extra vocal music for this service with Miss Clement as leader.

—At the Methodist Episcopal church the pastor, Rev. E. H. Hughes, will preach morning and evening. In the evening there will be a solo by Mr. Herbert Thayer of Central church, Boston.

—The Sunday school of the Methodist society enjoyed its annual picnic to Nantasket Tuesday. The weather conditions were rather discouraging, but did not prevent the carrying out of quite an enjoyable program.

—Mr. D. W. Smith of the reading room, who will be 85 years old in August, may be seen gracefully gliding over our sandpapered streets on his bicycle. Our columns are open for the name of an older man or woman who rides a wheel.

—The Christian Endeavor delegates in this vicinity, and those who may be numbered among the visitors, are cordially invited to attend the service in the Congregational church Sunday evening. The subject announced is, "The Convention."

—The funeral of Mr. James Cutler took place from the Congregational church last Sunday. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Noyes and a male quartet rendered appropriate selections. The interment was made at Mt. Auburn.

—The shopkeepers here have evidently a tender regard for the Endeavorers. Nearly every store has its adornment of flags and bunting and in some cases the decorations are quite elaborate. The depot was made especially attractive and the grouping and general arrangement evidenced considerable taste.

—The playground is a popular place on fine evenings, for all sorts of games, and a number of amateur athletes may be found there almost any night, getting up their muscle. The quarter-mile track has generally a half dozen or so wheelmen, trying their speed, for a quarter mile, and some with more endurance, try a half. Very few get above that, and some very fair records are being made. The playground is of the most benefit, of course, to the Centre young people, but in these days when every one has a wheel, it is being visited by many from other parts of the city.

—A vast crowd witnessed the illuminative and pyrotechnic display at Crystal Lake Monday evening, given under the auspices of the Newton Centre Improvement Association. It was intended, of course, to make it the crowning event of the Fourth, but the weather, as every one knows, prevented that. The firework, as usual, went up to many agreeable things, it is said, and the old saw, if it is one, certainly worked very well in the case in point, for it was altogether one of the finest displays ever seen here. The fireworks, as usual, were set off from a raft moored in Crystal Lake.

All around the shores, Japanese lanterns were hung reflecting harmonizing tints of color. The brilliancy was enhanced by the use of colored electric lamps and the whole effect was novel and inspiring. Then, too, the feature of the gaily decorated boats, made the scene one of surpassing beauty, with an environment of lawn and woodland that seemed made especially to complete the picture. Dr. Leach's boat seemed to win the largest share of popular favor.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Mrs. E. A. True and children have gone to Peaks Island, Me.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Moore have gone to Deer Isle on the Maine coast.

—Mrs. Hollis of Newton is visiting her granddaughter, Mrs. Shumway.

—Mrs. Nelson has as her guest her niece, Miss Rohrer, of St. Joseph, Missouri.

—Mr. Geo. D. Atkins and family are at their cottage at Green Harbor.

—Mr. W. H. Mansfield and family are at Young's Hotel, Wintthrop Beach.

—Mr. F. Bellamy and family are at Intervale, N. H.

—Mrs. E. H. Tarbell and children have gone to Cotuit, Mass.

—Mr. J. E. Peckham and family are at Pt. Allerton.

—Miss Wright of Lake avenue has gone to Denver for the summer.

—Services at St. Paul's next Sunday will be at 7 a. m., 10.45 a. m. and 5 p. m. The rector will officiate.

—The Douglass family, who have been at Mrs. G. V. Stone's for several weeks, have gone to East Wareham.

—Mr. J. R. Henderson of Dartmouth College, who has been visiting here, has gone to Franklin, Mass.

—Mrs. Whiting has the front of her house very prettily decorated in honor of the Y. P. S. C. E.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Chas. M. Barr, May Barrett, Mr. F. W. Bird, Elsie E. Davis and Marion Murray, (2).

—Mr. Alford, of the Central Presbyterian church of New York, will address the Y. P. S. C. E. at their meeting on Sunday next at 6.30.

—Miss Sawtell, whose home is with Mrs. Kendrick, sailed on Saturday for the continent and will visit Norway and Sweden, returning October 1st.

—Mr. Putney's three young children, who have their home with their sister, Mrs. Bryant, in the suburbs of Chicago, are here for the summer.

—Mrs. S. A. Brackett, who has been housekeeping for Mr. M. W. Richardson on Terrace avenue, has, with her son and daughter, removed to West Somerville.

—Rev. Mr. Phipps occupied the pulpit at the Congregational church at Wellesley last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Phipps have been visiting at Wellesley but have now returned.

—The base ball game tomorrow will be between the home team and the Crescents of Newton. An interesting game is looked for with a large crowd in attendance at the N. A. A. grounds.

—Services as usual at the M. E. church next Sunday. Morning service at 10.30, subject, "Sitting in the Shade." Evening service at 7, subject, "The Perils of Patriots." All are welcome.

—Rev. W. P. Shrom, D. D., of Pittsburg, Pa., will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church next Sunday. Prof. G. F. Moore of Andover conducted the services last Sunday on account of the illness of Mr. Shrom.

—The Hiram Ross house on Tappan place, which has been occupied by Mr. J. T. Estabrook for the past six years, has been rented through the agency of Mr. W. W. Thayer of Newton Centre, to Mrs. F. A. Lamkin of Cambridge, who with her two daughters and son now occupy.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Mr. Ernest Young is enjoying his vacation.

—Miss Emma Keyes has left for a visit to Worcester.

—Mrs. Alexander, accompanied by her son, has gone to Foxboro.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Flora Swallow and H. F. Travis.

—The Rubber Works has resumed operation, after being closed one week.

—The breaking of a belt in the Silk mill was the cause of its being shut down for a few days.

—Mr. R. J. Morrissey is building a block for the new school on the corner of Mechanic and Eliot streets.

—Ground is being broken for a new house in Wetherell park. The question is now when will the street be cut through?

—The local branch of the Good Templars held a very enjoyable picnic at Nahant, last Saturday, despite the rain.

—A young man of this place was fined $1 in court, Wednesday morning, for violation of the city ordinance, riding a bicycle on the sidewalk.

—Quite a number from here witnessed the pyrotechnic display at Newton Centre Monday evening. Few compliments have been heard.

—The Baptist church picnic has been postponed from last Saturday until next Saturday when it will be held at Forest Grove.

—There was considerable noise the night before the Fourth. The residents are indebted to the police, and boys generally, that little damage was done.

—Miss Carrie Tilton of West Newton has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Billings of High street, preparatory to her trip to Washington.

—Ellis Street is blocked, caused by the rebuilding of the wall opposite the bridge. The park commission is building a stone stairway to lead from the sidewalk to the bridge. This will be a big convenience and save pedestrians from walking around Chestnut street.

—A long felt want has been filled. Signs directing to Echo bridge have been placed on the corner of Summer and High. Chestnut and Summer and Winter and High. If one could be placed in Postoffice square the arrangement would be complete and no one would lose their way.

—The Christian Endeavor society held a social in the Methodist church vestry, Monday evening. Part of the entertainment was the relating of each one's personal experiences, telling how they earned a dollar for the convention's support. If satisfactory arrangements can be made a meeting of the society will be held in the Methodist church, next Sunday, and led by one of the convention delegates from some other part of the United States.

Imperative Sale.

The Hiram Marsh estate on Nevada street will be sold at auction by Edward F. Barnes, on Monday, July 22, at 3 p. m. This estate consists of a well-built house of 7 rooms, with stable and 13,500 feet of land, with abundance of fruit and shade trees. It will make a desirable home for some one, or a good investment, as the section is one of the best on the north side of the track, and property there is advancing in value.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Mr. Fred Curtis is confined to his home by a malarial illness this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Rice are at Magnolia for the remainder of the summer.

—The lower mill of Sullivan's extract works started running last Monday, after being closed for two weeks.

—Rev. P. A. Callaghan who has recently recovered from a two weeks' sickness is taking a needed vacation at the seashore.

—Mr. J. A. Early, grocer, has had his delivery wagon newly and attractively painted.

—The weather of the past week has caused numbers to complain of the malaria. This section is sure to be visited with this dreaded scourge during the summer of late years.

—The lower portion of Washington street is in bad travelling condition on account of putting in the electric car tracks. The unfavorable weather postponing the work, has left the street this way a much longer time than was thought it would be.

NONANTUM.

—Mrs. James Murphy has left for a trip to Syracuse, N. Y.

—Mr. Clifford White has left his position in the Bemis Mills.

—Mrs. Nelson and family are at Concord for a short stay.

—The Industrial school was opened most auspiciously Monday morning.

—Mrs. John McNamara returned Monday from a trip to Cape Cod.

—Mrs. Quirk is building a store on Chapel street.

—Bridge street wears a deserted air since the grocery stores have been closed.

—Miss Della Hardman sprained her ankle Saturday afternoon.

—A merry-go-round has established itself on Dalby street and is reported to be doing quite a business.

—Mrs. George Rockwell of Meriden, Conn., is visiting her brother, Mr. J. P. Barker, at his residence on Bridge street.

—Two delegates at the Christian Endeavor convention will lead the Gospel meeting in St. Elmo Hall next Sunday.

—Tommy Kinsella tried to show the officers some Swedish gymnastics on the Fourth, but the officers wouldn't be taught, and locked Tommy up.

—Bertram Forknal was carrying a loaded revolver in his hand Thursday of last week, when the gun exploded, lacerating it in a horrible manner.

—Mr. George Hudson and Mr. Joseph Hanson are attending the convention of the Grand Lodge Sons of St. George, in Fitchburg this week. Mr. Hudson is the presiding officer.

—The Christian Endeavor Society held a consecration meeting Tuesday evening. A large number of that body have been attending the convention in Boston, this week.

—Mr. Raymond Calkins led the Christian Endeavor meeting at the North Evangelical church, Sunday evening. A communion service was held later and one new member received into the church.

—The members of the North Evangelical church held an election of church officers Monday evening, and the following were chosen: Clerk, Charles Worth; deacons, Alonzo K. Worth, Thomas Cuthbert; superintendent of Sunday school, Reuben Forknal.

—The lightning struck the cupola of the Silver Lake mill Saturday, and ignited it. The fire was not noticed until about twenty minutes after. Hose eight company was the first on the scene and did splendid work. The damage was slight. The fire alarm wires and although box 24 was rung, but two of the stations that should respond on first, heard it.

—Hiram George Fencher died suddenly at his home Sunday afternoon, death being caused by the bursting of a blood vessel on the brain. The deceased was born in Essex, N. Y. 46 years ago and had until his removal here conducted a brokerage business in Johnson, Vermont. For the past five years he had been yard master at the Hiram Marsh estate and had managed the corporation boarding houses. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter. A funeral service was held at the house Monday evening and the body removed to Johnson for interment.

—Michael Leonard, who had been seriously effected by the hypnotic influence of lemonade, Fourth of July, snatched a revolver from a young man on Chapel street and said that he was going to shoot all the members of the "Gang" out of town. When he saw Officer Purcell coming around the corner he suddenly remembered that he had an engagement in Newtonville and started on a run up Waterston street with the officer in pursuit. He was soon captured and upon giving up the revolver asked if there was anything else wanted. Patrolman Purcell told him that his form was wanted to grace Station Two, and there they went. Michael got four months.

Co C (Fifth Regt.) Gossip.

An election was held Monday evening, to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Lieut. Cordingley and 2nd Lieut. Harry B. Inman was unanimously chosen.

The first ballot for second lieutenant resulted in favor of first Sergt. Masterton, but he declined the honor. Private Charles Barrows was appointed a corporal. Captain Scott will take a full evening to camp this year. This will be the first time for a number of years, and for it Capt. Scott deserves special commendation.

The following recruits were recently mustered in: Thomas C. Merriman, George G. Moyce, Frederick W. McCabe, Thomas F. Lackey, Ernest R. Springer, Carl Forsen, Edward Gancy and Thomas J. McLean.

A week from Monday the company will go to muster.

The boys are very sorry to lose Lieut. Cordingley, who has so faithfully served the company for twelve years. He held a commission for six years and was a most popular officer and dutiful soldier.

She—"The groom seems quite cool." He—"The bride is from Boston."—Life.

O My Head!
Is the weak, languid cry of the sufferer from sick headache. Hood's Pills cure this condition promptly, and so agreeably that it is like the pleasant change from darkness to daylight. The feeling of utter exhaustion and inability to work is driven off and the digestive organs are toned, strengthened and regulated. Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, safe, reliable. 25c. at all druggists.

A COMEDY.

They parted with clasped hands
And kisses and burning tears.
They met in a foreign land
After some twenty years—

Met as acquaintances meet,
Smiling, tranquil eyed,
Not even the least little beat
Of the heart upon either side.

They chatted of this and that,
The nothings that make up life,
She in a Gainsborough hat
And he in black for his wife.

Ah, what a comedy this!
Neither was hurt, it appears,
Yet once she had leaned to his kiss,
And once he had known her tears.

—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

A BUSINESS ROMANCE.

It is the True Story of the Rise of a Humble Young Man.

A young man who was working as clerk in an importing house had occasion frequently in the course of business to call at a certain large manufacturing establishment. The head of the concern took a fancy to him. One day he asked the young man what salary he was getting, what his chances of promotion were and so on. He was told and then said to the young man that he thought there was a better opportunity for him in his office than in the house where he was then employed.

The young man replied that he should of course like to better himself, but that his engagement would not permit him to leave for some time to come. The head of the house said he thought he might induce his employer to let him go. He accordingly wrote a note to the senior partner of the importing house, with whom he was on intimate terms, saying that he had formed a liking for the young man, that he believed there was a better opening for him in his office and asking that he be released. The next day the young man came back with a letter in which his employer, while expressing regret at losing his services, said that he recognized the larger opportunity offered him, and, as he didn't want to stand in his way, released him. The clerk went to work in his new position and so confirmed his employer's good impressions that his promotion was rapid. He went from one responsible position to another until he was next to the manager of the house. A short time ago the manager died, and "our hero," now no longer a young man of course, but still in the prime of life, took his place at a salary very nearly if not quite as large as that of the president of the United States.—New York Recorder.

Customs of Polish Women.

In Poland princesses and peasants wear around the throat several rows of huge coral beads which are supposed to be lucky—the bigger the beads the greater the luck—and the dingy looking merchants of the "Zwierjencez" (Jewish quarter of the town), at Cracow, realize small fortunes from the sale of these coral necklaces, for a Pole of the lower classes will almost sooner go without food or without her beloved "vodka" (brandy) than forego this cherished ornament. The "gracie dame" is so loath to separate from her lucky beads that, when donning evening dress with its paraphernalia of pearls and diamonds, she carries them in her pocket or in the inside of her corsage.

While on the subject of Poland, I may add that the orthodox Jewesses there—were easily distinguished, apart from any physical mark of race, by the silken wigs which they are forced to adopt on the morrow of their wedding day. Their religion exacts that on the wedding night the tresses should fall under the bites of a pair of silver scissors, and the massacre is so complete that, short close to the scalp, they conceal the skull under a hideous construction of coarse silken strands, highly ornamented in most cases with bands of black velvet sewed with small pearls and turquoises.—New York Tribune.

Montrond.

Ruikes asked Montrond once if it were true that Louis Philippe gave him a pension. He answered, "Yes, 20,000 francs a year for speaking well of him in the clubs and in England." Montrond before his death went through the form of a conversion and made his peace with the church. When the priest asked him, "You probably in old times uttered many pleasanties against religion?" "No," said he coldly, "I have been accused, and justly accused, in my lifetime of many vices. I have never been accused of being an imbecile."

Montrond was an inveterate gambler. One day he had a quarrel with some people he had been playing with at cards. He flew to Talleyrand in a state of great agitation. "Would you believe it," said he, "they threatened to throw me out of the window?" "I have always advised you," said Talleyrand very quietly, "never to play cards except on the ground floor."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Elevator Girls.

There are three buildings in Philadelphia in which the elevators are exclusively run by girls. They are the Woman's Association's big building, at Eighteenth and Arch streets, the Girls' High school and the Normal school. In the first building all the employees are women except the engineer and fireman.

Succinct Definition.

"Mike," said Plodding Pete, who had been reading from a stray scrap of paper, "what does 'dernier resort' mean?" Meandering Mike looked at him with the supercilious contempt of superior knowledge and replied, "Work."—Washington Star.

The Ashley river, in South Carolina, was named in honor of Sir Anthony Ashley Cooper, afterward the famous Earl of Shaftesbury. The Indians called the stream Kiawah, a word of doubtful significance.

Ruffles for the wrists were originally called hand ruffs.

WALTER C. BROOKS & Co.

.... Importing
.. Tailors ..

15 MILK ST., BOSTON.

BIRTHPLACE OF FRANKLIN
OPP. OLD SOUTH CHURCH.

Goods Delivered Free in the Newtons.

Fine Woolens at Moderate Prices.

PEARMAIN & BROOKS Members of Boston Stock Exchange
Stock and Bond Brokers.
Orders by Mail Promptly Executed. Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.
Correspondence Solicited.
Stock Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.
SUMNER B. PEARMAIN. L. LORING BROOKS.

Full Line. Finest Quality.

GEO. E. HUSE & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

Meats and Provisions.

White's Block,
Centre St.,
NEWTON CENTRE,

GEO. E. HUSE. LEWIS MURPHY.

MISS GRACE C. STANFORD

will re-open the

KINDERGARTEN

Monday, October 1, 1894,

in the house formerly occupied by Dr. Dodge, Centre Street, Opp. Mason School,
NEWTON CENTRE.

Teeth Filled
WITHOUT PAIN

We, the undersigned, have had teeth examined for filling by Dr. Jordan's method, entirely without pain:

P. E. Howe, M. D., 2 Commonwealth Av., Boston.
Mrs. H. C. Williams, 174 Beacon St., Boston.
Miss Mable Mattison, 9 Adams St., Charlestown.
Samuel Hill, Hyde Park, Mass.
Miss Bell Nichols, 61 Chandler St., Boston.
Addison R. Pike, 22 Claremont Park, Boston.

GOLD CROWNS.
BRIDGE WORK.
PORCELAIN CROWNS
NATURAL ROOTS.

I refer

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXV.—NO. 42.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1895.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR

J. H. NICKERSON, Pres. AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, Vice Pres.

First National Bank of West Newton.

CAPITAL, $100,000.

SURPLUS, $12,000.

For the accommodation of our depositors, on and after MONDAY, APRIL 15, a representative of this Bank will be at the DRUG STORE of JOHN F. PAYNE, NEWTONVILLE, daily, from 9.05 to 11 A. M. to receive Deposits and pay Checks.

EDWARD P. HATCH, Cashier.

PENNOCK ELECTRIC LIGHT CO.,

305 CARTER BUILDING, BOSTON.

ELECTRIC LIGHT. ELECTRIC HEAT. ELECTRIC POWER.
PRICE LIST—Series Incandescent Light, 75 candlepower, $2 per month; Multiple arc incandescent light, 16 candlepower, 50 cents per month; Electric Power, for Motors, $15 per horsepower per year. Electric Heating, $1 per month per 8 room house. THE CHEAPEST, THE BEST, THE ONLY SAFE ELECTRIC SYSTEM IN THE WORLD. State Right Certificates $1.00 per share. Send for particulars.

Brackett's Market Company.

Established 1851. Incorporated 1892.
Telephone No. 16-3.

The Best Meats, Poultry, Game, Cream, Butter, Eggs, Fruits and Vegetables.

at the Lowest Prices. This Market intends to fill all orders as if the purchaser were present. Goods which are found not to be as represented may be returned.

7 and 8 Cole's Block,
WASHINGTON near CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

F. IVERS & SON,

BUILDERS OF

High Grade Road Wagons.

Rubber Tires and Ball Bearing Axles applied to Carriages.

Carriage Repairing a Specialty.

1953-1963 Massachusetts Ave.,
No. Cambridge.

STOVES AND EVERY VARIETY OF

Household Goods

—AT—

BENT'S FURNITURE ROOMS,

64 Main St., Watertown.

ATWOOD'S MARKET.

HEADQUARTERS FOR

Fine Fruit, Vegetables, The Choicest Fish and Meats.

Mr. Atwood's long experience gives him unusual facilities for securing the best things in the market.

371 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.
Telephone 122-2.

Newton City Market

Fresh and Salt

Meats.

Poultry and Game.

Fish and Oysters.

Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Canned Goods, Fruit, Vegetables.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

JAMES PAXTON,

Confectioner and Caterer.

Ices, Creams, Frozen Pudding, Roman Punch, Fine Cakes, Candies, Salads, Oysters, Croquettes, Etc.

ALL OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Weddings and Receptions

SERVED IN SUPERIOR STYLE.

Eliot Block, Newton

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Farley, 433 Washington St., N.

—"That's delicious cream soda." Hahn's.

—Miss De Brissay is at the Highland House, Bethlehem.

—Mrs. S. F. Zohn is at Russell cottage, Kennebec, N. H.

—Cash paid for old gold and silver at W. A. Hodgdon's, 230 Centre street.

—Mrs. G. B. Palmer and daughter are enjoying a trip to Connecticut.

—Mr. John Leavitt of Peabody street is enjoying a trip to Norfolk, N. H.

—Mr. E. C. Huxley and family are at the Miramonte, Sugar Hill, N. H.

—Fine watch and clock repairing at W. A. Hodgdon's, 230 Centre street.

—Mr. E. N. Soulls returns this week from a trip to Rindge, N. H.

—Amos Betts returned Saturday from his vacation trip.

—Hon. W. H. Furber and wife of Centre street are at Point Allerton for a few weeks.

—Mrs. Warren Jaquith is receiving a visit from her mother and brother of Malone, N. Y.

—C. O. Higbee has recovered from his recent accident and resumed his work at Ross' mill.

—G. B. Palmer and son Harold, accompanied by Master Carl Ellison, left Saturday for a trip to Norfolk, Va.

—Mrs. and Mrs. Pratt and son Clifton of Channing street, have returned from Jaffrey, N. H.

—Mr. H. M. Walton and family left Wednesday for St. Albans, Me., for a six weeks' vacation.

—Mrs. Allen and her daughter, Miss Carrie Allen, are the guests of Mrs. G. P. Pote of Peabody street.

—Miss Emily Stanley leaves tomorrow for the Nekegrange House, Isle of Springs, Boothbay Harbor, Me.

—Mr. David W. Farquhar has been at the Grand Union Hotel, Saratoga, this week.

—Sunday School will meet Sunday noon at the Methodist church.

—No preaching services at the Methodist church until Sept. 1st, on account of the Union meetings in Eliot church.

—Miss Mabel Maynard and Miss Lucy M. Bingham of Westboro, are at the Maynard cottage, Brant Rock.

—Miss Florence M. Keith won the ladies first prize at the whist party given at the Ocean House, Ocean Bluff, last week.

—Rev. and Mrs. C. Edson Owen and children of Houlton, Me., were stopping this week at Mr. E. B. Harrington, attending the Endeavor convention.

—Letter Carrier George Walker returned Thursday from a vacation trip in Maine. Upon his arrival Letter Carrier Morgan left for his vacation. Letter Carrier Farwell will return Saturday and Letter Carrier Mullen's vacation will commence.

—During the rainstorm last Saturday, which was the most severe the town has experienced this season, the wind twisted off a maple tree at the corner of Park and Washington streets, some ten feet from the ground. No other damage was done in the vicinity.

—For the first time this year, entrance to the enclosure of the 2d Brigade will be limited to the public to one day only, on Friday, the 26th. This is a sensible departure and will be welcomed by all officers and men who go to study and work rather than make it a week of entertainment.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Wallace Corne, Mr. Howley, Geo. Stone, John Vehey, E. Whitmore, Mrs. H. L. Babson, Maria Bickford, Della Carley, Maggie Dorsey, Mary Cutting, A. M. Kelly, Miss M. Marsh, Carrie McCarthy, Belle Peterson, Ida Lindgren, and Miss F. Williams.

—Mr. Patrick Bluce, a laborer residing on Washington street, attempted to alight from the 8.20 outbound train Tuesday evening before it had come to a full stop, and was thrown to the platform. He struck on his head and sustained a severe scalp wound and several bad cuts and bruises on the head and face.

—Monday morning a team belonging to Morgan Mahoney, and driven by one of his employees, ran away on Pearl street. While turning the corner of Thornton street, the horse ran up on the sidewalk and the shaft of the wagon broke a show window in Miss Timmins' store. The driver was uninjured but the vehicle was considerably damaged.

—The Rev. Mr. Deane of St. Louis, chaplain of St. Luke's hospital, preached the sermon in grace church last Sunday morning. He was formerly a resident of Watertown, but had not been in the vicinity for a long time and was consequently very surprised at the changes which had been made, and especially in the growth of the Episcopal church in all this section.

—The insurance firm of Hollis & Wise, 35 Kilby street, Boston, will be dissolved Aug. 1, by the death of the senior partner, who has been a member of the firm about three years. The business will be continued by Mr. Hollis, and the companies now represented by the firm will be retained by him. Mr. Hollis is a resident of Newton, and was one of the representatives of this city in the Legislature and chairman of the Newton school board.

—A petition is being circulated asking the Hunsenell Hill club to postpone indefinitely all attempts to finish their Fourth of July games. They have set some half a dozen dates, more or less, and have succeeded in getting a pouring rain for each date. The majority of people like pleasant weather for Sunday afternoon, and perhaps if the club would give up its races such weather might be secured. The petition is receiving a large number of signatures.

—Wednesday evening, what might have been a sad and fatality was narrowly averted by the presence of mind of the gate-keeper at the Washington street crossing. A party of Newton young men, who had evidently been to Faneuil, were walking toward the Newton depot on the Fourth bound express track, watching an out coming accommodation train, and not noticing an express train which was directly behind them. The gate-keeper, seeing their perilous position, called to them and waved his hands to warn them of their danger. They stepped aside, and just in time, to let the express go rushing through.

—The wheelmen who took all day rides had very diverse experience with showers last Sunday. One party would encounter severe showers, while another reported only slight sprinkles. Wellesley had severe showers, while Wellesley Hills had hardly a shower. Winthrop was flooded and the roads were almost impassable, while Boston had scarcely a drop. A party that went to Bedford were detained a couple of hours by severe thunderstorms, while another party that visited Concord only encountered a slight sprinkle. A party that went to Providence saw no rain but on their return they found the streets of Dedham flooded, and so muddy they could hardly get through. It was evidently a day of purely local showers.

—Miss Mary Sloan is enjoying her vacation from Bacon's store.

—Mr. Arthur Hollis has left for North Conway, N. H.

—Mr. Justin Whittier returned from his trip to St. Louis, Wednesday.

—Emerson Bailey, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bailey of Boyd street, is reported quite ill with scarlet fever.

—Postal Clerk Wm. Irving resumed his duties at the postoffice today after a two weeks' vacation.

—Mr. George A. Alden of Maple street has recovered from his attack of diphtheria.

—Mrs. Waldo A. Learned and children are at the White Sulphur Springs Hotel, Saratoga.

—Mrs. Hersey, who has been at the Hunnewell for several months, leaves today for her home in Indianapolis.

—Mr. Francis Murdock and family went to Bay View, Gloucester, last week, but Mr. Murdock returns to business every day or so.

—The Newton Savings Bank keeps on its usual way of a steady increase in deposits and in the number of depositors. In the past six months it gained 242 depositors, and its deposits show an increase of over $150,000, the total now being $2,639,150.22.

—Music in Grace church Sunday evening: Processional, "O Paradise, O Paradise." Magnificat, "Nunc Dimittis." Anthem, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace." Recessional, "Those eternal bowers." Seats free.

—Commander Whitney has received from Mr. Daniels a photograph of Willie Benson, the first Newton soldier who fell in the war. He was only a boy when he enlisted and he was killed at the battle of Williamsburg, Va., in 1862. The body was brought home and a public funeral held at Eliot church, at which Gov. Andrews was present and the church was filled with sorrowing friends.

—The Church of Our Lady held its annual parish picnic at Lake Walden yesterday. The fine weather called out a large attendance and everybody heartily enjoyed themselves. The principal sports of the day were 1 mile run, won by Carroll of Waltham, closely followed by John Sniot of Newt. N. James Barrus won the 100 yards, James O'Grady making a close second. Jeremiah Desmond made the longest hop, step and jump, Jack Hanlon coming in second. Desmond was also the winner of the three fast jumps, beating John Kelly by a short distance. The first prize for each event mentioned above was $2.00 and the second prize $1.00. The tug of war between the highway and sewer department resulted in a defeat of the latter. The prize for the victors was $5.00. The Nonantums played a game of base ball with the Ruddervilles and defeated them by a score of 10-4. The altar boys proved to great advantage for the parochial school boys, scoring 7 runs against their 4.

—The Newton Upper Falls.

—James Brundeth has gone to Washington for a trip.

—Walter Chamberlain has returned from his vacation.

—Irving Gould is enjoying his vacation in New Hampshire.

—E. S. Cockery, of New Haven, is visiting here.

—Mr. E. C. Jewett of High street is visiting in Maine.

—A new auxiliary pump is being installed at the pumping station.

—Ernest Young has not been away on his vacation as was stated last week.

—Fred Stockman of Muir, Kentucky, is visiting his parents on Elliot street.

—Miss Mettie Hopkins, of Provincetown, is the guest of Mrs. Edwin Cooper.

—Mr. Benjamin Hopkins is confined to the house with malaria.

—Prof. H. W. Pettie of Ann Harbor, Mich., is visiting his relatives in this place.

—Messrs. Ira and George Metcalf of Orange, N. J., are the guests of friends here.

—Miss Mary Stunz of Erie, Pennsylvania, is visiting her sister on Boylston street.

—The Baptist church society held a very enjoyable picnic at Forest Grove, Waltham, Saturday.

—Mr. Billings, the druggist, is issuing a bright little paper, full of interest, and is giving a copy to each customer.

—Mr. H. A. Sherman of Oak street has removed the fence which enclosed his property and is otherwise improving his estate.

—Miss Hoyt of New Hampshire is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. Warren of Chestnut street.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Cora E. Hyde, John Delaney, Albert Eastman, M. A. Evans, Willie De Fran, Thomas Gahan, Luther Griffin, James Outerson, and G. P. Rand.

—A party of laborers employed by the city in repairing the wall on Ellis street unearthed a human skeleton yesterday afternoon. The remains were found in a high bank which overlooks the street, and were nearly eight feet below the surface. The ground where they were found has not been disturbed as far as known for many years. The skeleton was that of a full grown man, and from the appearance of the skull, it is supposed, was that of an Indian. It has evidently been in the ground for a long period.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—A new platform is replacing the old one at the railroad station.

—Mrs. Wiswall and Miss Eva Wiswall have moved to their residence here to be absent three weeks.

—Mr. Frederick Curtis and sister left for Marblehead, Wednesday, to spend the remainder of the summer.

—The rails for the street railway are now laid across the bridge here and are completed on the Wellesley end to the top of the hill. It is stated it will probably be some time before the tracks are laid on the hill connecting the two divisions on account of the controversy over the gutters that are now so wide that the track cannot be laid until the street is widened.

—Why is it, Mr. Greengoods," the young wife asked, "that you charge twice as much for your peas as Mr. Smith, across the way?" "Very easy explained, madam," replied the smiling grocer. "Our peas are all handpainted. Those that Smith handles are mere machine work." "—I guess I'll take some."—Cincinnati Tribune.

NONANTUM.

—Miss Grace Hudson is spending a few weeks at Canton.

—Driver Curtis of Hose 8 is recovering from his recent illness.

—Work is rapidly progressing on Joseph Nevins' house on California street.

—Simon Lovely and Jennie Lorman were married in this place Monday evening.

—Miss Carrie Copeland is reported quite ill with malaria.

—Miss Agnes Mayell is visiting at Bradford, N. H.

—The cupola of the Silver Lake Cordage Company, which was recently damaged by fire, is now undergoing repairs.

—The engagement is announced of Miss Emma Salsbury and Mr. Edwin Crossland.

—Rev. and Mrs. Greene of Bridge street have been entertaining the Rev. Clayton Boothby and wife of Thomaston, Me.

—Rev. Mr. Wyckoff of Wheaton, Ill., occupied the pulpit of the North Evangelical church, last Sunday morning.

—Deputy George Hudson installed officers of the Crystal Lake Division, Sons of Temperance, at Newton Centre, Thursday evening of last week.

—The outdoor service in front of the North Evangelical church, Sunday afternoon was led by Mr. W. S. Sloen of Newtonville. Next Sunday's meeting will be held at 10 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. J. J. Dutton of the Central Church, Newtonville.

—During the rain storm, Saturday afternoon, a high gust of wind removed the canvas tent which covers the merry-go-round on Dalby street from its poles and tore it into small pieces. A new tent has been ordered to replace the old one.

—The erection of the new bath house on California street has been commenced. It is to be 50 feet long and 30 feet wide and will be located on the river bank, at the end of so-called "Dago" avenue, a few rods from the L. A. N. shanty. Contractor H. H. Hunt of Newtonville is the builder, and it is expected that the building will be completed in a month's time.

—Quite a little excitement was occasioned Friday evening, by the finding of a suit of clothes on the river bank. At once several wild stories were abroad about a horrible suicide and even some very imaginative person suggested murder, but Officer Quilly, who was on the scene, investigated the case and found that the clothes had been left there by a tramp who had experienced a sudden change of mind and clothes.

—It is said that Lawrence Barry has brought suit against the Boston Journal and Post, for the statements in their report of the finding over his express license, and also against Alderman Fumner, for stating that the whole Barry family were troublemakers, where there are several members who are respected citizens against whom no charges can be said. D. A. Gallagher is Mr. Barry's lawyer.

—Sergeant Ryan, Officers Purcell, Harrison, Quilly and Burke, raided the premises of Patrick Shea on Chapel street, Sunday morning. After a diligent search all over the house nothing of the ardent was found. The officers held a consultation, and resulted in an interview with Mrs. Shea, who had been sitting all the while in a chair, rocking the baby. Mrs. Shea went into the next room to talk with the sergeant and returned, still carrying the baby. This made the officers a little suspicious and asked to be allowed to hold it for a while. Mrs. Shea couldn't see it, but the baby was so charmed by its appearance that they had to have it. Mrs. Shea reluctantly gave it up and the officers found beneath its clothes a quart can containing whiskey. Officers Purcell, Harrison and Burke deserve especial credit for their work on the case and it is said that some excellent evidence has been obtained.

Y. M. C. A.

Next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock Rev. H. J. Patrick of Newtonville will address the Men's meeting. All men are cordially invited.

The Boy's meetings will not begin until Sept. 15, when Mr. C. C. Hodges of Melrose will give his interesting smoke-talk illustrated.

Mr. P. F. Parker, the general secretary, will be away on his vacation from July 25 to Aug. 25. The first two weeks at Silver Lake, Mass., and the remainder of the time at his home at North Gosham, Me.

It has been decided to open the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium the middle of September, and the following classes are scheduled for each week under the excellent instruction of Dr. A. G. Howard. Monday afternoon, business men; Tuesday afternoon, juniors; Thursday afternoon, business men; Saturday afternoon, juniors. Each evening of the above days general classes will be held. Ladies classes will probably be instituted under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary, with a competent lady instructor. Dr. Howard is a thoroughly competent man having been under the careful teaching of Prof. Robert J. Roberts of the Boston Y. M. C. A., besides six years experience in various associations in the state. He is also a graduate of the Springfield Training School where physical training is taught as a profession. Surely the young men of Newton are fortunate in securing such an able man for the position.

Rev. Henry G. Spaulding of Newton is the donor of a very valuable addition to the Newton Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium. It is a Winslow Health lift, intended to develop nearly every muscle of the human body, and its value is an indication of the interest taken in our young men by one who realizes the necessity of an all round development.

Co. C (Fifth Regt.) Gossip.

Col. Wm. A. Baneroff, Adj. H. P. Ballard and Maj. George Benson, all of the 5th, were guests at the regular drill Monday evening. The Colonel expressed himself as well pleased at the attendance, personal and general efficiency of the command.

The boys are making every preparation for a big time at muster this year and will start from the Newton depot, early Monday evening.

Sergeant Berry on account of other duties will be unable to attend camp.

Then he Celebrated.

(From Town Topics.)

He held three aces in his hand, The pot it was a jack;

With bated breath he prayed to win, And got his losses back.

Three aces, and so much at stake! His eyes with fear grew dim;

He drew a card, and lo! it was A glorious Fourth for him!

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

A building lot containing 17,455 square feet, situated on Sewall street, West Newton, belonging to the Robinson estate, has been sold through the office of Nathan Crocker of Devonshire street, to a purchaser whose name is withheld for the present. The new owner will erect a medium sized dwelling-house at once. The price paid for the land is not stated.

The Farnsworth estate, nearly opposite the Newton Club house, on Walnut street, Newtonville, is to be sold at auction by Elliott J. Hyde, on Saturday, July 27. It is one of the most centrally located residences in Newtonville and very desirable property. See adv.

John Hargreaves announces an executor's sale of building lots on Islington avenue, Auburndale, adjoining the Pulsifer estate. There are 65,000 feet of land, which will be sold at low figures and on very easy terms. See adv.

Next Monday at 3 p. m. Edward F. Barnes will sell the Hiram Marsh estate on Nevada street, Newtonville, at public auction. The sale is without a limit and any one who desires a home at moderate cost would do well to attend.

Rentals effected by Wiley S. & Frank Edmonds are: Residence of Geo. B. Jones, Kendrick street, furnished, to Mr. J. J. Waite of Brooklyn, N. Y. Furnished house of Mrs. Williams, No. 137 Waverley avenue, to Mrs. J. Everett, to Mr. A. E. Hasbrook of "Boston Traveler" the estate of Chas. E. Polsey on Lake avenue, Newton Highlands.

The rain interfered with the auction sale of building lots, at Jerome Park, West Newton, Tuesday afternoon, by Elliott J. Hyde. Nearly half of the lots have been disposed of at private sale. The terms are so easy that almost any one can afford to invest.

In Memoriam.

Died at West Newton, Mass., July 2, 1895, Mrs. Sarah R. P. widow of Dr. J. H. Brown, aged 82 years.

Born in Braintree, she removed to Boston and from thence, after marriage, to West Newton, where she spent 45 years of her life, the last nine of which as a confirmed invalid confined to her room and unable to walk.

Her religious life began under the ministry of Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Adams and she made profession of her faith by uniting with the church in Boston, of which he was pastor.

A woman of rare character, with a mind so bright and active and a nature so sunny and sympathetic that she attracted her friends to her. While delighting to review the past she kept in touch with all that was going on in the world. Though laid aside from active duty she continued to do good by the kindly messages of her pen and her example of cheerful patience. She was a lover of all good things. The study of God's word was a delight to her and by her fresh and original thought about it, was she helpful to her pastor.

The Sabbath was peculiarly precious to her. She caused to be written and published a booklet entitled "Aunt Ruth's Sunday" that she might do something for its preservation against the inroads which so grieved her spirit.

She enjoyed the friendship of Christian friends and her chamber was frequently by them because they loved to visit her.

In her Christian experience she was clear and intelligent. She knew where she stood. It was upon the Rock. Her faith was revealed in the calmness with which she anticipated her departure. Her friends loved her and they mourn her departure, though glad in the thought of her release from the severe and protracted sufferings of the years.

To the circle of her acquaintance the memory of life sitting in her chair is more eloquent than any words from the pulpit.

Beware of the Bloomers.

It is "new" Mrs. Young of Florida who has defended herself, and enforced respect for her bloomers in a way that will endear her to every cycling bloomeress on the road. A man, a deacon of the church, too, spoke disrespectfully of this new garment as Mrs. Young "scooped" by him. The lady heard the remark and the next day wheeled down to his store, entered and before he could wink covered this bloomer sneerer with a revolver, demanding an apology for his rude remarks. Needless to say, he apologized handsomely, and also wrote a card for the papers in which he retracted all unpleasant comment. Thus satisfied, Mrs. Young remounted on her steady and rode gayly away, complete mistress of the situation. You can't be too careful where bloomers and bicycles are concerned.—Boston Herald.

New England Assembly.

"Chautauqua" is a word to call up many pleasant associations. It means pleasure with improvement of every part of one's nature. The annual gathering at Lakeview, South Framingham this year is from July 23 to August 5, inclusive, the opening being concluded with the usual illuminations and fireworks, after an interesting lecture on "Dixie before the War." This year a brass band of twenty-five pieces will be in attendance throughout the session. The usual delightful melange of concerts, lectures, class exercises, readings, chorus rehearsals, reunions, gymnastics, round tables, etc., will delight all who attend.

Has Not Been Away.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:—

Will you please allow me to correct the statement that appeared in your last week's issue, I was not [on my] vacation but was at my work as usual during the week and was never out of town.

Also allow me to correct the misleading reports that have been circulated by a citizen throughout this village, concerning my having absconded with the money belonging to the I. O. G. T.

I sincerely hope that no more such reports will be circulated. If there is I shall be in duty bound to take legal proceedings against the offender or offenders. Let this be a warning.

ENNEST YOUNG,

Newton Highlands, Mass.

SENATOR HOAR ON APAISM.

HAS NO SYMPATHY WITH THOSE WHO ARE TRYING TO STIR UP STRIFE BETWEEN CITIZENS.

George F. Hoar, who is a trustee of Clark university at Worcester, welcomed the summer school there Monday. The passage in his address of most general interest relates to the conditions which led to the recent outbreak at East Boston. Here is what he said on this subject:

I called attention one year ago to the socialistic troubles and dangers. Our numbers were decreased by the railroad troubles. Bands of hungry men were marching to Washington. I ventured to predict that they could not disturb even the least function of our municipal government. The prediction has proved to be a reality. The danger has gone by and is in the past. We are confronted to-day, however, with another public danger quite as serious and yet quite as transitory as that of last year. That comes from an attempt to arouse the old feelings of the dark ages and which ought to have ended with them, between men who have different forms of faith. (Applause). It is an attempt to recall on one side the cruelty of the Catholic church and frighten men and women of both sexes (laughter), and on the other side to find the men of the Catholic church all ready for political action. Both of these attempts will fail. I happened to be reading last night from Milton where in writing of the Puritans he wrote: "Nothing but wide ocean and the savage deserts of America could hide and shelter them from the fury of the bishops." There can be no apprehension on the part of the bishops from any one who has known 50 years of Williams of the Catholic church and who knew Brooks of the Protestant church.

We have an institution we mean to stand by, protect and make perpetual and that is the common school open to all the children and free from sectarian control. Now it is said a portion of our citizens, as is their right, desire to send their children to receive a particular form of religious education. They have a perfect right to do so, but some of them go further and say that so deserving and exercising that right, it is not fair to contribute for the common schools. I hope our Catholic friends will see they are mistaken in this expectation. Does any priest, teacher or parent doubt that his Protestant fellow citizen has an equal right to send his child to a non-sectarian school? Do they doubt it is for the best interest of the whole community that all should receive an education somewhere? Everybody who desires to send his children to a place other than the common school expects to pay his share. Our friend, Mr. Salisbury, cheerfully pays his share for the common school, although I am sorry to say he does not send his children to the schools. My children are past the age, but I pay for the support of the school and expect to pay. The rich man, who sends his children to other schools, even the bachelor, all pay cheerfully and because of duty for the common school. The Episcopalian sends his children to St. Paul's or to the Concord schools but he pays his share. Now is there any reason why our Catholic citizens should ask to be exempt from the common rule? It seems to me that this simple consideration ought to put an end to this warfare, which I deem a dangerous cloud.

The Massachusetts law is that the common school for every child is to be provided, as the public charge for all the children and that obligation is the bottom mortgage on every dollar of the people. (Applause). The right of the parent is absolute and inalienable, and if these two truths are taken together will remove discord. I have no patience or tolerance with the spirit that would excite strife. It is as much out of place as the witchcraft delusion or the fires of Smithfield.

We have 700,000 Catholics in Massachusetts and more than 50 per cent. of our population are of foreign birth or parentage, who retain an affection for their old land as our ancestors did. I have a letter written by my mother's father in which he speaks of England as home, although his ancestors had been away from there for more than 150 years. Are we not to live in comfort, peace and hope? Are we to widen and deepen a ditch, to build up a wall of fire between our fellow-citizens who will and are to wield 50 per cent. of the political power on which depends the hope and glory of the state we love?

This nation is a composite. It is made of many streams, the union of many streams, the twisting and winding of many strands. Now the quality, hope and destiny of our land is expressed in the phrase of our fathers, E Pluribus Unum, of many, one. Of many states, one nation. Of many creeds, one faith. Of many bended knees, one family of God.

Dined By His Classmates.

Rev. Francis E. Clark, the president and founder of the Christian Endeavor Society, was tendered a complimentary dinner last Saturday afternoon, at the Boston University Club by members of the class of 1873 of Dartmouth College, of which Mr. Clark was a graduate. The dinner was informal, and there were no speeches, although remarks were made by a number of the gentlemen present. Among those present were: Rev. George A. Gates, D. D., president of Iowa college; Rev. S. W. Adriane of Winchester, Rev. J. M. Dutton of Newtonville, Dr. Otis H. Marion of Allston, Prof. McCurdy of Phillips Academy, Mr. J. R. Clark, Mr. Alfred S. Hale, Mr. N. W. Ladd and Mr. Thomas Savage of this city.

Among other prominent men who were classmates of Dr. Clark are Dr. Charles F. Bradley, professor in the Garrett Biblical Institute of Evanston, Ill.; Prof. John H. Wright of Harvard University; Rev. Pitt Dillingham, Dr. E. C. Dudley of Chicago, Mr. A. K. Whitcomb, superintendent of schools of Lowell; Rev. N. T. Dyer and Rev. A. Wiswell.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

CONVENTION SUNDAY

AT THE CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AT NEWTONVILLE.

The Central Congregational church was appropriately decorated in honor of Convention Sunday, and large congregations gathered both morning and evening.

Rev. Edwin Heyl Deik of Hagerstown, Maryland, occupied the pulpit in the morning. His text was from John 1, 41, "He first findeth his own brother Simon," and he announced his theme in the question, "Have we a religion for men?" a question naturally prompted by the fact that women make up the largest part of the attendance upon our religious services.

The first answer to the question is found in the character of Christ, which he tested in four different ways, showing how He stands out serene and unmoved in the presence of outraged nature, as in the tempest on Galilee, and in the midst of the angry mob at Nazareth, how he rises supreme in power and righteous wrath, in the presence of man's greed and cleanses the temple of money changers, and under the physical suffering of the Passion, is patient and magnanimous to the last. Is there any lack of true manhood here?

The second answer is found in Christian Biography. Beginning with the disciples, the preacher cited Peter and John before the Sanhedrin, and heroic incidents in the life of Paul; then with allusions to the devoted missionaries of the early church and the heroic reformers of the middle ages, he brought the list of Christian heroes down to modern times and ended with Gladstone, the greatest statesman of his age, and Patrick Henry, of whom the Outlook truly says, "There is no braver figure in American history."

The third answer is found in the need of redemptive forces to-day. The great evils of the time, intemperance, open and secret licentiousness, municipal misrule, organized infidelity, call for all that is virile and courageous in reform, and this is work for men, these are foes to be grappled with by Christian citizenship, thought here are ecclesiastical spinsters, who say that clergymen should keep their hands off such dirty things. Christianity is the only dynamic to bring about social reform. The church is the only true centre of civilization, the only place where men can meet as social equals, the only force to conserve true family life. Christianity creates character without which social stability is impossible. And lastly, Christianity seeks to reclaim the wreckage of society.

The last answer to the question is the sure and certain coming of the Kingdom outlined by Jesus of Nazareth, a Kingdom that means art, literature, science, industry perfected and ennobled, cities purified, nations federated, and Jesus, King over all.

In conclusion, the speaker put the personal question, "What are we going to do about it?" Exactly as we are told in our text, "As Andrew went to find Simon," let every man seek another man with the message, I have found the Christ.

Have we a religion for men? Yes, I am not so sure that we have the men for the religion, but God can transform character into what the time demands, great hearts, strong minds, willing hands, consecrated lives.

In the evening Dr. Farrar spoke of the syncretistic development of Christianity and found a type of it in the great convention with its noble purposes, its wide-reaching sympathies, its lofty spiritual aspirations.

Dr. Boyd of North Carolina began by saying he would speak on no special topic, but like the negro exhibitor, he would "just branch out" and give some idea of existing conditions in the South. You hear little, he said, of the work of reform in the South, yet when the people in Louisiana felt the time had come, they rose and voted out of existence the Lottery with its great fortune and its mighty influence.

We make no noise about our temperance work, yet in Mississippi there are only five counties where saloons can be licensed, and in the country towns of North Carolina there are no saloons.

Of the race problem Dr. Boyd said little. Time alone can solve it in the educational, moral and political elevation of the negro race. If people who leave money to Northern colleges could only realize the poverty of Southern institutions, $100,000 given to the south is worth more than a million to the over-rich northern colleges.

The speaker made a striking comparison between the development of northern industry and the almost untouched resources of the South, and found hopeful conditions in the fact that the south has a homogeneous people made up of old English gentry, Scotch, Irish, Yankee, Huguenot artisan, and negroes who are always loyal Americans.

The new south is a land of freedom and liberty, with traditions parallel with those of the north, sympathizing with their perplexities and problems, and truly, loyally American.

We recommend Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure because we believe it a safe and reliable remedy. Its good effects are shown at once in cases of Cholera Morbus and similar complaints. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Her Right.

(From Puck.)
Mrs. Brisk (severely)—Maud, when I looked into the parlor last night your head was resting on Mr. Huggins' bosom!

Miss Maud Brisk—Yes, mamma; but that is my vested right now—dear Walter had just proposed.

Have you ever noticed how your system seems to crave special assistance in the spring? Just the help required is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Tom—"If you had the privilege of kissing a pretty girl on the right or left cheek, which would you do?" Dick—"It would be hard to choose but between the two, I should probably find a way out of the dilemma."—Boston Transcript.

There is great danger in neglecting Colic, Cholera and similar complaints. An absolutely prompt and safe cure is found in Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Success follows the use of Hall's Hair Renewer for grayness and baldness.

THE BICYCLE FACE.

A SPORTSMAN WHO HOLDS IT TO BE AN INDICATION OF CHARACTER.

"How many persons have been annoyed by the criticisms of cycling and jests about the so-called bicycle face?" said an enthusiastic sportsman to a New York Tribune reporter. "It is, indeed, singular that the learned persons who have discovered this bicycle face come from the ranks of the vast army who ride in cable or trolley cars. For centuries it has been known to close observers that all men and women who ride horses, camels or elephants have set faces. When Alexander commanded his orderlies to face Bucephalus toward the sun that he might not see his shadow, and mounted the fretful charger, does any one believe that the king's features were relaxed and that the face of the mighty conqueror wore a grin? A hundred times no. The great general wore the so-called bicycle face. Did not Julius Caesar say that the stern, warlike features of his cavalry were a host when his troopers confronted the infantry of Pompey?"

"Did anybody ever see an ancient bas-relief or sculpture in which the features of the equestrian figures did not bear the stamp of the bicycle face? Down through the ages every rider bears the set face of the cyclist. Nobody can ride any animal or any machine that requires the centralization of thought without his features reflecting the concentration. Railroad engineers, sailors, drivers of trotting horses in races, jockeys, cavalry men and all other equestrians have the bicycle face."

"In riding a horse, no matter where it may be, either in the park or on the prairie, the rider's mind should be on his horse. If a rider on either a horse or a bicycle is going through Central Park he may chat with a companion; but it is certain that the appearance of other riders coming toward him will cause his mind to concentrate on the question of what the persons coming toward him are going to do, and how they will turn to avoid him. His wheel or his horse constantly requires his attention even if he continues to converse with his companion."

"The lone horseman on the prairie may think of home or a thousand other things, but his safety demands that he keep his mind centered on gopher-holes and other obstacles which may mean a fall. The boys who ride or exercise thoroughbreds acquire the bicycle face in a few weeks, their minds are on their safety, even if their fancy runs riot, and they imagine that the horses they ride are future Derby or St. Leger winners. They must be alert and quick to act in an emergency. Consequently all successful jockeys have the bicycle face."

"The Mexicans, who ride as well as the Indians on the plains, have pronounced bicycle faces. So have the Moors and Egyptians, who ride the horse of the desert. In the Russian Cossack the bicycle face is hereditary, as the Russian is practically born in the saddle. Nobody ever saw a negro of South Africa with a bicycle face."

"To many, and especially to women, the bicycle face is a bugbear. The set face of an expert horsewoman enhances her appearance, especially if she is fair to look upon. When the woman who has the bicycle face smiles she illuminates everything about her, and causes untold agony to the women who would be beautiful if their features were set. The woman who can ride gracefully on either a horse or a bicycle invariably defeats her sister who has never permitted her pleasures or pastimes to concentrate her thought."

"It is the same with men. A man who has not the slightest claim to passable good looks, who would be unnoticed as a porter or laborer, would yet attract attention as a trooper or cavalryman, when concentration of thought caused his homely features to assume character by being set and firm."

"To sum up, anybody who rides every day on a wheel and does not acquire the bicycle face lacks character, and is a menace to himself and everybody else when on the road or on the track. The bicycle face denotes strength of mind in the persons who possess it. It means alertness, quick perception and prompt action in emergencies. The idiotic grin of some of the cigarette-smoking fellows who make fun of bicycling can never be mistaken for the 'bicycle face.'"

TO TAKE ECHO BRIDGE.

METROPOLITAN PARK COMMISSIONERS REPORTED TO HAVE DECIDED UPON SEIZING THIS NOTED STRUCTURE.

The Metropolitan Park Commission has decided to take Echo Bridge, located at Newton Upper Falls, near the Needham line, and also the adjacent piece of property known as Hemlock Gorge, for park purposes. In a recent report the commissioners say, "One of the most beautiful landscape features in the neighborhood of Boston, and something unique in its way, is the spot in the neighborhood of the bridge carrying the Sudbury aqueduct of the Boston water system across the Charles, widely known as 'Echo Bridge,' and so called on account of its wonderful echoes. This is the wild and romantic 'Hemlock Gorge,' where the stream retains much of its primitive aspect, with steep banks of conglomerate rock, clothed for the most part with a magnificent growth of hemlock, the whole forming an extraordinarily beautiful landscape feature which should be preserved intact for the enjoyment of the public forever."

The commission has had plans drawn and is about to seize the land in the interests of the State. It will be improved somewhat, but will be left so far as possible in its wild state.

Feels Like Himself Again.

"About a year ago I began to feel run down and the doctor told me that I had palpitation. My husband advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking three bottles I am feeling like myself again." Mrs. R. E. Swan, Buckman St., Everett, Mass.

Hood's Pills cure sick headache.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10¢ and 25¢. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 5,000,000 boxes.

Livery Stables.

DANIEL'S Nonantum Stables.

HENRY C. DANIELS, Proprietor.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire. Landaus and Hack, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals, 8¢ and reliable horses for livery to drive.

—BOARDING—
Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention.
Telephone 271-3.

GEO. W. BUSH, Livery, Hack & Boarding STABLE.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses. Hacks at depot or the conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.
Telep. Lone Connection.

Livery, Hack, & Boat Sleigh, Snow Bird.

F. CATE, W. Newton. Boarding Stable.

Ranges, Furnaces, Water Heaters, Steam Boilers,

AT FACTORY STORE OF

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co.,

GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS.

Telephone No. 430, Newton.

Furnaces, Ranges Cleaned and Repaired

L. H. CRANITCH,

House, Sign, and Ornamental

PAINTER.

Paper Hangings in great variety and work promptly done.

Walnut St., - Newtonville.

2nd door from Central Block.

Newton Land Improvement.

A. S. N. ESTES,

Landscape Engineer.

Room 303 Sears Building,

199 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

Will add ten years to your life.

RUBBER TIRES.

I am prepared to apply Rubber Tires of the most approved pattern to carriages, at the following low prices:

3-4 in. tread, set of 4 wheels	$35.00	Renewed for	$23.00
7-8 " " " "	40.00	" " "	25.00
1 " " " "	45.00	" " "	30.00
1-8 " " " "	50.00	" " "	35.00
1-4 " " " "	55.00	" " "	40.00
1-3 " " " "	60.00	" " "	45.00
1-2 " " " "	65.00	" " "	50.00

P. A. MURRAY,

CARRICE BUILDER,

200 to 210 Washington St., Newton.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY

WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 8 cents per square yard for Turkey Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Removal and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE,

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7.

Factory and Residence, Clinton Street

GENUINE BARGAINS

always to be obtained by those who are in want of

STRICTLY ALL WOOL FABRICS

Suitable for Ladies', Gents', Youths' or Children's wear, by calling on us, where they may be found in all weights and the latest shades and styles. Full line of WHITE . . . BED . . . BLANKETS.

All sizes and prices. Also

Horse Blankets for Street and Stable Use!

ALL THE

Remnants and Imperfect Goods Made at The Assabet Mills

are sold by us and at the lowest prices. Call and examine them.

The People's Dry Goods Company,

MAYNARD, MASS.

The Sale Room is open until 6 p. m., except Saturdays; closes Saturday at 12 o'clock. Positively open as above until further notice in this paper.

Everett, Mass.

Water Bugs and Roaches.

CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR EXTERMINATOR

No dust. No trouble to use.

Price, 50¢. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If you druggist grocer does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price

BARNARD & CO.,

7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON

FOR SALE BY BARRETT BROS., NEWTON.

Plumbers.

Having

Purchased the business of the Newtonville Heating and Plumbing Co., I beg leave to inform the public that I am prepared to do all work in the.....

PLUMBING AND HEATING

Line at short notice in a workmanlike and satisfactory manner at reasonable prices. Jobbing and repairs a specialty. Please give me a trial. References given.

GEO. E. THOMPSON

Formerly of 824 Washington Street, NEWTONVILLE.

HEWITT & THOMAS, Practical Plumbers.

And Sanitary Engineers. 247 WASHINGTON ST., Nonantum Block, Newton.

M. C. HIGGINS, Practical Plumber

—AND—
SANITARY ENGINEER.

Plumbing Work in all its branches. Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city; perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Summer's Block, Newton.

ESTABLISHED IN 1896.

T. J. HARTNETT, Plumber and Sanitary Engineer.

IRON DRAINAGE & VENTILATION A SPECIALTY. JOBBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 375 Centre Street, - Newton.

Carpenters and Builders.

G. W. RIGBY, Carpenter and Builder.

JOBBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. Washington St., opp. Waban, Newton.

S. K. MacLEOD, Carpenter and Builder.

Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed. Bathrooms and Fixtures for Plumbers' Work a Specialty. SHOP: CENTRE PL., Opp. PUBLIC LIBRARY. Residence: Boyd Street, near Jewett.

Mrs. E. A. SMITH, Millinery.

202 Moody Street, Opp. Walnut, Waltham, Mass.

JUVENE

Spring and Summer MILLINERY.

E. JUVENE ROBBINS

Eliot Block, Newton.

HOWARD B. COFFIN,

DEALER IN

Fine Teas, Best Coffees.

AND NEWTON AGENT FOR

Deerfoot Farm Products.

363, 361 CENTRE ST., 4, 6 HALL ST. Cole's Block, Newton.

Newton and Watertown Gas Light Company

All orders for Gas or Electric Lighting left at their office, 421 Centre St., will receive prompt attention.

BOOK

—AND—

JOB PRINTING

Of Every Description Promptly Executed at the

Newton Graphic

OFFICE

285 Washington Street, NEWTON.

OF A LIKENESS KEPT IN A BOOK.

Let thy likeness be
In the book most opened,
Thus with all dear thoughts
Making itself common.
Dearest face to me
Of all the dear dead faces,
The spiritual graces
Of men and minds that were,
Of faces bright and sparkling
That still must somewhere shine,
Even as here thou shinest
In this face of mine.
—Edwin R. Chaplin in New York Sun.

JUSTICE IN MONACO.

I wish I had leisure to speak at length of this astonishing state, smaller than a French village, but where one finds an absolute sovereign, bishops, an army of Jesuits and divinity students more numerous than that of the prince, an artillery the ordinance of which is almost rifled, an etiquette more elaborate than that of the late Louis XIV, principles of government more despotic than those of William of Prussia, and, in addition to all this, a magnificent toleration for the vices of humanity.

On the other hand, let us salute this virtuous peacefully disposed king, who, fearing neither invasions nor revolutions, rules tranquilly over his happy little people in the midst of a court ceremonial, in which is preserved intact the tradition of four reverences, 26 hand kisses and all the forms observed in a bygone era in the presence of great rulers.

This monarch, above everything, is neither bloodthirsty nor revengeful, and when he banishes—for he does banish—the sentence is carried out with infinite tact.

Is it necessary to produce proofs of this?

A pigheaded gambler, after a day of bad luck, insulted the sovereign. He was expelled from the country by royal decree.

For a month he roamed around the forbidden paradise, fearing the flaming sword of the archangel in the shape of a gendarme's saber. Finally he one day plucked up courage, crossed the frontier, gained in 80 seconds the heart of the country and entered the Casino. But suddenly an official stopped him.

"Were you not banished, monsieur?"

"Certainly I was, but I am going back by the next train."

"Oh, in that case it is all right. You can enter, monsieur."

And every week he returned, and on each occasion the same official put to him the same question, which he answered in the same fashion.

But a few years ago a serious and entirely novel case arose in the principality.

A murder had been committed.

A man, a native of Monaco, not one of the transient strangers of whom one meets legions, but a married man, in a moment of passion had killed his wife.

He had killed her without reason, without any extenuating circumstance. This opinion was unanimous throughout the whole principality.

The supreme court met to judge this exceptional case, for never before had murder been committed, and the wretch was condemned to death.

The outraged sovereign signed the death warrant.

It only remained to execute the criminal. But here a difficulty presented itself. The country possessed neither executioner nor guillotine.

What was to be done? On the advice of the foreign minister, the prince entered into negotiations with the French government to obtain the loan of a remover of heads and his apparatus.

Long deliberations in the ministerial office at Paris. Finally they replied and forwarded a minute of expenses for moving the guillotine and for the services of the expert. The total was 16,000 francs.

His majesty of Monaco thought that the affair was going to cost him pretty dear; the murderer assuredly was not worth so much money. Sixteen thousand francs for the neck of a rascal! The devil!

He then preferred the same request to the Italian government. A king, a brother in royalty, would doubtless not prove such a hard bargainer as a republic.

The Italian government sent a minute of expenses which amounted to 12,000 francs.

Twelve thousand francs! Why, it would be necessary to impose a new tax, a tax of 2 francs a head on the inhabitants. That would be enough to stir up unknown troubles in the state.

He contemplated decapitating the ruffian by an ordinary soldier. But the general, on being consulted, was doubtful whether any of his men had had sufficient sword practice to acquit themselves satisfactorily of a task demanding great experience in handling the weapon.

So the prince again convened the supreme court and submitted to them this embarrassing position of affairs.

The court sat a long time without discovering any practical solution. At last the president suggested committing the death sentence into one of imprisonment for life, and the suggestion was adopted.

But they had no prison. It was necessary to improvise one. A jailer was also commissioned who took charge of the prisoner.

For six months everything went well. The convict slept all day on a mattress in his hut, and his guard did the same on a chair just inside the door facing the passersby.

But the prince is economical—it is his least fault—and requires the details of the smallest expenditures incurred throughout his dominions. Among these were placed before him the items of the disbursements relating to the creation of a new office, the maintenance of the prison, prisoner and jailer. The outlay on the last was a heavy drain on the royal purse.

His face lengthened visibly, and when he considered it might last forever, for the condemned man was still young, he insisted on his minister of justice taking measures to suppress this expense.

The minister held a consultation with the president of the tribunal, and the two agreed that the office of jailer might be abolished. The prisoner, required to guard himself all alone, would not fail to escape, and this would solve the question to the satisfaction of all.

The jailer was thereupon sent back to his family, and one of the under cooks of the palace was simply required to carry, morning and evening, food to the prisoner. But that gentleman made no attempt to recover his liberty.

One day indeed when they had failed to provide him with nourishment he coolly presented himself to claim it, and henceforth it was his custom, in order to save the cook a journey, to come at meal hours and eat with the servants of the palace, with whom he had become friendly.

After breakfast he would take a stroll as far as Monte Carlo. Occasionally he would enter the Casino and risk a few francs at play. When he won, he would treat himself to a good dinner at one of the leading hotels, then he would return to his prison and carefully lock the door from the inside.

He never slept out a single night.

The situation was becoming difficult, not for the condemned man, but for his judges.

Once more the court assembled, and it was decided that they should invite the criminal to depart from the states of Monaco.

On this decision being communicated to him he merely replied:

"I perceive you are joking. Come, now. Why should I go away, I indeed? I have no means of living. I have no longer any family. What do you wish me to do? I was condemned to death. You didn't execute me, I said nothing. Then I was condemned to imprisonment for life and handed over to a jailer. You deprived me of my jailer. Still I said nothing."

"Now you ask me to get out of the country. No, thank you. I am a prisoner, your prisoner, judged and condemned by you. I am carrying out my punishment faithfully. Here I stop."

The supreme court was dumfounded. The prince flew into a terrible rage and ordered them to act.

They applied themselves diligently to deliberating.

The outcome was it was decided they should offer the prisoner a pension of 600 francs a year to live in another country.

He accepted.

He has bought a little inclosed plot of land within five minutes' walk of the realm of his former sovereign; he lives happily on his estate, cultivating a few vegetables and holding potatoes in contempt.—From the French of Guy de Maupassant in Romance.

How They Got Rich.

When I talk to a man who has made a fortune by advertising, I wonder that anybody who has anything to sell does not go and do likewise. One man told me a day or two ago that his concern, with a nominal capital of $100,000, only $30,000 of which was paid in, has divided in a single year among three partners profits to the amount of $750,000, and that exclusive of salaries of $50,000 and $25,000 drawn by two members of the firm. Ten or twelve years ago this man was a drug clerk on a small salary in a western town and is now one of the millionaires of New York.

"Without advertising I might have made a living," he said, "but it was advertising that made me rich, and advertising a very simple commodity at that."

Another man, who bears similar testimony, tells me that his concern, which began by investing $10,000 a year in advertising, increased the amount every year according to their increase of business, and this year expects to spend $1,000,000. Still another, who confined himself entirely to the newspapers and magazines in the exploitation of his specialty, never having touched a dead wall, a fence or the broad side of a barn with poster or paintbrush, and never employing a salesman, has a cool million salted down in real estate, keeps his yacht and spends most of the year abroad in luxurious living.

Many other men of my acquaintance resting in ease and wealth have told me stories of their own experience with the same moral. Some day I am going to print these stories and give the names of the heroes.—Major Handy in Chicago Times-Herald.

The Kangaroo.

As showing the force of maternal love among the lower animals there are few more pathetic incidents than the following, which comes from Australia:

During a severe drought the owner of a country station was sitting one evening on the balcony outside his house when he was surprised to notice a kangaroo lingering about, alternately approaching and retreating from the house, as though half in doubt and fear what to do. At length she approached the water pails, and taking a young one from her pouch held it to the water to drink.

While her baby was satisfying its thirst the mother was quivering all over with excitement, for she was but a few feet away from the balcony, where one of her great foes was sitting, watching her. The little one having finished drinking, it was replaced in the pouch, and the old kangaroo started off at a rapid pace.

When the natural timidity of the kangaroo is taken into account, it will be recognized what astonishing bravery this affectionate mother betrayed.—Woman's Journal.

His Trade.

Warden—We like to put prisoners to work at what they are used to. What is your specialty?

Prisoner—I am the champion sprinter of the world. If you give me a fair show on an open road, I'll do a mile in time that'll make the eyes jump out of your head.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Country Roadside.

(Boston Herald.)

If the authorities of rural towns could be made to see how much their attractiveness for summer visitors depends upon the beauty of their roads they would take care not to disfigure them with the periodical "improvements" that mainly consist in chopping down and ploughing up the beautiful growths of wild shrubbery and herbaceous plants that give them one of their leading charms. Fortunately a remarkable change for the better in our country roads, as such, is taking place, thanks to the civilizing influence of the bicycle, and the American people are becoming alive to the true economy of well built highways. Hand in hand with this advance should go a sense of the desirability of good roads aesthetically as well as from an engineering point of view. When care is taken to make the borders of a hard and smooth country road attractive, then its condition becomes an ideal one. But when the wayside has been converted into a desert waste, however excellent the road bed may be, there is little pleasure to be obtained from driving over it unless the distant views which it commands should compensate for the ugliness of the foreground.

Garden and Forest, in depicting an ideal stretch of rural road, calls attention to some of the characteristics essential to the attractiveness of such roads under varying conditions. For example, it is held that where roads are laid through smooth and highly cultivated farmland, a broad border of turf extending on either side of the wheel track and flowing under open fences to unite with the grass of meadows or upland fields, with an occasional tree to break the monotony, is always agreeable to the eye when kept trim and neat.

"But where the features of the country are rugged and stony, undoubtedly the greatest beauty is secured if native shrubs and trees are allowed to take possession of the borders and the axe is withheld until they become too dense or aggressive." It is pointed out that it is a distinct advantage to have the wheel-track narrow on a road that is not greatly frequented, for a broad road always has a depressing effect, and the wayfarer feels lonesome on it, as he does on any other desert. In this connection attention may profitably be called to the advantage of reducing the width of roads where they have been laid out very broad by giving up a central reserved space—or, at the side, if the road traverses a region of a permanently rural character—for the use of electric cars. Both safety and beauty will thus be promoted.

"The more nearly a rural road is obliterated by its surroundings the more delightful it is, and this is especially true of a by-road which offers a sense of seclusion as one of its principal charms," it is remarked. "And again, a narrow road can be more easily and cheaply kept in repair, since every additional square yard of surface requires so much more work, and this is an important matter in a community where the road tax is a heavy item of expense."

It is very pertinently asked why should not the roadsides of a civilized country be treated with as much regard to their beauty as public parks are? For, in one sense, they are quite as truly a part of the general property of the people. In one of the hill towns of Connecticut this view has led an association of gentlemen to organize especially to protect the roadsides. This should also enter into the work of every village improvement society.

It is pointed out that the people who destroy this beauty do it quite unconsciously; they simply do not realize how much loveliness they are laying waste, and if their attention was called to it, and remonstrances made in every case where natural scenery is defaced, the evil would decrease. The fact that natural beauty has a distinct money value is a potent argument with a business truth that the man who diminishes the beauty of his estate by carelessly chopping down trees or defacing its road borders at the same time lowers the market value of his own land, and that of his neighbor's. It is also a truth demonstrated in practice that the beauty of any town who make an intelligent effort to preserve and develop its natural resources in the way of scenery also make a distinct addition to the market value of every acre within its limits.

Important Facts.

If you have dull and heavy pain across forehead and about the nostrils, if the nostrils are frequently stopped up and followed by a disagreeable discharge; if soreness in the nose and bleeding from the nostrils is often experienced; if you are very sensitive to cold in the head accompanied with headache; then you may be sure you have catarrh; and should (immediately) resort to Ely's Cream Balm for a cure. The remedy will give instant relief.

Longhead—"Madam, I wish to draw your attention to the sad case of a poor family. The father is too old to work, the mother is bedridden, and the five little children are crying for bread. To cap all, the poor creatures are about to be turned out on the street, unless someone will pay their arrears of rent, amounting to $30."—Mrs. Kindheart—"How terrible! Here is the $30 for the rent. By the way, may I ask you who are you?" Longhead (as he disappeared).—"Certainly, madam; I am the landlord."—New York Tribune.

To make your business pay, good health is a prime factor. To secure good health, the blood should be kept pure and vigorous by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When the vital fluid is impure and sluggish, there can be neither health, strength, nor ambition.

Expert advice. The Presidential Possibility—"I've been invited to make a speech before a citizens' club. Will my health permit of the exertion? The Physician—"What's the subject of the speech?" The Presidential Possibility—"Silver." The Physician (who knows a few things).—"Certainly not. I forbid you to leave the house for a month."—Chicago Record.

If you would have an abundance of dark, glossy hair, if you would have a clean scalp, free from dandruff and irritating humors, or if your hair is faded and gray, and you would have its natural color restored, use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is unquestionably the best dressing.

Stout lady (at street crossing, to policeman).—"Could you see me across the street, officer?" Policeman—"Sure, madam. I could see ye ten times the distance, aisy."—London Tid-Bits.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

Highest Quality of All.

Columbia Bicycles

The Standard for All.

Have you feasted your eyes upon the beauty and grace of the 1895 Columbias? Have you tested and compared them with all other makes? Only by such testing can you know how fully the Columbia justifies its proud title of the "Standard for the World." $100

Hartford Bicycles, next-best in quality, sell for $80 and $60; $50 for boys' and girls' sizes.

POPE MFG. CO.

General Offices and Factories,

HARTFORD, Conn.

BRANCH STORES:

Boston, New York, San Francisco, Chicago, Providence, Buffalo.

AN ART CATALOGUE of these famous wheels free at any Columbia Agency, or will be mailed for two 2-cent stamps.

JOHN S. SUMNER,

Agent for Columbia and Hartford Bicycles
352 Centre St. Newton.

All Pain Goes When Pain-Killer Comes

For Colic, Cramps, Cholera Morbus and all Summer Complaints, there is no cure equal to Pain-Killer. Get a bottle to-day. Keep it constantly on hand, for there is no kind of pain or ache—internal or external—that will not relieve. Accept no imitation or substitute. Genuine has PERRY DAVIS & SON on bottle. The quantity has been doubled, but the price is still 25c.

Pain-Killer

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT.

Successors to

P. A. MURRAY.

Washington Street,

NEXT TO

Murray's Carriage Manufactory

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

Used and endorsed by Adams Express Co.

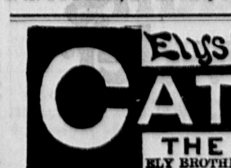

TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, The Great Cure for Man and Beast.

$100 Reward (if not cured) for every case of Colic, Contracted and Knotted Cords, Cures, Splint Shoe Bells (when first started), and Coughs of all kinds. Never fails to relieve Spavins, Ringbones, or Coughs of all kinds.

Read following from a letter dated Boston, Aug. 5, 1892:—"TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, diluted with water and applied externally, in connection with TUTTLE'S CONDITION POWDERS, cured my horse of a sore of 6 months standing. It also proved a success as applied to bleeding warts on my cow's teats; and a severe case of Rheumatism from which my man was suffering, was relieved at once."

A. R. WHITTIER.

Tuttle's Family Elixir Cures Rheumatism, Coughs, Colds, Lame Back, Sprains, Sore Throat, La Grippe and Pneumonia. Sample bottle FREE, or sent to any address on receipt of 3 2-cent stamps to S. A. TUTTLE, 27 Beverly St., Boston. J. N. DANFORTH, Brighton, Agent.

Ely's Cream Balm For

CATARRH

THE POSITIVE CURE.

ELY BROTHERS, 66 Warren St., New York. Price 50 cts.

Real Estate and Insurance.

ESTABLISHED 1859. TELEPHONE 2809.

HYDE'S Real Estate Agency

31 MILK ST.,

ROOM 205,

BOSTON, MASS.

Auctioneer, Mortgages Negotiated.

Newton Office:

JOHN A. EVANS, Agent, 67 Elmwood Street, Newton Property a Specialty.

N. Highlands Office:

Newhall's Block, Lincoln Street, Newton Highlands Property a Specialty.

ELLIOTT J. HYDE.

REAL ESTATE

To Sell or Rent.

INSURANCE, MONEY TO LOAN.

Carriages ready to take customers to see property.

Newton Centre Office: Union Street, opposite Railroad Station.

Boston Office: 113 Devonshire St., Room 2

SIDNEY P. CLARK, Newton Centre

Established 1857.

F. G. BARNES & SON

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance

BROKERS.

Auctioneers for Real and Personal Property.

FOR SALE AND FOR RENT

A large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: 27 State St., Boston; Brickett's Block, NEWTON.

WILEY S. & FRANK EDMANDS

178 Devonshire St., Boston.

Insurance Agents and Brokers.

Mortgages Wanted.

Newton Real Estate a Specialty.

Houses For Sale, $3000 and upwards. To Let $25 to $100. Furnished, $35 to $250.

Choice Building Lots, 10 cents to 50 cents.

For Buying and Selling

Real Estate

And Placing of Mortgages

And

Fire Insurance

In Every Part of NEWTON Apply to

Henry T. Wills,

113 Devonshire Street, Boston.

Telephone No. 3874.

ALVORD BROS & CO.

113 Devonshire Street, Boston

NEWTON REAL ESTATE, MORTGAGES AND INSURANCE.

Artistic new houses, every modern device for comfort and luxury, generous lots, aristocratic neighborhoods in town for $15,000. If so, see us. It will please you. How about a daisy on West Newton Hill, with stable, 16,465 ft. land, magnificent view, $12,500, terms to suit. New modern houses, Hunsnewell Hill, $10,500, $8,500, $7,000, $5,000, $3,000. Choice house lots, near new Hunsnewell Hill Club House; others, Mt. Ida, West Newton Hills. Houses to let. Money to loan on mortgage.

Desirable houses to rent.

CIRCUIT PROPERTY A SPECIALTY.

Are You Looking For

a first class, new, modern 13 room house, in one of the most convenient, select neighborhoods in town for $15,000. If so, see us. It will please you. How about a daisy on West Newton Hill, with stable, 16,465 ft. land, magnificent view, $12,500, terms to suit. New modern houses, Hunsnewell Hill, $10,500, $8,500, $7,000, $5,000, $3,000. Choice house lots, near new Hunsnewell Hill Club House; others, Mt. Ida, West Newton Hills. Houses to let. Money to loan on mortgage.

Desirable houses to rent.

CIRCUIT PROPERTY A SPECIALTY.

ABAN, TROWBRIDGE & CO.,

53 State St., Boston. Eliot Block, Newton.

Carpets

.....Cleaned.

am prepared to fill all orders for the

Taking Up, Cleaning and Re-

laying of Carpets,

at short notice and in the best manner.

PETER S. WHITE,

TREMONT BLOCK,

Newtonville, Mass.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
285 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-3.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

BOSTON'S DEBTS.

THE committee that has been investigating the condition of Boston's finances have not made a very encouraging report. They find that the city has a debt of some $43,000,000, and that the debt is bound to grow unless some radical changes are made. Boston is not regarded as an example of a corruptly governed city, like New York, but there has always been a tendency in that direction, no matter what party has been in power. There has not been that devotion to strictly business principles that should characterize a well-governed city, and the commission mildly says that the people "should demand of their representatives watchfulness and care over city expenditures, and not merely that they should see how much can be got out of the city treasury. Employees should be expected to exercise the same care and to practice the same economy as would be demanded in any well-conducted business. Where this is done they should be commended, and failure to meet these requirements should be cause for discharge. There are undoubtedly many faithful and careful employees of the city but there are also many whose only idea seems to be to draw a large salary and to do as little work as possible."

"Those having charge of the departments and appropriations should at all times exercise the closest scrutiny so as to make the best use of the available means. It is not necessary always to spend the whole of an appropriation simply because it has been given, and often to exceed it."

Boston is now confronted with a condition and not a theory, the debt limit and the tax limit has about been reached under the existing laws, and something must be done. The commission calls attention to several ways in which the city has lost money, one of which is by giving away valuable franchises for nothing.
Corporations that in other cities have to pay liberally for their privileges, and can well afford to, are in Boston treated with special kindness. One way of increasing income, which the commission recommends is a tax of 1-2 per cent on the gross receipts, of the street railway company the same as is done in other cities, which would bring in about $100,- 000 a year.

Newton has found that the presence of a street railway in a street adds largely to the cost of keeping it in order, and in Boston this item alone must add largely to the amount of the yearly expenditures. The West End company is making money, but Boston gets nothing for the valuable franchises it has granted and in the matter of transfers, about which a good deal has been said of late,
the Boston public gets fewer privileges than the people of most other cities.
This is only one of the sources of revenue to which the commission calls attention.

The report as a whole does not give much encouragement to those who have been agitating the annexation of more suburban cities and towns to Boston.
Here in Newton it is evident that we are a great deal better off than if we were a ward of Boston, where politics has had so much to do with the government of the city, and where politics is responsible for a great part of the city's debt.
Outsiders may well feel thankful that they are still outside, after reading of the magnitude of Boston's debt, and the other statements of the commission.

Boston has voted to begin work at once on the section connecting the Boston and Newton ends of Commonwealth avenue, which will be good news to all interested in the success of the Newton enterprise. It is a magnificent enterprise for Newton, and it hardly seems possible that it is only a little over a year since work was first begun in Newton, the exact date being May 30, 1894.
It is promised that within a few weeks,
the boulevard will be finished as far as Washington street in West Newton, and then the public will have one of the finest roads for pleasure driving in the country. The barge that runs over one section is fairly well patronized, and the street railway, it is said, had made arrangements to get electric power from the Newton & Boston company, and have made their contracts for the necessary poles, rails, wire and ties. It is also reported that the original members of the Commonwealth Avenue street railway company have sold out and that at present there are only two or three Newton men left in the company. But if they build the road promptly and run their cars regularly probably no one will complain. The general opinion at the time the charter was granted was that sooner or later the road would fall into the hands of the West End company.

SOME curious things have been developed over the laying out of the new boulevard through Auburndale. One estate was assessed for $2,200, and the owners presented a claim for damages amounting to $1,000 for a portion of the land. It is needless to state that the city authorities were surprised, and think that the assessors have been remiss in not discovering that land in that section was of such great value. Some surprising discoveries as to the value of land are also reported to have been made on Washington street; corner lots in the square at Newtonville covered with business blocks, are reported to be only assessed at some 60 cents a foot, while land of the same nature in the business part of Newton was sold some years ago for $2.50 per foot. The valuation of land in different parts of the city is not at all uniform, and until recently the north side of the city paid more than its share of the taxes, on account of the low valuation on the south side. Recent mayors have succeeded in getting the south side marked up at the rate of some quarter of a million a year. In wards one and seven owners of real estate are lucky if they can sell for the assessed value, while judging from the above statements in regard to Newtonville and Auburndale, the property owners would hardly be willing to sell at double the valuation. It takes time of course to correct all these inequalities, but they will be done now that they are being investigated. The new boulevard and the widening of Washington street will be of great benefit to the city in more ways than one.

THE Boston Herald's real estate editor notes the fact that a new standard of income has been set for first-class realty, and that investors are now almost forced to pay such prices that the returns are small. Many trustees are content if they can get 4 per cent. without risk, and there is so much money seeking safe investments that large returns can not be looked for. This of course applies mainly to the older and more thickly settled parts of Boston, but the same conditions affect more or less all high-class real estate. The compensation is that such investments are safe, and are unlike corporation stock which may turn out to be valueless, owing to the mismanagement of those in charge, as many have found to their sorrow. Newton real estate seems to be regarded as especially desirable, judging from the large number of sales for investment purposes that have been made this spring.

THE Waltham aldermen are still wrestling with the Newton street railway-Moody street grade problem, and had a hearing this week on the question of compelling the street railway to conform to the original grade of the street, and an order was passed appropriating $500 to pay part of the expense and requiring the railway company to pay the rest. The company was also granted a franchise on Newton and River streets to the Watertown line, on condition that the work shall be completed within this year. This is a part of the new line that is to run through Adams and Bridge streets in Newton to Bemis station, and which has been delayed so long by the contest with the Watertown selectmen, over the franchise for the portion lying within the limits of that town.

WALTHAM and some other towns are arresting wheelmen for riding on the sidewalks. If their roads were as good as most of the Newton roads they would have no trouble. A careful observer says that when wheelmen strike a town that is all plastered over with signs warning riders to keep off the sidewalks, it can generally be assumed that the roads are impassable, or such signs would not be needed. It may be necessary to put up such signs on Washington street, if the work of widening it is much longer delayed.

THE People's party are the first in the field and at their convention, this week, nominated E. Gerry Brown of Brockton, for governor, and T. C. Buddington, of Springfield, for lieutenant-governor, with a full state ticket. Their platform is not such a bad one, aside from the free silver plank, and most people could subscribe to all the other articles. The People's party really believe in their platform, which is more than can be said of the usual political platform, which is merely designed to catch votes.

EVERY little while the Boston papers report that the Highway committee has made a final decision on the method of widening Washington street, and give the details, but the committee has changed its mind so many times that it is just as well to wait for their formal report. It is said to be settled, however, that all the widening will be on the south side, wherever there is land enough for that purpose.

THE Highway committee report an order for hearing on taking the land between the tunnel and the Centre street crossing for the widening of Washington street, at the first meeting in August.

At the same meeting an order for seizing the land from the tunnel in Newton to Germain street in West Newton will be presented.

WALTHAM has a number of unsanitary schoolhouses, which the board of health has denounced in very plain terms, and so the city council has set to work to remedy matters. It would not be a bad idea for the Newton board of health to make a thorough investigation of all the Newton schoolhouses, and discover if they are in a healthy condition.

WITH the opening of the new street railway from West Newton to Lower Falls, and the completion of the line from Lower Falls to Wellesley Hills, it will be possible to go by electric cars from Boston to Holliston, by way of South Framingham, and it would make a very pleasant excursion for some pleasant day.

No city government meeting, this week,
to vary the monotony of vacation time, but perhaps at next week's meeting something may be done about Washington street.

THE comment is made that the free silver movement has reached the dime museum stage, judging from the long distance debate in Chicago between Horr and Harvey.

THREE sergeants are soon to be appointed and the claims of the different patrolmen are being more or less eagerly discussed by their friends.

NEWTON was never more attractive than at this season, and the stay-at-homes are having rather the best of it this summer.

By EDWARD F. BARNES, Auctioneer, 2
State Street, Boston.

GUARDIAN'S SALE

REAL ESTATE

Nevada St., Newtonville,

Public Auction

ON THE PREMISES

MONDAY, JULY 22,

AT 3 O'CLOCK

in the afternoon, the

Hiram Marsh Estate,

situated on the easterly side of Nevada Street, Newtonville, and consisting of a good substantial dwelling house of 7 rooms and bath room, all in first-class order inside, with stable and lot containing 13,500 square feet of land, having old fruit and shade trees in abundance.

This sale is imperative without limit and would make a desirable home at moderate cost for any one having to move on account of the Washington Street widening.

Terms cash but the auctioneer can arrange with buyer for a mortgage if desired.
$100 to be paid at time and place of sale, balance in cash within ten days at the office of EDWARD F. BARNES,
27 State Street, Boston.

The undersigned has taken an office in

Nickerson's Block, West Newton,

for the purpose of buying and selling

Real Estate, Renting Property and

Collecting

rents. Having had 20 years' experience in managing and renting real property, he will promptly and faithfully attend to such business as may be entrusted to his care. Money loaned on real estate. Mortgages negotiated, titles examined.
Deeds and conveyances made. Acknowledgments taken. Insurance placed in the best companies, and auction sales attended.

M. MORTON,
1347 Washington Street,
West Newton.

Nickerson's Block,
32

MARRIED.

CORNISH-MACOMBER-At Fall River, July 15, John Jervis Cornish of Newtonville and Maud Macomber of Fall River.

ARENAULT-GOVELINE-At Newton, July 15,
The Arsenault and Annie Goveline.

BACON-DILLAY-At Boston, July 15, Charles Mason Bacon of Newton and Charlotte Elizabeth Dillay.

LOVELY-LORNSAN-At Newton, July 14,
Simon T. Lovely and Jennie Lornsan.

LUCY-DESMOND-At Newton, July 10, Jeremiah F. Lucy and Delia Desmond.

DIED.

HUNTING-At Newtonville, July 15, Herbert F.
Hunting, 30 years, 7 months.

CHILDS-At West Newton, July 16, Rhoda Ann, widow of Oliver H. Childs, 75 years.

MASSE-At Nonantum, July 16, Odell Masse, 6 years.

HIGGINS-At Newton Centre, July 17, Annie E. wife of Michael Higgins, 25 years.

FONFANNAY-At Upper Falls, July 13, Harriet
J. Fonfannay, 1 year.

BROWN-At Newton Highlands, July 14, John E. son of Elias and Clara B. Brown, 1 year 9 months.

CHAMBERLAIN-At Auburndale, July 15,
Bertha Elizabeth, daughter of S. G. S. and Eleanor C. Chamberlain, 9 years.

THAYER-At Newton, July 11, Benjamin Hurd
Thayer, 60 yrs.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

A QUEER OLD ENGLISHMAN.

Thomas Laughter and His Curious Experiences, Physical and Otherwise.

Thomas Laughter, who is said to have died at the age of 112, has an amusing record that connects him with Holborn.
He was a well educated man, for he had studied at Christchurch, Oxford, for 13 years. In early life he had been a wine merchant in Tower street and failed, owing to the failure of a very large house in the same trade, Neale, Fordyce & Co. It so affected Laughter that he became blind and speechless, and the skin peeled off from the whole of his body.
Though a wine merchant, he never drank any fermented liquor for the first 50 years of his life. The old man's memory was prodigious. He well remembered, in 1705, seeing Queen Anne going to the house of peers, seated on a pillion behind the Lord Chancellor, and he talked about the death of William
III. He had been a well made man, rather above the middle height. At 80 he had a severe fit of illness, and then a fresh head of hair came, and new nails on the fingers and toes. A contraction that took place in the fingers of each hand at this instant remained always after. Nothing is said about new teeth coming in his case, and he must soon have recovered sight and speech, which misfortune had deprived him of so abruptly.

He had a son, who died at the age of 80, and whom he always called "poor Tommy." This boy of fourscore looked very much older than his father, and the fact led to some curious mistakes on the part of strangers who saw them together. Once, when they were walking in Holborn, the son could scarcely keep pace with the father—in fact, with so great difficulty and distress did he do so that he attracted the attention of a gentleman, who went up to old Laughter to express sympathy with him on his want of filial duty in not aiding more his venerable father. The old man told him of his mistake, but the stranger refused to give the least credit to his assertion until somebody passing at the time, who knew the Laughters well, certified to the perfect truth of the story.

All four turned laughers then; at their separation all Holborn beamed with smiles, and grew quite radiant for a moment, but the next second it relapsed into its bustling but somewhat melancholy quotidian business—cash hunting.
One feels amused at this fussy moralist, who showed such prevailing anxiety and officiousness to direct others in the path of virtue, smiting, as the mote, unconscious of the beam.—Notes and Queries.

HOW TO REMEMBER.

Advice to Those Wishing to Commit Songs or Music to Memory.

"I wish you would teach me how to commit to memory the songs I want to sing," said an amateur musician to a friend. "I have never been able to commit my music to memory—at least have never done so—and I think it would be of use to me if I could."

"The process is not a difficult one,"
was the reply. "I have always found it easy to remember songs and poems by a certain rule or method that I adopted a long time ago. Take any popular song,
'The Last Rose of Summer,' for example. It is a good plan to read it over and get the sentiment of the verse, which comprehends the idea of loneliness, the fading away of beautiful things and the lack of sympathy in sadness. The rose is blooming alone. Its companions are faded and gone. No flower or kindred is high to share its pleasures or answer to its sighs. This is the groundwork—the skeleton, so to speak—of the verse.
Impress this firmly on the mind and familiarize the thought with the sentiment. Imagine the garden with the one rose and faded leaves all around. Once this is fixed in the memory it is comparatively easy to fill in the remainder of the words. This is one of the simplest and surest way of committing the words of a song to memory.

"With most people memorizing the air of the song is much easier, and this is done by humming again and again, referring to the music whenever there is any question. It is important to learn an air correctly at first, for when a mistake is made at the outset one is almost certain to blunder at the same place over afterward."—New York Ledger.

The Horseshoe Superstition.

The other day at wedding guests were leaving the old South church a motor-man left his car to pick up a horseshoe.
For luck? Not at all, but because it lay directly on the rail ahead, and in the interest of passengers and possibly rolling stock he gathered it not over tenderly and gave it a fling so that it fell almost at the feet of three ladies, one of whom was about to pick it up, when a practical member of the trio said: "Don't soil your gloves, and never mind if there are three nails in it. It was not you who found it, but the motorman, and he has flung it away, good luck and all." The citizen passed the spot three minutes later, and no trace of the horseshoe was found. Why? Because a Beacon street girl's escort captured it and carried it off on his cane.—Boston Post.

The Woman's Bible.

We have read some of the passages of the commentary prepared for the "woman's Bible" by that very accomplished
American woman and Biblical student,
Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton. They are a great deal more satisfactory than many of the comments upon the same texts that we have read in other and more pretentious commentaries. Mrs.
Stanton's interpretative remarks are often shrewd and sensible. They could perhaps sometimes be rendered more acceptable to the critical mind by the assistance of a rabbi well versed in the Hebrew.—New York Sun.

A Regular Trilby.

"Blessed if I ain't a regular Trilby," muttered the man in the crowd after being stepped on half a dozen times. "Everybody gets on to my feet."—Boston Transcript.

Real Estate, Mortgages, Insurance

Special Attention paid to Sale and Leasing of Estates in the above villages.

Representatives of All the Leading Insurance Companies.

—OFFICES—

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St., Boston.

The Ease of It.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)

George (nervously)—I'd like the best in the world, Kitty, to marry you, but I don't know how to propose.
Kitty (promptly and practically)— That's all right, George. You've finished with me; now go to papa.

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 5 lines, and 25 cents each time thereafter, in advance.

Wants.

WANTED—A singer for church choir, one who has good voice and is a good reader. One service each Sabbath. Address Box 240, Newton Centre.

For Sale.

FOR SALE—Three handsome full blood Jersey cows for family use, sold singly if desired.
Can be seen on the Fanny Broad farm between Auburndale and Cohasset.

To Let.

TO LET—A house of 4 rooms, 18 Williams street. Apply 24 Williams street.

TENEMENTS TO LET—In Newtonville, from $8. to $15. per month. D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot street, Newtonville.

TO LET—In Newton, 5 rooms (4 connected) suitable for light housekeeping. Furnace heat. Rent reasonable. 39 Newtonville avenue, near Centre street.

TO LET—A desirable 10 room house with modern conveniences. Three minutes from Auburndale station. 300 feet from projected boulevard, excellent surroundings. Lawn and grounds cared for by the owner without expense to tenant. Rent reasonable to good party. Address for particulars. Geo. L. Johnson, Auburndale.
38 ft

TO LET—A few houses in Newton Centre, at $10, $15, $16, $17 and $20 and upwards per month. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre.

TO LET—Corner Woodward and Lincoln Streets, Newton Highlands, a tenement of five (or six) rooms. Land, fruit, city water. Inquire of Miss Fogg on premises.

Lost & Found.

LOST—Ladies' gold watch with gentleman's chain attached. Finder will be suitably rewarded by returning the same. Please address
O. I. Kimball, P. O. Box 291, Newton Centre, Mass.

Miscellaneous.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.—The office hours of the Secretary of the Associated Charities are from 9 to 10 every week day, and from 7.30 to 8.30 Saturday evenings. The President, Committee will be at the office to distribute clothing
Tuesday forenoons and Saturday evenings. M.
R. Martin, Secretary; Office, Newtonville square

Until July 31st, during the absence of his family, messages for

DR. REID

will receive prompt attention if left at Hubbard's Pharmacy. Will be at residence at night as usual.

Mortgagee's Sale.

Pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Frank Cowee and Sarah C. Cowee, his wife, in her right, to Henry Fuller, dated April 2nd, 1888, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Book 1843, Page 522, will be sold at public auction for the purpose of foreclosing the same, and for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, on Tuesday Aug.
6 at five o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises described below.

A parcel of land in Newton in the County of Middlesex, bounded and described as follows in said mortgage. Beginning at the South Easterly corner of the granted premises on Pearl Street, by land now or formerly of Edwin Robinson, on running Westerly on said Pearl Street forty-eight (48) feet three (3) inches to other land of said Fuller; thence North and running Northerly by other land of said Fuller one hundred (100) feet to other land also of said Fuller; thence turning and running Easterly by land also of said Fuller, forty-two feet four (4) inches to land now or formerly of said Edwin Robinson, thence turning and running Southerly by land of said
Edwin Robinson one hundred (100) feet to said Pearl Street and the point of beginning. All said lines to be as the fences now stand. Being the same premises conveyed to said Sarah C.
Cowee by said Henry Fuller by deed of even date with said mortgage.

Together with all the benefit and equity of redemption of the said Frank Cowee and Sarah G.
Cowee, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns therein.

Subject to the taxes of 1894.

Terms $300. down, ten days given to examine title and pass papers. Other terms made known at the time and place of sale.

HERY FULLER, Mortgagee.

Boston, July 9th, 1895.

41 ft

City of Newton.

Proposals for furnishing the materials and performing the labor required to build and complete a Grammar School building in accordance with the plans and specifications will be received until 12 M., August 15, by Henry Tolman, Esq., Chairman Public Property Committee, 41 High Street, Boston.

Plans and specifications can be seen on and after July 23, at office of Stickney & Austin, 50
Bromfield Street, Boston.

GEORGE H. ELDER,
Supt. Pub. Buildings.

42 ft

Newton.

Newtonville.

West Newton.

Auburndale

The Liberty

America's Representative Bicycle. The Liberty for 1895 cannot be surpassed. The full roadster can be seen at

CAUDELET'S Drug Store,
Newtonville.

Closest inspection invited. Be sure and see this wheel before purchasing

BICYCLES!
FOR LIGHTNESS
AND STRENGTH

None can excel the

NEW MAIL

for 1895.

We shall soon have samples and will take pleasure in showing them. Look here before purchasing a wheel.

BARBER BROS.,

Agents for Newton and Watertown.

1895 MODEL.
NEW MAIL.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Pianos rented and tuned, Farley, Newton.

—Mrs. Wm. Soule is entertaining company from Maine.

—Mr. D. B. Needham is enjoying a week's vacation.

—Mrs. Joseph Butters is entertaining her sister and children from Maine.

—Mr. C. W. Beals and family are at Clifton for the summer.

—Mrs. E. H. Pierce is at the Glen House, Kennebunkport.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Atwood of Park place have gone to Herrons Island, Me.

—Mrs. G. I. Aldrich and Miss Aldrich are at the North Star Cottage, at Duxbury.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Palmer are at the Nanepashemet House, at Marblehead Neck.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beals are among those from the place at the "Rockaway," Marblehead Neck.

—Miss Lizzie A. Goldthwaite, formerly of this place, has been re-elected treasurer of the national society of the Y. P. C. U.

—Miss Clara Hartshorne of Lebanon, N. H., is visiting Bessie Hartshorne, Cabot street.

—Mrs. F. R. Gilliland of Philadelphia with children are visiting her sister, Mrs. T. J. Hartshorne, Cabot street.

—Mr. E. M. Rumery and family are at Hotel Whitlitt, Hampton, N. H., until September 15.

—Miss E. Addie Brooks is spending her vacation at "The Bungalow, the Glades," North Scituate, for a visit at Miss Lane's home in Gloucester.

—Miss Eleanor Forks left on Monday evening to spend her vacation at her home in Maine.

—Among those from this place who are enjoying outings at Orr's Island, Me., are: Charles Hartshorne of Cabot street, Mrs. Davis, Miss Lull Davis and John Davis of Otis street.

—Many Universalists went into Boston on Sunday and listened to a fine sermon by the Rev. J. Coleman Adams, D. D., in the morning, and in the evening to another by the Rev. B. E. Nash, both former pastors of the church.

—All good Christian Endeavorers should secure a copy of the Christian Endeavor convention March, written by Geo. L. Lansing of the well known "Boston Ideals," and introducing in it the well known song, "Shall we gather at the river?" They can be obtained at Mr. Frank Tainter's.

—Mrs. G. W. Washburn her son Louis, and her sister, Miss Van Nostrand of Court street are spending a few weeks at Delaware Water Gap. Miss Ethel F. Washburn is at Oxford, N. H., where she will remain for two months. Miss Lillian G. Washburn is at home again after an absence of eight weeks.

—Among the Newton guests at the Nautilus Inn, Point Allerton, this week, have been W. H. Allen and family, F. S. Sherman and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. George, N. H. Tuohy and family, and J. H. Pray and family, all of Newtonville, Wm. P. Briggs and family of Auburndale, and Alderman Bullard and family of West Newton.

—The Newton land and improvement company has sold to Mr. John V. Dickinson of Lowell street, one of its new houses situated on the corner of Grove Hill road and Prospect avenue. The house is a frame structure and stands on a lot of about 15,000 square feet of land. The situation of the house is a fine one, being on the crest of the hill, just above Bullough's pond. The price paid was about $10,000.

—Mr. John J. G. Cornish of Walker street, a member of the New England Insurance Exchange, and Miss Maude B. Macomber, daughter of Mr. Charles E. Macomber, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents, Walnut street, Fall River, Tuesday evening, by Rev. T. S. Batchelder of New Bedford. The house was profusely decorated with palms and ferns and potted plants. The bride was gowned in white satin with mousseline de soie and pearl trimmings. Mr. W. K. Crosby of Worcester and Mr. C. E. Macomber, Jr. of Fall River were the ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Cornish started on their wedding tour, and will be away for two months in Maine and the British provinces. On their return they will be at home at the Langham, Boston, after Oct. 1.

—Nearly 400 happy and joyous Universalists from the Y. P. C. U. convention of the whole world including a goodly delegation from the Universalist society of this place sailed out of Boston harbor on Tuesday morning on the new steamer Cape Ann bound for Gloucester. The time passed quickly and the harbor resounded with the yells of the different states, and the Convention songs, as many as four at a time being sung in the different parts of the steamer. Gloucester was reached at 12 o'clock, and all proceeded at once to the old Murray church, (the first Universalist church built in America) where a bounteous dinner was served at the basement, and then all proceeded to the church above, and viewed the old writing desk and organ of John Murray and other curiosities, and then returned to the steamer at 2 o'clock. They reached Boston at 4, a tired but happy and enthusiastic company of Universalists, greeting the waiters on shore with their songs. On Wednesday morning a large company repaired by boat to Plymouth.

—Two summers ago the owners of the Newton silk mills at Newton Upper Falls went to a great deal of expense to prepare the famous grove on the Needham side of the river for the use of picnic parties and visitors who might desire to avail themselves of this famous spot. The grove was kept open for that summer only. Since then it has been closed for public use, but the Newton & Boston Street Railway Co. has now arranged with the owners of the grove, and with Mr. Chas. W. Smith, the Water Commissioner, of Boston, so that an entrance can be obtained from the top of Echo Bridge to the grove itself. A flight of steps will be required, and these the street railway company are putting in at their own expense. Visitors to Echo Bridge can take the cars to the terminus of the line, and then by a very short walk come to the bridge itself, and walking across that they come to the new steps which will admit of their going into the grove. This spot has been known for a long time as Hemlock Gorge. It is filled with hemlocks and other evergreens, as well as chestnuts, and is as wild and rocky as any spot in the White Mountains. Now that it is open once more for the use of the public, thousands of people will avail themselves of this privilege, and take a pilgrimage to the most beautiful grove on the banks of the Charles river. Ever since Echo Bridge, Newton Upper Falls, was built it has been an inconvenient place for visitors to the bridge, who desire to go from the top of the structure to the street below, to be obliged to walk either around by the postoffice, or else make a long detour through Chestnut and Boylston streets. The street railway company has tried for several years to get the Water Board of Boston to put in a flight of steps from the top of the bridge to the street below, so as to make all parts of the bridge convenient of access to visitors. The present commissioner of the Water Board, Mr. Chas. W. Smith, has very obligingly taken this matter up and given orders to have iron steps put in, so that visitors who come to the bridge can now easily go from the top of the structure to the street below, so as to hear the echo which has made the bridge famous all over the world. These steps are now being put in, and will be available for use within a very short time.

—Mr. Perry Waters is away on a week's outing.

—Mrs. Joseph Butler is entertaining guests from St. Stephens, Me.

—Prof. Taylor and family are enjoying the vacation period at Rangeley lakes.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Deane of Otis street are at Bath, Me., for several weeks' stay.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cook sail for Nova Scotia on Saturday and will be absent four weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wetherell and family are at Duxbury for the summer season.

—Miss Leach and Miss Justin of Buffalo have been the guests of Mrs. Fred Payne on Cabot street.

—Miss Lena Soule of Easton is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Soule.

—Mr. Henry Deane of Otis street has returned from a western trip.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Payne of Cabot street will pass several weeks at Squirrel Island, Maine.

—Mr. Chas. Johnson was in town this week from his summer home at Hull.

—Mr. Chas. Jordan has moved into his new house on Walnut street.

—Mr. Tewksbury is moving from Walnut to Harvard street.

—Mr. U. H. Dyer has returned from his vacation.

—Mr. Walter Lawrence of Brookton is here for a few days.

—Mrs. George L. Woodworth and family are at Sebago Lake, Me., for a several weeks' stay.

—Mrs. J. H. Mitchell and daughter, Eleanor of Yarmouth, Me., are the guest of her brother, W. P. Soule.

—Miss Marjory Carter of Highland avenue has returned from a short stay in New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Knowles of Appleton street are passing a few weeks in Washington.

—The water department is laying a main through the new portion of Appleton street.

—Miss Mullen and sister, Miss Nora Mullen of St. Louis, are visiting Miss Pigott of Walnut street.

—Mr. E. A. Bartlett and family will spend the summer at Shutesbury, Mechanicsville, East Barnard and Mt. Holly, Vt.

—Miss Elizabeth Sacker and Miss Agnes Slocum of Walnut street will pass the remainder of the warm season at North Woodstock.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mitchell of Walnut street left here Monday for Poland Springs, where they will stay until about September 1.

—The bridge at the foot of Bullough's pond is being removed preparatory to the erection of a larger and improved one. The work is under direction of Supt. Ross.

—The Massachusetts club will enjoy an outing at Newport today. Ex-Governor Claflin, Senator Hoar and Congressman Walker accompany the party.

—Postmaster Turner received his commission of reappointment last Saturday. Here's hoping he may receive a dozen or so more of the same sort of documents.

—Fred B. Williams of Denver, Col., who accompanied some of the visiting delegations of Endeavorers, is in town this week visiting relatives and renewing acquaintance with friends here.

—Christian Endeavorers who want a copy of the "Convention March," arranged for the pianoforte, composed by George L. Lansing of the Boston "Ideals," can secure copies at reasonable prices by addressing Miss E. Addie Brooks.

—There are letters in the post office for Emmett Blanchard, Miss Lizzie Carriann, Mrs. Elizabeth Farrell, Mrs. M. C. Flanagan, Mrs. H. G. Gallagher, Mr. Gallagher, Martin King, James McKenna and J. Patterson.

—The family and relatives of Herbert F. Hunting, late of this village, wish to express their gratitude to his friends and associates for their thoughtful kindness which brought him so much cheer during his illness, and also for their last tokens of respect to his memory.

—A story is going the rounds here of a fellow who went to call upon his best friend and got himself pretty thoroughly disliked through a simple accident. In pulling out a package of letters from his pocket, he inadvertently extracted a photograph. It was that of the chum of the young lady he was supposed to be exclusively interested in.

—Herbert Hunting died at his home on Washington street, Monday evening, after a long illness. He was born in Newtonville 34 years ago. He was associated with his father in the express business for several years, but had been in failing health for some time unable to engage in active work. The funeral services were held on Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev. F. E. Hamilton officiated and the Methodist church quartet sang appropriate selections. There was a large attendance of friends including most of the business men in the square, who closed their stores during the funeral. The floral emblems were numerous and beautiful and included a pillow marked, "Our Friend" from the business men. The pall bearers were Messrs. Wm. Fuller, Walter Cunningham, Alfred Dodge and Wm. H. Parker, and the interment was in the Newton cemetery.

WEST NEWTON.

—Miller pianos, Farley, Newton

—Miss Mary Purcell is visiting relatives in Hingham.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ayer are at Magnolia.

—Mr. L. B. Rich and Mr. Leon Perry are summering at Duxbury.

—Miss Agnes Merchant is passing several weeks with friends in Chatham.

—Miss Alice P. Eaton is registered at the Winslow house, Duxbury.

—Miss Lizzie Church is at Clinton cottage Brant Rock, for a short stay.

—Mr. Stuart Leonard has returned from a short stay at Duxbury.

—Mr. S. N. Waters and family are passing the warm season in Millbury.

—Miss Martha Estes of Cross street has returned from a two weeks' vacation.

—Mr. George Frost has returned from his southern trip.

—Mr. H. B. Day and family are in New Hampshire for several weeks.

—Mr. J. H. Wheeler and family are sojourning at Jaffrey, N. H.

—Miss E. E. Simons has returned from a pleasant stay in Ashland.

—Mrs. J. D. Robinson has returned from Hampton beach after a stay of several weeks.

—Mrs. Fowle and Miss Mattie Felton are in Greenwich, New Hampshire, for a few weeks' stay.

—The Wellsley & Boston street railway have four car loads of poles at Newton Highlands, for their road from West Newton to Lower Falls.

—A horse owned by A. L. Damon ran away in Waltham, Thursday morning, after throwing out the driver at the corner of Main and Lexington street. The animal was captured later near the Lexington line with no other damage done but a broken shaft.

—Mr. L. C. Garrett and daughter have returned from a short stay in Buffalo, New York.

—Mr. S. M. Yaton of Chestnut street has returned from a business trip through New Hampshire.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Goode, F. B. Goode, Sr., and F. C. Goode are at the Florence House, North Scituate Beach.

—Mrs. F. E. Foulger and daughter, Mrs. F. E. Foulger, are at Beecham, Vt., for the remainder of the warm season.

—Messrs. A. S. and H. M. Leland are among guests at Hotel Belmont, West Harwich.

—Mrs. H. L. Bixby and family will pass the remainder of the warm season at their cottage in Chatham.

—Mr. Edward Burrage and family leave tomorrow for their summer place at Maine.

—Miss Nellie Symonds will return tomorrow from a two weeks' outing at Downer's Landing.

—Mr. F. D. Goode and family of Waltham street have returned from North Scituate.

—Mrs. C. W. Leatherbee and family are summering at Cataumet.

—Mrs. F. W. Freeman and family will pass the remainder of the warm season at Shelbourne, N. H.

—Mrs. C. M. Daniels and children are in Yarmouth, N. S., for a month.

—Miss Stella Palmer of Cotuit is the guest of Mrs. Edward Dart of Margu street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Lake are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Langley.

—Mr. Everett Palmer starts next week for Maine on his bicycle.

—Mr. George H. Ingraham was in town for a few days this week.

—Miss Hattie Bowen of Barrington, R. I., is the guest of Mrs. Samuel Langley.

—Mr. Porter is enjoying a short vacation in Maine.

—Mr. Percival S. Howe and family of Berkeley street are away for the summer.

—Mr. E. E. Burdon and family of Webster street will pass several weeks at Millbury.

—Mrs. W. H. Daniels of Watertown street has returned from a short stay at Mt. Tom, N. H.

—Mr. Samuel Cook and daughter of Watertown, have been visiting his brother, Mr. Fred Cook, at the latter's home on Elm street.

—Mr. Edward Commons of Dover, who purchased the Drew estate on Watertown street is making extensive repairs and alterations.

—Dr. H. E. Johnson is to be succeeded by Dr. J. W. Pomfret, who is said to be a dentist of some note and a gentleman in whom the public may safely trust.

—On Tuesday evening, July 16, Miss Dorothy Howard and Mr. Archibald Moore Radcliffe were married at the home of Count Cosmo de Talleyrand on Putnam street.

—Among those who left here this week for summer resorts were Mr. F. B. Withers and family of Cambridge street, Miss Helen Tolman of Washington street, and Mrs. M. Baldwin and son of Eliot avenue.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Mrs. Wm. Austin, Grace Barnes, Richard Adams, Mrs. Catherine Crosby, Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Tim Connolly, Wm. Hill, Robert Jackson, Miss Kate Kelly, M. L. J. Lindany, Patrick McKenna, Mary McDonald, M. Martin, John McDonald, Mrs. Abbie Ritchie, Charles A. Vincent, Mrs. W. C. Wilcox, Miss Waters.

—Mr. Thomas Mague is said to be losing money on his lot on the corner of the boulevard, unexpected obstacles in the way of rocks and ledges having been encountered. He has asked the city for an additional allowance, on this account, and as the city gave more than the contract price to the contractor who met with quick sands, Mr. Mague thinks that that established a precedent which should be followed in his case.

—Mr. J. B. Chase, Jr., who is now traveling in a party of the Y. P. C. U., Mr. Jaynes, made on July 26 and 27, the 1604th successful ascent of Mont Blanc. Mr. Chase was accompanied by two guides and the trio were received, on their return, with a large number of friends. In climbing to the top of Mont Blanc is no light matter, Mr. Chase is to be congratulated, first, on having accomplished the feat and, second, on having got back in one piece.

—The officers and spectators at the session of the Newton court, Thursday morning of the Newton court, Thursday morning, were given a rather disagreeable surprise shortly after the court adjourned. A young woman named Murphy, who resides in the Nonantum district, was a witness in a non-support case, and her behavior on the stand gave such a convincing Dr. Crockett, who was in the court room, that he was seriously indisposed. As soon as the court adjourned he examined her, and decided that she had diphtheria. She was at once sent to the hospital, but as soon as the fact became known there was a stampede from the court room.

—Hugh O'Connor, a teamster, residing on Washington street, had a remarkable escape Tuesday evening. The Italian quartered in the shanty at the corner of Auburn and Washington streets became involved in a quarrel among themselves shortly after 7 o'clock, and the two factions attacked each other with stones. One of the missiles went wide of its mark and struck O'Connor just in front of the temple. The stone inflicted a cut 1 1/2 inches in length, and was embedded in the skull. He was knocked insensible by the blow, but after he had been removed to the police station and attended by a physician recovered, and seemed to experience no ill effects. The Italian who threw the stone left the camp immediately, and had not been seen here since.

A Card.

West Newton, July 15, '95.

To my patrons and others. This is to certify that my practice has passed into the hands of J. W. Pomfret, D. D. S. Dr. Pomfret is a dentist of superior ability, and a gentleman in whom the public may safely trust.

H. E. JOHNSON, D. D. S.

AUBURDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Miss Emma Pearl has gone to Bangor.

—Otto Sauer has taken a position in Brookline.

—Mr. and Mrs. Hadlock are enjoying the breezes at Green Harbor.

—Mr. Charles Markman has returned from his vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd, formerly of this place, are visiting friends here.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Turner and family are summering at Point Allerton.

—Mrs. F. A. Sawyer and family of Woodland road have left for Manomet.

—Rev. Dr. Peloubet and family of Woodland road, have left for Waterville, N. H.

—Charles Klipp is confined to the house with an attack of tonsillitis.

—Mr. Frank Payne went to Newport, Thursday.

—Mr. Henry C. Ryder is spending a few days at Newport.

—Mr. George Francis and son sailed Saturday for Europe.

—Miss Iva Cole of Fall River will, next week, be the guest of Mrs. Edward Almy of Woodbine street.

—Edward Blaisdell of Auburn street and Willis Bancroft are at home after enjoying a two weeks' yachting cruise.

—Mr. C. A. Miner is having a number of sheets laid through his property on Lexington street.

—Charles Cowdrey will leave next week for Greenfield, N. H., where he will spend his vacation.

—Dr. Harvey, who is a guest of Dr. Whitten, returned this week from a trip to New Haven.

—The Rev. C. M. Southgate of Worcester, Mass., will preach in the Congregational church next Sunday morning and evening.

—Miss E. T. Longfellow has gone to Portland for the summer.

—Miss Alice Jennings is at West Chop, Martha's Vineyard.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Darling and Miss Ethel Darling are at the Forest Hills House, Franconia.

—Prof. Horatio W. Parker cabled on Wednesday from Southampton. He will spend the summer in England and Germany.

—An increase of business compels Mr. Thorne to engage a second assistant at his pharmacy. Mr. Clarence Du Bois has recently entered his employ.

—Bert Bell has sold his share in the Riverside cafe to his partner, William Crossley who will continue to conduct the business.

—Heart congratulations on the engagement of Miss Mary Ladd Smith, a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Smith, to the Rev. Dean Augustus Walker, Ph. D. of Chicago University.

—Miss Pauline L. Dolliver, superintendent of St. Louis hospital, Syracuse, N. Y., and formerly of Auburndale, has returned from a tour in the East, and is now at Provincetown, the residence of her parents.

—Mr. U. R. Gray of Riverside cut his hand on a piece of glass, Wednesday evening, and it ran down his coat collar, he wasn't expected to answer any questions, provided he had the forethought to bring a bunch of wild roses for the teacher.—Chicago Times-Herald.

When occasions demands its use, try Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers. It is cooling to burns, stop pain instantly, cleanses, a perfect healer for scalds or skin eruptions. Always cures pills. Arthur Hudson, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Western Man—"Y-e-s; that's a fine building, a mighty fine one, I must say! but just wait. It won't be long before the glorious West will have a finer one! Yesirree; we'll outshine anything you folks can do in the effete East, just mark my words!" Eastern Man—"How soon will you start?" Western Man—"Just as soon as we can borrow the money from you!"—Puck.

The most pleasant little pills for regulating the bowels, are Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers. Cure sick headache and constipation. Small pill. Small result. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Theological Teacher—"How did sin come into the world?" The New Boy—"The preachers picked out all the things people liked to do, and said they was sins."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Best Medicine for Diarrhoea.

Mr. Cooper of this place, had been troubled with diarrhoea for three or four weeks and failed to get any thing that would check it effectually, until he used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, two doses of which effected a complete cure. He says it is the best medicine he ever saw for such cases. Also that he had given it to several families and they always praised it.—R. L. ANDRE & BRO., Sandy Flats, Greenville Co., S. C. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

On Monday, July 15th, while the two youngsters of H. A. Peabody of this place were sailing in their boat, the Gladys, trusting to the apparent steadiness of the wind, they fastened the sail securely to the stern, and floated at ease. A sudden squall coming up struck the sheet, capsize the boat and in an instant the lads were in the water. Both being swimmers and the elder encouraging the younger, and there being a number of small pleasure crafts darting about the bay, they were soon rescued from their peril, and there was much rejoicing over the happy result of what might have been a serious accident.

The Christian Endeavor Convention is over but its results will go on. It brought joy and inspiration to hundreds who will return to their homes to inspire others. The enthusiasm and earnestness of the great gathering will be taken to multitudes of smaller ones around the world. The impulse given will be felt in ever widening circles, as when a stone is cast into a quiet pond and where will it end. Auburndale has rejoiced in its guests—the brothers and sisters so full of zeal and loyalty. Warmly they were welcomed and were missed when they left. The majority were from the old Granite state, but many other states—some other countries had representatives here and all were glad that in saying Goodbye, we could add, "till we meet again."

In summing up the work of the Convention the Boston Herald says: Some of the speakers most in demand lost their voice almost entirely during the week was out. Among these were "Father Endeavor" Clark himself, the central figure of the whole great convention. The meetings over which he was to preside at the end of the week had to be content with his silent presence on the stage, or at most with a few words of explanation presenting his proxy to their favorable consideration. Before the convention began Clark had conjured up a picture of him as a venerable figure, possibly graced with a flowing beard of snowy whiteness, a true patriarch to the millions who called themselves his children. But, as every one now knows, Father Clark is a young looking man with the appearance of a successful business man rather than of a minister of the gospel. In fact, his looks give the imagination a hint as to at least a part of the secret of his success as an organizer. Dr. Clark's simple, straightforward and sensible talk hardly pretends to be called oratory, the embellishments of professional eloquence have been evidently purposely excluded, but it undoubtedly stimulates and encourages in a high degree.

MINER ROBINSON ELECTRICAL ENGINEER.

12 Pearl St., Room 27, Boston. Order Office, 421 Centre St., Newton.

The fitting of private residences for the Electric Light a specialty.

ELECTRIC LIGHT

Boston, 3311. TELEPHONES—W. Newton, *234. NEWTON *255-2.

SIMPSON BROTHERS, CONTRACTORS FOR Concrete Walks, Driveways, Asphalt Floors and Artificial Stone Walks.

We have been awarded the Sidewalk Contract for the City of Newton for 1895, and are ready to receive orders or give estimates for work in private grounds.

P. O. Address, Newton, or Boston Office, Room 58, Telephone 1155 Boston. 166 Devonshire St. REFERS TO 20 YEARS WORK IN NEWTON.

He was Forgiven.

(From Life.)

She—Have you ever loved another?

He—Yes, of course. Did you think I'd practise on a nice girl like you?

"Papa," asked little Willie, "isn't a cynic a man who is tired of the world?"

"No, my dear; a cynic is a man of whom the world is tired."—Chicago Times-Herald.

There is one medicine that will cure immediately. We refer to Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure for all Summer Complaints. No delay, no disappointment, no failure. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Our experience was that even if a boy did come to school late, with his shirt on wrong side foremost, his hair wet, and river sand on his coat collar, he wasn't expected to answer any questions, provided he had the forethought to bring a bunch of wild roses for the teacher.—Chicago Times-Herald.

When occasions demands its use, try Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers. It is cooling to burns, stop pain instantly, cleanses, a perfect healer for scalds or skin eruptions. Always cures pills. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Western Man—"Y-e-s; that's a fine building, a mighty fine one, I must say! but just wait. It won't be long before the glorious West will have a finer one! Yesirree; we'll outshine anything you folks can do in the effete East, just mark my words!" Eastern Man—"How soon will you start?" Western Man—"Just as soon as we can borrow the money from you!"—Puck.

The most pleasant little pills for regulating the bowels, are Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers. Cure sick headache and constipation. Small pill. Small result. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Theological Teacher—"How did sin come into the world?" The New Boy—"The preachers picked out all the things people liked to do, and said they was sins."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Best Medicine for Diarrhoea.

Mr. Cooper of this place, had been troubled with diarrhoea for three or four weeks and failed to get any thing that would check it effectually, until he used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, two doses of which effected a complete cure. He says it is the best medicine he ever saw for such cases. Also that he had given it to several families and they always praised it.—R. L. ANDRE & BRO., Sandy Flats, Greenville Co., S. C. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

On Monday, July 15th, while the two youngsters of H. A. Peabody of this place were sailing in their boat, the Gladys, trusting to the apparent steadiness of the wind, they fastened the sail securely to the stern, and floated at ease. A sudden squall coming up struck the sheet, capsize the boat and in an instant the lads were in the water. Both being swimmers and the elder encouraging the younger, and there being a number of small pleasure crafts darting about the bay, they were soon rescued from their peril, and there was much rejoicing over the happy result of what might have been a serious accident.

EXECUTORS SALE

—OF—

—LAND—

—AT—

AUBURDALE

Islington Avenue

68,000 FEET

Adjoining the Pulsifer Estates

Executors wish to close Estate and will sell at low figure and easy terms.

JOHN HARGREAVES, Agent,

95 Water Street, Boston.

HOOD'S PILLS cure Liver Ills, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headache, A pleasant laxative. All Druggists.

How About Himself.

(From the Yonkers Statesman.)

Passenger—"Don't the passengers make you tired with the questions they ask?"

Yes; very much. What else is it you want to know?

Editor—"Well, did you interview Mrs. Twaddle, of the Women's Rights club?"

Reporter—"I saw her, and she had nothing to say." Editor—"Well, squeeze it down into a column; we're crowded today."—Yonkers Statesman.

Helen—"How could you give up Harry Hausman for Tom Waterman?"

You used to think everything of Harry." Martha—"I know; but the theatres are nearly all closed now, and Tom has such a lovely yacht."—Boston Transcript.

How the Foss Sta ted. Banks—"By the way, Rivers, how do you spell 'dilemma'?" Rivers—"With two m's. Why?" Banks—"Nothing, only I use four or five other letters as well. Rivers, if you throw that inkstand at me I'll knock you down with this paperweight!"—Chicago Tribune.

It Saves Children.

Last summer, we had a child suffering from bloody flux, when we came into possession of a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I gave some of it to the child according to directions. It afforded almost instant relief and effected a permanent cure. I can cheerfully recommend it.—Geo. Jenkins, Cedar Creek, Taney Co., Mo. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

Physicians

Dr. F. L. McINTOSH,

Corner of Washington (and Jewett Sts.) (Office of the late Dr. Keith.)

Office Hours: 4 to 7 P. M. Usually at home until 9 A. M.

Refers to Dr. W. P. Wesselhoff and Dr. James R. Bell.

Telephone, Newton 10, 46-4.

DR. MARY FLORENCE TAFT,

19 Austin Street, Newtonville.

OFFICE HOURS: 10 to 3.30 a. m. 1.30 to 6 p. m.

Refers to Dr. Wm. P. Wesselhoff and Dr. James R. Bell.

Telephone, 281, Newton.

JAMES F. BOTHFELD, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon

Office Hours: 9 A. M., 2 to 4 and 7 to P. M.

Telephone, Newton 24-2.

455 Centre, cor. Richardson St.

F. W. WEBBER, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon.

Cor. Centre and Vernon Sts. Office Hours: 9 A. M., 1 and 7 P. M. Telephone No. 38-4.

Clara D. Whitman Reed, M. D.,

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE

437 Centre St., opposite Vernon, Newton

Hours—Until 9 M. 1 to 3 and 7 P. M. Telephone 36-3.

WHITE DUCK PANTS

$1.00 a Pair.

Made to measure if desired and in the best manner and equal to any sold elsewhere for $2

F. K. KINGMAN,

The Yacht Outfitter

96 Commercial Street, Boston.

WORTH IS DEAD

But his place is still with us. Who shall fill it? It is not of so much importance as what we as Americans are doing along the line of

HIGHER CULTURE in the ART OF DRESS DESIGNING and CUTTING.

In looking up and developing lines of usefulness for women, how little has been done along that most natural line,

Higher Art in Dress.

An opportunity is now presented for such culture, at

Pittcock's

Dress Cutting School,

1 BEACON ST., BOSTON.

THE FAIRY FIDDLER.

"I go fiddling, fiddling
By woody ways to town.
I make the blackbird's music
Ere in his breast 'tis born.
The sleeping larks I waken
Twixt the midnight and the morn.
No man alive has seen me,
But women hear me play,
Sometimes at door or window,
Fiddling the souls away.
The child's son and the colleen's
Out of the covering clay."
—Nora Hopper.

AN UNSIGNED WILL.

The doctor opened the creaking wooden gate. It was half past nine on a clear frosty winter night, and he was five miles from home, and cold and hungry. "How is she?" he said to the gaunt, grim old woman who opened the door. "I don't know. Better see yourself. I'm no doctor," was the rough reply.

The room was low and mean, but the woman who lay on the bed struggling with death had a coquettish air that clashed with her age. Perhaps it came from the real lace on her nightcap, perhaps from the valenciennes that encircled her shriveled brown throat, or maybe the golden fringe, which, too young for the shrunken face, gave it to her.

"Amayllis," said the surly woman, "here's the doctor."

The humble country practitioner stepped forward, and even in the dim lamplight could be seen the flannel cuffs, hiatus of gray stocking between old trousers and clumsy boots, frayed linen twofold collar, silver watch chain and greasy, ready-made tie that betrayed the small local practice.

"Amayllis, wake up, wake up. Doctor's here. God knows you've calmed enough for him."

The woman on the bed, whose name seemed a jest, opened her heavy, vague eyes, coughed faintly and groaned. "Is it Dr. Watson, Janet?" she asked. "Of course! There's none other for miles," was the testy reply.

Dr. Watson went through the orthodox farce of feeling pulse and taking temperature, but saw at a glance that she was at the last whirl in her dance of death.

"Has she made her will?" he asked softly.

However, Amayllis caught the words, and in a cracked scream of excitement said:

"That's it. That's it, doctor. I want to make a will. I can't die easy. Janet, get him pen and ink."

"It's nonsense, doctor," said Janet. "Let her die in peace. She need make no will—she's no kith nor kin but me, her sister."

"Put the pillow under my head, both pillows," called the patient. "I'm choking! Yes, that's it. Now, doctor, for God's mercy do what I ask—Janet will let me—or I can't die easy."

Janet's face grew black with anger. "She's not fit to make a will, and I'm all she has in the world," said she. "Listen, listen, doctor! I'm in my mind; I can't die easy. I'm short enough—£5,000 and the cottage to Janet, the rest to Charles Harford, now on the training ship, the Monarch."

The doctor took out a stylographic pen and picked up from the fender an old letter, on only one side of which there was writing.

"Stop, stop!" said Janet. "She's mad. There's no such person. Ask her who he is."

"God forgive me," groaned Amayllis. "I'll die happier if some one knows I've been a wicked woman."

The doctor sprinkled some eau de cologne on her head from a curious old silver bottle that stood on a chair by the bedside and gave her something to drink out of a medicine bottle. Then with desperate energy the old woman told her story, despite the efforts of death to check her speech.

"Father and mother were cruel, good people, and I was a blithe young woman that hated church and psalms and dail Sunday books, so when he came, Frank Harford, the handsome sailor, he had my heart for the asking. They would none of his addresses, for he wasn't a God fearing man, they said, so off we went with no blessing from parson, but a curse from father. It lasted for ten years well enough. I had a little house not in cold Norfolk, but here in this village, and he passed as my brother when on land, for he was most white at sea. However, the time came. I was older than he by some years and fretted for his absence—yes, and drank a bit—so he grew tired, but didn't break with me, was afraid to, I think—God knows why. Then her face caught him—Mary's, the coast guard's daughter. He kept it from me, but the village gossiped. He meant to marry her and cast me off. How I hated her, poor thing! I knew him well enough, handsome devil! He'd have married her because he thought no other way would do, and I vowed he should not marry her nor any but me, and he wouldn't. I asked her to the house, and he courted her before my face and thought me a blind fool."

"One night, his birthday, I had her to supper and got down from London some champagne. She was to stay the night, home was so far off and the weather rough. The little fool, the little ignorant fool, believed that the champagne—never before seen in our village—was only fine cider and drank her share, and he was boisterous at the jest. Then I went out on a pretext, saying I'd be back in an hour. The next day she ran away with him. Confound her! I never saw him again."

At this point Amayllis seemed to break down, but after dozing for a few minutes she continued in a faint voice:

"He left her soon enough and went to sea, leaving her and the baby to shift as they might. He dropped after that night. We'd a fearful quarrel, for he guessed that I'd schemed it all. Five years later he wrote, said he had 'found God' and married a rich woman and wanted to make amends. He'd always kept me well enough, for his father left him £3,000 and this cottage—he'd set-led it on me. He sent me £500 for her and her child and begged me to look after them. I did sure enough, for I still hated her. I found she was in London, so I sent her just enough to keep her going, for I wanted her to live the cruel life, which, as I expected, she had come to lead. Year by year he sent me money, till last year, when a letter came to say he was dead. I kept nearly all of the money, and when, two years ago, she died, I sent no more, but I had the child watched, and he's 'Charles Harford' on the Monarch. And, doctor, since I've been ill and seen the parson I feel I can't die without doing right, so make the will, for love of God!"

The doctor began to write.

"Stop," said Janet, who during the tale had walked up and down like a wild beast. "It's all madness; she's delirious."

The dying woman heard her words.

"In the box under the bed you'll find all Frank's letters. They'll prove the story."

In a few minutes Dr. Watson had finished the short will and read it to Amayllis. Janet sat grimly on the black horsehair sofa and did not offer to raise her sister to sign.

"Come, Miss Webster," he said impatiently. "one mustn't lose time."

She did not move.

"What about witnesses?" she asked. "I'll be one," he answered, "you"—

"Not me," she replied hastily, "that would make my legacy bad—I know that. Father was a lawyer."

The doctor knew this was true and was at once vexed and perplexed.

"To ease her"—he said.

"It's no use," she broke in. "I'll not. Will she last three parts of an hour? I can get to Mr. Trelois, our nearest neighbor, in the time, and bring him."

Dr. Watson looked at his patient.

"Yes, perhaps an hour, but be quick."

Janet put on an old black hat that looked like a bonnet flattened for country wear and a rough shawl of sham Shetland fleece, opened the door, letting in more of the cold air than was necessary, and went out, slamming it heavily.

The doctor sat down by the bedside, then recollected he was hungry, and as Amayllis did not answer his request rummaged in an unlocked cupboard and found some bread and cheese, which he ate ravenously, moistening it with some brandy that he found in a bottle by the bedside, despite his strict orders against alcohol in any form. He made up the fire and sat in front of it, longing to smoke, till his genial warmth crept gently through him and sleep overcame the poor man, who had walked five and twenty miles that day on his ill paid rounds.

The noise of the opening of the door awoke him, and, conscience stricken, he hastened to the bed. Amayllis was still alive, but on the very limits of the borderland. There was still time. He turned to Janet.

"There's just life," he said. "Bring him in quickly."

"He's not with me," she replied stolidly. "He was out."

Dr. Watson looked at his watch.

"It's two hours since you started, what?"

Janet gave a dreary smile.

"They expected him every minute. I waited. He was too drunk when he came in."

A bright idea came into the doctor's mind.

"Sign as witness," he said. "If the legacy is bad, it does not matter. You'll get it just the same as next of kin."

"Do you think I didn't know that?" replied Janet, with a hoarse laugh.

"Then you've never been to Mr. Trelois?" shouted the doctor. "You!"

"I'm not such a fool," she answered grimly. "But, oh, it was cold in the garden!"

As she spoke she came close to the fire, which glowed impartially on her rugged, dingy face.

"D—!" said the doctor passionately. "I'll go myself. It may not be too late."

He started up, and his chair fell. Amayllis opened her empty eyes, and a look of intelligence came into her ashen face. The doctor had nearly reached the door, when in a tone half whisper, half shriek, she called out:

"Doctor, don't leave me before it's made!"

He turned, saw her sitting up, but as he moved toward her she fell back, and the nightcap came off, showing the scanty gray hair to which the golden ring was fastened.

"Too late," said the doctor, feeling for the beating of the heart. "Too late; you!"

"I'm an honest woman," answered Janet, "and I've no sympathy with other people's lies by blows."—Exchange.

The Portland Vase.

Glassmakers at an early day, even before the Christian era, arrived at so great a degree of skill and proficiency as to more than rival anything within the range of modern art. Among the antiques which have been preserved the Portland vase holds first place. For more than two centuries it was the principal ornament of the Barberini palace. Pellat, in his work on the incrustation of glass, says of the Portland vase:

"It was found about the middle of the sixteenth century, inclosed in a marble sarcophagus, within a sepulchral chamber, under the Monte del Carmo, 2½ miles from Rome, in the road to Frascati. It is ornamented with white opaque figures in bas-relief upon a dark translucent ground. The subject has not heretofore received a satisfactory elucidation, but the design, and more especially the execution, are admirable. The whole of the blue ground, or at least the part below the handles, must have originally been covered with white enamel, out of which the figures have been sculptured in the style of a cameo, with most astonishing skill and labor."

The Duchess of Portland became the purchaser of the celebrated vase which bears her name, at a price of nearly £10,000. Wedgwood was permitted to take a mold from the vase, and he disposed of many copies, in his rich china, at a price of $250 each.—Boston Herald.

TURNER AND HIS GUN

DOUBLE-L ECK, THE COWBOY, AND HIS MODEST RECORD CLAIM.

How He Showed His Dislike For a Horseman Who Rode at a Trot—Finally His Spirit Was Conquered by a Mild Mannered Soldier With a Winchester.

Now and then a "bad man" tries to cultivate something which he mistakes for humor. One of these devotees of levity used to haunt the cattle range of western Kansas, and every fall and spring he appeared in Dodge City at the general "roundup." Every time he came to town he left some proof of a facetious mind, and was very sure of being talked about by every idle man and most of the busy ones who remained when the rush was over.

His name was Eck Turner, though Dodge City will best remember him by the title "Double-L Eck," the duplicated capital being Leonard & Loughrain's brand, and he being one of their best riders. In fact, Turner might have been foreman if he had cared for the position, for he could ride well, and there were few more expert with the rope and probably none who could bear fatigue and hardship more patiently than he.

But the trouble was he wanted recompense for the dull life of a cowboy. He didn't care for money. Any wages going were acceptable to him. But when the cattle got rounded up and there was half a day's escape from the tedium of labor Eck Turner wanted his fling. And he always went into town and had it.

Now, a foreman cannot do these things. He must stay by the herd all the time, preserve a clear head and firm place in the saddle. He is the representative of the owner—the custodian of much wealth—and dissipation is not to be thought of.

One of Eck Turner's pet bits of humor was to pick out people whose appearance displeased him and shoot just near enough to them to express his sentiments. He particularly disliked to see horsemen go by on the trot. It was in a cowboy country, and cowboys galloped, whether or not they were in a hurry.

And if the rider had a habit of "rising" in the stirrups, as conventional trotters often do, Eck Turner hated him violently. So that when he came down Main street one day and saw a rather well dressed man go by trotting and "rising" with the motion of his horse Eck called general attention to the spectacle.

Really the trotter was not a very good horseman. It was possible, as Eck observed, to "see daylight under him" every time he rose in the saddle. And the glimpses of that recurring "daylight" provoked Eck to a bit of pistol practice. "I bet," said he, watching the rider and reaching for a large revolver, pretty well back on his belt, "I bet I can shoot between him and the saddle and never touch a feather."

He had been drinking in so decorous a manner as to be dangerous, and so no one interfered. The rider was half a block away when Eck fired, and the bullet must have gone true, for the rider passed on unconscious, while a sign diagonally across the street was shattered by the shot.

He tried it again later in the day and fortunately—miraculously—escaped the infliction of injury. Dodge City talked about "Double-L Eck" and his new joke all summer, and in the autumn he came in and tried it again.

The first shot he made he hit a man in the leg and was very indignant because they would not give him another chance, assuring the crippled victim it was an accident, and urging him to mount and trot past just one time more, rising no higher than he had done, and guaranteeing to put three shots out of five between him and the saddle or buy the drinks for the crowd.

But it was the uncertainty about the other two shots that interfered with negotiations—that and the trotting man's persistent endeavor to enjoy the freedom of his own pistol arm while Eck remained in his presence.

Eck thought it was funny, and that hallucination grew on him till he got into trouble. When the wave of "Texas fever" swept over Kansas in 1880, killing off so many of the Kansas cattle, a state law stopped those "drives" which had been the life of western Kansas, and Eck Turner lost his occupation. He went farther west and south and tried to shoot the top off a man's plug hat in Colorado Springs because he insisted the fashion was two inches shorter than the man was wearing.

At La Veta he took exception to the spluttering sound occasionally made by an electric lamp and went about shooting the carbons in two till the city marshal engaged in repartee and shot off the end of Eck's thumb, alleging as a sufficient reason the fact that no man with two good thumbs could be a really "bad man." Eck replied in kind, and there were no applicants for the position the marshal's demise left vacant until it was known that Eck had left that region and gone to Arizona.

At Fort Wingate he had the misfortune to shoot into an ambulance driven by a very mild mannered private soldier, who pulled up a Winchester and crippled Eck for life, destroying the usefulness of both shoulders and incidentally putting out his right eye.

After that Eck Turner went to Flagstaff and developed a remarkable habit of winning at faro and taking care of his money. He confessed to a record of five men slain, but he was given credit for twice as many on account of his well known modesty, and when he finally opened a boarding house for seamen in San Francisco he permitted all the turbulent habits of his cowboy life to drift away to forgetfulness.—New York Herald.

A Distinction Without a Difference. Jinklets—I want my wife to be a woman who thinks before she speaks. Plunkett—Why don't you say you are a confirmed bachelor?—Detroit Free Press.

Ironclad Franchise.

The franchise granted the Newton Street Railway Company by the Waltham aldermen Monday evening, for the right to lay tracks in Newton and River streets contains some pretty strong requirements for the railroad to comply with.

The road must be completed within a year, and the company must file its acceptance of the franchise within 30 days, otherwise it will be null and void, and give a bond of $10,000 to indemnify the city against damages.

Bank President.—"No, really, I cannot say that there is anyone against whom we can bring a charge. But there is Adderton, come to think of it; we have always been more or less suspicious of him," Police Officer—"But I don't know as I care to see Adderton. Isn't there somebody about the place in whom you have always had the most implicit confidence, and whom you have always trusted?—Yes? Well, that's the man I want to see."—Boston Transcript.

Matilda Enbain, Columbia, I. A., says:

"That Bearing-Down Feeling and dizzy, faint, gasping attacks left me as soon as I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick with womb troubles when I thought I never could get well."

Expressmen.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BAGGAGE EXPRESS NEWTON. Orders may be left at the B. & A. Baggage Room, or sent to Post Office Box 25.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room from 6.30 A. M., to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. P. Atkins Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Procter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving also Crockery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence: 152 Adams Street, Newton, Mass.

PEARSON'S

Newton and Boston Express.

Boston Office: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St., 33 Court St.; Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market. Newton Office: H. B. Coffin's; Order Boxes: Newton Office and Blanchard & Atkins. Leave Newton, 9.30 A. M. Leave Boston, 3 P. M.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER, Newton and Boston Express.

Leave Newton, 7.30 and 9.00 a.m.; leave Boston, 12 m. and 3 p.m. Newton Office: 33 Centre St. Order Box: Newton City Market, Boston Office: 15 Devonshire St., 174 Washington St., 34 Court St., 25 Merchants Row, 67 Franklin St., 11 Harrison Ave. Extension, P. O. Box 420, Newton. Personal attention given all orders. Tel. 279-2.

BEVERLY BROS. BAKERS.

Having recently put a cart on the road, are prepared to serve customers living in Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands.

354 Centre St., Newton.

FRANCIS MURDOCK, INSURANCE AGENT, Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies. Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord Mass.

PURE MILK

SUPPLIED DAILY FROM Prospect Valley Farm

One cow's milk supplied when desired

H. COLDWELL & SON, Waltham, Mass.

Box 192.

COCAINE CURES PILES

15c. AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

WATERMELON AND CUCUMBERS CAUSE CRAMPS.

KRAMP KILLER KILLS CRAMPS

and pains in the Stomach or Bowels, Diarrhea, Etc.

15 CENTS A BOTTLE. All Druggists Sell It.

IF YOUR EYE IS WEAK FROM ANY CAUSE TRY JELLISON'S INDIAN EYE BALM.

It Cures Weak, Sore and Inflamed Eyes. Price 15 Cents. Of All Druggists.

Tailors.

C. S. Decker Custom Tailor.

64 Elmwood St., Newton, Mass.

BERKELEY SCHOOL

Boylston, cor. Berkeley St., Boston.

Co-educational. Certificates of the school received at Smith, Wellesley, Etc. Special student fitted for Institute, Harvard and Boston University, Law and Medical schools, etc. Catalogue mailed. B. TAYLOR, DUMERITTE & HAGER.

the Master Builders' Association, 166 Devonshire Street. (Established 1836.) (Incorporated 1894.) (Connected by Telephone.)

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS, INCORPORATED.

Roofers, Metal Workers,

State, Copper, Tin, Tile, and Compositions, Roofing, Galvanized Iron Work. Dealers in all Roofing Materials.

201 and 22 East Street, Boston.

Special attention given to Repairs of all kinds of Roofing.

Samuel Farquhar, Pres.; David Farquhar, Secy and Treas.; Joseph Farquhar, Supt.; John Farquhar; Frank C. Farquhar, Directors.

E. W. MASTERS, Manufacturer of and Dealer in HARNESSES.

A full assortment of Whips, Blankets, robes, Socks, Oils, Brushes, Curry Combs, &c., always on hand. Repairing promptly and neatly done. Fine work a specialty. Prices reasonable.

876 Washington St., Newtonville, Mass.

FOUND

HUDSON'S PHARMACY.

...A CURE FOR... Coughs and Colds.

OVER 200 BOTTLES OF PECTORAL SYRUP

have been sold during the past month. It has a

Home Reputation due entirely to its

PREPARED ONLY BY

Arthur Hudson, Pharmacist and Chemist.

WOOD FOR SALE

0 0 0 NEWTON CEMETERY.

Undertakers.

GEORGE H. GREGG, Undertaker

TELEPHONE - 4 CONNECTIONS.

Funeral and Furnishing Undertaker.

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES, and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

GEO. W. BUSH

Elmwood Street, - Newton

S. F. CATE

Furnishing-Undertaker.

WASHINGTON ST., WEST NEWTON.

S. L. PRATT, FUNERAL AND FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass.

First-class Appointments and Competent Assistants. To accommodate the people of Upper Falls and vicinity orders may be left at the office of Fanning Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone.

Also shall continue in the Block, Livery and Boarding Stable. Business at my old stand corner of Beacon and Station Streets.

JOHN J. HORGAN, MONUMENTS

Headstones, Tablets, Posts, Markers and Statues. Fine stock at Manufacturer's Price.

45-53 MAIN STREET, CAMBRIDGEPORT.

Newton and Watertown cars stop at the door.

C. A. HARRINGTON LUMBER, Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c. Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.

Telephone 5248. Newton

Legal Notices.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue and in pursuance of the powers of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by John R. Campbell to William H. Ireland, dated November 14, 1892, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 2178, page 96, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of enforcing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Wednesday the 24th day of July, 1895, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, called Newton Centre, and bounded and described as follows:—Vestly on Irving Street 155.50-100 feet; northerly on land of said Ireland 254.66-100 feet; easterly on a proposed street 166-110 feet; and southerly on land of Albert F. Ireland 272-100 feet.

Two hundred dollars $200.00 to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale; other terms will be stated at the sale.

WILLIAM H. IRELAND, Mortgagee.

Mortgagee's Sale

By virtue and in pursuance of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Mary E. Clark to Sarah M. Moody, dated April 12th, 1887, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 1791, Page 254, which mortgage was duly assigned to Francis Buttrick, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of enforcing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Monday the 5th day of August, 1895, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit: a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in the southeasterly corner of Edwy Street distant from Washington Street five hundred and one (501) feet; thence running Westerly one hundred and thirty (130) feet; thence southerly to the land of said Clark; thence easterly along the parcel mortgaged to Francis Buttrick, to land of said Clark; thence northerly to land of said Clark; thence easterly by a line parallel to the first described line one hundred and thirty (130) feet; thence southerly to land of said Clark; thence running southerly by the Westerly line of said Edwy Street seventy (70) feet to the point of beginning.

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre, Agent of the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley Newton.
—Mrs. E. H. Fennessy and family are at Cottage City for the season.
—Mr. W. W. Barker has returned from a short stay at Sebago, Maine.
—Mr. George F. Richardson will pass several weeks at Lake Winnebago.
—The Buckley brothers are passing the week in New York.
—A billiard parlor was opened in White's block recently by L. A. Vachon.
—Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.
—Mr. P. H. Butler and family of Crystal street are summering at Old Orchard, Me.
—Mrs. Joseph Cousins of Sumner street is entertaining friends from the South.
—Mrs. Loring Brooks of Sumner street is entertaining friends from a distance.
—Mr. Oliver J. Hall of Beacon street has returned from a short outing at Nantucket.
—Mr. Arthur Washburn is passing his vacation in Halifax.
—Miss Estelle McKee of Pelham street is home from the mountains.
—Mr. W. H. T. Book of Maine is here for a few weeks.
—Miss Isaacs of Chicago is visiting Miss Thorpe.

—Rev. W. O. Stearns is here visiting his mother, Mrs. Dr. Oakes Stearns.
—Mr. Horace Cousins' sewer tax is about $2000.

—Mr. Oliver J. Hall has returned from the Centennial celebration at Nantucket.

—Mr. M. S. Buckley and Joe Buckley of Jackson street have gone to New York for two weeks, to visit their brothers.

—Miss Mary Basiger and Miss Anne Basiger of Columbus, O., are visiting Mrs. J. D. Giles.

—Among those registered at the Seaview House, North Seltwater Beach, are Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Flanders.

—Mr. Mathews and family of Brookline are occupying the Gunderson estate on Centre street.

—Mrs. Michael Higgins passed away Wednesday morning at her home on Langley road after a long illness.

—Mrs. C. W. Barker of Pelham street is entertaining Miss Hattie Strong of Manchester, N. H.

—Among those who have returned from their summer outing was noticed Mr. Henry H. Dodge of Ashton Park.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Joseph Hession, Wesley Pease and James Remick.

—Miss Hattie Dore of Manchester, N. H., has been the guest of Mrs. C. W. Barker.

—Mrs. Robbins of Worcester has been the guest of her father, Mr. Charles Dudley.

—Wm. R. Coleman is occupying the house he recently bought on North street from Mrs. Hurley.

—The water department is laying a main on Grant avenue, to the house of Adams D. Cladin.

—Jol. E. H. Haskell, with his wife and two daughters, is enjoying a two months' trip to Europe.

—At the Unitarian church, Sunday, the service at 10.30 will be conducted by the pastor.

—Mrs. W. E. Armstrong and family of Centre street have returned from several weeks stay at the mountains.

—Mr. Albert Reed leaves Monday for Nova Scotia where he will pass his vacation.

—Mrs. Chas. H. Holden and daughter, Miss Hattie, have been with friends in Needham for a week.

—Miss Jewell and family, with her mother, Mrs. Pratt, from Milford, Me., have recently passed a week with Mrs. Joseph E. Cousins.

—Mr. A. F. McLean of Coolidge block was tendered a birthday party Tuesday evening by his many friends. Games and dancing added to the enjoyment of the evening.

—The Endeavorers of this place extend thanks to all those who kindly attended in honor of the convention last week. It was also appreciated by the visiting delegates.

—Among those who left this week for summer resorts were Prof. English and family of Beacon street, Mr. H. Bailey and family and Mrs. Lewis and family of Oxford road.

—At the first church the pastor, Rev. Edward M. Noyes, will preach morning and evening. Morning theme, "A Redeemed Creation," evening, "Three Steps into Christian Life."

—Saturday, July 20th, the Newton A. team will play the strong Somerville team on the Cedar street grounds in this village. The Somervilles recently played a tie game with Franklin. Friday, the 20th, the Newtons will play the Somervilles at Newbury, R. I., and it is possible that this trip may be extended and a game may be played at East Orange, N. J., with the Orange Athletic club. Fred Woodcock will go with the team on the trip and will pitch in at least one game. Rand of Harvard, will play right field for Newton until Warren recovers from a broken finger received in the last game. Harry Beatrix, the popular outfielder of the N. A. A., will return from his wedding tour next week.

—Last Sunday the Endeavor Society connected with the Congregational church of Newton Centre held a convention rally to which the forty or fifty visiting delegates and their friends were invited. The convention reception committee from the church were on duty at the doors and welcomed over four hundred who came to enjoy the services. The opening exercises consisted of hymns by the congregation, reading of scriptures and prayer by the pastor and the singing of that favorite song, "Gather 'Round the Throne," by the chorus of twenty voices, most of whom were members of the grand convention chorus. After a few well chosen words of welcome by Mr. H. J. Kiley, president of the society, Mr. Noyes introduced Mr. Frank E. Page, former president of the Chicago C. E. Union. Mr. Page spoke on Christian Endeavor and good citizenship and his address was full of good suggestions to Endeavor citizens. Mr. Walter McArthur of Washington, D. C., an ex-president of that Union, was expected to tell something about Washington '94, but was called home by illness. The last speaker was Rev. D. M. Fisk of Toledo, Ohio, who gave such a fine address at the Congregational rally of the Convention, Thursday afternoon. He thought the greatest discovery of the age was man's discovery of God. Other discoveries were woman and young people, both could speak in public now when they could not before. Mr. Fisk illustrated his remarks with several stories, which seemed to please the audience. After the service the numerous Endeavorers, representing twelve different states, had an opportunity of meeting each other. The church was decorated in a beautiful and artistic manner for the occasion by Miss Alice E. Ellis and her efficient committee. The combination of United States and C. E. flags, bunting and mottoes was very effective.

—Mrs. E. T. Colburn and the Misses Colburn, have taken a cottage on Canonville Cove, Oak Bluffs. Mr. Colburn will join them later.

—Judge White of Norfolk County will open a street from Parker to Jackson street through his land, bringing quite a number of building lots into market.

—Mr. George H. Loomer has secured the store next to his store in Bray's block. The stores will be connected front and rear with large arches, and dry goods and small wares added to his shoe and gentlemen's furnishing goods business.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Postmaster Nash is at Mt. Vernon, N. H.

—The Fisher and the Sampson families are away summering.

—Miss Reed of Floral avenue has gone to Diamond Island, Portland.

—Mr. A. F. Hayward and family have gone to Deer Isle, on the Maine coast.

—Mr. H. W. Burr has returned from a trip in Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hopkins and the Atwood family are summering in Maine.

—Mrs. Logan, Miss Margaretta Logan and Charley Logan are at Christmas cove.

—Mr. S. D. Whittemore and family have gone to Antrim, N. Y.

—Miss Annie Bryant is in New York State.

—Mr. E. Everett Bird and family are at Henniker, N. H., until Sept. 1st.

—Miss Daisy Glover is at Long Island, N. H.

—Rev. Dr. Webb will conduct the services at the Congregational church, next Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wright and Eddie Greenwood are at Peaks Island, Maine.

—Mr. W. C. Brocklesby is remodeling his house on Colburn street and will occupy the same when completed.

—Mrs. C. H. Guild and Miss Sweetzer have been spending a few days with a sister of Miss Sweetzer at Concord.

—The base ball game on Saturday will be between the City Point A. C. and the home team. Game called at 3.30 p. m.

—Mr. A. L. Greenwood and family of Floral avenue have returned from their stay at Cottage City.

—The subject of the prayer meeting this evening at the Congregational church will be "The Influence of the Christian Endeavor Convention."

—Mr. C. Mason of Chester street has wedded Miss Dillaye of Pennsylvania, who has been a guest with the Dodge family, and they are now making their wedding tour.

—At the Methodist Episcopal church, next Sunday, Rev. O. R. Miller of Newton Lower Falls, will preach in the morning. The evening sermon will be by the pastor, subject, "God, our Guide." All welcome.

—At the church meeting held at the chapel of the Congregational church, on Friday evening, July 12th, it was voted to adopt the plans of the committee for an addition to the chapel on the Lincoln street side, and a committee appointed to solicit subscriptions for same. The room to be added is for the better accommodation of the Sunday School.

—Miss Lane, the milliner, in Patterson's block, was riding a bicycle on Wednesday on the boulevard and while taking a run down a slope encountered a section of stone which had not been crushed by the steam roller which caused her to be thrown upon the stone road bed, striking upon her face, which was badly lacerated and her leg rendered insensible for a short time. She is now doing well.

WABAN.

—Charlie Flint is taking a bicycle trip to Nashua, N. H.

—Mr. Arthur Comer and family are at Goose Rock, Me.

—Mr. J. H. Robinson is entertaining his niece.

—Miss Lillian Bufum is suffering with an attack of tonsillitis.

—Mr. S. R. Reading returned home from a business trip to New York, Wednesday.

—Station Agent Stronach returned from Monday from a four weeks' vacation.

—Mrs. M. A. Dresser and Miss Mayola Dresser leave Saturday for Portland, Me.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Roraback have as their guest, Miss Ford of New York.

—Miss M. S. Neide of Philadelphia is visiting Mrs. S. R. Reading of Chestnut street.

—Mr. Newell Tucker is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Knight at Craigville, Mass.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Knight, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Locke are at Craigville, Mass., for the month of August.

—Miss Ethel Woodbury left Monday for Centerville, where she will remain the rest of the summer.

—Miss Anthony, who has been the guest of Miss Kendrick for some time past, returned home Monday.

—Miss Heaton has been spending a few days at Shirley Hills, N. H., as the guest of Mrs. W. E. Armstrong, formerly of this place.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Campbell, with Miss Josephine Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Roscoe, are summering at Jamestown, R. I.

—Mr. George H. Rice has the foundation for a house staked out on Montclair road. The water department have just laid a main on this road, to the new house of W. C. Strong.

Chronic Diarrhea in South Africa.

For over six years I was a constant sufferer from chronic diarrhea. I tried a great many remedies yet found no relief. By chance, I noticed an advertisement in the newspaper calling attention to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I sent for a bottle, and before half of it had been taken I was completely cured.—E. C. Knott, Vredeford, Orange Free State, South Africa. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Greene, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

—The Director's Fee.

Nearly all the great financial concerns here pay the directors who attend board meetings $10 for each sitting, not counting lunch and cigars. Some men in this way pick up all the way from $5,000 to $10,000 a year, they being of the directory of several institutions or corporations. A bank president whose services are in demand as a director is authority for the statement that the fee is paid in gold and is given to the director the moment he enters the board room. And directors don't always direct at that.—New York Letter.

—The Public's Own Fault.

Jazkins—Bicyclists are so common nowadays, I suppose, that nobody pays any attention to them.

Biznog—That's just it. People pay no attention to them, and then they denounce the bicyclists for running them down.—Roxbury (Mass.) Gazette.

—First Church Building in Chicago.

Erected in 1833. Dedicated Jan. 4, 1834. Location, a block and a half from South Water street, on the alley on Clark street, in the rear of the present Sherman House. Denomination, Presbyterian.

PLANET COLLISIONS.

Should Stars Knock Together the Fire Would Be Indescribable.

Professor Ledger of London, whose series of Gresham astronomy lectures on "Knocks In Their Relation to Astronomy" has been completed, in his last discourse pointed out that the universe, instead of being fixed, is alive with motion, each star with its attendant planets hurrying through space. If star were to knock against star the intense heat and fierce fire generated by the enormous velocity and vast momentum of the two masses would be such as to pass human conception.

It may be that the sun was formed by the collision of two stars. The effect of two such bodies attracting each other and meeting would be to reduce them to a violently agitated gaseous mass, which would oscillate first inward, producing inconceivable heat, and then outward again, ultimately assuming the condition of the sun. The general result would be that the two bodies would revolve around their common center of gravity—that is to say, around each other—creating a double star. Lord Kelvin has calculated that if 29,000,000 solid globes, each of the mass of the moon, should be scattered over a spherical surface 100 times the radius of the earth's orbit, they would come together and be raised to a temperature of 100,000 degrees. They would oscillate outward and inward, reaching to a less distance each time, and ultimately settling down into a sphere.

The nebulae we see around us may, Professor Ledger suggests, have been produced by the knocking together of two great bodies rather than by the aggregation of many smaller ones. The collision of two huge suns would thus lead to rejuvenescence and the formation of new systems. Phenomena indicating that something very much in the nature of a collision had occurred are the outbursts of temporary stars such as those observed by Tycho Brahe in 1572, by Kepler in 1604 and those of 1848, 1866, 1876, 1885 and 1892, the last being the new star Auriga, which declined through ten magnitudes, or became 100,000 times less bright in two months. The great increase in the light of a comet as it approaches the sun may be due to a tidal disturbance in the bodies forming it, causing them to knock against each other, and thus generate heat and light.

In the same way the twinkling of the stars may be caused by the knocks of the molecules of the atmosphere on the ether, whose undulations carry their light to us. The excessively great and the exceedingly small are all interdependent, and the past, present and probable future of nebulous bodies all hinge on the relations they bear to the knocks of the molecules of their gases, while the knocks of immense bodies depend ultimately on the knocks of their constituent atoms.

Book Bound in Gold and Silver.

The only gold and silver bound, diamond encrusted book in the world was lately encased in the holy Mohammedan city of Ismaun-Ruza, Persia. The book is of course a copy of the Alkoran and is a gift from Abd-ur-Rahman, amir of Afghanistan. The covers of this unique volume, the sides of which are 9½ by 4 inches, are of solid gold plates one-eighth of an inch in thickness, lined with silver sheets of the same thickness. The centerpiece, as well as the corners, is a symbolic design wrought in diamonds, rubies and pearls. The center figure is a crescent with a star between its points, the whole design being composed of 109 small diamonds, 167 pearls and 122 rubies. The diamonds on each corner, which are almost hidden in their golden setting, and the orange colored lacquer with which they are fastened, are each worth about $5,000. The book itself is on parchment, entirely written by hand. It is valued at $125,000. There are said to have been over 100,000 visitors present in Ismaun-Ruza the day the holy relic was encased.—St. Louis Republic.

Soap Bubbles.

M. Izarn has communicated to the Academy of Sciences a new method for obtaining soap bubbles lasting a much longer time than those obtained from the soap water generally used. He has recourse to a resinous soap made by the following formula: Pulverize together 10 grams of pure rosin and 10 parts of carbonate of potash; add 100 parts of water and boil until complete solution. We obtain in this way a thick solution which may be kept in stock to be diluted for use with from four to five times its volume of water. It can be kept indefinitely even when exposed to the air. The bubbles produced are very persistent and consequently can be made useful in the study of phenomena relating to thin laminae and in making photographs in which soap bubbles play a part.

—Mrs. Elizabeth E. Hutter.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Hutter, who recently died in Philadelphia, was widely known as the pioneer in many philanthropic movements in Pennsylvania. She was the widow of the Rev. Dr. E. W. Hutter, once editor of the Lancaster Intelligencer and afterward private secretary of President Buchanan and assistant secretary of state. During the war Mrs. Hutter frequently went to the front, rendering valuable service to the wounded and suffering. She took a conspicuous part in the great sanitary fair held in Philadelphia in 1861, acting as president of the committee of labor, income and revenue. She is credited with having raised $250,000 for the fair. She was the first woman to cross the line after the desperate three days' battle of Gettysburg. She went in a car provided by President Scott of the Pennsylvania railroad and by special permission of President Lincoln.—New York Tribune.

—Wonderful Strength of the Beetle.

A noted entomologist who has been writing on the wonderful feats of strength as exhibited in the beetle family tells the following: "I selected a common black water beetle weighing 4.2 grains and found that he was able to carry a load of shot in a small bag, the whole weighing 8½ ounces, or exactly 588 times the weight of the bug. If a man weighing 150 could carry as much accordingly he could shoulder a 45 ton locomotive and then chain a train of cars together and take the whole lot across the country at a five mile an hour gait."

When a man marries he fully intends to be No. 1 in the family, but often the full point drops out and he lapses into "no one."

Spain, Italy, Sweden, Hanover, Russia, Austria and Turkey receive daily weather reports from Paris and London.

Arabia was so called from its inhabitants, the Arabs.

CONSERVATIVE.

The First Use of the Word as an English Political Term.

Canning, and not Croker, was the first to use in English politics the word conservative in its present sense, and too long has Thackeray's "Mr. Wenham" (Disraeli's "Mr. Rigby") had the credit which belongs to a far more brilliant man. The general assumption has been that the term was earliest employed in The Quarterly Review for January, 1830 (No. 83, page 276), in an article which has been commonly said, but upon no specified authority, to have been written by Croker, but its true first use was five years and a half previously.

On June 8, 1824, a dinner was given to George Hibbert, the chairman of the West India Merchants of London, by the members of that body, and several of the leading ministers then serving under Lord Liverpool, the Tory premier, were present. In the course of the proceedings, says a contemporary account, "an observation which fell from Mr. Canning was that the spirit of the present government, as that of all governments ought to be, was essentially conservative."

This appeared in John Bull of June 13, 1824 (page 198), and the apt word was so obviously remarked that it was italicized. Years passed, and Canning died before the word was again to be met in English politics, but on March 14, 1829, Charles Greyville noted in his diary that "Herries told Hyde Villiers that their (the Tories) policy was conservative, that of the Whigs subversive, and that they never could act together."

"The Greville Memoirs," volume 1, part 1, page 192.
The word, employed by both Canning and Herries, was thus "in the air" before it was given in The Quarterly, and this accords with a statement made in the course of a correspondence on the "Etymology of the Word Conservative" which appeared in The Standard at the end of October, 1832, wherein it was said to have been first used in 1829, during the closing controversies upon Roman Catholic emancipation.—Notes and Queries.

INCAPABLE OF IMPERSONALITY.

An Alleged Failing That Has Deferred Woman's Emancipation.

The bond of fellowship which exists between man and man simply by virtue of a common sex is entirely absent between woman and woman. It is, in fact, replaced by a fundamental antagonism, a vague enmity which renders the general attitude of a feminine creature toward her kind essentially different from that of the male creature in identical relations. In individual cases this feeling is counteracted by affection or by sympathy, but apart from personal sentiment it remains, severing every living woman from the rest of her sex. To a great extent this arises from woman's incapacity for impersonal feeling or abstract emotion. In life's fray she fights either for her own hand or, more often, for some one man or woman whom she loves, but rarely for the welfare of her sex at large.

Were it not for this strange lack of humanity in her nature, the emancipation of woman would not have been so grievously retarded. If the few women who suffered a foretaste under the restrictions which hedged in their liberty had been able to count on the sympathy and cooperation of all women, the time of their subjugation would have been enormously abbreviated. As it was, the first seekers after freedom met with more opposition from their own sex than they did from the other; nor, indeed, do they fare better today. Enormous changes in their social status were effected by an inconsiderable minority of women brave enough and logical enough to impress the male powers that be with the justice of their demands. But for their courage they received no sympathy and for their success not one word of thanks—nothing, in fact, but execration from the huge inert feminine mass in whose service their strength was spent.—Saturday Review.

—Full Line, Finest Quality.

GEO. E. HUSE & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

Meats and Provisions.

White's Block, Centre St.,

NEWTON CENTRE,

GEO. E. HUSE. LEWIS MURPHY.

Teeth Filled WITHOUT PAIN.

We, the undersigned, have had teeth excavated for filling by Dr. Jordan's method, entirely without pain.

P. E. HUSE, M. D., 2 Commonwealth St., Boston.

Mrs. H. C. Williams, 174 Beacon St., Boston.

Mrs. M. B. Mattson, 2 Adams St., Charlestown.

Samuel C. Hill, Hyde Park, Mass.

Mrs. J. A. Bulmer, Montreal, P. Q.

Miss Juliet Wells, 121 Beacon St., Boston.

And hundreds of others.

Estimates and Examinations Free.

DR. E. L. JORDAN, DENTIST.

Room 37, Park Bldg., No. 2 Park Sq., Boston.

Hotel Nantasket, OPENS JULY 1st.

Rockland Cafe, OPENS JUNE 15th.

Nantasket Beach, - - Mass.

EDW. F. TURGIN, Prop.

Nantasket Beach.

This celebrated summer resort is one of the most pleasantly situated on the Atlantic Coast. Its position on the South Shore of Massachusetts Bay offers unrivaled facilities for bathing. The Beach is acknowledged to be the finest in New England.

MISS MCGILL,

a fashionable dress maker of experience would like a few engagements. Cutting and fitting a specialty; satisfaction guaranteed.

3 FAYETTE STREET, BOSTON.

Chautauquans

JULY 23. LAKEVIEW, AUG. 5.

Fare Reduced. Program Improved.

Address: SAMUEL COCHRAN, South Framingham.

GREAT PROGRAM.

Dr. Hurlburt in Charge.

FRAMINGHAM.

Program Improved.

Address: SAMUEL COCHRAN, South Framingham.

Spain, Italy, Sweden, Hanover, Russia, Austria and Turkey receive daily weather reports from Paris and London.

Arabia was so called from its inhabitants, the Arabs.

WALTER C. BROOKS & Co.

... Importing ...
.. Tailors ..

15 MILK ST., BOSTON.

BIRTHPLACE OF FRANKLIN
OPP. OLD SOUTH CHURCH.

Goods Delivered Free in the Newtons.

Fine Woolens at Moderate Prices.

PEARMAN & BROOKS

Members of.....
..Boston Stock Exchange

Stock and Bond Brokers.

Orders by Mail Promptly Executed.

Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.

Stock Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.

SUMNER B. PEARMAN.

L. LORING BROOKS.

New Girl—"Mamma, I wish you could sew."

New Woman—"Why so, child?"

New Girl—"Because I've torn my bloomers, and papa's busy ironing." Chicago Tribune.

Friend (to professor of philology)—

"What struck your attention particularly on your vacation trip?"

Professor—"A hundred and twenty-two unorthographic sign-boards."—Fliegende Blätter.

Full Line, Finest Quality.

GEO. E. HUSE & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXV.—NO. 43.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1897.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR

J. H. NICKERSON, Pres. AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, Vice Pres.

First National Bank of West Newton.

CAPITAL, $100,000.

SURPLUS, $12,000.

For the accommodation of our depositors, on and after MONDAY, APRIL 15, a representative of this Bank will be at the DRUG STORE of JOHN F. PAYNE, NEWTONVILLE, daily, from 9.05 to 11 A. M. to receive Deposits and pay Checks.

EDWARD P. HATCH, Cashier.

PENNOCK ELECTRIC LIGHT CO.,

305 CARTER BUILDING, BOSTON.

ELECTRIC LIGHT. ELECTRIC HEAT. ELECTRIC POWER.

PRICE LIST—Series Incandescent Light, 75 candlepower, $2 per month; Multiple arc incandescent light, 16 candlepower, 50 cents per month; Electric Power, for Motors, $15 per horsepower per year; Electric Heating, $1 per month per 8 room house. THE CHEAPEST, THE BEST, THE ONLY SAFE ELECTRIC SYSTEM IN THE WORLD. State Right Certificates $1.00 per share. Send for particulars.

Brackett's Market Company.

Established 1851. Incorporated 1892.
Telephone No. 16-3.

The Best Meats, Poultry, Game, Cream, Butter, Eggs, Fruits and Vegetables

at the Lowest Prices. This Market intends to fill all orders as the purchaser were present. Goods which are found not to be as represented may be returned.

7 and 8 Cole's Block, WASHINGTON near CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

F. IVERS & SON,

BUILDERS OF

High Grade Road Wagons.

Rubber Tires and Ball Bearing Axles applied to Carriages.

Carriage Repairing a Specialty.

1953-1963 Massachusetts Ave., No. Cambridge.

STOVES AND EVERY VARIETY OF

Household Goods

—AT—

BENT'S FURNITURE ROOMS, 64 Main St., Watertown.

ATWOOD'S MARKET.

HEADQUARTERS FOR

Fine Fruit, Vegetables, The Choicest Fish and Meats.

Mr. Atwood's long experience gives him unusual facilities for securing the best things in the market.

371 CENTRE ST., NEWTON. Telephone 122-2.

Newton

City Market

Fresh and Salt

Meats.

Poultry and Game.

Fish

and Oysters.

Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Canned Goods, Fruit, Vegetables.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

JAMES PAXTON, Confectioner and Caterer.

Ices, Creams, Frozen Pudding, Roman Punch, Fine Cakes, Candies, Salads, Oysters, Crisquettes, Etc.

ALL OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Weddings

and Receptions

SERVED IN SUPERIOR STYLE.

Eliot Block, Newton

NEWTON.

—Planos, Farley, 433 Washington St. N.

—Good soda "So say we all," Hahn's.

—Mr. A. J. Ring is away on his vacation.

—Mrs. N. L. Ripley is at Kennebunk beach.

—Mr. L. B. Harrington and family are at Old Orchard beach.

—Mrs. G. B. Paine and children left Wednesday for Kearsarge, N. H.

—Fine watch and clock repairing at W. A. Hodgdon's, 326 Centre street.

—Channing church will be closed during the month of August.

—For a warm weather stylish hair cut, visit Burns, Cole's block. Three barbers.

—Mr. Herbert Trowbridge has started upon a trip to the White Mountains.

—Mr. E. S. Moore returned to Grand Rivers, Kentucky, last Thursday.

—Mr. Edward Robinson has returned home from his trip to Virginia.

—Cash paid for old gold and silver at W. A. Hodgdon's 326 Centre street.

—Mr. Harry P. Spaulding left last Saturday for the White Mountains.

—Mrs. T. B. Hitechock of Amherst is in Newton for a few weeks.

—Mrs. L. E. Chase and family are at Cape Ann.

—Mr. R. U. Clark and family are at Hull.

—Mrs. Lucy H. Symonds of Fairmont avenue is at the White Mountains.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Atkins leave today for a brief visit on Cape Cod.

—Judson Kilcup of Atkins' store has been at Kennebec, N. S., for three weeks.

—Fred Greer of Providence is in town this week visiting relatives.

—Miss Stephens of Bacon street has gone to Old Orchard, Me., for a few weeks stay.

—Mrs. M. T. M. Vincent is registered at the Nanpashemet House, Marblehead Neck.

—Mrs. C. S. Johnson and son of Thornton street are in New London, Conn., for the summer.

—Misses Nellie and Kate Grace are spending two weeks at Hampton Beach, N. H.

—Mr. John McDonald will leave next week for a trip through the land of Evangeline.

—Miss Carrie Hutchinson, who has been visiting Mr. P. Y. Hoseney, has returned to her home in Annapolis, N. S.

—Mr. J. Myles Standish and family removed this week from Tremont street to Algonquin street, Dorchester.

—Mr. F. A. Leeds and family of Linder Terrace are at the Mountains for three weeks.

—Mrs. Edward Sawyer is among the recent arrivals at the Hesperus House, Magalloway.

—Rev. F. B. Hornbrook is announced to officiate at the Unitarian church at Bar Harbor, Aug. 25th.

—Mr. George Agry and family are at Duxbury for two weeks and will spend August at Westboro.

—Mr. G. P. Poole and family of Penobscot street have returned from Manchester-by-the-sea.

—Mr. H. W. Crowell and family left Friday for their summer home at Hyannis.

—Dr. Kenneth Winslow will return from Falmouth, where he has been on his vacation, on Wednesday, July 20th.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Trowbridge of Hunnewell avenue left this week for a visit to Kearsarge, N. H.

—Mr. P. F. Parker, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has gone as an assistant to John M. Dick to Camp Idlewild, with nine of the junior boys.

—Rev. and Mrs. Henry F. Spaulding visited Winn, Mass., last week as guests of Mrs. J. E. R. Hill of Boston, and afterward of Mrs. C. B. Prescott of Newton.

—Mr. Frank H. Burt and his sons, and Miss Grace M. Burt of Charlesbank road, have returned from a short sojourn at Providence, R. I., at the Alpine House, North Woodstock, N. H., for the rest of the summer.

—Co. C left Monday at 8.45 on a special train for muster. The men were in the pink of condition, and judging from the reports heard have been distinguishing themselves for a year.

—Rev. George E. Merrill was given the degree of D. D. by Colby University of Waterville, Me., at the recent commencement. The honor is as deserved as it was entirely unthought for. Rev. Merrill is one of the most scholarly preachers in the Baptist denomination.

—Charles J. Robinson of Natick met with a serious accident on Centre street, Sunday morning. He was coasting down the steep hill just above Bennington street when his wheel broke down, and he was thrown against a post, at the same time a bad scalp wound and his collar bone was broken.

—Uriah and A. A. Trull, citizens of the town of Merrimack, are heirs to the estate of Mrs. Elizabeth T. Eldridge, who died recently. This fortune, which will be divided by the Messrs. Trull and several of their brothers and sisters who reside in other towns close by, is estimated to be from $800,000 to $1,000,000.

—Patrons of the Boston & Albany railroad are making vigorous complaints about the condition of the lavatories in the Newton depot. There seems to be some difficulty, either with the plumbing or ventilation. One cause of trouble is the evident desire on the part of the railroad management to economize room. The result has been far from pleasing and besides prohibits the introduction of the volume of air always essential in such places.

—Another petition is soon to be presented to the city council regarding the widening of Tremont and Park streets. Residents interested are, of course, anxious to avail themselves of the promised accommodation of the West End railroad people in the shape of a continuous electric line from the Tremont House in Boston through Brighton and Oak Square to this city. It is now about the time that the widening of the street is not too great, here's hoping that they will push this good thing along.

—Capt. Scott, of Co. C, absolutely denies the statements made in the Monday morning issue of several of the Boston papers, concerning the alleged careless shooting at the range, Saturday. The scores were exceptionally high that day, he says, and he himself scored 48 points out of a possible 50. It is the first complaint that has been received since two years ago and at that time the company spent $250 to make the range perfectly safe. He criticises the action of the correspondent who published the item and says that it should not have been done without first consulting him or making an investigation. The company are willing to make needed repairs if any one can prove the range unfit for rifle practice.

—Mr. Waldo B. Hobart has returned from a yachting trip.

—Miss Kate Crofts has returned from a visit at Nantasket.

—Mr. Arthur Hudson, Jr. left Saturday for Shady Nook Farm, N. H.

—Mr. Frank Adams will leave for Lithfield, Me., the early part of August.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. E. White of Park street are at Milton.

—Mr. M. Drury is enjoying his vacation in North Conway, N. H.

—Miss Belle Stewart and Miss Ida Stewart left Thursday for an Eastern trip.

—Miss Mary Miller has been visiting her uncle at North Conway, N. H.

—Mr. C. J. Brown and family of Charlesbank road are at Martha's Vineyard.

—Mr. Rodburg of Jefferson street is in Europe on a business trip.

—Mrs. James McAdams of Williams street is in Maine for a short stay.

—Mr. Warren and family have leased one of Mr. J. M. Briggs' houses on Williams street.

—Mr. Harry Flinn, who has been visiting his parents here, has returned to New York city.

—Mrs. Washburn, who has been very seriously ill at her residence on Jefferson street, is now convalescing.

—Mr. J. Edward Hiliis has returned from New York city, where he went on a business trip.

—Mrs. Donkin and family of Hunnewell Terrace are at Falmouth, and in the fall will remove to Boston.

—Mr. I. W. Coney and family have left for their summer home at Hough's Neck.

—Mr. A. B. Turner and family of Sargent street are spending the summer at Nahant.

—Rev. Dillon Bronson will preach at the Union services at Eliot church next Sunday morning and evening.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrook will preach Sunday evening, July 26th, at the Second church, Boylston street, Boston.

—Mrs. William B. Rogerson and Miss Eva Rogerson of Hunnewell Terrace are at the Mountain House, Princeton.

—Miss Nellie Grace, Postmaster Morgan's assistant at the postoffice, is spending her vacation at Hampton Beach.

—Mrs. J. Q. Henry and the Misses Henry are at York Beach, Me. Mr. Waldo Henry is enjoying a Raymond excursion trip to Europe.

—Miss Katherine Joyce of the Graphic staff left Monday for Johnston, N. H., where she will pass a three weeks' vacation.

—Mr. Byington, assistant superintendent of the Boston fire department repair shops, was the guest of Engineer Judkins of steamer one Sunday.

—The flags on the various public buildings, yesterday, were at half mast, in honor of ex-Governor Rice, whose funeral occurred on that day.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Henry Tarbox, George Williams, Miss A. Beard, Mrs. Liza Dee, Nana Condon, Alice Greeley, Annie Ross, and Francis A. Ward.

—There will be class meeting Tuesday evening, prayer meeting, Friday evenings, and Sunday School, Sunday noon, all summer at the Methodist church. Strangers welcome.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrook and family will leave next Wednesday for the Garrison House, York Beach, Me. After two weeks there they will return to Newton for a week and then go to Bar Harbor.

—Wm. Briggs and Henry Cutler started Wednesday to drive to North Dennis, a distance of nearly a hundred miles. Stops will be made at Brockton, Barnstable, North Falmouth and many places of interest.

—Willie Pyle, 13 years old, while visiting at J. B. Carter's in Crombridge court, fell out of a hammock Sunday evening and was so seriously injured that Dr. Uley had him removed to the Newton hospital where he is said to be improving.

—Last Sunday had the distinction of being the hottest day of the season, and was followed by the hottest night. Since then the heat has moderated and the nights have been very comfortable for the stay-at-homes, of whom there are a good many, in spite of the popular belief that every one is away.

—The funeral of the late Charles Pope of Boston, who died in Wakefield, was held Tuesday morning from the residence of Mr. Curtis Clifford, Boston. The services were conducted by Rev. Noah R. Everts of the Wakefield Baptist church, and the interment was in this city, the native place of the deceased.

—Loud complaints come from Newtonville of the mud caused by water carts deluging the streets in shady places and the same condition of things exists in Newton, especially on Washington street from the square to Adams street, most of it being impassable to wheelmen on account of the mud. The condition of this street is bad enough without this, and perhaps the only way to remedy the matter would be to induce the man in charge of street watering to ride a wheel. More intelligent discrimination would then be displayed.

—Miss Leslie Field died at the home of her grandfather, Mr. A. S. March, on Monday, after an illness of only a few weeks. She came from Brooklyn to go to the Jewell camp with Mr. March's family, but was taken ill, and was left in the care of her mother, Mrs. Hurley, but no danger was apprehended, and it was only within a few days that the disease took a serious turn. Her grandfather's family were hurriedly summoned from their vacation by the sad news. The funeral services were held at the Park street residence, on Thursday, at 2 p. m.

—Some bicycle clubs are said to be agitated over the question, which has the worst roads, Watertown or Newton, and opinion seems to be divided. Newton is ahead in one respect, that it has a few fine roads, but Watertown street for its whole length, or Auburn street, or half a dozen others that might be named, will rival anything in Watertown, and that town too has never made any pretensions to good roads. Now that the railroad tracks are laid above West Newton, that street ought to be fixed up, and perhaps when the new boulevard is finished something may be done.

—There is one member of the local cycling fraternity who didn't join the club run to Nantasket, Sunday, and who is willing to sign a petition to have Tremont street widened from Oak Square to Newton. He meant to go but circumstances over which he had no control prevented. When he awoke on the morning of the day mentioned he found that the party had already left, so nothing daunted, he hurriedly dressed himself and decided to overtake them. He started immediately and was making good time, but when near Oak Square he encountered a large cow who claimed more of the street than her share. Somehow they couldn't pass and the result was that the wheelman had his head badly bruised and his wheel considerably damaged.

—Miss Laura Lane, Miss Guild, Mrs. McQueen and others leave next week for Narragansett Pier.

—Miss Nellie Fewkes of Maple street has returned from a short stay in Claremont, N. H.

—Mr. J. R. Griswold of the Watertown Enterprise leaves on his customary annual vacation trip next week.

—W. J. Henderson is at Woods Hole, building a boat house for Mr. Wilbur. E. H. Dyer and several other Newton carpenters are with him.

NONANTUM.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Lowry and family are summering at the seashore.

—Mrs. Theophilus Frye and daughters will leave this week for Peterboro, N. H.

—Ground has been broken for Wm. Grace's new block on Watertown street.

—Officer Shaw of the Bemis squad is away on his vacation. Officer White is taking his place.

—The public bath house will open Aug. 1st, and the hours are given in an advertisement in another column.

—Rev. J. M. Dutton of Newtonville addressed the open air meeting in front of the North Evangelical church, Sunday evening.

—Mr. Pitt F. Parker, secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A., led the Young People's meeting at the North Evangelical church, Sunday evening.

—Masters Ernest and Harold Greene, sons of Rev. Daniel Greene of Bridge street, have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. D. C. Smith, in Hamilton, the past week.

—The Beulah Mission will hold an open air service on Mr. George Hudson's lawn on Bridge street, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Lawrence Churchill, commonly called "the singing Evangelist," will lead. If the weather should prove stormy, the meeting will be held in St. Elmo Hall.

—It is expected that the new bath house will be completed by the latter part of next week. Work on it is progressing rapidly.

—The location of a good one as the bottom of the river in that part is covered with gravel. There will be accommodations for thirty people and fourteen lockers for the use of bathers. A special police officer will be in charge to keep order.

—The past week has been a gala one in Nonantum, not a few of her citizens figuring in the police court for various offenses. Friday, John Collins was up for cruelly beating his horse, and fined $10.

—Late Saturday afternoon, Hilfre Doudan was arrested for assaulting Thomas Lippy. He was one of the managers of the flying horses and struck the boy with his fist.

—Don't forget him $5. Saturday night, Patrick Monahan had a disagreement with his wife, and she received a black eye, which as Monahan explained to the judge, was hurt by colliding with his elbow.

—Late Saturday evening, on Crescent street, that Patrolman Quilty locked him up. Leander Bennett was arrested Thursday night for imbibing too freely of intoxicants.

—Sunday morning, who said he had bought or drunk nothing for a year.

"Have tried others, but like Ayer's best" is the statement made over and over again by the people who testify to the benefit derived from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Disease never had a greater enemy than this powerful blood-purifier. It makes the weak strong.

Another Needed Street Extension.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:

I mean the extension of Pembroke street, Ward Seven, and through Grassmere street and across the H. B. Cladin estate, to and across Charles river by a high bridge to Watertown.

The eastern part of Newton sadly needs a highway to reach Watertown, Cambridge, Belmont, Arlington and Mr. Auburn without being obliged to go miles out of the way to get there and travel through densely populated villages. Besides, the residents of Nonantum and Hunnewell Hills desire to go from one to the other without going long and uncomfortable distances out of their way to get where they want to go. Waverley avenue is now the only road from Tremont to Washington street between Park street and Oak Square. This needed extension can now be easily and economically made as only vacant land stands in the way. It must be done some day in the near future.

Pembroke street is now a thoroughfare from Waverley avenue to Tremont street to Boston. Why not make it a thoroughfare from Waverley avenue and its distant Newton connections to Cambridge and all these other towns and cities. This new road would give a fine and safe carriage road free from all electric cars and tracks. Besides, and above and beyond all, where it crosses the railroad tracks, would be just the spot for the new Hunnewell railroad station, that is sure to come soon, a station that would accommodate the Nonantum Hill residents. Also, I ask our City Fathers and His Honor, the Mayor, who I know must appreciate all that I have said in behalf of this extension, to give it serious consideration.

W. H. PARTRIDGE.

Y. M. C. A.

The Sunday afternoon meetings beginning at 4 o'clock will be continued throughout the summer.

Rev. H. J. Patrick's address upon "Heavenly Love" last Sunday afternoon was especially pleasing, and it is hoped that it may be repeated in the Fall before a larger audience.

It is believed by the officers of the Y. M. C. A. that the extension of the work during the coming Fall will warrant the publication of a weekly bulletin, and the first steps have already been taken. Its name will be "The Field" and a beautiful and appropriate design for the bulletin has been drawn. The paper will be devoted to the best interests of Newton's young men, and will give a clear idea of the Y. M. C. A. work. The first issue will probably appear September 6th.

The project has met with almost universal favor among the members and friends of the association, and a large list of subscribers has already been assured.

Easy to take, sure to cure, no pain, nothing to dread, pleasant little pills. De Witt's Little Early Risers. Beat for Sick Headache, Biliousness, Sour Stomach and Constipation. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

REV. RICHARD MONTAGUE.

DEATH OF THE PASTOR OF THE NEWTON CENTRE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. Richard Montague died at his home on Beacon street, Newton Centre, Wednesday, aged 42 years.

He had been pastor of the Baptist church there for the past two years, but his declining health forced him to resign last spring, but the church generously refused to accept his resignation and relieved him of all care and responsibility.

Mr. Montague was born in Westboro, July 4, 1853, and after partially fitting for college in his native town entered the senior class at Phillips' Exeter Academy, graduating among the first in his class in 1871. He then entered Harvard where he won high honors, and was always a model student, commanding the respect and esteem not only of the faculty but also of his classmates. He took a prominent part in the college religious societies, and was also a member of several of the literary societies. He graduated in 1875, standing among the first two or three in the class, and with promise of a brilliant future.

His aim had long been to study for the ministry, and after a year at the Harvard Divinity school, he entered the Newton Centre Theological Institution and graduated in 1879. He immediately received a call to the First Baptist church in Lawrence, and showed such brilliant promise as a preacher that he received several calls to important churches and finally accepted the call of the Central Baptist church of Providence, R. I., the largest and wealthiest church in that city. It was a great responsibility for a young man, only two years out of the Divinity School, but he won great favor in this field and it was with great regret that his parishioners were obliged to part with him in 1886, his lungs having become affected, and he was forced to seek a milder climate. He went to Colorado, and after a year of rest, and some improvement in health, he became pastor of the Baptist church at Colorado Springs. He did excellent work there, and in 1888, his physicians assuring him that the disease from which he suffered was arrested, he returned to the east, and was called to the pastorate of the Newton Centre Baptist church.

His eloquent sermons made him a popular pastor, and in spite of his feeble health he did satisfactory work in the church and among the people. It was with great regret that his failing health was noticed, and the news of his death has caused deep sorrow. The funeral services will be held at the church on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

As a man Rev. Mr. Montague was of the most upright character, and anything in the nature of evil was repulsive to his nature, and his intimate friends regarded him as one of the purest minded men of their acquaintance. His conscientiousness was one of his prominent characteristics and he commanded the respect of all with whom he came in contact. He was devoted to his life-work, and as a preacher he was fervent and impressive. He was a diligent student, and a scholar of great attainments, and when Harvard adopted the plan of choosing preachers from different denominations, he was elected as one. He contributed to the religious papers and periodicals, and one volume of his sermons has been printed, and another is in the press.

In May, 1880, he was married to Miss Martha P. Cogswell, daughter of Mr. Francis Cogswell, superintendent of schools in Cambridge, who died in Oct. 1880, leaving two children. In September, 1882, he was married to Miss Mabel W. S. of Brunswick, Maine, who with the two children survives him.

Death of Hon. David K. Hitechock.

After a brief illness Dr. Hitechock died at his residence in this city on Thursday, at an advanced age. The latter years of his life had been spent in the retirement of the home which he loved so well. But he will be recalled by the older residents of Newton as one during a long professional career, identified most intimately with the development and prosperity of the city of his adoption.

He was a genial, liberal, and public-spirited citizen and exerted a potent and salutary influence both locally and in the broader field of his country. His endeavors in fostering many public works were enthusiastic and persistent and crowned with signal success.

Dr. Hitechock was born in the town of Brookfield, Mass., in 1813. At an early age he made Boston his home and engaged in the printing business. This proving ungenial he entered the office of Dr. Thomas Barnes and pursued the study of dentistry, and became one of the most prominent dentists of his time. An interesting incident of his professional career was the educating of two promising Armenians, one of whom became, by special appointment, dentist to the Sultan. This and other services rendered by Dr. Hitechock were substantially recognized by the Turkish government.

Dr. Hitechock served in the Massachusetts Legislature, was connected with the Harvard College Library and during many years was one of the directors and chief promoters of the American Peace Society. In 1865, at one of the meetings of a literary club, Dr. Hitechock introduced the subject of a Free Public Library for the city of Newton, and by his energy and example aided materially in establishing one of the most flourishing and useful institutions of this municipality.

Four sons and two daughters mourn his loss. A long and a useful career among men is ended, and hope of immortality and faith in the eternal God has realized abundant fruition.

Stomach and Bowel Complaints are best relieved by the timely use of De Witt's Colic & Cholera Cure. Insist on having this preparation. Don't take any other. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS OBJECTS TO A TURN-OUT IN HER SQUARE—THE POLICE ORDINANCES PASSED—MANY PETITIONS FOR POLES.

Both branches of the city government were in session Monday night. In the board of aldermen Messrs. Degen, White, Bullard, Plummer and Tolman were present.

The first business was a hearing on the Newton & Boston Street Railway's petition for a turnout on Lincoln street, near the junction of Hartford, at Newton Highlands.

Alderman White opposed the granting of the petition, as the square in Newton Highlands was sufficiently dangerous at present, without more railway tracks, on account of the steam railroad crossing. The street had been widened recently, and he was one of the committee that had asked the abutters to give the land. He thought it was an imposition to now seek to put street railway tracks on the land thus given to the city. The road already had a turnout some 500 feet from this point and he hoped the petition would not be granted.

Dr. C. H. Newhall said he had 147 feet frontage on Lincoln street, to the post-office building, and there was only 100 feet from this to the end of the square. Mr. Parker says the turnout will be 250 feet long, so that there will be nothing left for the business in the square. There are now only 15 or 16 feet on each side of the present tracks, and that is needed for the business of the place. I gave land for the widening of the street, but there have been encroachments of all kinds upon it, and I have had to pay taxes just the same as before. The street had been badly laid out in the first place and was too narrow for all the traffic. Is it fair to us now to fill it up with railway tracks, when they might be easily put somewhere else? The city has the turnout on the front and why not put the turnout in front of the school-house?

Mr. Seward W. Jones said he appeared both as a citizen and as a trustee of the Congregational church, and in both capacities he protested against the turnout being placed in the square. H. J. Patterson and C. H. Newhall gave 12 feet of land each to widen the street, and it was hardly right to take the space thus gained and fill it up with car tracks. It would make the condition of things even worse than before, and besides having cars stop in that location on Sunday would be a nuisance to the Congregational church, on account of the noise. The road has already a turnout on Walnut street, near Forest, hardly a minute from the square, which was seldom used, and is a nuisance to every one driving along the street. Why do they not use that?

Alderman Bullard asked how far the turnout was from the church.

Mr. Jones said it was 75 feet or so. Alderman Bullard said it was nearer 400 feet.

Mr. Jones said he had not measured it but it was certainly near enough to be a nuisance. The railroad company claim that they can not use Walnut street, as it would be an unequal distance, but it would not make more than a minute's difference.

Mr. Lapham said he met with an accident the other day, in the square. The railroad tracks were down, as they were about half the time, and a car stood on the tracks, and several teams were backing up. One horse became frightened and backed up, colliding with his carriage and breaking it. With another track and another car standing on it the condition of things would be worse, and more accidents would happen.

Councilman Hatchinson said there was none too much room in the square at present, and all the business of the place was done there, and the business would increase as the Highlands grew. If located down Walnut street, it would be more convenient for Upper Falls people to catch their trains and the present turnout might be moved nearer the square. He was confident the board would protect the rights of both parties.

Alderman Plummer said the present turnout was not 400 feet from the square and that seemed to him the proper place for it.

Alderman Degen asked if the Episcopal church people asked not to have it right in front of their church. He was neither a Congregationalist nor an Episcopalian, but he thought if it would be a nuisance when 400 feet from one church, it would be more of a nuisance right in front of the other.

Alderman Bullard said Walnut street was not convenient for the turnout and it would be very bad for the Episcopal church.

Mr. Liutweiler said the location asked for was too near the Congregational church, and no more obstacles to traffic should be placed in the square.

Alderman Bullard then reported from the street railway committee in favor of granting the location asked for on Lincoln street, which he said had been petitioned for by a large number of Upper Falls people, and was the most satisfactory place for it. The street was 56 feet wide, and there was ample room on the North side, where little business was done.

Alderman White thought Alderman Bullard was very ignorant of Newton Highlands, as the largest grocery store in the place was on the north side, which did more business than all the rest. As for the petition, the names might be those of Upper Falls people, but the voice behind them was of some more interested party. He did not think the committee had even looked at Walnut street, as he had tried to get them to walk down to Forest street, and failed, and perhaps they were afraid to pass the church. The land for widening the street was begged from the abutters, and the land ought not to be taken for a street railway. We have the worst steam railroad crossing in Newton, and there was none too much room now for teams and he hoped the board would not impose on Newton Highlands.

Alderman Bullard said the people of Upper Falls were very urgent, and he would like to ask President Parker to state why the turnout was wanted at this point by the street railway.

President Parker said the crossing on Woodward street must be moved to the Upper Falls car had to wait there for the Newtonville car on every trip, and this caused the Upper Falls people to lose their trains. If the turnout was at Forest street there would be the same trouble.

Alderman White thought the Upper Falls people could get off the car on its way to Forest street, and would be even better accommodated than if the cars had to stop in the square.

Alderman Degen said the board must legislate for the whole city, and not for Newton Highlands alone, and he thought it was hardly fair for the Congregationalists to try and have the turnout placed right in front of the Episcopal church.

Alderman Plummer said he thought the wishes of the Newton Highlands people should be consulted somewhat in this matter, and he could not see why the turnout could not be placed down Walnut street far enough to please all parties.

The order was finally passed. Alderman Bullard, Degen and Tolman, voting yes, and Alderman White and Plummer no.

OTHER HEARINGS.

No one appeared at the hearings on the petition of the N. E. Telephone company for license to put cross arms on the electric light poles, on Ois street, from Appleton to Highland street, or on the hearing for a turnout for the street railway on Eliot street near Mechanic street.

The report of the Metropolitan Park commissioners, apportioning the amount different cities and towns have to pay under the Park act was received.

An order was presented for the change of the name of Alpine street to Highland avenue, it being stated that the change was only temporary, while the residents were seeking for some euphonious appellation for the whole street.

WASHINGTON STREET.

An order was reported from the Highway committee for widening and relocation of Washington street, from the Houghton estate near German street to the tunnel near the armory in Newton, under the betterment act, and appointing Aug. 5, at 7:45 p. m., for a hearing to all parties interested.

Also an order for the widening of Cherry street from Webster to River street, accepting Irving street to Commonwealth avenue; widening Institution avenue under Beacon street on the north side, as far as Bray's block, and appointing Aug. 5th, for a hearing, on all of these matters.

SELLING LAND.

Alderman Tolman reported an order for the sale of the land and buildings on Austin street, used by the water board for a pipe yard, and the order passed.

There is some 12,000 feet of land owned by Alderman White read the recommendation of the chief of the fire department for a large number of hydrants, one on Centre street near library, near Church street, near the National bank, on Walnut near Clyde street, Edinboro and Lowell streets, Prospect street, Centre and Rice streets, Summit near Bellevue street, Auburn and Rowe streets, Maple and Prospect streets, and others; referred to fire committee.

WATER BONDS.

On motion of Alderman Degen an order was passed for the sale of 60 one thousand dollar 4 per cent bonds, to run 30 years, to be called Newton Water Loan, and the money to be used for water construction account.

On motion of Alderman Bullard an order was passed that the city accept $163.80, from the L. R. Thayer estate, which was 40 per cent of the assessment.

On motion of Alderman Degen an order was passed for the laying of 110 feet of water main on Beacon street at a cost of $140; 130 feet on Montclair road at a cost of $150; and 450 feet off Fuller street at cost of $100.

Frank R. Barker petitioned for one incandescent street lamp at the corner of Prospect and Washington street.

George L. Johnson asked for concrete walk on Lexington street; Jacob Childs et al., for concrete crossing on Lexington street; also for paved gutters on both sides of Lexington street; Edward Estabrook for gravel walk on Woodland road.

POLICE ORDINANCE.

The amended police ordinance came up from the Common Council passed to be ordained, and after reference was reported to be duly enrolled and was then finally passed. An order was also passed increasing the number of sergeants to six.

SEWERS AT NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

The Board of Health sent in a recommendation that the sewer system be extended to Newton Highlands, where there were large blocks on small lots of land, and where the village was thickly built over, as trouble might be expected if the section was not sewered. They also recommended that the sewer on Charlesbank Road, east of St. James street, be extended to connect with the present sewer. Both were referred to the sewer committee.

Geo. Bullen asked for concrete walk on Centre street, Ward 6; the Sacred Heart parish for concrete walks in front of their property on Centre street; Fred R. Cutler asked to be reimbursed for damages received by the blasting on Prince street.

Residents on Bowen street asked for main drain and sewer for a hearing. Alderman Bullard then reported from the street railway committee in favor of granting the location asked for on Lincoln street, which he said had been petitioned for by a large number of Upper Falls people, and was the most satisfactory place for it. The street was 56 feet wide, and there was ample room on the North side, where little business was done.

Alderman White thought Alderman Bullard was very ignorant of Newton Highlands, as the largest grocery store in the place was on the north side, which did more business than all the rest. As for the petition, the names might be those of Upper Falls people, but the voice behind them was of some more interested party. He did not think the committee had even looked at Walnut street, as he had tried to get them to walk down to Forest street, and failed, and perhaps they were afraid to pass the church. The land for widening the street was begged from the abutters, and the land ought not to be taken for a street railway. We have the worst steam railroad crossing in Newton, and there was none too much room now for teams and he hoped the board would not impose on Newton Highlands.

Alderman Bullard said the people of Upper Falls were very urgent, and he would like to ask President Parker to state why the turnout was wanted at this point by the street railway.

President Parker said the crossing on Woodward street must be moved to the Upper Falls car had to wait there for the Newtonville car on every trip, and this caused the Upper Falls people to lose their trains. If the turnout was at Forest street there would be the same trouble.

Alderman White thought the Upper Falls people could get off the car on its way to Forest street, and would be even

IN HONOR OF REV. DR. SMITH.

PROPOSITION TO ERECT A $100,000 MONUMENT BY PUBLIC SUBSCRIPTION.

George E. Lothrop, Jr., of No. 56 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, has conceived the idea of erecting, by public subscriptions, a $100,000 monument in honor of Rev. Dr. S. F. Smith, the author of "America."

Mr. Lothrop is attempting to incorporate a company for this purpose, and he has obtained the consent of Gov. Greenhalge to act as president, and Mayor Curtis of Boston, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Rev. Philip S. Moxom of Springfield, Hon. Carroll D. Wright of Washington, and Mrs. E. T. Hill of Boston, have permitted the use of their names as vice presidents.

Mr. Lothrop has appointed himself secretary of the company, and President Roswell C. Downer of the Broadway National bank, treasurer, Mr. Dowser, however, told a reporter that he knew nothing about the proposed monument but that he supposed he would be willing to handle the funds if there were any to handle.

Mr. Lothrop says that the incorporation papers will be drawn up as soon as the list of trustees is complete. In this capacity Rev. Drs. Lorimer, Brady and Foster, Senator I. P. Hutchinson, Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, Mrs. W. H. Littlefield and E. H. Dunbar have already consented to serve.

Mr. Lothrop hopes to make this a national movement and to secure a special grant from the Legislature of each state.

The delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention have been asked to work in behalf of the monument.

Mr. Lothrop wrote to Dr. Smith to find out his opinion regarding the monument, but has received no reply.

The Best Medicine for Diarrhea.

Mr. Cooper, of this place, had been troubled with diarrhea for three or four weeks and failed to get any thing that would check it effectually, until he used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy two doses of which effected a complete cure. He says it is the best medicine he ever saw for such cases. Also that he had given it to several families and they always praised it.

—R. L. ANDRE & BRO., Sandy Flats, Chamberlain Co., S. C. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

A BROOK CAUSES ILLNESS.

HEARING ON THE MATTER GIVEN BY THE WATERTOWN BOARD OF HEALTH.

A hearing was given last week by the Board of Health of Watertown on the complaint of several residents in the neighborhood of California and Watertown streets, near the Newton line, who testified that the stagnant overflow of water from a brook was the cause of much illness in the locality. The brook had its source in Newton, near the Nonantum Worsted Mills, by which corporation it was controlled. It carried off surface drainage from that part of Newton and a portion of Watertown to the Charles river. Until this year it has run free and undisturbed and did not overflow its banks, except in the time of the spring freshets.

The testimony given was that the city authorities of Newton had secured control of the brook for the purpose of draining a part of its territory near Cook and Crescent streets. This locality was wet and was the cause of much illness. Catch basins, etc., were tried but did not remedy the evil. Finally the city hit upon the scheme of securing control of the brook and building a drain from that section several hundred feet to the brook and draining the property. The drain was built and worked duly. The large volume of water which runs down to the brook and should have gone in the opposite direction, to Lunary Brook, is the cause of complaint by Watertown people. The part of the brook within built over, as trouble might be expected if the section was not sewered. They also recommended that the sewer on Charlesbank Road, east of St. James street, be extended to connect with the present sewer. Both were referred to the sewer committee.

Geo. Bullen asked for concrete walk on Centre street, Ward 6; the Sacred Heart parish for concrete walks in front of their property on Centre street; Fred R. Cutler asked to be reimbursed for damages received by the blasting on Prince street.

Residents on Bowen street asked for main drain and sewer for a hearing. Alderman Bullard then reported from the street railway committee in favor of granting the location asked for on Lincoln street, which he said had been petitioned for by a large number of Upper Falls people, and was the most satisfactory place for it. The street was 56 feet wide, and there was ample room on the North side, where little business was done.

Alderman White thought Alderman Bullard was very ignorant of Newton Highlands, as the largest grocery store in the place was on the north side, which did more business than all the rest. As for the petition, the names might be those of Upper Falls people, but the voice behind them was of some more interested party. He did not think the committee had even looked at Walnut street, as he had tried to get them to walk down to Forest street, and failed, and perhaps they were afraid to pass the church. The land for widening the street was begged from the abutters, and the land ought not to be taken for a street railway. We have the worst steam railroad crossing in Newton, and there was none too much room now for teams and he hoped the board would not impose on Newton Highlands.

Alderman Bullard said the people of Upper Falls were very urgent, and he would like to ask President Parker to state why the turnout was wanted at this point by the street railway.

President Parker said the crossing on Woodward street must be moved to the Upper Falls car had to wait there for the Newtonville car on every trip, and this caused the Upper Falls people to lose their trains. If the turnout was at Forest street there would be the same trouble.

Alderman White thought the Upper Falls people could get off the car on its way to Forest street, and would be even

Alderman Bullard said the people of Upper Falls were very urgent, and he would like to ask President Parker to state why the turnout was wanted at this point by the street railway.

President Parker said the crossing on Woodward street must be moved to the Upper Falls car had to wait there for the Newtonville car on every trip, and this caused the Upper Falls people to lose their trains. If the turnout was at Forest street there would be the same trouble.

Alderman White thought the Upper Falls people could get off the car on its way to Forest street, and would be even

Alderman Bullard said the people of Upper Falls were very urgent, and he would like to ask President Parker to state why the turnout was wanted at this point by the street railway.

President Parker said the crossing on Woodward street must be moved to the Upper Falls car had to wait there for the Newtonville car on every trip, and this caused the Upper Falls people to lose their trains. If the turnout was at Forest street there would be the same trouble.

Alderman White thought the Upper Falls people could get off the car on its way to Forest street, and would be even

Alderman Bullard said the people of Upper Falls were very urgent, and he would like to ask President Parker to state why the turnout was wanted at this point by the street railway.

President Parker said the crossing on Woodward street must be moved to the Upper Falls car had to wait there for the Newtonville car on every trip, and this caused the Upper Falls people to lose their trains. If the turnout was at Forest street there would be the same trouble.

Alderman White thought the Upper Falls people could get off the car on its way to Forest street, and would be even

Alderman Bullard said the people of Upper Falls were very urgent, and he would like to ask President Parker to state why the turnout was wanted at this point by the street railway.

President Parker said the crossing on Woodward street must be moved to the Upper Falls car had to wait there for the Newtonville car on every trip, and this caused the Upper Falls people to lose their trains. If the turnout was at Forest street there would be the same trouble.

Livery Stables.

DANIEL'S Nonantum Stables.

HENRY C. DANIELS, Proprietor.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire. Landans and Hack, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Sa and reliable horses for lads to drive.

BOARDING Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention. Telephone 271-3.

GEO. W. BUSH, Livery, Hack & Boarding STABLE.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses. Hacks at depot or the conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON. Telephone Connection.

Livery, Hack, Established 61.

Barges, City of Newton Garden City. & Boat Sleigh, Snow Bird.

F. CATE Boarding Stable.

Ranges, Furnaces, Water Heaters, Steam Boilers, AT FACTORY STORE OF

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co.,

GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS. Telephone No. 430, Newton.

Furnaces, Ranges Cleaned and Repaired

L. H. CRANITCH, House, Sign, and Ornamental PAINTER.

Paper Hangings in great variety and work promptly done.

Walnut St., - Newtonville. 2nd door from Central Block.

Newton Land Improvement.

A. S. N. ESTES, Landscape Engineer.

Room 503 Sears Building, 199 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON, MASS

WILL ADD TEN YEARS TO YOUR LIFE. RUBBER TIRES.

I am prepared to apply Rubber Tires of the most approved pattern to carriages, at the following low prices:

3-4 in. tread, set of 4 wheels $35.00 Renewed for $23.00

7-8 " " " " 40.00 " " 25.00

1 " " " " 45.00 " " 30.00

1-1/2 " " " " 50.00 " " 35.00

1-3/4 " " " " 55.00 " " 40.00

1-1/2 " " " " 55.00 " " 40.00

1-1/2 " " " " 55.00 " " 40.00

1-1/2 " " " " 55.00 " " 40.00

1-1/2 " " " " 55.00 " " 40.00

1-1/2 " " " " 55.00 " " 40.00

1-1/2 " " " " 55.00 " " 40.00

1-1/2 " " " " 55.00 " " 40.00

1-1/2 " " " " 55.00 " " 40.00

MORPHINE and OPIUM HABITS

CURED IN 3 DAYS

By the Massachusetts Boston Narcotic Cure Co at their Sanitarium, 667 Massachusetts Ave., Boston, Mass. This can absolute cure; harmless and painless.

CURES GUARANTEED.

T. F. GLENNAN Carriage Trimming and Harness Making.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, ETC. Washington St., - Newton.

J. H. LOOKER, French Cleansing and Dyeing

Dry Cleansing and Repairing a Specialty. Particular attention paid to Blankets, Lace Curtains, Fine Linens and Hand Laundry Work of all kinds.

No. 21 Carlton Street NEWTON, MASS.

NEWTON COAL CO., DEALERS IN—

Coal and Wood.

Family Orders a Specialty. OFFICE, - ELIOT BLOCK.

BRANCH OFFICE— J. F. Payne's Drug Store, Newtonville.

Newton National Bank, NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS: From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M. On Saturdays, from 9 A. M., to 12 M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President RANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

Howard Ice Co., Successors to Howard Bros.

ORDERS FOR ICE RECEIVED AT

T. L. MASON'S, 390 Centre Street

P. O. Address, Box 65, Newton. A. L. HOWARD, E. E. HOWARD Telephone 13-3 Newton.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 8 cents per square yard for Flocks or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renova ing and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom price. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE, P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7. Factory and Residence, Clinton Street

GENUINE BARGAINS

always to be obtained by those who are in want of STRICTLY ALL WOOL FABRICS

Suitable for Ladies', Gents', Youths' or Children's wear, by calling on us, where they may be found in all weights and the latest shades and styles. Full line of

WHITE . . BED . . BLANKETS.

All sizes and prices. Also Horse Blankets for Street and Stable Use!

ALL THE Remnants and Imperfect Goods Made at The Assabet Mills are sold by us and at the lowest prices. Call and examine them.

The People's Dry Goods Company, MAYNARD, MASS.

The Salesroom is open until 6 p. m., except Saturdays, closes Saturday at 12 o'clock. Positively open as above until further notice in this paper.

Water Bugs and Roaches. EXTERMINATOR

CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR

No dust. No trouble to use.

Price, 60c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If you druggist or grocer does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price

BARNARD & CO., 7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON

FOR SALE BY BARNARD BROS., NEWTON.

Plumbers.

Having

Purchased the business of the Newtonville Heating and Plumbing Co., I beg leave to inform the public that I am prepared to do all work in the

PLUMBING AND HEATING

Line at short notice in a workmanlike and satisfactory manner at reasonable prices. Jobbing and repairs a specialty. Please give me a trial, and my references given.

GEO. E. THOMPSON Formerly of Providence, R. I. 824 Washington Street, NEWTONVILLE.

HEWITT & THOMAS, Practical Plumbers, and Sanitary Engineers.

247 WASHINGTON ST., Nonantum Block, Newton

M. C. HIGGINS, Practical Plumber

SANITARY ENGINEER. Plumbing Work in all its branches.

Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city; perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Summer's Block, Newton.

ESTABLISHED IN 1896. T. J. HARTNETT, Plumber and Sanitary Engineer.

NEVER TOO LATE.

It is too late. Ah, nothing is too late. Till the tired heart shall cease to palpitate. Cato learned Greek at eighty; Sophocles wrote his grand "Oedipus," and Simonides bore off the prize of verse from his competitors when each had numbered more than four score years.

And Theophrastus at fourscore and ten had begun his "Characters of Men." Chaucer, at Woodstock with the nightingales, at sixty wrote "The Canterbury Tales." Goethe, at Weimar, toiling to the last, completed "Faust" when eighty years were past.

These are indeed exceptions, but they show how far the gulf stream of our youth may flow into the arctic regions of our lives, where little else than life itself survives.

—Longfellow.

MY GENTLE FRIEND.

It was the winter of 1890. The new branch railroad into Phenix, A. T., had been running trains for two years, and invalids of the east were just beginning to learn that this metropolis of the southwestern desert land, with its dry air and abundant sunshine, afforded the finest winter climate on the continent. At the time I wrote the one train a day on the little branch railroad connecting with the main line of the Southern Pacific was well loaded every day, and the hotels and boarding houses were striving in every way to accommodate the influx of winter visitors.

As is usual in most new western towns, especially of the intermountain region, hotel accommodations were only mediocre, while the best restaurants were those connected with the big gambling houses.

For several days I had noticed a newcomer about the hotels and principal resorts of the town. His face had a strangely familiar look to me, yet I could not recall that I had ever seen it before. He was faultlessly dressed in clothes of the latest pattern, had a blond mustache, and but for his peculiar little gray eyes I should have pronounced him a very handsome man.

He seemed to be a total stranger, and as I would see him of an afternoon around the Commercial House, or in the evening watching the games in "The Capitol" or "The Palace" and never talking with any one, I mentally set him down as the son and heir of some wealthy family who had sought a winter home in the desert that he might return in the spring a "new man."

I suppose I had noticed him for about a week or ten days before either he or I had the temerity to address the other. I don't know now which of us spoke first, but anyway it came about in that free, open handed way of addressing a stranger which prevails in the south and west. I had been quite shooting that day, and returning rather late, in the evening went down to The Palace restaurant for my dinner in my hunting suit rather than disturb the folks at home with getting me a late meal.

An old California comrade had been with me all day, and after ordering our dinner we went out to the bar to try one of Frank's cocktails. Frank, by the way (or Francois, I should call him, as he was French), was a comparative newcomer from New Orleans, and as a mixologist exceeded anything ever before seen in Arizona. At least so all the boys about town said, and the old Hasayampas re-echoed their sentiment with hearty "that's what!"

My comrade and I had disposed of the first concoction and were discussing the question of another of its same splendid quality when the stranger spoke of the superior excellence of Frank's mixtures. I don't know how it came about, but presently one or the other of us said in the most brotherly fashion, "Won't you join us?" to which the reply came, "The pleasure is mine!" and of course it wound up by the pleasure belonging to both of us before we again repaired to the dining room.

Our newly found acquaintance had ordered his dinner about the same time as my comrade and myself, so we all sat down to the same table. I felt rather honored at this attention of the stranger, for in all my observation of him I had never before noticed him talking with any other Phenician. He had a voice as soft and smooth as a woman's, and as he talked his language indicated the polished graduate of Yale or Harvard, with a finish of European travel.

Now, thought I, I will learn something of this man, where he is from and who he is.

As the meal progressed I had occasion to ask him to hand me the pepper. As he did so he commented upon the fact that most of the black pepper served on restaurant tables was not pepper at all, but a conglomeration of dried leaves and drugs, much cheaper than the genuine article. His talk was learned, even classical, using medical terms and formulas with the familiarity of a chemist. From that he drifted on to places to spend the winter and incidentally referred to the fact that the last three winters previous to this one he had spent on the Riviera.

A question about Nice and Monaco seemed to encourage him, and he went on with a glowing description of these famous resorts. "And, oh, what a glorious drive it is along the Corniche road," he continued, "with the never ending panorama of bay and sky with all their various tints and the magnificent mountain background! There is certainly nothing in America and, I believe, nothing in the world to equal it. Then San Remo and Bordighera are pretty little resorts, and the visitor makes a mistake who does not spend a portion of his time there."

"I suppose you have visited Genoa," I interrupted.

"Oh, yes, indeed," was the reply. "In fact I spent nearly three months last winter at Cannes and made the drive to Genoa several times with coaching parties. Too bad you have not splendid drives here. What with such drives as along La Riviera di Ponente, this wonderful dry air and beautiful winter sunshine, Arizona would soon become the greatest winter resort in the world."

In this strain he talked on, and I suppose we had been at the table nearly two hours when a messenger came in from my friend, the surgeon general, saying he had just been called on for an important surgical case and asking if I would not accompany him and administer the anesthetic. My California comrade and myself voted our new found acquaintance a most charming man and a capital fellow generally, though afterward I remarked to myself that I had not as yet found out anything about where he came from or who he was.

Busy for the next few days, I thought but little more of this entertaining stranger. About a week later, however, I dropped into The Palace, just to see who was there, and the stranger, quiet and uncommunicative as usual, was watching the games, never standing over any one table for more than two or three minutes at a time. From here I stepped into The Capitol, and Bert, the head man, not being busy, I began a conversation with him. Presently the well dressed stranger came in, and I noticed Bert's eyes take on a rather defiant flash as he watched him pass to the rear of the room.

"Bert, who is that man?" I asked. "I've seen him about for some time now, but he never seems to speak to any one. He must be some easterner here for the winter, isn't he?"

"Why, don't you know that fellow?" was the quick response. "He knows better than to speak to me. He's the blank of a blank who killed Jim Fallon in Prescott five years ago. Why, you remember his murder, don't you, general?"

"No; I don't recall it, Bert. That was when I was in Montana, and I reckon the trial and all took place before my return."

"Well, it was the most cowardly murder I ever knew, and if that duck had his deserts he'd have stretched hemp for it long ago. You knew Fallon, of course, who used to run a 'bank' in Tombstone, and after the flash days there he moved to Prescott?"

I nodded assent, and he went on: "This fellow, Jack Underhill, Thimble Jack, who was nothing but a low down 'tin horn' anyway, got full one night and raised such a disturbance at Fallon's table that he finally got up and kicked him out of the house."

"Underhill was furious over this method of ejection, and for several days went around threatening that he was going to get even with Fallon. Some of Jim's friends told him he had better look out for Thimble Jack, as he was a treacherous cuss and would probably stab him in the back. But Fallon laughed at them, declaring that Jack was too big a coward to attack a child, let alone a man."

"So the matter ran along for almost a week and nearly every one had forgotten about it, when one night about 10 o'clock, as Fallon was standing by the bar talking to some friends, this cowardly duck shot him in the back without the slightest warning. In the confusion he managed to get away and hid in the house of a frail woman. Talk of lynching was so strong the next day that he sneaked over to the sheriff's office and gave himself up. Fallon lingered along for three weeks before he died."

"When the trial came, this fellow's family or some of his friends, or some one in the east, put up the money for him, and he had half a dozen of the best criminal lawyers in the southwest defending him. For myself I always believed the jury was tampered with, too, for they only brought in a verdict of manslaughter and he simply got a sentence of five years, and what with good time he's out now."

"I hope you haven't spoken to him, for no self respecting white man like you ever wants to speak to such a cowardly dog as him."

And so this was my entertainer of a few evenings before. Then it dawned upon me why his face had always seemed familiar to me. As a territorial official I had often visited the penitentiary at Yuma, and here I had seen my friend of the Riviera, my friend the gambler. —General Edward S. Gill in New York Recorder.

Puzzled.

"Say, mister, how long before the mail man'll be round yere?" was asked of Officer Barter yesterday by a very verdant hayseed who was toying with the lock attached to a United States mail box at Fifth and Morrison streets.

"Why? What do you want to know for?" inquired the officer in turn.

"Cause I've got a letter yere that I want to get to my folks up the valley."

"Well, look at the card on the end of the box; that will inform you when he'll next call for the mail."

"I have, but I can't wait so long," responded Mr. Hayseed, "cause my sister is up yonder street with our team. I've a great mind to break that gold-durned lock to get my letter in, as I want my folks up the valley to know right off that we've got the measles up to our place."

When Officer Barter showed the verdant one how to drop his letter into the box without tampering with the lock Mr. Hayseed gave a long, low whistle, exclaiming:

"Goldurn me! Yere I've been waiting and hanging on two hours for that letter man to open the lock of that gold-durned thing. Say, mister, when did they invent that newfangled machine?" —Portland (Me.) Telegram.

A Cheerful View.

Walter's mamma was very sick with rheumatism, and he was rubbing her arms when she said, "Walter, it is too bad that mamma is such a trouble to you."

Walter replied cheerfully, "Never mind, mamma; if you are only just alive we don't care how much you suffer." —Youth's Companion.

Something New.

"How does Maud like life in the country?"

"First rate. She's trimming grapevines this week."

"Really? What with—ribbon?" —Illustrated Fashion Review.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

THE ATLANTIC.

The August Atlantic Monthly contains several articles which are calculated to create widespread interest. One of the most striking contributions is by Jacob D. Cox on How Judge Hoar Ceased to be Attorney-General. Mr. Cox was a member of Grant's Cabinet with Judge Hoar, and this paper is an important chapter in our recent political history. Percival Lowell, on his fourth paper on Mars, tries to answer the questions, Is Mars inhabited, and, if so, by what kind of people? The second of Mr. Peabody's papers is on French and English Churches.

A Poet's Yorkshire Haunts will delight every friend and reader of James Russell Lowell.

Among other features are The Political and Professional Life of a French Macon by J. M. Ludlow; A Talk over Autographs, Fourth Paper, by George Frederic Hill; President McKim's Diary, by James Schouler; The Wrongs of the Juryman, by Harvey N. Shepard; and The New Art Criticism, by Mary Logan.

Fiction is well represented by two installments of powerful serials, and a delightful anonymous sketch entitled A Woman's Luncheon.

Poems, exclusive book reviews, Comment on New Books, and the Contributors Club complete the issue. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

Harper's Magazine for August has for special features the following: Midsummer-Night's Dream, illustrations by Edwin A. Abbey, comment by Andrew Lang; Every-day Scenes in China, illustrations by C. D. Weldon, by Julian Ralph; Cracker Cowboys of Florida, by Frederic Hill; President McKim's Diary, by James Schouler; The Wrongs of the Juryman, by Harvey N. Shepard; and The New Art Criticism, by Mary Logan. Fiction is well represented by two installments of powerful serials, and a delightful anonymous sketch entitled A Woman's Luncheon.

THE FORUM.

The Forum for August has for its leader an article by the founder of the movement, Henry B. Brown, of the United States Supreme Court. Speaking of the Constitution he says that the danger is, not that it will be changed, but that it will be regarded as too sacred to change—a mere fetish. Mr. A. B. Hepburn, President of the Third National Bank of New York, explains the operations of the Bond Syndicate and points out the excellent work it has accomplished. Manus Jokai, the distinguished Hungarian poet, novelist, historian and patriot, contributes an extremely interesting article entitled "My Literary Recollections." Dr. J. M. Rice, in "The Substitution of the Teacher for the Text Book," contends that the fault of our schools lies in the professional weakness of the teacher. Professor Albert S. Cook of Yale University, in "Claustriqua; Its Aims and Influence," explains the Chautauque system of education. Mr. W. H. Aldrich continues his important series of papers on different phases of Socialism with an article entitled "Is an Income-Tax Socialistic?" Professor Eric Schmidt, of the University of Berlin, writes on the "Opening of Goethe Archives." Mr. H. J. Fletcher, in "The Dittie of C. C. C.," what is practically a continuation of his notable article in the April Forum on "The Dismal of the Small Town." Mr. E. V. Smalley, Editor of the North-West Magazine, discusses "The Deep Water was a Problem," and Christiana Goodwin makes an eloquent Appeal to Housekeepers, setting forth what she believes to be the real solution of the servant problem.

THE ARENA.

The Arena for August is filled with good reading, as usual. The most striking and important paper in the number—the one that will interest the large number of men and women all over the country, is Mrs. Helen H. Gardner's review of recent Age-of-consent legislation in the United States. She deals in this paper with the Bills passed in New York, Arizona and Idaho, raising the age to eighteen, and analyses the arguments for and against. This is the first of a series of papers giving the full history of the subject. The Hon. Walter Clark, of the Supreme Bench of North Carolina, tells the history of the Telegraph in England as a department of the British postal system. The governmental operation of the telegraph there has resulted in ten times as many messages, thirty times as many press despatches, at less than one-third the cost under private administration, and the telegraph nets big receipts to the government and makes its postal system complete and self-supporting as the American is not. There are many other articles of general interest.

SCRIBNER'S.

For seven years Scribner's Magazine has had the honor of publishing a midsummer Fiction Number, in which have appeared some of the most notable short stories that have been written by American authors. The August issue is no exception to this remarkably successful record. Any number of the magazine would be notable with an array of contributors which includes Smith Hope, H. C. Bunner, Hopkinson Smith, Richard Harding Davis, Octave Thanet, Noah Brooks, George Meredith, George I. Putnam and Theodore Roosevelt. The number contains seven short stories, six of them illustrated by artists of the first rank, including W. H. Hyde, Reinhardt, C. Y. Turner, Orson Lowell and others. Artistically the number is given great distinction by the series of eight full-page reproductions of the pastels of Edwin A. Abbey, recently exhibited in this country. The number also contains a short article on the rage for bicycle riding in Paris, showing recent costumes and scenes in the parks there; a brief account of Leveillé, the eminent French engraver, who made the frontispiece for the number; an installment of Meredith's great serial, "The Amazing Marriage," and poems, with the Point of View.

EFFECTUAL.—Charles J. Booth, Oliverwood, Cal., says: "I have used Ayer's Pills in my family for several years, and have always found them most effective in the relief of ailments arising from a disordered stomach, torpid liver, and constipated bowels."

The Politicians Laugh.

There is a good deal of breezy fun in and around city hall to-day over the healing of the breach between Mayor Curtis and Lawyer Jesse Gove, "the original Blaine man." The story of reconciliation got out only this morning. Politician Peter Morrison of East Boston, where Mr. Gove lives, brought it about. There is no doubt that both of the principals to the quarrel desired it, but they acted like the fellows in the feud in "The Corsican Brothers," which was all over a hen, and neither would be first to come forward. But the funniest thing in this peacemaking is Gove's assertion that he has been "Ned's" friend all the time; that the only reason he has kept away from city hall all these months is that his law work has kept him busy, and that September is early enough, anyway, to start into politics. Here the politicians laugh. But when it is suggested to Mr. Gove that he had reason for offense by the turning down of friends whom he recommended to his honor for appointment to lucrative offices, he quickly turns the subject. Here the politicians laugh again. Mayor Curtis has not yet been got at on the matter. —Boston Cor. Springfield Republican.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balm stops the cough at once.

An Ivory Mat.

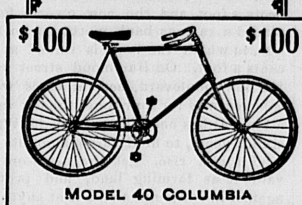

Many people have never even heard of such a thing, and it is not to be wondered at, for these mats are exceedingly rare, and it is said by those who know that only three of these beautiful curiosities exist in the whole world. The one we now write about is the largest one made. It measures 8 by 4 feet, and though made in a small hill state in the north of India has an almost Greek design for its border. It was only used on state occasions, when the rajah sat on it to sign important documents. The original cost of the mat is fabulous, for 6,400 pounds of ivory were used in its manufacture. The finest strips of ivory must have been taken off the tusks, as the mat is as flexible as a woven stuff and beautifully fine. —Ladies' Pictorial.

Wedded Bliss.

Friend—And you are very happy? Bride—Very. Almost every day I hear of some other girl who would have jumped at the chance to marry my husband. —Detroit Tribune.

There is no success so sweet as the success achieved by acting against the advice of our friends.

Beautiful Bicycles

Bicycle beauty comes from graceful lines and fine finish, in which points Columbia bicycles excel. But there is more than mere looks to recommend a Columbia. Back of the handsome design and elegant finish is a sterling quality that over the roughest road and the longest journey will carry the rider with safety and satisfaction.

Buy a

Columbia or a HARTFORD.

BRANCH STORES:
Boston,
New York,
Chicago,
San Francisco,
Providence,
Buffalo.

Send two 2-cent stamps for a Columbia Catalogue; free if you call at a Columbia Agency.

JOHN S. SUMNER,
Agent for Columbia and Hartford Bicycles
352 Centre St. Newton.

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT.

Successors to

P. A. MURRAY.

Washington Street,

NEXT TO

Murray's Carriage Manufactory

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

Used and endorsed by Adams Express Co.

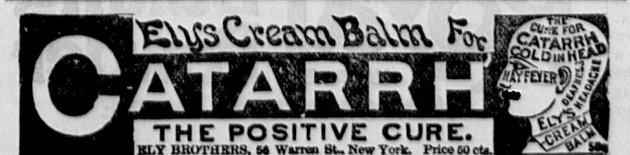

TUTTLE'S ELIXIR,
The Great Cure for Man and Beast.

$100 Reward (if not cured) for every case of Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, and all kinds of Coughs, never fails to relieve Spasms, Ringworms, or Croupy Coughs.

Read following from a letter dated Boston, Aug. 5, 1892:—
"TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, diluted with water and applied externally, in connection with TUTTLE'S CONSUMPTION POWDERS, cured my horse Dandy of a sore of 6 months' standing. It also proved a success as applied to bleeding warts on my cow's teats; and a severe case of Rheumatism from which my man was suffering, was relieved at once."

Yours truly,
A. R. WHITTEK.

Cures Rheumatism, Coughs, Colds, Lame Back, Sprains, Sore Throat, La Grippe and Pneumonia. Sample bottle FREE, or sent to any address on receipt of 3 2-cent stamps to J. N. DANFORTH, Brighton, Agent.

Real Estate and Insurance.

ESTABLISHED 1850. TELEPHONE 2892.

HYDE'S

Real Estate Agency

31 MILK ST.,

ROOM 205,

BOSTON, MASS.

Auctioneer, Mortgages Negotiated.

Newton Office:

JOHN A. EVANS, Agent, 67 Elmwood Street,
Newton Highlands Property a Specialty.

N. Highlands Office:

Newhall's Block, - - - - - Lincoln Street,
Newton Highlands Property a Specialty.

ELLIOTT J. HYDE.

REAL ESTATE

To Sell or Rent.

INSURANCE, MONEY TO LOAN.

Carriages ready to take customers to see property.

Newton Centre Office: Union Street, opposite Railroad Station.

Boston Office: 113 Devonshire St., Room 2

SIDNEY P. CLARK, Newton Centre

Established 1857.

F. G. BARNES & SON

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance

BROKERS.

Auctioneers for Real and Personal Property.

FOR SALE AND FOR RENT

A large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: 27 State St., Boston; Brackett's Bldg. NEWTON.

WILEY S. & FRANK EDMANDS

178 Devonshire St., Boston.

Insurance Agents and Brokers.

Mortgages Wanted.

Real Estate a Specialty.

For Sale, $3000 and upwards. To Let $45 to $100. Furnished, $25 to $250.

Building Lots, 10 cents to 50 cents.

or buying and Selling

Real Estate

and placing of Mortgages

and

Fire Insurance

Every Part of NEWTON Apply to

Henry T. Wills,

113 Devonshire Street, Boston.

Telephone No. 3874.

A VORD BROS & CO.

113 Devonshire Street, Boston

★

NEWTON REAL ESTATE,

MORTGAGES and INSURANCE.

Artistic new houses, every modern device for comfort and luxury, generous lots, aristocratic neighborhood, near station, from $7000 up. Extraordinary value for the money.

Building lots near new boulevard and in all other localities at lowest price.

Desirable houses to rent.

CIRCUIT PROPERTY A SPECIALTY.

Are You Looking For

a first class, new, modern 13 room house, in one of the most convenient, select neighborhoods in town for $15,000. It so, we use. It will please you. How about a day on West Newton Hill, with stable, 16,000 ft. land, magnificent view, $18,000, terms to suit. New modern houses, Hunnewell Hill, $10,500, $8,500, $7,000, $6,000, $5,000. Choice house lots, near new Hunnewell Hill Club House; others, Mt. Ida, West Newton Hills. Houses to let. Money to loan on mortgage.

ABAN, TROWBRIDGE & CO.,

53 State St., Boston. Elliot Block, Newton.

Carpets

.....Cleaned.

am prepared to fill all orders for the—

Taking Up, Cleaning and Re-

laying of Carpets,

at short notice and in the best manner.

PETER S. WHITE,

TREMONT BLOCK.

Newtonville, Mass.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable toEDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-2.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

A DISCOURAGING RESULT.

Some time ago the people of Newton Highlands, which is one of the fastest growing sections of Newton and full of public spirit, went to work and widened there square, so as to have more room for the rapidly increasing business of the place, and to add to the attractiveness and safety of that rather dangerous section of our streets. The land was given by the abutments and all the residents felt a special pride in the result. They were consequently not pleased when they learned that the street railway company wanted to take advantage of this increased space and double track it with a 250-foot turnout, and yet in spite of their vigorous remonstrance the board of aldermen granted the petition of the railway company. It was a close vote, only 3 to 2, but it was enough, and it must be confessed that it is rather discouraging, and the effect upon other sections will not be conducive to further public improvements. If the street had not been widened there would have been no room for the double track, and the people there are now wishing they had not made this improvement.

Just why the street railway committee favored this particular place it is difficult to see, except that it is very advantageous for the street railway company, and President Parker has such a plausible way of stating things that the guileless members of the committee must have been convinced that there was nothing else to be done. They evidently did not make a very thorough investigation, as the chairman of the committee stated that there was plenty of room on the north side of the square, as very little business was done there, when in fact the chief grocery store of the section is on the north side, and its delivery wagons and the carriages of its customers make a pretty effective blockade at the busy hours of the day.

A good deal was said about the petition of Upper Falls people, and their urgency, but Alderman White was rather sceptical about the petition being a perfectly voluntary one, and those experienced in petitions thought he was not far from wrong.

The affair will be apt to have an unfortunate effect upon the Newton Highlands and other Improvement societies, when they see the result of their public spirited labors granted to the first corporation that applied for it, and their protests entirely disregarded. They evidently were a little late in entering their protest, as the matter had evidently all been decided beforehand, but it would have looked better had the action upon the petition been delayed until the next meeting of the board, as that would have given the impression that a really serious effort had been made to meet the wishes of the residents of the Highlands. The latter say that one curious thing about the affair is, that none of the people from the Upper Falls who were represented to be so urgently desirous of better car service, were present to state their wishes, and express their urgency in some more forcible way than by signing a petition, and it would not have been a difficult matter for the street railway company to have brought down two or three car loads of them. This would have looked better, but perhaps it was not deemed necessary, as evidently there was no doubt of the petition being granted.

CHRISTIAN UNITY.

CHRISTIAN unity may not be simply an impossible dream, after all, as an association was formed this week in Ayer, called the "United Religious Association," in which the chief features, a Roman Catholic priest speaking for free and unsectarian public schools, a Protestant clergyman praising the Pope's encyclical letter, and the presence of five Baptist clergymen, one Roman Catholic, eight Congregationalists, twelve Unitarians, one German Evangelical and one Universalist. The association has for its object the following:

"That we form ourselves into an organization, the object of which shall be fellowship and acquaintance with each other's religious doctrines, local co-operation with each other on the basis of love to God and man, and to the furtherance of all social reforms and the bringing in of the kingdom of God."

Meetings are to held semi-annually, spring and autumn. Dr. Joshua Young, one of the oldest and most widely known Unitarian clergymen in the state, read a paper on Christian Unity, in which he argued that differences of opinion are inevitable, but there was no dogmatic or speculative theology in the true religion of Jesus, but only the religion that teaches the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, and on this, he said, all could unite. Father McKeena of Marlboro thought the broad doctrines of what James Freeman Clark called the essentials, could be safely made the common ground of unity. Above all things let charity be the greatest. He then made an earnest plea for special efforts to further good citizenship. The elements that make good citizenship are the same that make up our nation—religion, education, industry of the masses and popular form of government. It cannot be fostered as long as the embittered strife of the sects lasts. He upheld the public school system, and when he said that he had and always would defend the free schools of Massachusetts he was roundly cheered. Other speeches were of the same nature as this, and the association thus formed of the ministers about Ayer is worthy of imitation all over the land. It seems a different kind of religion from that practised by the Fultons and Bradys, or rather one has the spirit of true religion and the other has not. The spirit of the Ayer meeting was voiced by Rev. Mr. Cloues of Littleton, who said that the country can not have too many influences for good, and deplored the unchristianizing effects of sectarian strife.

The death of Alexander Hamilton Rice occurred on Monday at the Langwood hotel, in Wyoming, where he was spending the summer. He was one of Newton's most prominent sons, and Newton people have always followed his career with a special pride in his success and in his honorable record. He was the son of Thomas Rice, a well-known manufacturer of paper at Newton Lower Falls, and was born Aug. 30, 1818. He received his early education in the Newton schools and was one of the pupils of the academy kept by Mr. Seth Davis at West Newton. The friendship thus formed continued through life, and Mr. Rice always retained a great affection for his teacher, and often visited him at his home in West Newton. He made the address on the celebration of Mr. Davis' 100th birthday, and often spoke in the highest terms of the influence this veteran teacher exerted over his pupils. After leaving school his ambition was to become a Boston merchant, and he entered a dry goods store in that city. His zeal and energy were too much for his health and he had to return to Newton for a couple of years. He then entered the store of Wikins & Carter, wholesale paper dealers, and there laid the foundation of his excellent business habits. There were no railway trains in those days, and men doing business in Boston had to live there. After some three years, his literary tastes led him to seek a collegiate education and he entered Union college at Schenectady, N. Y., and graduated in 1844 at the head of his class. He intended to study law, but his health interposed a serious obstacle and he entered into partnership with his old employer, the firm now existing as the Rice Kendall Company. In his long career he has filled nearly every high office in the gift of the Commonwealth, having been Mayor of Boston, Governor of the state and member of Congress and in them all he acquitted himself with something more than honor. He was a Republican in politics, but not a narrow partisan, and he won to an unusual degree the confidence of the people. He was broad minded, liberal and patriotic, and was in an eminent degree a representation of the old ideal of a Boston merchant, a type of man which stood for all that was best in our citizenship.

The rumor that the Commonwealth Avenue Railway Company had passed out of the hands of Newton people was probably due to the fact that Mr. Blaney had bought the stock of the West Newton gentlemen, who subscribed for small amounts, in order to make up the number of stockholders required to form a corporation. In other respects the stock is all held by the original subscribers. The president is Mr. A. D. Claffin of Newton Centre, and the directors are ex-Gov. Wm. Claffin of Newtonville, A. D. Claffin of Newton Centre, W. H. Coolidge of Newtonville, Geo. A. Blaney of West Newton, W. B. Phillips of Newton Centre, L. D. Ahl of Boston and C. H. Richardson of Brookline, so it will be seen that Newton men are in control, and they intend to continue to be so. The road is expected to be in running order by October 1st, from the Boston line to Washington street, and it will connect with the West End cars as soon as the Boston part of Commonwealth avenue is completed. The rails are expected the first of next week and are heavier than any other street railway about here used, and all the equipments will be the best to be had. Work will begin on laying the rails at once, and the contractors say they can have everything complete in forty-five days. The stockholders may not make any profit at once, but there is believed to be a good prospect that the road will more than pay expenses within two years, and it will certainly be popular for summer travel, as soon as it is extended to the Charles River.

GREAT improvements are being made on Washington street, below Oak Square, by the city of Boston; the street has been widened to 70 feet, the grade raised, and a fine road bed is being laid. The West End Company has also completed their line of double tracks from Boston, and the whole locality is greatly improved. The Boston street commissioners say they are ready to extend the widening and improvements up Tremont street to the Newton line, whenever the Newton authorities get ready to widen their part of the street. If Newton would act, the work could be pushed right along this season. One great advantage would be a five cent fare to Boston, which would cause all the moderate cost houses in Newton to be occupied at once. In illustration of this, a Boston business man had several unoccupied houses in Newton and offered the choice of them at a very low figure to one of his employees. He liked the houses, the locality and the city, but finally leased a house in Brighton, at the same rental. When asked the reason, he said there were five members of his family who went to Boston every day, and he felt obliged to get within the five cent fare limit, as it would save them $7 1-2 cents a day, compared with Newton, and this would amount to a large sum in a year. And there are others who have to figure in the same way.

In confirmation of what was said about the uneven way in which property is assessed in Newton, we have been informed of a number of other wide variations between tax valuations and prices received for land. In Chestnut Hill, for instance, some lots on Beacon street were sold recently, which were assessed at 5 cents a foot, and the new owners have placed a savings bank mortgage on the lots, in which the land is valued at 25 cents a foot. On Hammond street near the new boulevard, several acres were sold recently for four times the tax valuation. It has been the practice in Ward six for years, to hold large amounts of land for a rise, get the assessors to value it as farming land, and protest against any attempt to tax it at anything near its value. One large land owner on Ward street is taxed for six cents a foot, while land across the line in Ward 7, not as well situated, is taxed for twelve and 13 cents a foot. The Watertown assessors got up their courage this year, and raised the farming land some half a million dollars, and Newton assessors should imitate them. Large land owners who do nothing to increase the value of the land but wait for their neighbors to make and pay for all the improvements, and then expect to step in and sell for a high figure, ought to be made to pay their share of the taxes.

SENATOR HOAR's remarks on A. P. Aism have been widely copied, and he emphasized his views by repeating them at the Middlesex club dinner, adding that the leaders of the movement do not really hate the Catholics, but are only engineering the attempt to stir up strife between citizens of different faiths in order to get honors which had been refused them in the old parties. Perhaps this is aimed somewhat at a certain shallow Congressman, who is best known to fame by a certain brand of stove polish, and who hopes to attain the office of governor by ostentatious displays of piety in his political speeches and on other unsuitable occasions. Many people think he does this simply for effect, but he probably does not know any better.

WALTHAM'S Mayor and Board of Aldermen are having something of a monkey and parrot time of it. The board passes orders, which the mayor vetoes, the board then passes them over his veto and he pigeonholes them. The board retorts by appointing a committee of one to see that the mayor carries out the orders and there is trouble all round for the dog-day season. Without deciding who is right or who is wrong, it is evident that there is a lamentable lack of tact, or such a state of things would not have come to pass. City officials should dwell together in harmony, and Waltham officials should come over and see what a happy family we have in Newton, and go and do likewise.

WHEELMEN are interested in a decision of Judge Reed of the Brookline court, whereby a wheelman was fined $25 and costs for running into another, who was on the extreme right of the road, and wrecking his bicycle. The counsel for the injured man held that, as decided in the English cases, a bicycle is a carriage or vehicle, and therefore, that chap, 93 of the public Statutes, known as the "law of the road," rendered the defendant liable, because riding on the left part of the street. Judge Reed's decision sustains this contention and it will serve to establish the laws of the road for cycles.

The plan for widening Washington street will have a hearing on Aug. 5th, an order having passed the board of aldermen to that effect, and after the hearing it is expected that the end of the long-drawn-out discussion will be in sight, and the property owners on the street will be able to find out "where they are at."

The Board of Health take an excursion to Montreal, next week, to inspect the famous crematorium that city has put in, which consumes swill, ashes and all kinds of garbage, and is said to be the best one of its kind. The question of disposing of swill is quite a problem in Newton, as no section is willing to have a piggery in its midst, and the board of health is thinking of burning it. Of course the trip can not be described as a junket, as it will be purely a business affair, and the fact that Montreal is a beautiful place to visit at this season has nothing to do with the desire of all the board to inspect the crematorium, so that they may act intelligently upon the question of buying one for Newton.

PARTIES owning houses on the north side of Washington street will probably receive a notice after the first city government meeting in August, to vacate their premises within 30 days. The railroad company will be ready then to begin work on moving their tracks and get ready to dig out the trench they are going to build through the city. Movers will be in great demand through August.

THE question of the new police sergeants was not settled last Monday night, as expected, and the force are still wondering where the lightning is going to strike. Meanwhile the police committee is said to be making an exhaustive study of the past records of the several candidates.

WATERTOWN'S tax rate will be $15 this year, the same as last, and an increase has been prevented by marking up the large estates in East Watertown which have heretofore been assessed as farm lands, but which the owners hold at a very high figure. It is said that the increase from the source is half a million.

THE Republican state committee have called the state convention for Oct. 5, at Music Hall, Boston. Curtis Guild, Jr., was selected as president of the convention.

WABAN.

—Mrs. W. F. Webster is able to be about once more.

—Mr. Arthur B. Harlow spent Sunday at Cottage City.

—Miss Stone has just returned from a prolonged visit at Chelsea, Mrs. M. A. Dresser.

—Mrs. M. A. Dresser and Miss Mayola Dresser left Saturday for Portland, Me.

—Mr. E. R. Morse and daughters are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Childs.

—Building a house for Mr. Angler's father in Brookline.

—Miss Hattie Severance will spend the next three or four weeks at Great Falls, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Webster went to Cataumet on Wednesday, where they will remain for the summer.

—Mrs. T. W. Tucker and her daughter Miss Jennie W. Tucker of Dorchester, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson, Win-or road.

—Mr. G. M. Angler, agent for the Eddy Electric Co. of Boston, has bought of Mr. D. J. Page, land adjoining that belonging to Mrs. De Shiple on Pine Ridge road, and Mr. H. Hunt will build a pretty cottage house for him after plans made by Mr. W. R. Goodwin. Mr. Goodwin is also Cholera Morbus is a dangerous complaint, and often is fatal in its results. To avoid this you should use De Witt's Colic & Cholera Cure, as soon as the first symptoms appear. Arthur Hudon, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton; Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

DIED.

MONTEAGUE—At Newton Centre, July 24, Rev. Richard Montague, 42 yrs. Funeral from First Baptist church, Newton Centre, Saturday morning, at 11 o'clock.

FESENDEY—At Chestnut Hill, July 22, suddenly, Sewall H. Fessenden, 74 yrs.

FIELD—At Newton, July 22, Leslie Field of Brooklyn, 15 yrs. 4 mos.

GRANTICH—At Newtonville, July 20, Robert Grantich, 87 years.

PLUTA—At Newton, suddenly, of congestion of the lungs, while in Vermont, Vincent A. Pluta, Jr., son of V. A. Pluta, 23 yrs 3 mos. 3 days.

POPE—At Wakefield, July 19, Charles R. Pope of the firm of Chase, Pope & Brown, 70 Franklin street, Boston.

GIBSON—At Nonantum, July 24, Alfred, son of Philip and Lucy Gibson, 3 mos.

FORD—At Newton, July 21, Martin H. Ford, 10 mos.

CAIN—At Auburndale, July 20, Mary Ellen Cain, 11 yrs.

SIMS—At West Newton, July 19, Sarah Sims, 95 years.

CODY—At Upper Falls, July 19, Mary Francis Cody, 16 yrs. 11 mos.

WHITE—At Nonantum, July 19, Rose, daughter of Peter and Mary White, 1 yr. 6 mos.

BUTLER—At Newton, July 19, Ann Eliza, daughter of George and Mary Butler, 10 mos.

HITCHCOCK—At Newton, July 25, Hon. David K. Hitchcock, aged 82 yrs. 3 mos. Funeral from his late residence, 250 Centre street, Saturday, at 4 o'clock. Friends invited without further notice. Burial private.

Cholera Morbus is a dangerous complaint, and often is fatal in its results. To avoid this you should use De Witt's Colic & Cholera Cure, as soon as the first symptoms appear. Arthur Hudon, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton; Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Easy

To buy, easy to take and easy in effect, are characteristics peculiar to Hood's Pills. They are small, tasteless, and purely vegetable. They act gently but thoroughly and satisfactorily. They do not irritate or inflame the intestines, but leave them in natural, healthy condition. 25 cents.

The undersigned has taken an office in Nickerson's Block, West Newton, for the purpose of buying and selling Real Estate, Renting Property and Collecting rents. Having had 20 years' experience in managing and renting real property, he will promptly and faithfully attend to such business as may be entrusted to his care. Money loaned on real estate. Mortgages negotiated, titles examined. Deeds and conveyances made. Acknowledgments taken, insurance placed in the best companies, and auction sales attended.

M. MORTON,
Nickerson's Block, 1347 Washington Street,
West Newton.

Real Estate,
Mortgages,
InsuranceSpecial Attention paid to Sale and Leasing of Estates in the above villages.

Representatives of All the Leading Insurance Companies.

—OFFICES—

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St., Boston.

The Ease of It.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)
George (nervously)—I'd like the best in the world. Kitty, to marry you, but I don't know how to propose.
Kitty (promptly and practically)—That's all right, George. You've finished with me; now go to papa.

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 5 lines, and 25 cents each time thereafter, in advance.

For Sale.

FOR SALE—High bred driving horse for sale, 5 years old, color dark bay, weighs 1075 lbs. stands 16 1-2 hands, sound and smooth, good style and roader, and can show fast. Also, bay mare 8 years old, weighs 1000 lbs, sound and kind, safe for a lady. I brought these horses from Maine and they must be sold. A. E. Bosworth, 983 Main St., Waltham. 41 1t

FOR SALE—Three handsome full blood Jersey cows for family use, sold singly if desired. Can be seen on the Fanny Broad farm between Auburndale and Cochituate. 42 2t

To Let.

BOARD AND LODGINGS—can be obtained at Mrs. Frederica Prendergast, Curve Street, West Newton. 43 3t

TENEMENTS TO LET—In Newtonville, from $8. to $15, per month. D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot street, Newtonville. 41 4t

TO LET—In Newton, 5 rooms (4 connected) suitable for light housekeeping. Furnace heat. Rent reasonable. 39 Newtonville avenue, near Centre street. 41

TO LET—A desirable 10 room house with modern conveniences. Three minutes from Auburndale station. 300 feet from projected boulevard, excellent surroundings. Lawn and grounds cared for by the owner without expense to tenant. Rent reasonable to good party. Address for particulars: Geo. L. Johnson, Auburndale. 38 1t

TO LET—A few houses in Newton Centre, at $10, $15, $16, $17 and $20 and upwards per month. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 36

TO LET—Corner Woodward and Lincoln Streets, Newton Highlands, a tenement of five (or six) rooms. Land, fruit, city water. Inquire of Miss Fogg on premises. 7 1t

Lost & Found.

LOST—A black silk cape trimmed with black lace between Auburndale and West Newton. If the finder will please address Mrs. R. J. Tarbox, Lock Box 1, Auburndale. 43 1t

LOST—On Sunday afternoon, last, at the corner of Gibbs and Centre Streets, Newton Centre, a dark brown silk lined cape. Will the finder please leave it at Woolman's news rooms, Newton Centre. 43 1t

Miscellaneous.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.—The office hours of the Secretary of the Associated Charities are from 9 to 10 every week day, and from 7.30 to 8.30 Saturday evening.—The Provident Committee will be at the office to distribute clothing Tuesday forenoons and Saturday evenings. M. R. Martin, Secretary; Office, Newtonville Square

Proposals for the materials and labor required for the plumbing and drainage for the Adams School building, Newtonville, will be received at the office of Supt. of Public Buildings, until 12 M. August 5th.

Plans and Specifications may be seen at office of Hartwell, Richardson & Dwyer, 62 Devonshire Street, Boston.

GEO. H. ELDER,
Supt. of Public Buildings.

43 2t

REPORT of the Condition of the First National Bank of West Newton, at Newton, in the State of Massachusetts, at the close of business, July 11th, 1895.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts, $274,975.25
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured, 943.62
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation, 69,000.00
Premiums on U. S. Bonds, 6,700.00
Stocks, securities, etc., 25,127.10
Banking-house, furniture, and fixtures, 600.00
Due from approved reserve agents, 19,693.18
Checks and other cash items, 7,248.29
Notes of other National Banks, 3,025.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents, 757.12

Legal-tender notes, 9,710.62
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation), 2,700.00
Total, $424,371.08

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, $100,000.00
Surplus fund, 10,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid, 6,256.87
National Bank notes outstanding, 52,550.00
Dividends unpaid, 35.00
Individual deposits subject to check, 253,629.24
Demand certificates of deposit, 400.00
Certified checks, 629.97
Provided towards Taxes, 729.00

Total, $424,371.08

STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS, COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX, ss:

I, Edward P. Hatch, Cashier of the above-named bank, do hereby certify that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

EDWARD P. HATCH, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd day of July, 1895.

ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
JAMES H. NICKERSON,
FRED E. CROCKETT,
EDWARD B. WILSON. } Directors.

NOTARY PUBLIC, Justice of Peace
Commissioner of Deeds, found at REA'S AGENCY,
29 Devonshire Street,
Boston, Collections.

Proposals for furnishing the materials and performing the labor required to build and complete a Grammar School building in accordance with the plans and specifications will be received until 12 M. August 15th, by Henry Tolman, Esq., Chairman Public Property Committee, 41 High Street, Boston.

Plans and specifications can be seen on and after July 23, at office of Stickney & Austin, 50 Bromfield Street, Boston.

GEORGE H. ELDER,
Supt. Pub. Buildings.

42 2t

Newton,
Newtonville,
West Newton,
AuburndaleBICYCLES!
FOR LIGHTNESS
AND STRENGTH
None can excel the
NEW MAIL for 1895.

We shall soon have samples and will take pleasure in showing them. Look here before purchasing a wheel.

BARBER BROS.,
Agents for Newton and Watertown.1895 MODEL.
NEW MAIL.

HIGHEST QUALITY.
12 YEARS ON THE MARKET.

Price Reduced to $85.

Also Medium Wheels, $80, $90, $40
Boys' and Girls' Wheels, $15, $20, Etc

WM. READ & SONS,
107 Washington Street, Boston.

Established 1826.
BARBER BROS., Agents, Newton.

E. P. BURNHAM,

AGENT FOR

VICTOR, RAMBLER, WAVERLEY

BICYCLES

25 PARK STREET, NEWTON.

Established 1877. Tel. Connections.

FISH, OYSTERS,
Fruit and Vegetables of All Kinds.

BUNTING'S FISH MARKET

Cole's Block, Newton.

Established 1877. Tel. Connections.

FISH, OYSTERS,
Fruit and Vegetables of All Kinds.

Proposals for furnishing materials and performing the labor required for the drainage and plumbing of the proposed Pease School building will be received until 12 M. August 15th, by Henry Tolman, Esq., Chairman Public Property Committee, 41 High Street, Boston.

Plans and Specifications can be seen at office of Stickney & Austin, 50 Bromfield Street, Boston, on and after July 23rd.

GEO. H. ELDER,
Supt. of Public Buildings.

43 2t

Proposals for furnishing the materials and performing the labor required to build and complete a Grammar School building in accordance with the plans and specifications will be received until 12 M. August 15th, by Henry Tolman, Esq., Chairman Public Property Committee, 41 High Street, Boston.

Plans and specifications can be seen on and after July 23, at office of Stickney & Austin, 50 Bromfield Street, Boston.

GEORGE H. ELDER,
Supt. Pub. Buildings.

42 2t

Proposals for furnishing the materials and performing the labor required to build and complete a Grammar School building in accordance with the plans and specifications will be received until 12 M. August 15th, by Henry Tolman, Esq., Chairman Public Property Committee, 41 High Street, Boston.

Plans and specifications can be seen on and after July 23, at office of Stickney & Austin, 50 Bromfield Street, Boston.

GEORGE H. ELDER,
Supt. Pub. Buildings.

42 2t

Proposals for furnishing the materials and performing the labor required to build and complete a Grammar School building in accordance with the plans and specifications will be received until 12 M. August 15th, by Henry Tolman, Esq., Chairman Public Property Committee, 41 High Street, Boston.

Plans and specifications can be seen on and after July 23, at office of Stickney &

NEWTONVILLE.

—Pianos rented and tuned, Farley, Newton.

—The Universalist church will remain closed until Sept. 1.

—Mr. William Austin of New York is visiting friends here this week.

—Mr. W. F. Slocum has gone to Westfield for a few weeks' stay.

—Mrs. H. P. Dearborn has returned from a visit to New Hampshire.

—Mrs. F. W. Lucas has returned from Beverly.

—Mr. George W. Morse and family are away for a few weeks at the seashore.

—Mrs. Dr. Talbot and family have returned from a pleasant stay in Westboro.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Puffer departed this week for Europe. They will be abroad several months.

—Rev. L. A. Priest and family have gone to Vermont to enjoy their summer vacation.

—Mrs. C. H. R. Woodward of Newtonville avenue is at the Atlantic House, Nantasket.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Vose and Miss Vose of Walnut street are in Jefferson, N. H., for a few weeks' stay.

—Mr. E. C. Jourdan and family have gone to Squirrel Island, Me., for a few weeks' stay.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Randall of Walnut street are in Vermont for the balance of the summer season.

—Mr. E. A. Phippen and family will leave the month of August at West Newfield.

—Mr. W. W. Henderson of New York is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunt, Grove Hill avenue.

—Miss L. E. Thompson has returned from a trip to Bailey's Island. She leaves Saturday for a short stay at Cataumet.

—Miss Edith Milliken of Russell court has returned from a two weeks' visit with friends in Brooklyn, N. Y.

—Dr. Otis E. Hunt has returned from North Falmouth where he has been spending several weeks.

—Miss E. Addie Brooks returns next week from "the Bungalow," Glades, North Scituate beach.

—Miss Lena Soule, who has been visiting here, has returned to her home in Easton.

—Col. Joy of New Orleans was in town this week. He came north on a trip combining business and pleasure.

—Mr. G. H. Crocker and family, who have been enjoying a stay at Hyannis, are expected home next week.

—Mrs. J. H. Mitchell and daughter, who have been visiting relatives here, have returned to their home in Yarmouth, Me.

—Miss May Casey has returned from a pleasant stay at North Falmouth. Miss Sallie Casey has gone to Cottage City for a short stay.

—Mr. A. C. Watkins, who has just returned from California, is enjoying the fishing among the mountain streams of upper Canada, for a few weeks.

—Miss Lillian Bosworth of Portland, Me., is visiting her parents, Officer and Mrs. N. F. Bosworth, at their home on Cross street.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Dexter Alvin, "Tony" Johnson, Minnie E. Leach, Mary A. McLaughlin, John Norton, James Orr and George M. C. Spar.

—Fred R. Brackett and Chase Freeman of Detroit, Mich., are in town this week visiting relatives. They start Monday for the White Mountains.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chapman are at Atlantic House, Nantasket, where their stay will be protracted until the close of the warm season.

—Misses D. and E. Cunningham of Washington street will start for Denver about Sept. 1, and will remain there for a year or more. A sister, who has been there some time, is much improved in health.

—Work has been commenced on ex-Gov. Claflin's new business block on Washington street. It will occupy the lot just below Central block and will be a brick structure, it is understood that it will be arranged for stores and offices.

—There was a rush for the seashore and mountain places this week, and the residential section was practically cleaned out by the exodus of summer tourists. It is quite different this season. Perhaps, the advantages of cooler weather accounts for it. It was not enough to boil eggs in the shade almost any day in July a year ago.

—There was a very lively bowling contest, last Saturday evening, at North Falmouth, between the Nonantons of Newton and the Pequotas of Westboro. The Newton men being Dr. W. O. Hunt, W. F. Dearborn, Jr., W. M. Tapley, C. W. Hamilton and D. B. Harding. The Westboro men were defeated 2417 to 2306, and another game is to be played next Saturday evening.

—Hugh McLaughlin, a carpenter, was seriously injured by a fall from a staging on Homer street, Saturday morning. He was working on the new power house of the Newton Boston street railway company when a loose plank slipped from its place and caused him to fall to the ground a distance of 25 feet. He was taken up in an unconscious condition and attended by Dr. Baker. It was found that his left arm was broken in three places and that he had sustained internal injuries which may prove fatal.

—The tennis committee of the Newton Club is completing arrangements for a member's tourney in which their sons will have an opportunity of entering the special competition, following somewhat the idea of last year. Some valuable prizes will be offered in each class, "junior, youths and senior" will probably be the designations. The courts this year are in fine condition and decidedly popular, too, if one may judge from the large number who may be seen from time to time toying with the racquets these pleasant afternoons during the warm months.

—Robert Cranitch of Broadway, father of Councilman Cranitch, died last Saturday at the advanced age of 78. Death resulted from bronchial pneumonia after an illness of only a few days. Deceased was an old resident who came here about 30 years ago. He was born in St. John's, New Brunswick. Mr. Cranitch has been retired from active business for the past quarter century. He was a man who was much respected in this community. Four sons and a daughter survive him. The funeral was held in the Church of Our Lady Tuesday morning. There was a solemn mass of requiem, Rev. Fr. Dolan, Coughlin and Harkins. The interment was made in Calvary cemetery, Waltham.

—The water seems to be sprinkled on the streets without much care, and wheelmen are complaining loudly of the lack of intelligence displayed. Streets in shady places are so deluged that the water is several inches deep and the streets are dangerous, especially in the evening, when wheelmen can not see to pick their way. Several accidents have happened on Washington street, between the square and Lowell street, which is always muddy, just above Lowell street, and also below the old Congregational church. Shady places do not need much water, and the drivers of watering carts should not let the water run when they stop to rest in shady sections of the street. Enough water is wasted to keep all the streets free from dust.

—Mrs. George H. Shapley is enjoying the mountain air and scenery at Mooslauc, N. H.

—Mr. Rawley, manager of Gardiner's hardware store, has taken a house on Foster place, which he is now occupying with his family.

—Members of Gethsemane commandery, Knight Templar, participated in a drill Tuesday evening. They are getting ready for the big Templar triennial convention, which comes off next month. Fully 50,000 of the brethren will take part in the exercises, representing almost every city and town in the United States. The Newton commandery is one of the largest and most representative in the character of its membership of any in this vicinity and will make a creditable showing, it is, perhaps, needless to add.

WEST NEWTON.

—Miller pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith are passing a few weeks at Maplewood, N. H.

—Mr. R. H. Hunt is registered at the Hawthorne House, East Gloucester.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gress are at the Preston House, Clifton, for several weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Davis are in Lincoln, Maine, for a few weeks.

—Mr. Levi F. Warren and family are passing the summer months in Vermont.

—William H. Folsom has been granted an increase in his pension.

—Mrs. Ellen P. Perrin is in Deep Brook, Nova Scotia, for the summer.

—Mr. J. H. Wheeler, Jr., and family are enjoying a few weeks at Rye Beach, N. H.

—Mr. B. S. Palmer and family returned this week from Falmouth.

—Messrs. Higgins and Hatch are building two apartment houses at the corner of River and Henshaw streets.

—H. B. Day and family have returned from a few weeks' stay in New Hampshire.

—Mr. Herbert Burrage and family will pass the month of August at South Bristol, Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Felton and Miss Grace Felton are at Hotel Pemberton, Hull.

—Mr. Robert Campbell, clerk at the freight yard, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

—A number of the residents of Webster street enjoyed a picnic at Forest Grove, Wednesday.

—Mr. Edward Eaton of Lincoln Park has returned from a two week's stay in Bangor, Me.

—Mr. Edward Burdon of Webster street has returned from several weeks' stay at Millbury.

—Mr. Hugh O'Neill and family of Henshaw street will pass the month of August in Newburyport.

—Mr. Charles Sprague has joined his family at their summer home in Barnstable.

—A letter was received here this week from E. N. L. Walton, dated Edinburgh, Scotland.

—Mrs. John Mead and son, Mr. George Mead, will pass a portion of the summer vacation period at Rindge, N. H.

—Mr. F. F. Raymond and family start Monday for Jefferson, N. H., where they will remain during August.

—Mrs. George Kenyon, who was recently the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Langley, has returned to her home in Providence, R. I.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Smith are enjoying their wedding trip by making a tour of the White Mountains on bicycles. They were registered at the Maplewood Cottage last Thursday.

—Among those who left here this week for mountain and seashore were Mr. Owens and family of Alpine street, Mrs. E. E. Leach of Hillside avenue, and Mr. J. W. Stanley and family of Shaw street.

—Among those who have returned from the summer resorts this week were Mr. A. S. Glover and family, Mrs. A. K. Tolman, Mr. P. S. Howe and family, Mr. Fred and Miss Myra Metcalf, Mr. W. Ryan and family and Mr. C. Hall.

—The marriage is announced of Mr. Ernest Nickerson of this place and Miss Helen Maud Conover of Chicago. The ceremony was performed in New York by Bishop Potter and was private, all members of the family being in mourning. Mr. and Mrs. Nickerson are visiting the groom's mother, Mrs. Theodore Nickerson of Temple street.

—A horse attached to a plumber's supply team owned by H. C. Folger & Co. of West Somerville, started suddenly while standing in front of Pike's store on Watertown street, yesterday afternoon, and ran down Watertown street colliding with a watering cart. One of the horses of the Somerville team was badly cut and the forward wheels sprung. No further damage was done.

—The Wellesley & Boston street railway company of Newton has been granted a charter from the office of the Secretary of State, capital stock, $40,000; to operate a street railway, three miles, from West Newton to Wellesley; directors, Horace B. Parker of Newtonville, George W. Morse of Newtonville, Frederick Johnson of Auburndale, W. F. Hammet of Newton, Austin R. Mitchell, James L. Richards of Newtonville and J. W. French of Newton. President Parker hopes to begin running cars next week.

—John Reed and Hiram Ayer, boys about 16 years old, were arrested at West Newton Monday morning by Patrolmen Shannon and G. G. Bosworth of the Newton police force as fugitives from the Lyman school at Westboro. The boys escaped from the institution Sunday morning and hid in the woods in the back part of Waltham during the day, sleeping in a shed in Weston Sunday night. They said they were headed for Boston, and proposed to leave the state as soon as they could obtain funds. They had been confined at Westboro for about four years, and were committed from Beverly for breaking and entering.

—West Newton people were surprised Tuesday afternoon to see a member of Company C, Fifth regiment Claffin Guards, under arrest, and in charge of a corporal's guard. The prisoner was Private Thomas C. Merriman, who has recently joined. He is a reporter for the Boston Standard, and did not want to go to muster as it would interfere with his business, but as he is a member of the company's rifle team, it also sadly interfered with the captain's plans and a corporal was sent in search of him. He was found at his boarding house and taken into custody, after having been given time to secure his uniform. This is the only absence from the company's men unaccounted for.

—The city is likely to be requested to settle a claim arising from the construction of the new boulevard, which will probably amount to several thousand dollars. Thomas Maguire, who was awarded the contract for constructing the West Newton section of the parkway, has been unable to complete the work without loss, and will probably present a claim for additional compensation. An unexpected obstacle was encountered in the shape of a ledge of solid rock nearly half a mile long, and extending directly along the line of the roadway. This has caused a considerable delay in completing the work, and has increased the cost beyond the estimates of the contractor.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Price is in Maine for a few weeks' rest.

—Mr. N. P. Snell is passing his vacation in Vermont.

—Miss Margaret Kimberly is enjoying a short stay at Mt. Vernon, N. H.

—Mrs. A. B. Potter has returned from a visit to New York City.

—Mr. E. C. Willson and family departed for the mountains this week.

—Mr. Henry A. Inman and family are at Worcester for a few weeks' stay.

—Mr. George L. Lovett and family have returned from their stay at the seashore.

—Miss Alice Morton is at Powder Point Hall, Duxbury Beach.

—Mr. Thomas Nickerson is enjoying the breeze at Bethlehem, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. Stephen F. Cate enjoyed the excursion to Provincetown Thursday.

—Mr. H. L. Burrage is registered at the Hillsboro House, Mt. Vernon, N. H.

—Miss Nellie Lyons is at Hotel Standish, for a short stay.

—Miss Lillian B. Henderson is passing a few weeks at the Hawthorne House, East Gloucester.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nickerson are registered at the Samoset House, Plymouth.

—Mr. E. C. Fletcher and family of Berkeley street have returned from a few weeks' stay in Maine.

—Mrs. George Irlbacher, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Healey, returned this week to her home in Buffalo, New York.

—Mr. W. J. Furbush has been passing the week at Highgate, Vt., and expects to return with some good horseflesh. He recently sold his pony team and is now looking for a handsome matched pair.

—Mr. Hobbs and family, who have occupied Mr. A. S. Glover's house during the absence of the family, left this week for Jefferson, N. H., where they will pass the remainder of the warm season.

AUBURDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Mrs. Myra Hall is at the Isles of Shoals, having left last Saturday.

—Mr. Harry D. Priest has sailed for Europe.

—Mr. T. J. Marble and family have returned from West Lebanon, N. H.

—Mr. Gordon Wetherbee is away on his vacation.

—Mr. Chas. Cowdrey is spending his vacation in Greenville, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. Hadlock have returned from Green Harbor, Me.

—The roof of Plummer's block is undergoing extensive repairs.

—Mr. G. Fred Pond and family have returned from Winthrop.

—Miss Nellie McJannet and Miss Nellie O'Donnell are at Lake Sunapee, N. H.

—Popular "Bob" Daley has gone to muster with Co. C.

—Mr. E. A. Chamberlain and family of Ash street are at Portland, Me.

—Miss E. E. Miller and niece have gone to Sunset Hill House, Campton Village, N. H.

—The society of Odd Ladies held a most enjoyable picnic at Forest Grove, yesterday.

—Mr. R. L. Bridgman and family of Hancock street have left for George's Mills, N. H.

—Mrs. James Doliver and family are enjoying their home next week from Green Harbor, Me.

—Patrolman Mullen is taking Patrolman Bosworth's place while the latter is enjoying his vacation.

—Mr. James Barret and family of Auburn street have moved to the house formerly occupied by E. T. Burd on Lexington street.

—Rev. T. W. Bishop will preach at the Methodist church his last sermon till September next Sunday morning. The church will be closed during August.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Gyltue Givanti, Mr. E. W. Hamilton, Mr. Randall Johnson, John R. McDonald, P. A. Pike, Nivolozi Pasquat, Frank Robinson, Arthur Freeman, Mrs. E. Allen, Mrs. J. H. Bobbett, Mrs. K. B. Fletcher, Mrs. Alice Hazelton, Miss Clara Moldin Haynie, Miss Beatrice Macdonis and Miss Ellen Roberts.

—The Auburndale Tennis club will hold an open tennis tournament in studies on the club house, Auburndale street, beginning today and continuing through the remainder of the week. A valuable silver cup to be known as the "Auburndale Challenge Cup" will be offered as the first prize. This cup must be won three years to entitle holder to ownership. The holder of the cup is subject to challenge every year by the runner-up of the annual open tournament in singles to be held by this club. A racket will be offered as second prize. Losers of the first matches will contest for a russet leather racket case as a consolation prize. Two out of three sets will decide each match. The semi-finals and finals when three out of five sets will be played. Deuce sets will be played. The matches began promptly at 9.30 this morning and the admittance to the courts will be free.

—Vincent A. Pluta, son of Mr. V. A. Pluta, the well-known provision dealer, died Saturday morning in Burlington, Vt. The remains were brought to this place and viewed by a large number of friends Monday morning. In the afternoon at 2.30 the funeral was held from his home on Rowe street and all the storekeepers closed their respective places of business during the ceremony. A large number of floral tributes were received, one of the most beautiful being a pillow from a number of his young men friends. The deceased was 23 years and 3 months old, and had lived in Auburndale all his life. He was educated in the public schools, leaving there to take a position in his father's store. He was one of the most popular and well-known young men in the village and leaves a wide circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

A Hint.

He—What is your latest charity?
The heiress—I am supporting a young man in Liberia.

He—You ought to remember that charity begins at home.

The Best Medicine for Diarrhoea.
Mr. Cooper, of this place, had been troubled with diarrhoea for three or four weeks and failed to get any thing that would check it effectually, until he used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, two doses of which effected a complete cure. He says it is the best medicine he ever saw for such cases. Also that he had given it to several families and they always praised it.

—R. L. ANDRE & BROS., Sandy Flats, Greenville Co., S. C. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Kayes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

SCOTCH HUMOR.

It Crops Out Occasionally Among Elders of the Kirk.

The elder of the kirk, like most of us, can blunder occasionally. The pastor of a small village on the borders had gone for a few days to visit some relatives, when an old lady was suddenly stricken down and not expected to live more than a few hours. The elder was hastily summoned to attend; but, having been lately elected to the post, which he had accepted in order to satisfy the vanity of his wife, he did not feel able to face the trying ordeal. His wife entreated him to do his duty, and whispering a few lines of Scripture into his ears sent him off on his errand.

An hour later his wife beheld him stepping homeward as brisk as a March hare. She inquired how he had come on. "Oh, fine, woman, fine!" was the reply. "She was dead when I got there!"

A short time ago, when disestablishment was in everybody's mouth, an old lady created quite a sensation in a church not far from Annan. Having been from home a considerable time, she was unaware that the election of elders had taken place. She attended services the following Sunday, when the minister, commenting on the result, remarked that in David Richardson the church had a new pillar of strength, to which she retorted: "What! David Richardson a pillar! Nae wonder the auld kirk's gann to fa'!" David, who had the misfortune to have a wooden leg and a hump back, quietly rose up and answered: "Whiee ht, ye gowk. Criffel's (a mountain in the neighborhood) no straght!"

On one occasion the minister met Donald coming from Dumfries Road fair in rather a muddled state. "David! David! Do I see your double?"

"Eh, guidakes, minister!" exclaimed the elder. "Guidakes, are ye fon tae?"

A minister, feeling indisposed on one occasion, did not put in an appearance, and the elder, apologizing for his absence, gave it out that "his reverence was unco bad in the roomatic" (for so he pronounced the word rheumatism) "and couldn't get out."

On hearing this startling intelligence an old lady who happened to be present shrieked out:

"Eh, that auld hizzzy o' his! Has she locked pur man in the attic because he was enjoying himself at Farmer Bell's kirk?"—Scottish American.

SARDINE FISHING.

The Process From the Time of the Catch to the Canning and Cooking.

Toward the end of April the sardine fishermen along the coast of Brittany begin to watch for the bubbling of the sardines on the surface of the sea. For they know that vast shoals of the little fish are on their way from the coast of Africa up through the bay of Biscay to the north, and that they must be caught, if at all, as they pass. When any one sees the water agitated, word spreads rapidly and the boats put out from the shore and race to the shoal.

When the net is extended, the water is "bailed" by throwing balls of "roque" into it. As the bait dissolves and sinks the sardines rise and remain long after to nibble it, and their doom is sealed. For this reason "roque" is a most important part of the sardine fisherman's outfit. It is made of the eggs of mackerel and codfish mixed with clay, and is rather expensive, costing from 25 shillings to 70 shillings a barrel.

Within the curing factories or canneries everything is bustle and confusion, for there must not be a moment's delay in cleaning the fish. All night long the work is carried on by the light of blazing oil wicks. The sardines are spread out on benches or tables, where salt is dusted over them. Then the women go along and snip off the heads with great scissors.

The little flat boxes so well known to commerce are taken one by one and filled from the glistening pile of fish, after which pure olive oil from the province of Bari, in Italy, is poured over them and the tops soldered on.

In the meantime a great caldron of hot water has been raised to the boiling point ready for the real operation of cooking the fish. The sealed boxes are thrown into it and left for two or three hours. If any oil appears on the top of the water, the master workman knows that some can has not been properly soldered, and the loss is charged up to the man who did the work. A good workman will not lose more than two or three boxes in 100.—New York Recorder.

The Work of the Heart.

One of the most remarkable things about the heart is the amount of work it does. Considering the organ as a pump whose task is to deliver a known quantity of blood against a known "head," it is easy to show that in 24 hours a man's heart does about 124 foot tons of work. "In other words," says a contemporary, "if the whole force expended by the heart in 24 hours were gathered into one huge stroke, such a power would lift 124 tons one foot from the ground. A similar calculation has been made respecting the amount of work expended by the muscles involved in breathing. In 24 hours these muscles do about 21 foot tons of work."

A Mob.

A mob is usually a creature of very mysterious existence, particularly in a large city. Where it comes from or whether it goes few men can tell. Assembling and dispersing with equal suddenness, it is as difficult to follow to its various sources as the sea itself, nor does the parallel stop here, for the ocean is not more fickle and uncertain, more terrible when aroused, more unreasonable or more cruel.—Dickens.

Light on a Dark Subject.

Rivers—Supposing it to be true that Luther did throw an ink bottle at Satan, why do you think he did it?

Banks—I presume he wanted to see if he couldn't make him blacker than he was painted.—Chicago Tribune.

MINER ROBINSON ELECTRICAL ENGINEER.

12 Pearl St., Room 27, Boston. Order Office, 421 Centre St., Newton.

The fitting of private residences for the Electric Light a specialty.

ELECTRIC LIGHT

Boston, 3311. TELEPHONES—W. Newton, *234. NEWTON *255-2.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

SIMPSON BROTHERS,

CONTRACTORS FOR

Concrete Walks, Driveways,

Asphalt Floors and Artificial Stone Walks.

We have been awarded the Sidewalk Contract for the City of Newton for 1895, and are ready to receive orders or give estimates for work in private grounds.

P. O. Address, Newton, or Boston Office, Room 58, Telephone 1155 Boston, 166 Devonshire St.

REFERS TO 20 YEARS WORK IN NEWTON.

West Newton English and Classical School.

THE FORTY THIRD YEAR of this Family Day School for Boys and Girls begins

Wednesday, September 18, 1895.

Prepares for College, Scientific School, Business and a useful life. Attention to character building. Send for Catalogue or call Tuesdays at ALLEN BROTHERS, West Newton.

THE WABAN SCHOOL,

Waban, Massachusetts.

A preparatory school for boys. The next term begins September 18th. Circulars sent on application to 43 2nd CHAS. E. FISH, Principal.

Until July 31st, during the absence of his family, messages for will receive prompt attention if left at Hubbard's Pharmacy. Will be at residence at night as usual.

DR. REID

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

INCORPORATED 1831.

Business Hours: 9 to 12 and 2 to 4, except Saturdays. Saturdays, 9 to 1.

Total deposits per last quarter's Statement.

July 9, $2,639,150.22.

Quarter Days the TENTH of January, April, July and October. Dividends declared the Tuesday following January 10th and July 10th, are payable the day after being declared.

TRUSTEES:
James F. C. Hyde, John Ward, Joseph N. Bacon, Samuel W. Jackson, Darius Laneey, William Dix, William C. Strong, Francis Murdoch, Charles T. Pulsifer, Charles A. Miner, Warren P. Tyler and Harry W. Mason.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT:
James F. C. Hyde, Samuel M. Jackson, and Francis Murdoch.
James F. C. Hyde, Adolphus J. Blanchard, President, Treasurer.

EXECUTORS SALE

—OF—

LAND

—AT—

AUBURDALE

Islington

Avenue

68,000 FEET

Adjoining the Pulsifer Estates

Executors wish to close Estate and will sell at low figure and easy terms.

JOHN HARGREAVES,

Agent,

95 Water Street, Boston.

Newton National Bank,

NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:
From 9 A. M., to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.
On Saturdays, from 9 A. M., to 12 M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President
BANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

Physicians

Dr. F. L. McINTOSH,

Corner of Washington and Jewett Sts.

(Office of the late Dr. Keith.)

Office Hours: 4 to 7 P. M. Usually at home until 9 A. M.

</

DREAMLAND.

Where sighs the whispering linden
To summer's lightest breeze,
Where tints of birds make music
Unseen 'mid shady trees—
How sweet awhile to linger
Beside some babbling stream,
And lulled by its soft murmur
To fall asleep and dream!

What strange fantastic pictures
Pass mirrored o'er the brain
As youth forgets its troubles
And age grows young again!
The past, no more remembered,
Makes way for what shall be,
And scenes of future gladness
Are all the dreamer sees.

Ah, would those idle fancies
Might sometimes prove them true
Nor fade away to nothing
And vanish from the view!
Fond thought! But cease repeating Forthwith 'tis happier thus
To leave unsolved life's riddle
Nor ask what waits for us.

—New Budget.

A DEAD SHOT.

They called him Tex in lieu of any reliable information as to his proper patronymic, and he bobbed up in that miscellaneous assortment of humanity that flocked to Leadville in the first flush of the silver excitement. Tex was an Apollo of the plains, a mere boy, with long yellow curls, blue eyes and a woman's complexion and with a frame that towered six feet in his stockings. He had been a member of an immigrant train in his tender years, which the Indians had attacked and wiped out of existence. Tex had been adopted by the tribe and had spent some years in this savage society, until General McHenry, commanding regular troops, one day swooped down on the camp and seized Tex and restored him to civilization. And then Tex became a cowboy. That was his history down to the time that he went to Leadville and became a familiar figure about the gambling houses.

Everybody, with the possible exception of the parson and a few women and children in camp, in those days wooed the fickle goddess of fortune in roulette or at faro, poker and even keno, and Tex's occupation as a professional gambler did not lower his social standing by one degree. As a matter of fact, Tex was a great favorite. He was a big, kind hearted boy, with a quiet manner and good natured smile, but, withal, a man—a man, too, capable of being aroused at times and in that condition one of the most dangerous men in the west.

One day Tex sat down in The Gold Room, a popular resort on Chestnut street, to a little game of poker. The stakes were high, and Tex was steadily losing. When he discovered that his partner was playing with a double deck Tex put his hand on the jack pot and called the other a cut. That party whipped out a six shooter, but lay dead in his tracks with a bullet hole through his heart before he could bring his pistol to a level. Tex was such an expert with his gun!

Bret Harte relates that the gamblers in Tuttle's grocery calmly continued their game the day that French Pete and Kanaka Joe shot each other to death over the bar in the front room. The game in The Gold Room on this occasion must have been less absorbing in interest, for the crowd made a rush for Tex, who calmly turned around at the door and quietly advised his pursuers to resume their peaceful occupations at the table if they did not want to fill a common grave over on the other side of Capitol hill. And very wisely the crowd acted on Tex's advice. And so the matter apparently blew over without any serious annoyance to the young man, who continued to walk the streets in his leisurely way, obviously none the worse in conscience for having assisted in the premature taking off of a dishonest gambler. How many men Tex in his short but eventful career had killed no body knew, but his bearing on this occasion indicated that he was no novice.

He was greeted respectfully by passers, and he smiled as benevolently and kindly upon those he cared to notice as though the process of shooting a man through the heart was an accepted act of ethical propriety.

And nothing more would have come of it if people had not begun to twit Town Marshal O'Connor on his failure to do his duty. The marshal had no hankering after Tex's society, no vaulting ambition to arrest him. Tex had been somewhat informal in his administration of justice. He might have waited for his opponent to shoot first, and then allowed the regularly elected justice of the peace to try the case afterward, but Tex, in his youthful inexperience and very vague acquaintance with the proprieties of civilization, had not stopped to think of that. A cold deck and a suggestive movement toward the seat of war on the part of an adversary had always been his signal for prompt action, and his triggerless six shooter had on such occasions always been the arbiter of justice, from which no appeal lay. The merciless twitting to which O'Connor was subjected had made it necessary for him to do something to maintain the dignity of the law.

When Tex that evening walked into The Gold Room, O'Connor was there. They saw each other at a glance. O'Connor leisurely walked toward Tex, and the boy fastened his keen eyes upon him as though he would read his thoughts.

"Tex," said the marshal, "you've killed Skinner, and you know what I've got to do with you."

"Arrest me?" said Tex quietly. The conversation was conducted in subdued tones. "Don't try it," continued Tex. "I like you, and I haven't got a thing against you. I don't want to kill you, O'Connor. Now you go about your business and leave me alone. When the grand jury meets you'll find me right here in The Gold Room, and I'll go with you and stand trial, but I won't be arrested."

"But, Tex," said the marshal, "I've got to do my duty."

"And I've got to do mine," said Tex.

"I done it this morning when I drilled a hole through Skinner, and I'll do it whenever a man puts a hand on me. I ain't spoiling for a fight, specially with you, O'Connor, and if you see your duty make sure that it is to let me alone. Now go away and don't trouble yourself any more about me."

Tex turned to go away, but in turning he saw the marshal draw his pistol. There was a quick, sharp report, a puff of smoke, and O'Connor lay writhing on the floor in his blood.

Again the large gambling room was in a state of commotion. Tables were upturned, and loud voices could be distinguished above the din, shouting: "Kill him!" "Shoot him!" There was a general rush in the direction where Tex had stood, but the boy had disappeared.

Then it was that Leadville experienced a moral revulsion. When men could no longer sit down to a beguiling game of stud poker or watch the cards as they were silently slipped from the case by the nimble fingers of the faro dealer without being disturbed by the crack of pistols and the accompanying acts of violence and bloodshed it was time to make a few examples and readjust the moral standard of the community.

How much greater was the necessity when, as on this occasion, men made free with the executive hand of justice in the person of the marshal, whose only offense had been that of trying to cage a flagrant violator of the peace and maintain the dignity of the law, even what little there was of it. But Tex could nowhere be found.

Sheriff Tucker began to take the case in hand. He and his deputies scoured the town from one end to the other. They visited all of Tex's resorts and calling places, but none had seen him after the shooting. At last Tucker heard that he had left town on horseback. He was probably far over the divide by this time, but Tucker was not the sort of man to be easily discouraged. He and a deputy, whose aim was as accurate as his own, and whose courage was something to be banked on in all emergencies, started in pursuit. They had better horses than the animal Tex was riding, and they were soon on the boy's trail.

Then began one of the hottest pursuits that was ever known. By daylight they were in sight of the fugitive, catching a faroff glimpse of him as he waved his sombrero at them just as he slipped over the crest of a range of hills. Both parties had changed horses several times. At one place Tex had traded his broken down broncho for a buggy horse, paying the difference that the owner asked without haggling about the price. Then he had traded the buggy horse for a Ute pony that would try to run up a hill as fast as he ran down, and whose spirit nothing could conquer but death. Once they were perceptibly gaining on him and tried a few shots that fell short.

Just as they thought they were going to close in on him and were putting their horses to their best Tex waving his sombrero over his head, standing erect in the saddle, and gave such an unearthly yell that the poor pony was frightened into a convulsive effort that carried him to the edge of a vision of Tucker's. Yet on they pressed, and they saw their man—at their mercy.

His broncho had broken his neck stumbling over a boulder. Tex had been thrown down, but was too expert a rider not to find his feet. His revolver had been hurled down a bank and was beyond reach. His pursuers were upon him, and the business end of two revolvers were ominously directed against his breast.

Tex made a bounding leap down the bank. "Crack, crack!" spoke two revolvers, but the bullets missed. The next instant Tex had got possession of his revolver, but the leap had broken his wrist, and the sheriff and his man had the drop on him.

"Tex," shouted Tucker, "throw up your hands! We've got you."

"Shoot, d—n you, shoot!"

He tried to level his own gun, but his wrist was limp, and before he could change it to his left hand there was an almost simultaneous report of two pistols, and a pair of bullets had passed into his heart. Tex fell heavily on his side, and as the sheriff and his deputy saw that they had done their work well they watched him.

"Take the pot!" gasped Tex, and died.—Washington Post.

Inconsistent Teeth.

The inconsistent teeth are small and even, often brilliantly white, but widely separated. Each tooth has a well defined space between it and its neighbor. Usually in men a small, straight nose and weak chin are seen with these teeth. The lips may be well formed, but the mouth, in smiling, forms an oblique line, showing the glittering white teeth. The possessor or is by nature treacherous, inconsistent in his affections, will turn on a woman or attack a weaker man. He will never meet a man of his own size in an encounter and will stab in the dark or work through a third party. Henry Irving makes his mouth up after this type for his wonderful Mephisto and accentuates the cruelty of its lines by the wicked arch to his eyebrows.—Kansas City Times.

Loaded For the Coming Conflict.

"I'm not troubling myself about the new woman," hiccupped O'Murphy, making his way deviously homeward at 3 a. m. "It's th' old woman that's worryin' me."—Chicago Tribune.

Extremely So.

Summer Resort.—And is everything on your farm nice and fresh? Farmer.—Nice and fresh? I guess you'd think so if you'd see some of our city boarders.—Boston Transcript.

No Comparison.

"I don't believe Jack will ever learn to dance."

"Worse than that—he will never learn not to attempt it."—Boston Budget.

LINES ON A GREEK INN.

Gather poppies, gather poppies,
Bind a wreath for faithful Phyllis.
Poppies, for he gave us sleep,
Smiles from his Delphian steen.
Say his wine we could not quaff,
Praise his salad and pilaf.
Whisper he would better please
Were his beds quite free from——Good Words.

A MAN'S LAUGH NEVER CHANGES.

How the Fact Was Illustrated by an Incident in Chicago.

If the Bertillon system of identification had a photographic record of the laughs of criminals it would probably be as near perfect as an identification system can be. The fact that man comes into the world wailing has been regarded as a sort of prophecy of the truth that as a rule the sorrows of life outnumber the joys when all the returns are in, but an optimist might see an opposite significance in the fact that a man's laugh remains the same through all the changing years. When the cares of manhood succeed to the happy go lucky days of boyhood, this laugh of his may be called into use, as it were, very little, but when it is put into operation it is the same old laugh, and every boyhood friend would know it instantly.

An old soldier who fought through the war with Fred Hartwick, who drives a mail collector's wagon on the North Side, happened to be in Chicago for a week not long since. He heard that Mr. Hartwick was on his postmaster's staff and went to the federal building to find him. He took his station at a point past which all the carriers filed to report for duty, and as Hartwick came along some one pointed him out.

Without disclosing his own identity the veteran approached and began asking Hartwick if he remembered various incidents in the history of their regiment during the war. Of course he did and very soon fell into conversation, organizing a kind of campfire meeting between themselves. One member of the regiment was in business in New Orleans, another was in a bank down in the state, several were farming, one was the local manager for one of the big commercial agencies in one of the large cities, and so on.

Several times Hartwick asked his old companion at arms his name, but the latter only smiled and went on with the conversation. Finally, when it became necessary for them to separate, as Hartwick was obliged to go out on his run, the man laughed outright as he said: "Well, Fred, I never thought you'd forget me after what we went through together."

"The minute he laughed," said Mr. Hartwick, in relating the incident, "I knew just who he was and all about him, but I hadn't seen him for 30 years, and he had changed so I couldn't have told him from Adam. His laugh had grown older, too, of course, but it was the same old laugh."—Chicago Tribune.

The Tyranny of Etiquette.

It is impossible to read even the least dogmatic books on etiquette without being oppressed with the conviction that a heavy and binding addition has been made to the code of morals in the by-laws which have to do with visiting cards, invitations, conventional phrases and other minor but vigorous formulas. It has been reiterated by writers on these subjects that not a single rule of etiquette is arbitrary, but that all prove their reason in the very nature of things, and that those who disregard them simply show their own lack of insight and incapacity to appreciate genuine refinement.

While this is all very well for society people pure and simple or those who have other definite and absorbing work in life compliance with all the thousand and one trifling points of etiquette is an utter impossibility. The question then becomes, Shall such persons be excluded from society or be allowed to enter it on their own terms? Society might be so conducted as to make of it a charming and delightful recreation instead of a tyrannical business, and those who see this clearly can do much toward making it so.—Philadelphia Press.

The Electric Candle.

The electric candle is in great request in England for the lighting and decoration of dining and other tables. An ingenious device for lighting the candles is provided by placing small pads under the tablecloth, and taking the current from them by means of two pin points in the base of the candlestick. The candles of course are extinguished on being taken from the table and are relighted when they are replaced in the proper position. They are so arranged that the bulb and the glass imitation of a wax candle can be removed, when the candlestick can be used for an ordinary candle. When used with shades of colored silk, the electric candle makes one of the prettiest additions to a dinner table that is possible to imagine.—Machinist.

Kind Offer.

Impoliteness may sometimes perhaps be answered properly with impertinence. A struggling author went to an editor with a manuscript.

"Oh," exclaimed the editor, "don't bother me now. I've other fish to fry."

"Well, I'll fry your fish for you," said the author, "while you read my manuscript."

So the editor had to read it.—Youth's Companion.

As Usual.

Mr. Epsom Downes (seated beside a stranger in a street car)—What time is it by your watch, please?

Stranger—I don't know.

Mr. Epsom.—But you just looked at it.

Stranger.—Yes. I only wanted to see if it was still there.—London Tit-Bits.

Memory is the primary and fundamental power without which there could be no other intellectual operation.—Johnson.

The Chickahominy had its designation from an Indian word, Chick-maw-hony, "the place of turkeys."

Woman's Business Inability.

Uncle Josh (whose niece has ridden out twenty-five miles to visit him): "Gee cripes, Gladys Jane! I just cut into this here tire a little to see how they was put up, an' I'll be dead warmed if they ain't gone an' put on ye one that was holier! I never did see a woman that could buy anything movin' a yard or two of ribbon 'bout settin' cheated out of her eve teeth!"—Puck.

Diarrhea should be stopped promptly. It soon becomes chronic. De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure is effective, safe and certain. Hundreds of testimonials bear witness to the virtue of this great medicine. It can always be depended upon, its use saves time and money. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Woe.

(From the Indianapolis Journal.)

First horse—Well, they took poor old Dobbin to the slaughter house today.

Second horse—That's too bad.

"It is bad, but worse remains. They intend to make his hide into bicycle saddles."

Children, especially infants, are seen run down with Cholera Infantum or "Summer Complaint." Don't wait to determine, but give De Witt's Colic & Cholera Cure promptly, you can rely on it. Use no other. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

HOW AN ADVERTISEMENT SAVED A WOMAN'S LIFE.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

"For four years I suffered with female troubles. I was so bad that I was compelled to have assistance from the bed to the chair. I tried all the doctors and the medicines that I thought would help me."

"One day, while looking over the paper, I saw the advertisement of your Vegetable Compound. I thought I would try it."

"I did so, and found relief. I was in bed when I first began to take the Compound. After taking four bottles, I was able to be up and walk around, and now I am doing my household work. Many thanks to Mrs. Pinkham for her wonderful Compound. It saved my life."—MRS. HATTIE MADAMS, 184 North Clark Street, Chicago, Ill.

More evidence in favor of that never-failing female remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Expressmen.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BAGGAGE EXPRESS
NEWTON.
Orders may be left at the B. & A. Baggage Room, or at the Post Office Box 25.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room from 6:30 A. M. to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. F. Atkins Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Proctor's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving also Crochets and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing every description promptly attended to.
Residence: 15 Adams Street, Newton, Mass.

PEARSON'S Newton and Boston Express.

Boston Office: 91 Kilby St., 108 Arch St., 33 Court St., Order Box, 91 Canal St. Newton Office: H. B. Coffin's; Order Boxes: Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins.
Leave Newton, 9:30 A. M. Leave Boston, 3 P. M.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER, Newton and Boston Express.

Leave Newton, 7:30 and 9:30 a. m.; leave Boston 12 m. and 3 p. m. Newton Office: 334 Centre St. Order Box: Newton City Market, Boston Office: 15 Devonshire St., 14 Washington St., 34 Court St., 25 Merchants Row, 67 Franklin St., 11 Harrison Ave., Extension, P. O. Box 420, Newton. Personal attention given all orders. Tel. 272-2.

BEVERLY BROS. BAKERS.

Having recently put a cart on the road, are prepared to serve customers living in Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands.

354 Centre St., Newton.

FRANCIS MURDOCK. INSURANCE AGENT.

Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass. Insurance to ANY AMOUNT placed in first-class Stock and Mutual Companies. Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord Mass.

PURE MILK

SUPPLIED DAILY FROM Prospect Valley Farm

One cow's milk supplied when desired

H. COLDWELL & SON, Waltham, Mass.

Box 192.

FRED A. HUBBARD, Pharmacist

P. O. Block, NEWTON.

SUNDAY CLOSING HOURS: from 10:30 A. M. to 12 M.; 2 P. M. to 4 P. M.

Tailors.

C. S. Decker Custom Tailor.
64 Elmwood St., Newton, Mass.

BERKELEY SCHOOL

Boylston, cor. Berkeley St., Boston.
Co-educational. Certificates of the school received at Smith, Wellesley, Etc. Special student fitted for Institute, Harvard and Boston University. Law and Medical schools, etc. Catalogue mailed. 51 TAYLOR, DUMERITTE & HAGER.

Member of the Master Builders' Association, 166 Devonshire Street.
(Established 1836.) (Incorporated 1894.) (Connected by Telephone.)

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS, INCORPORATED.

Roofers, Metal Workers, Slate, Copper, Tin, Tile, and Composition Roofing, Galvanized Iron Work. Dealers in all Roofing Materials.

20 and 22 East Street, Boston. Special attention given to repairs of all kinds of Roofing.

Samuel Farquhar, Pres.; David Farquhar, Secy and Treas.; Joseph Farquhar, Supt.; Rollin Farquhar; Frank C. Farquhar, Directors.

E. W. MASTERS, Manufacturer of and Dealer in HARNESSES.

A full assortment of Whips, Blankets, robes, Socks, Girths, Brushes, Curry Combs, &c., always on hand. Repairing promptly and neatly done. Fine work a specialty. Prices reasonable.

875 Washington St., Newtonville, Mass.

FOUND

AT...

HUDSON'S PHARMACY.

A CURE FOR... Coughs and Colds.

OVER 200 BOTTLES OF PECTORAL SYRUP

have been sold during the past month. It has a

Home Reputation due entirely to its

PREPARED ONLY BY

Arthur Hudson, Pharmacist and Chemist.

WOOD FOR SALE

AT THE NEWTON CEMETERY.

Undertakers.

GEORGE H. GREGG, Undertaker

Funeral and Furnishing Undertaker.

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES, and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

GEO. W. BUSH, Elmwood Street, Newton

S. F. CATE, Telephone—West Newton Office, 19-5; House, 19-4. Also Billings' Drug Store, Upper Falls.

WASHINGTON ST., WEST NEWTON.

S. L. PRATT, FUNERAL and FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass. First-class Appointments and Competent Attendants. To accommodate the people of Upper Falls and vicinity orders may be left at the office of Fanning Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone.

Also billings' Drug Store, Upper Falls and corner of Beacon and Station Streets.

JOHN J. HORGAN, MONUMENTS

Headstones, Tablets, Posts, Markers and Statues. Fine Stock at Manufacturer's Price.

45-53 MAIN STREET, CAMBRIDGEPORT. Newton and Watertown cars stop at the door.

C. A. HARRINGTON LUMBER,

Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c. Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.

Telephone 5248-7, Newton

By virtue and in pursuance of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage, given by Mary E. Clark to Francis Buttrick, dated respectively May 29, 1893, February 14, 1891, and June 29, 1891, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, 1911, page 286, Book 3025, page 204, and Book 2051, page 172, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgages and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgages, to-wit: a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in ward 2 (two) in Newton in the county of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the westerly side of Eddy street, distant from Washington street five hundred and one (501) feet; thence running westerly one hundred and thirty (130) feet bounded southerly by the land of said Clark, said other land being the parcel mortgaged to Francis Buttrick, to land of Wiswall; thence running northerly to land of said Wiswall seventy (70) feet thence turning and running Easterly by a line parallel to the first described line one hundred and thirty (130) feet to said Eddy street; thence running southerly by the westerly line of said Eddy street seventy (70) feet to the point of beginning.

$200 to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale. Other terms will be stated at the sale.

AUGUSTA M. BUTTRICK, RUFUS W. WARREN, JAMES F. BALDWIN, EDWARD F. ARMSTRONG, Executors of the will of Francis Buttrick.

Assignee of said Mortgage.

Legal Notices.

Mortgagee's Sale

By virtue and in pursuance of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage, given by Mary E. Clark to Sarah M. Moody, dated April 12th, 1887, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, 1911, page 286, Book 3025, page 204, and Book 2051, page 172, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgage, to-wit: a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in ward 2 (two) in Newton in the county of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the westerly side of Eddy street, distant from Washington street five hundred and one (501) feet; thence running westerly one hundred and thirty (130) feet bounded southerly by the land of said Clark, said other land being the parcel mortgaged to Francis Buttrick, to land of Wiswall; thence running northerly to land of said Wiswall seventy (70) feet thence turning and running Easterly by a line parallel to the first described line one hundred and thirty (130) feet to said Eddy street; thence running southerly by the westerly line of said Eddy street seventy (70) feet to the point of beginning.

$200 to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale. Other terms will be stated at the sale.

AUGUSTA M. BUTTRICK, RUFUS W. WARREN, JAMES F. BALDWIN, EDWARD F. ARMSTRONG, Executors of the will of Francis Buttrick.

Assignee of said Mortgage.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue and in pursuance of the powers of sale contained in three mortgages, given by Mary E. Clark to Francis Buttrick, dated respectively May 29, 1893, February 14, 1891, and June 29, 1891, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, 1911, page 286, Book 3025, page 204, and Book 2051, page 172, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgages and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgages, to-wit: a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in ward 2 (two) in Newton in the county of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the westerly side of Eddy street, distant from Washington street five hundred and one (501) feet; thence running westerly one hundred and thirty (130) feet bounded southerly by the land of said Clark, said other land being the parcel mortgaged to Francis Buttrick, to land of Wiswall; thence running northerly to land of said Wiswall seventy (70) feet thence turning and running Easterly by a line parallel to the first described line one hundred and thirty (130) feet to said Eddy street; thence running southerly by the westerly line of said Eddy street seventy (70) feet to the point of beginning.

$200 to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale. Other terms will be stated at the sale.

AUGUSTA M. BUTTRICK, RUFUS W. WARREN, JAMES F. BALDWIN, EDWARD F. ARMSTRONG, Executors of the will of Francis Buttrick.

Assignee of said Mortgage.

Mortgagee's Sale.

To Thomas Robertson and all others interested Pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed, given by Thomas Robertson to Charles Q. Tirrell dated Dec. 6, 1894, and recorded in Mid. So. Dist. Deeds lib. 2327 fol. 568, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, to-wit: a certain lot of land situated in Newton, Mass., in that part known as Auburndale, together with the buildings thereon. Being lot number two on a plan of lots in West Newton belonging to Thomas Robertson dated Dec. 6, 1894, and recorded in Mid. So. Dist. Reg. of Deeds at the end of lib. 2279 and bounded and described as follows: Westerly by a line of 120 feet, and running westerly bounded northerly by land now or late of Watertown and Newton Gas Company to land of Newton Street Railway Company; thence running southerly by said land of said Railway Co. to land of Flynn at a point one hundred (100) feet from the corner southerly by said Flynn's land one hundred (100) feet to Washington street; thence turning and running southerly by said Washington street one hundred (100) feet to the point of beginning.

$200 to

World's Fair Medal
And Diploma Awarded

J. C. AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
FOR THROAT
and LUNG COMPLAINTS

Railroads.

BOSTON, REVERE BEACH & LYNN R. R.

SUMMER TIME-TABLE, JUNE 24, 1895.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN AND WINTHROP AT 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 a. m., 12.05, 12.35, 1.05, 1.35, 2.05, 2.35, 3.05, 3.35, 4.05, 4.35, 5.05, 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 p. m.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON AT 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 a. m., 12.05, 12.35, 1.05, 1.35, 2.05, 2.35, 3.05, 3.35, 4.05, 4.35, 5.05, 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 p. m.

SUNDAY TRAINS.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN AT 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 a. m., 12.05, 12.35, 1.05, 1.35, 2.05, 2.35, 3.05, 3.35, 4.05, 4.35, 5.05, 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 p. m.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON AT 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 a. m., 12.05, 12.35, 1.05, 1.35, 2.05, 2.35, 3.05, 3.35, 4.05, 4.35, 5.05, 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 p. m.

LEAVE WINTHROP FOR BOSTON AT 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 a. m., 12.05, 12.35, 1.05, 1.35, 2.05, 2.35, 3.05, 3.35, 4.05, 4.35, 5.05, 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05, 9.35, 10.05, 10.35, 11.05, 11.35 p. m.

H. L. HOYT, G. A. A. JOHN A. FENNO, Supl.

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY

TIME TABLE.

Subject to change without notice.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

Huron Ave. to Bowdoin Square, via Concord Ave. and Garden St.

Time—First car 6.00, 6.25 a. m., and every 20 minutes to 11.05 p. m. Return 35 minutes later.

Sunday—First car 8.00 a. m., and every 20 minutes to 11.05 p. m. Last car 11.05 p. m.

Mount Auburn to Bowdoin Square. Time—First car 5.35, 5.55 a. m., then 4.05, and 20 minutes to 5.45 p. m. Return 35 minutes later.

Newton and Waterbury to Bowdoin Square. (Via Mt. Auburn St., and Harvard Sq.)

Time—First car leave Newton 5.57 a. m., 6.12 and every 15 minutes to 12.27, 12.45 and 10 minutes to 9.25, 9.42, 9.57, 10.10 p. m., and 20 minutes to 10.50 p. m. Last car 10.50 p. m.

Return, leave Bowdoin Square 5.35 minutes later. First cars from Bowdoin Square at 6.08, 6.28, 6.49 a. m., last car 11.42 p. m.

Sunday—7.27, and 15 minutes to 9.57, 10.15, 10.30, 10.50, p. m., last car.

First car from Bowdoin Square, 8.18 a. m., last car 11.41 p. m.

C. S. SEGERMAN, General Manager.

June 15, 1895.

SPRINGFIELD LINE

—BETWEEN—

Boston and New York.

Trains leave either city at 9.00 A. M., except Sunday, 11.00 A. M., except Sunday, 4.00 P. M., daily, 11.00 P. M., daily.

Drawing room cars on all day trains and sleeping cars on night trains.

A. S. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Boston, Mass.

FITCHBURG RAILROAD.

SUPERB EQUIPMENT. EXCELLENT TRAIN SERVICE. FAST AND PUNCTUAL EMPLOYEES MAKE THE

Hoosac Tunnel Route

THE FAVORITE LINE from Boston to Troy, Albany, Saratoga, Lake George, Adirondack and Catskill Mountains, Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis, and points West, Southwest, and Northwest.

Fast Express Trains

With elegant PALACE PARLOR and SLEEPING CARS to and from BOSTON

CHICAGO

BOSTON

AND

ST. LOUIS

WITHOUT CHANGE.

Lake - Champlain - Route

For all points in Northern New York, Vermont, and Canada.

THE ONLY LINE running through cars, without change, from Boston to Rutland, Brattleboro, Middlebury, Vergennes, Burlington, St. Albans, St. Johnsbury, and Montreal.

ELEGANT PALACE PARLOR CARS to and from BOSTON and MONTREAL, WITHOUT CHANGE.

For Time-Tables, Parlor and Sleeping Car accommodations, or for further information, apply to any Agent of the Fitchburg Railroad at

250 Washington Street, or Fitchburg Railroad Passenger Station, Boston.

J. R. WATSON, General Pass. Agent

BASS POINT,

NAHANT.

AN HOURS SAIL, 25c.

Favorite Harbor Trip.

Best Fish Dinners.

Dancing Free.

Band Concerts.

IRON STEAMERS FROM LINCOLN WHARF (Weather Permitting)

For BASS POINT, week days and Sundays, 9.30, 11.00 A. M.; 12.30, 2.30, 3.30, 5.00, 6.30, 8.15 P. M. Return 10.30 A. M.; 12.15, 1.30, 3.45, 5.15, 7.00, 9.30, P. M.

For NAHANT, week days, 9.30 A. M.; 12.30, 2.30, 3.30, 5.00, 6.30, 8.15 P. M. Return 10.30 A. M.; 12.15, 1.30, 3.45, 5.15, 7.00, 9.30, P. M.

*This boat sails at Bass Point 45 minutes, arriving in Boston at 8 o'clock.

Rate, 25c; children, 15c. Take East Boston Ferry Cars on Washington or Tremont St., or Atlantic Ave. Horse Cars from Union Station. Special rates to parties. J. A. FLANDERS, Agent, 201 Washington St., Boston.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

Allen, James Lane. A Kentucky Cardinal. 41.954

Dr. J. G. Wolfe. The latest volume in the English Men of Action series. 91.827

Champney, Elizabeth Williams. Which Winnie at Shinnecock; or the King's Daughters in a Summer Art School. 65.795

Dante, Alighieri. Tutte le Opere di Dante Alighieri; movimento creduto nel Testamento. 44.116

Field, Henry Martyn. One Western Archipelago. 34.438

Alaska with its islands gives the reader the volume, which combines impressions of travel with historical reminiscences of Vancouver and Victoria, Puget Sound, the states of Washington, Oregon, and Montana, and the Yellowstone Park. 103.670

Fletcher, William. The Steam Jacket, practically considered as an Efficient Fuel Economiser. 76.202

Fruman, Edward Augustus. History of Sicily. Vols. 3 and 4. 57.342

Graham, George. Claude Lorrain, Painter and Etcher. (Portfolio Monograph.) 54.964

Howells, William Dean. My Literary Passions. 64.1512

Critical essays on literary men and literary topics. 76.283

King, Charles, ed. Captain Dreams and Other Stories. 54.1512

A short story by Capt. King, followed by six tales by other writers. 76.283

Lang, Andrew. St. Andrews. A sketch of the history of St. Andrews. 54.960

Leland, Charles Godfrey. Legends of Florence. 1.168

Library Notes: Improved Methods and Labor-Savers for Librarians, Readers and Writers; edited by Mrs. J. Dewey. Vols. 1-3. 76.248

Military Essays and Recollections: Papers read before the Commandery of the State of Illinois, Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States; published by Order of the Commandery. 2 vols. 76.248

Roe, Alfred Seelye. The Old Representatives' Hall, 1798-1893: An Address before the House of Representatives, Jan. 2, 1895. 57.353

Sergeant, Adeline. The Mistress of Quest. 61.959

Smith, Adam. Select Chapters and Passages from the Wealth of Nations of Adam Smith, 1776. 84.337

The first volume in the series of Economic Classics, edited by W. J. Ashley. 56.391

Smith, Samuel Francis. Poems of Home and Country; also Sacred and Miscellaneous Verse; edited by Henry B. Carrington. 105.496

Sorauer, Paul. A Popular Treatise on the Physiology of Plants; for the Use of Gardeners, or for Students of Horticulture and of Agriculture; trans. by F. E. Weiss. 97.390

Taber, J. M. A Short Life of Napoleon Bonaparte; with 250 Illustrations from (various) Collections. 101.730

Taylor, Edward R. Drawing and Beguineers. 61.957

Wood, John Seymour. Yale Yarns; Sketches of Life at Yale University. 76.253

Woodward, John. Ecclesiastical Heraldry. 76.253

A continuation of, or supplement to the authors former work, "A Treatise on Heraldry, British and Foreign," (76.217). E. P. THURSTON, Librarian. July 24, 1895.

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 10 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

WEST & THURX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. W. A. LINDSEY, KINXAS & MARTIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

BLACK AMERICA—Boston's great outdoor, summer spectacle "Black America" completed its first full week Saturday.

The wisdom of the management is shown in providing it on a gigantic scale; the exhibition improves every night. Thousands of people have flocked to see this photographic reproduction of the South in ante-bellum days.

The word photographic is used advisedly, in the same sense that the plate of the camera catches every detail of the scenes which are exposed, so "Black America" exhibits to the spectator every minute detail of the impulsive, hot-blooded life of the Southern negro. It is in no sense a theatrical show; on the other hand, the entire absence of all striving for effect is noticeable. In a nutshell, the half thousand negroes, are simply themselves. This is most plainly shown in the scene in the cotton-fields around the Southern mansion. The mansion is an exact reproduction of one in Louisiana, setting back from the river. It has the characteristic broad piazzas of the Southern home, fluted columns, and the low roof, which are familiar to Southern travellers, before the war. The house is surrounded by cotton fields in which are men and women gathering the ripened product, and preparing it for transfer to the gin and press, which are also represented. Running along the bank of the river is the levee, protecting the field from the floods of spring; the landing of the steamer is also shown. It is in this field that most of the singing is done. It rises from the cotton as spontaneously as the voice of a lark. To the spectator it seems as if the artists were singing not because they were in an entertainment, but because they were glad they were alive. On this levee the dances and the antics, the watermelon scramble, and the boxing bouts, which form a large part of the entertainment, take place. "Black America" will be in Boston for a limited number of nights only, and will be presented every evening at 8 o'clock at the Huntington Avenue circus grounds, and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at 2 o'clock.

"There is danger in delay.

Since 1861 I have been a great sufferer from catarrh. I tried Ely's Cream Balm and to all appearances am cured. Terrible headaches from which I had long suffered are gone.—W. J. HITCHCOCK, Late Major U. S. Vol. and A. A. Gen., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ely's Cream Balm has completely cured me of catarrh when everything else failed. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Alfred W. Stevens, Caldwell, Ohio.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

Use the best preparation to cure gray hair and baldness.—Hall's Hair Renewer.

Boston Reporters.

(By a Boston lady reporter.)

During the great Christian Endeavor Convention the reporters worked hard and faithfully, not alone to outdo each other but to give each "shut in" or rather "shut out" the benefit of the speakers and their words. You are unacquainted with these men and I have taken the responsibility of introducing you. The descriptions of the different reporters will be as they first appeared to me at a C. E. convention, where I made my debut in this line. Most of these items will be of a personal experience.

How hard I did try to be professional! When my pencils were sharpened by myself they suggested teeth rather than a knife, so I brought from the office a short little pile of ready sharpened ones. Short hand was more terrible to me than Greek, but my memory answered well, only it didn't look professional not to do any of it in short hand. Suddenly a bright thought struck me. At the office was a stenographer's book, written on one side of each page in those queer characters. I would write on the other side of each page. At this time I didn't know that reporters never use books to take down speeches and I thought therefore, that I was well prepared.

This is supposed to be about Boston men but I am not sure of the identity of this man. He was such a queer person, with his whole head shaven except for a tiny red mustache, which seemed to attract his fingers. That he was professional I knew in an instant. Near-sighted, which gave his small, bleached blue eyes a still funnier look. When he walked it was a droll picture, for he tried to go fast but as he had nothing to go fast on, his progress was limited. He smiled some, but never laughed. The smile was sickly for his mouth would turn down and not up. We never found out his paper, but it seemed to me that he resembled a New Yorker, only he was too small. One strange fact I will note right here. Each reporter partook of the character of his paper or else the paper took its character from him.

Did you know that last winter some surprising people started a new paper? The name is dangerous to give, for you might not like this reporter if you knew the paper. Enough if he is called the S—man. Now don't try and think what paper S— stands for. The S—man was a reporter, but I have found out a Chicagoan. He had the entire world of the speakers thoughts were within, that awful S—man was bound to get them and keep them from us. He would deliberately sneak up to the man, and act as a pick-pocket. Once he took the paper right out of the speaker's hand, and left him empty handed and empty headed. The worst of it was, he was selfish and would copy the speech, and never give it to one of us, while we had to take notes the best we could, working hard while he rested and laughed at us. For the joke, I will tell you some of the things he would strike the responsive chord in that many breast and raising his immense fist (a big man was needed to push such a paper) he would let it fall on the table with a force that gave us a shock. The professionals always tilted their chairs when thinking. I followed suit, and when in this dangerous position, he made me jump so, that I went the wrong way and landed on the ground. He helped me up with the remark, "I thought you weren't professional, now you know it." It cooled me quite effectually, but I like him, he kept my secret.

The Journal man. O, I didn't mean to tell his name. Wouldn't do if he found it out. He was dead in earnest, and worked hard every minute. He was fine looking too, and was quite refreshing amongst such a crew of little fat men in build, but an intellectual face. Don't you know what that is? Pale face, with long black hair pushed back to reveal the low broad forehead, large soulful eyes, capable of expressing intense feeling, surely you have read of that style. Only one fault. His nose wasn't suited, but resembled a certain Irishish gentleman, who sold second-hand clothing on Salem street. He smiled at me once and such a pathetic smile. It made a soft feeling in my heart.

The H—man was the most professional of all, strutting about with his hands in his pockets, which unlike most pockets were large enough for his thumbs to be thrust into. When he looked at me, though an absent-minded look, he seemed to see straight through me, and seemed I was new, never noticed me afterwards. He would stand in a chair, count the ten thousand in a glance, look at the chorus, the speakers and the reporters, step from his high perch in a most undignified manner, and I knew the H—man would say "fifteen thousand people" in its next issue. He bent forward just enough to show he could pry into anything. Even a man couldn't have kept a secret from him, if he wanted it, or have told him one had he thought he couldn't use it. His hair was graying, and first glances told me all those sensational things in the H—man came out of that head. For, I am sorry to confess, all that appears in a daily doesn't always happen outside of a reporter's imagination. This is all of course as I first knew them, now that I am professional they are less condensed, so my opinion is on a higher scale.

The A. P.—man was awfully good and gave me pointers about my work. Being new and young I always closed my eyes during prayer (and still continue to do so) didn't see the funny negro, who was praying and A. A. — man way over to my section to have me look at the colored brother. He must have known my weakness for green specimens. Sometimes he would let me read his articles before business hours, and he was immensely interested in seeing him "take the people in," with hands thrust in his pockets, which were small so his thumbs hung out, and his hat, a soft one, pushed so far back, that only the mighty power of attraction kept it in place. To tell what paper he represented was impossible, for he resembled all the papers. Once when he gave me one of his radiant smiles, I asked him, and found him to be the Associated Press-man. Just tell a man you are going to write him up, and he will be what some say can't be found among men, "an angel." When I said I intended writing him up, he became extremely kind, telling me many things about the other men and tried to keep my mind off himself.

Only one man left, for the Globe man was too much like the H— to write him up. The Western men were uninteresting and lacked much of our Boston culture. Now for the T man. Read the Traveler and Transcript, after reading this and tell of which staff he was a member. He belonged to one of those papers. He spoke to me before I knew whether I liked him or not, but it was smart, what he said, so I became interested. He was another who was anything but handsome, still one had to like him for he was bright. The T man found me out, that I was an amateur, and the worst of it was I told him without being asked. There was a service at Faneuil Hall, which I was to report. Down I started and what was my surprise! The T man went with me. Wasn't I proud! One day of reporting, and now going through Boston common with a regular. It was the moment of my life. The privilege may be granted again, for as I become professional Mr. T man will be proud of my acquaintance. He sees it, he is a bright man. The rain fell in torrents at one door service. He had an umbrella, I had none. Should I ask him to share it? He had seen me standing there and said not a word, no, no, and I turned proudly away. Some of my dignity was lost running for shelter. I went so fast that I cleared the ropes. My face reminded me of one Halloween when I gave my handkerchief in a tub. Honor! my handkerchief was gone. Much worse than asking for half an umbrella was it to ask for a handkerchief. Summoning courage I did it. Mr. T man borrowed one from somewhere and gave it to me with a look that not only dismissed but annihilated me. O it was returned—stuffed it in his pocket. One of the lessons early instilled on my young and tender mind was the return of borrowed articles. Being still under the paternal roof I thought it the wisest case to approach what then seemed a monster and leave my handkerchief in the way just told with a half whispered "Thank you." He proved respectable and we became friends at a later day. Found it necessary for our business.

Now you know all of our jolly crew and are wondering if we received no spiritual benefit. Yes, the impressions were for the good. We always have a spread after any affair where all the papers are "in it." The boys get corked once in a while though it is a shame to tell it. I know it is true for I heard the H man say of one S man that he got all out when he saw my shocked face, for the S man of all others surprised me, he added "of enthusiasm." I tried to look innocent and trusting, but the horrid truth had been told. The toasts were numerous and well answered. The T man was most religious. He went to meeting once and gave out a hymn. When it came his turn to speak he began with the words of the immortal Shakespeare for he wanted us to think he was versed in Classic lore. "Friends, Americans, fellow reporters, lend me your minds. I come to eat and not to speak, but have a motion to make.

Resolved, no more time be served at our suppers for it is killing us young fellows and clouding our minds. The motion passed. What say you of the result of the convention on reporters? The S man spoke on patriotism with the following story. The story shows, so it seems to me, that he was conceited and that also some of the articles in the S are not reliable. Judge for yourselves.

"Pa" said young America, "George Washington was the commander in chief in the United States, wasn't he?" "Yes, my boy why do you ask?" Then he must have been a reporter, for Joe said the man that reports for the S is commanding America." "O, George Washington commanded only the army and the S commands the newspaper. Also Washington could never have been a reporter for he never told a lie." His eloquent and rather amusing remarks were all we could stand and no one else dared face the fellow after that speech.

Don't you like us all pretty well? I hope so and that your admiration is so strong for all of us you will take each daily. Who and what am I? Any of the men would say, "One of the new women" but I am not. Come to our next banquet and see if we are not "the very jolliest, happiest set in all the world."

It Saves Children.

Last summer, we had a child suffering from bloody flux, when we came into possession of a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I gave some of it to the child according to directions. It afforded almost instant relief and effected a permanent cure. I can cheerfully recommend it.—Geo. JENKINS, Cedar Creek, Taney Co., Mo. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands, Druggists.

The Waban School.

A preparatory school for boys will open Sept. 18th, at Waban, in the Collins house, which has been newly fitted up for this purpose. The principal is Mr. Chas. E. Fish, and he has secured an excellent location for a private school, as the Collins estate is one of the finest in Waban, and there is abundance of room for playgrounds and all forms of outdoor exercise. Circulars will be sent on application to the principal.

Nervous People

And those who are all tired and have that tired feeling or sick headache can be relieved of all these symptoms by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures the nervous and bodily strength and thoroughly purifies the blood. It also cures a good appetite, cures indigestion, heartburn and dyspepsia.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy in action and sure in effect. 25c.

Wants a Sign.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:

Charlesbank road was officially christened some five months ago, and the residents are wondering when it is to have a signboard at the Washington street terminus. The old sign of "Nonantum street" was better than nothing, but even that is gone and nobody can tell "where we are at." F. H. B.

There is no doubt, no failure, when you take De Witt's Colic & Cholera Cure. It is pleasant, acts promptly, no bad after effects. Sold by—Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Unnecessarily Gloomy.

"From the Detroit Tribune."

"I cannot deceive you," he protested. "Darling," she murmured. And so they were married.

After that he found he had taken an unnecessarily gloomy view of the situation. He found as a matter of fact he could deceive her with a clove and the old lodge story.

Severe griping pains of the stomach and bowels instantly and effectually stopped by De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; Walter P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Mrs. J. G. Clark

Fainting Spells

Caused by heart failure, sleeplessness and that dreadful tired feeling, and piles, made my life misery. Captain Clark urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has built up my whole system. The piles are gone and I am able to work hard and sleep soundly at night. I shall ever praise Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. J

WALTERTHORPE, Newton Centre.
Agent of the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley Newton.
—Miss Clement is at Belfast, Maine.
—Miss Laura Merrill has gone to her summer home at Etna, Maine.
—The Mason school house is being painted by Messrs. Bemis & Jewett.
—Mr. J. C. Farrar has returned from a few days' visit to the seashore.
—Mrs. Hawley of Pelham street is entertaining her aunt from Worcester.
—Ernest G. Daniels is taking his vacation in Maine.
—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bailey left last week for a trip to the White mountains.
—Mr. Willis Bond, of C. O. Tucker's, is enjoying a week's vacation.
—Mr. F. A. Very is occupying his new house on Homer street.

—Mr. George Fife is driving a fine pair of blacks, a recent purchase.
—Mr. G. E. Houghton of Glenwood avenue is quite seriously ill.

—Ex-Alderman Roffe is mourning the loss of a horse valued at about $300.

—Masters Carl Knapp and Raymond Anderson are enjoying an outing in Maine.

—Miss Mary Rodgers is visiting relatives in New York city.

—Mr. Fred Stanley has returned from his summer place at Bar Harbor.

—Miss Jennie Clark is visiting friends in Fall River this week.

—Mr. William Macomber and family are summering at Jackson, N. H.

—Mrs. Edward F. Keller is recuperating at Assinippi.

—Mr. Dwight Chester and family are in Auburn, N. Y., for a several weeks stay.

—Mrs. D. A. White and Miss White are at West Harpswell, Me.

—Mr. Sydney B. Paine and family are at Iversville, Quebec.

—Miss Corita Chapman sailed this week for Germany.

—Mrs. H. S. Bassett and Miss Bassett are at Hyannis for a few weeks stay.

—Mrs. N. M. Waterbury is sojourning at East Northfield.

—Mr. H. H. Kendall and family of Beacon street have returned from the Cape.

—Mr. Albert Reed is in St. Johns, N. B., for a short stay.

—Miss Mabel Graham is at Crescent beach for a three weeks outing.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Melcher are at their cottage "Lake View," Lisbon, N. H.

—Mr. Louis R. Speare and family departed this week for the seashore.

—Mr. W. E. Armstrong has added a new delivery wagon to his equipment.

—Mr. S. Widger and family of Marshall street are away for the balance of the summer season.

—Mr. Arthur Washburn has returned from Middleboro, where he has been enjoying his vacation.

—A delegation from this place attended the convention of the Baptist Young People's Union in Baltimore last week.

—Mrs. Walter B. Randlett and children are passing the vacation season at Centre Harbor, N. H.

—Mrs. E. C. Peck and son of Bowen street are at Beachwood, Me., for a few weeks.

—Mr. M. A. White of Glen avenue departed for Europe this week. He will be abroad some time.

—Mr. S. A. Shannon and family of Lake avenue are away for the remainder of the summer season.

—Mr. W. H. Noble of Pleasant street, sailed for Europe last week, to be absent until September.

—Rev. J. J. Peck's daughter, Miss Etta Peck, visited Miss Carrie Hill a few days last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vollmer of Chester, New York, have passed a few days here visiting their son George.

—Prof. English and family are among the White mountains at Jackson, New Hampshire.

—Wm. F. Woodman and George Doane have returned from a week's fishing in Nova Scotia.

—Rev. W. E. Huntington, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, Boston University, is spending the vacation season at Pine Island, Me.

—Mr. Arthur Knapp of Bridgton, Me., and Mr. Fred Knapp of Roslinville, are the guests of their uncle, Mr. W. O. Knapp of Warren street this week.

—Mr. G. H. Loomer will open a dry goods department soon, in the store in Bray's block, until recently occupied by Brown's bicycle agency.

—Mr. J. J. Starrow, Jr., and family of Oak Hill sailed Wednesday from New York for Europe. They will be abroad about two months.

—Mr. W. L. Macomber has been in Mexico and at Colorado Springs for nearly a year. Very gratifying news comes to his father as to his improvement.

—If the club that has the playgrounds on Cedar street would fill up the post holes near by there would be less danger of visitors breaking the legs of their horses.

—Miss Eva Chadbourne of Newton Centre started for Old Orchard, Me., last Saturday to be gone several weeks. She will visit Auburn, Me., before her return.

—One roadway of the new boulevard has been completed from Centre to Walnut street, but the steam rollers are still at work upon the other, which can easily be completed by August 1st.

—Unitarian Society—The closing service before vacation will be held next Sunday at 10:30. Mr. McDaniel will speak on badges, banners and rallying cries. Service in the church parlors.

—The Sunday school of the Church of the Sacred Heart enjoyed its annual picnic at West Medway yesterday. It was a very pleasant event and furnished amusement and entertainment for a large number of people.

—Mr. Walter Russell, while riding on the Commonwealth avenue boulevard this week, was thrown from his wheel, the handle bar breaking from some unknown reason while he was sliding along at a pretty good pace. It appeared to be a clean break, there being no indications of a defect. Fortunately, he was not much injured.

—Light Battery A attracted a good deal of attention in their march through the city on Monday. Their horse equipments looked as though they had not been touched since the last parade, and the horses were sorry looking animals.

—The funeral of Mr. Sewall H. Fessenden, who died Sunday night, was held from his late residence, Chestnut Hill, yesterday. The services were conducted by Rev. John Cookson, and were attended only by relatives and intimate friends. The pallbearers were members of his own family and intimate friends. The burial was at Forest Hills.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Crowell are at Franconia, N. H., for a few weeks stay.

—Mrs. A. E. Webb and family will pass the month of August at Nantasket.

—Mr. J. H. Lippincott and family will return home next week from Marblehead Neck.

—Mrs. A. R. Flanders and Mrs. William Flanders have returned from a pleasant outing in Maine.

—Mr. B. Buck has given up his drug business here. He will devote his attention chiefly to his Boston store.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Joseph Walker, Mary Harpus, James McKerrin, Charles J. Coffin, J. Kabin, Mary Jones, David Hoar, Lizzie Irving and Mary Harpus.

—Fred Hovey, the well known tennis player, was in great form at Longwood yesterday, and defeated Champion Wynn in the finals. His work was very clean and typical of that vigorous style that has made him one of the most brilliant amateurs in this country.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Mrs. E. Shute has gone to Annisquam for a stay of two weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hyde have gone to Chatham.

—Rev. Wm. Hall Williams will spend the month of August at Lake George.

—Mr. W. T. Logan has gone to join his family at Christmas Cove.

—Mr. and Mrs. Boyd have returned from a stay of two weeks in Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barnes are home again after an absence of several weeks.

—Mr. W. B. McMullin is building a stable for private use in the rear of his house on Cook street.

—Rev. Mr. Foster will conduct the services at the Congregational church next Sunday.

—Mr. Richard Whight and wife and Eddy Greenwood will leave Peaks Island for the Highlands today (Friday).

—Miss Rohrer, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Nelson, has returned to her home in Missouri.

—Mr. J. M. White and family, who have been at Heron Island, Maine, are now at home again.

—Mr. H. M. Beal, the builder, is building a lumber shed for the storage of lumber in the rear of Patterson block.

—Rev. Mr. Lansing, a Congregational clergyman, who spent the summer here a few years ago, is boarding at Mr. J. W. Foster's.

—The Catholics of Chestnut Hill, Thompsonville, Newton Centre and the Highlands went on their annual picnic on Thursday to West Medway.

—Mr. George D. Saunders has hired the house on Boylston street, formerly occupied by Mr. Hodges and belonging to the Amasa Crafts estate, and now occupies.

—Mrs. A. Crafts, who has been with her daughter, Mrs. Mason, for two weeks, has returned home, also her granddaughter, Miss Nellie Crafts, has returned from a stay of two weeks at Ocean Spray.

—The driveways and walks in the grounds of the school house on the southerly side, are now being concreted, also the street sidewalks in the immediate neighborhood.

—Miss Grace Mae Lamkin, who opens with the Boston Theatre company, in "Burmah," in September, has, with her mother, taken possession of her home in this village.

—Darius Cobb has been elected by the executive committee as judge of Paintings and Decorative Art exhibit at the Bay state fair to be held at Worcester, September 3, 4, 5 and 6.

—Mr. C. H. Polsey has leased his house on Lake avenue to Mr. A. E. S. Hasbrouck of the Boston Traveler, who with his family now occupies. Mr. and Mrs. Polsey are with their son-in-law, Mr. Gardner, at Hyannis.

—Services at St. Paul's next Sunday will be as follows: Holy communion at 7:30 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon at 10:45 a. m.; evening prayer and address at 5 p. m. The rectory will officiate for the last time before taking his summer vacation.

—Petitions are being circulated and a large number of signatures are being secured to be presented to the city government against the building of a turnout track by the Electric Railway Company, the location for which was granted by the city at the junction of Lincoln and Hartford streets.

—Services as usual at the Methodist Episcopal church. At the morning service at 10:30 a sermon will be preached on "Burmah." Sunday school at 11:45. The pastor will give a brief illustrated temperance talk to the school. Evening service at 7. Subject, "The closing words of the Lord's prayer."

—Hon. J. F. C. Hyde is receiving many congratulations today, as it is his 70th birthday. But no one would imagine him to be with in ten years of that age to see him walk about the streets and take such an active part in business affairs. There is no formal celebration, but many of his friends intend to call and congratulate him in an informal way.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Miss Helen Newell is in Springfield.

—Miss Nellie Flagg has returned from Kittery Point, Me.

—Newell Tucker has gone to Harwich on a vacation trip.

—Mr. Edwin G. Hurd is the fortunate recipient of a pension, granted this week.

—William Edes started Saturday on a bicycle trip to Greenfield, Mass.

—Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Eaton of Needham are among the guests at present at Hotel Standish, Nantasket beach.

—Conductor Day of the Echo Bridge line has recovered from his recent serious illness.

—Messrs. Ira and George Metcalf of Orange, N. J., are the guests of their cousins, the Misses Billings, High street.

—Contractor Daniel Hurley is constructing a flight of stairs from the top of Echo Bridge to the grove.

—Mrs. C. A. Freeman of North Chatham spent a few days here last week visiting friends and relatives.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Madamelle de Fray, David Day, Lewis Keiffer and Joss Ladd.

—There are about six members of Co. C in this place, all of whom went to muster with the company Monday evening.

—At the last meeting of the Royal Arcanum three applications for membership were received.

—The sidewalks that have so long been petitioned for will soon be constructed on Boylston street. This will relieve many a sore.

—Mr. Charles Randall attended the reunion of the company, in which he fought during the Civil War, at Woonsocket, Monday.

—A party of drunken men indulged in a free fight on the Wellesley bridge, Saturday night, but moved across the line when the officer arrived and he was powerless to do anything.

—The Misses Billings gave a very enjoyable piazza whist party at their home on High street, Tuesday evening. Prizes were won by Mr. Ira Metcalf of Orange, N. J., and Miss Carrie Hale of Wellesley Hills.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Mrs. Frank Barrow is at Brunswick, Me., for a few weeks.

—Mrs. Minerva and Waldo Leland are at Jefferson, N. H., for a short stay.

—The Whitney family of Wellesley Farms are at Cottage City for a three weeks sojourn.

—Geo. Wascott Stanley and Joe Whitney of Co. C, 5th Regt., are at muster at Framingham this week.

—Mr. Sherman N. Sears, druggist, has employed a clerk since the first of the week.

—The lower mill of Sullivan's works has shut down until Oct. This department employed almost wholly women.

—Conductors Mills and Temple, both of the branch are off duty on account of malaria.

—Mr. C. A. Wiswall and family have closed their residence and will spend the remainder of the summer about N. H. resorts.

—Poles for the trolley wires for the street railroad are being erected this week. It is stated cars will be running if possible by Aug. 1.

—Mr. James Early, postmaster, and Dr. Nelson of Natick are enjoying trips about the provinces of Nova Scotia since Tuesday, the date of their departure.

—Mr. Wm. H. Ayles, driver of Chemical B is at his home here nursing an injured hand, received by the accidental discharge of a bullet from a revolver he was cleaning.

—Large numbers from here took a first ride on the electric from the terminus near the North school to Natick and Framingham, Sunday. The road is in operation about two weeks, and quite a number for novelty and pleasure are making the road this year profitable.

HOOD'S PILLS cure Liver Ills, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headache, A pleasant laxative. All Druggists.

GOODBY.

Goodby! Goodby! How hard to say
When fondest hearts must sever!

One word, one look, thy hand in mine,
And face the future boldly.

Goodby! Goodby! I hear it still,
That bitter note of sadness;

Its lingering echoes sound to me
A knell of dying gladness.

Goodby! Goodby! Though sets the sun,
Though falls the darkness coldly,

Remember thou hast duties yet
And face the future boldly.

Goodby! Goodby! From out the past
Looks forth thy face to cheer me.

Oh, do not ask me to forget
If memory brings thee near me.

THE FISH'S BALLOON.

A Mystery That Scientists Have Not Yet Been Able to Solve.

Naturalists long ago studied the composition of the gas contained in the swimming bladder of fishes and discovered that it consists of the principal constituents of the air—namely, oxygen, nitrogen and carbonic acid. But these constituents are not mingled in the fish's bladder in the same proportions as they are in the atmosphere, and besides their proportions do not remain always the same in the fish. Sometimes the bladder contains hardly any oxygen; at others oxygen constitutes nine-tenths of the whole contents.

The variation in the quantity of oxygen is somewhat mysterious, and naturalists have offered several different suggestions as to the cause of it. Some think the fish may be able to control the quantity of oxygen in its bladder by its own will. Biot, a distinguished French naturalist, thought he had solved the problem by discovering that the proportion of oxygen was larger in fish that lived at great depths and smaller in those that lived near the surface of the sea.

But quite recently new observations made from the Prince of Monaco's yacht, Princess Alice, seem to prove that Biot was mistaken and that the deep dwelling fish carry no more oxygen in proportion than do those living in shallow water. Some of the fish whose swimming bladders were examined by the naturalists on the Princess Alice came from a depth of no less than a mile.

They were compared with fish which seldom descend below 200 feet in depth and with others which prefer a depth of about 500 or 600 feet, and all had nearly the same proportion of oxygen to aid them in swimming.

The variations mentioned above seem therefore to depend upon some other cause than the depth of the fish's dwelling place.

It is these unsettled questions that offer to young naturalists some of their most brilliant opportunities for distinction. It is a great mistake to suppose that there does not remain a plenty of room for discovery in science.—Youth's Companion.

Why He Shook the Child.

A man riding in a Broad street omnibus the other day, with a small child in his arms, was the object of many frowns from the other passengers, because he persisted in vigorously shaking the little one on account of her crying.

The shakings he gave the child did not appear to have any effect except to make her cry the harder. The women in the bus glared at the man and said mean things about him to each other. The men looked over the tops of their papers occasionally and swore inaudibly.

The father wore a worried look, and the baby continued to cry. Occasionally it would stop, and its head would nod sleepily. Then the father would shake the youngster vigorously, waking it up and starting its tears afresh.

Finally a woman, who had been nervously watching the unnatural father, walked over and asked him why he was maltreating the youngster. "Why," said he, "I've got to shake her to keep her awake. She swallowed some kind of a drug, and if she goes to sleep she'll die." Just then the bus stopped at Broad and Thompson, and the father and child got off and entered the Child-dren's hospital.—Philadelphia Record.

COST TO RUN A SHIP.

THE BIG ST. LOUIS REQUIRES $80,000 FOR THE ROUND TRIP.

She Burns $15,000 Worth of Coal—The Bill For Breakage Is No Small Affair. Salaries of Officers and Men Are Small, but Some of Them Get Large Fees.

The cost of running a big ocean greyhound to Europe and back reaches into the thousands. A transatlantic liner is really a floating hotel, and everything on board is conducted on the same scale of lavishness that is found in a fashionable Fifth avenue hotel.

Clement A. Griscom, Jr., son of the president of the line controlling the St. Louis, agreed to give some figures to a World reporter covering the expense of her voyage to England and back. He figured for some time and then said that the expenses of the round trip of a steamer like the St. Louis average between $60,000 and $80,000, according to the season.

The voyage between the two ports takes a trifle more than seven days, making the daily cost of operating in the busy season something like $5,500.

No single individual on the St. Louis gets a large salary. The captain heads the list, getting about $5,000 a year. Captains on smaller passenger steamers only receive $3,000 a year. The chief officer of a ship like the St. Louis gets $1,500, and the bulk of the heavy work really falls on his shoulders.

The second officer's pay ranges from $900 to $1,200, according to the size of the ship, while the third and fourth officers only get from $600 to $900. All of these men have to perform duties of a responsible kind, and as there are no bonuses attached to their work it can be seen that they are not overpaid.

The crew of the St. Louis numbers 410 men. Two hundred of these are in the engineer's department, and all of them are directly under the authority of the chief. The steward's department is the next largest, numbering 170 in all. The sailors, including the deck officers, number but 40.

The engineer's department is the most expensive on the ship, owing to the immense coal bills. The St. Louis burns more than 300 tons a day, or about 4,500 tons the round trip. This means an expenditure of $15,000 alone.

The salaries of the men, the engineering supplies, including the thousand and one things needed for the vast machinery of a great ship, will require an expenditure of $5,000 every round trip.

The chief engineer draws $3,000 a year, and his immediate assistants receive $1,500, $1,200 and $1,000 respectively. The stokers or firemen average about $30 a month, and the furnaces of the St. Louis require 180 of them working in different shifts.

The purser, who is a most important person on board, does not get much in the way of salary, as the company in fixing his pay figured on the large bonuses he receives for changing money and performing the little services which the wealthy traveler does not hesitate to pay for liberally. His salary is only $1,000 a year, but he makes another $2,000 in fees and sometimes considerably more.

The ship's surgeon only receives $900 a year for the same reason. He is brought in contact with numerous real and fancied invalids of the wealthy class, and although no one is compelled to fee him few fail to do so, and a big, popular ship like the St. Louis is worth to him at least $3,000 to $4,000 a year.

The steward's department is one of the costliest on the ship. The provisions for a round trip cost in the neighborhood of $12,000, and the salaries of the steward's men amount to $3,000 more. The stewards are the least paid of any on the ship, for the reason that in the fees of the passengers they collect a considerable sum annually. All the pay they get is $20 a month, but they take in $40 a month in tips. The seafaring man and woman are always willing to give their last cent for some little service.

The chief steward receives $1,500 a year and also comes in for his share of the tips, as it is within his power to place many delicacies in the way of the liberal tourist.

The chief cook is a great man on the ship, almost as great as the captain, and in all makes $3,000 a year out of his job. The breakage and wear and tear on the ship and its furniture are very heavy, requiring an expenditure in incidentals of about $5,000 each round trip. There are countless things to be replaced, and a comparatively little thing like the washing of the ship's linen means an expenditure big enough to support a man for a year in the lap of luxury.

Here are some odd facts about the St. Louis: There are fully 1,000 tons of piping of various kinds in the ship. The condensers will pump up at least 50,000,000 gallons of cool water a day. The furnaces will consume no less than 7,500,000 cubic feet of air an hour. The boiler tubes, if placed in a straight line, would stretch nearly 10 miles and the condenser tubes more than 25 miles. The total number of separate pieces of steel in the main structure of the ship is not less than 40,000, and the total number of cubic feet of timber used in the construction is more than 100,000. The total number of rivets is not far from 1,250,000.—New York World.

A Suspicious Title.

In Chicago—"The second addressed a letter to me 'John Smith, B. A.,'" exclaimed the city father wrathfully.

"What of it?"

"What of it? What does 'B. A.' stand for?"

"Bachelor of arts. He thought you were a college graduate."

"Oh, that's it, is it? I thought it meant 'boodle alderman.'"—Chicago Times-Herald.

It Seems She Did.

"I think I'll lay low," said the hen. And shortly afterward there was a loud cackling heard in Farmer Bilby's cellar.—Chicago Tribune.

WALTER C. BROOK & Co.

.... Importing
... Tailors ...

15 MILK ST., BOSTON.

BIRTHPLACE OF FRANKLIN
OPP. OLD SOUTH CHURCH.

Goods Delivered Free in the Newtons.

Fine Woolens at Moderate Prices.

PEARMAN & BROOKS
Stock and Bond Brokers.
Orders by Mail Promptly Executed. Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.
Correspondence Solicited.
Stock Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.
SUMNER B. PEARMAIN. L. LORING BROOKS.

New Girl—"Mamma, I wish you could sew."
New Woman—"Why so, child?"
New Girl—"Because I've torn my bloomers, and papa's busy ironing." Chicago Tribune.

Friend (to professor of philology)—
"What struck your attention particularly on your vacation trip?" Professor—
"A hundred and twenty-two unorthographic sign-boards."—Fliegende Blätter.

Full Line. Finest Quality.

GEO. E. HUSE & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—

Meats and Provisions.

White's Block,
Centre St.,
NEWTON CENTRE.

GEO. E. HUSE. LEWIS MURPHY.

Teeth F